Anchors Stag Mardi Gras Card Party

Amid the gay and colorful motif of Mardi Gras, more than 200 women participated in the annual Anchor club card party Monday evening at the Yacht club.

Varicolored streamers, masks and balloons, suggestive of New Orleans' famed celebration, decorated the walls and tables where bridge, canasta and pinochle were played throughout the evening. Colors of the Mardi Gras also dominated the favors and were repeated in the platters of open-faced sandwiches, molded salads and cookies served.

Winning scores at bridge were turned in by Mrs. Arthur Johanson and Mrs. Kenneth Hill, canasta honors were won by Mrs. Gene Hill and Mrs. R. K. Booth, and Mrs. John Reith and Mrs. Arthur Johnson took honors in pinochle. Mrs. Elmer Thorne was awarded the special prize.

Mrs. Wm. Paidanius and Mrs. Orville Kelley were co-chairmen of the event, assisted by the Mesdames Robert Graves, Art Blum, John Auvil, Albert Frye and Miss Joy Lee Sherrod.

SKIPPER'S BANQUET

The banquet honoring Skipper Sorrki was a huge success. The decorations were lovely, lots of time and thought were put in on them. It is always fun to see so many associate members out for this affair, gives one a chance to catch up on what they are doing. This reporter was such a party pooper she had to leave before the entertainment and fun began but heard everyone had a "ducky time".

Skipper Sorrki wishes to convey her appreciation of the party, it was overwhelming.

CHRISTMAS FAIR

This affair was a huge success again, making over $300.00. This year there was 100% participation of the active members contributing made articles. The Raffle made $17.55 profit.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

Dec. 18th. meeting will be the Christmas party to which husbands are invited. There will be a charge of $1.50 per husband or friend. Tom and Jerries at 7-8 Dinner at 8:00 P.M. Party to be held at the Yacht Club.

COMMITTEES

Tonight's coffee committee is Ruth Shaner, Chairman, Edith Thorsnes, Virginia Kearney and Gertie Wullger.

BIRTHDAYS

Those adding another year are Evelyn Carlson, Katherine Farris, Shirley Landwehr, Ruth Shaner, Edith Thorsnes and Virginia Kearney.

An Anchor I know has a note to herself beside her telephone. It says: "Shut up and listen".

Wife to husband: "All right, we'll compromise. Admit you're worng, and I'll forgive you".

BITS OF NEWS

Virginia Zafiratos and family have purchased the Art Berry home. Looks like a house warming coming up.

A surprise house party was given Judy Dean and family recently.

Dorothy Yockey went to Aberdeen for a 20th. year class reunion Nov. 20th.

There is still nuts to pick up and be sold by you gals who have neglected to do so, better get busy.

Several Anchor's will be singing in Trinity Lutheran's Carols by Candelight Dec. 6th. and Dec. 10th. Tickets are available from choir members for free. This is really a must to attend. Skipper Sorrki sings as do Sheila Fredrickson, Rae Dean Slottee and Joyce Lundholn. Chairman of the Choir Board for the concert is Sheila Fredrickson. You sure can't keep a good Anchor down. These gals really put a lot of time on this.

Fay Hill spent a couple of days in the hospital recently. Hope things are alright now.

Playing bridge at the Elks Nov. 15th. were Pauline Winstanley, Sheila Fredrickson and Ellen Conger.

Hostesses were Virginia Johnson and Fern Johanson. More gals should turn out for this afternoon of bridge. The decorations were lovely and the dessert delicious. Incidently Sheila Fredrickson won one of the prizes, a beautiful Christmas centerpiece.

Ann Strachan back from Chicago and now off to Corvallis for Annual Conference for all Extension Agents. That gal sure does get around.

Did you hear about the new all-filter cigarette-for people who light the wrong end anyway.

MERRY, MERRY CHRISTMAS!

AND A VERY HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ONE AND ALL

VOLUME 19 FEBRUARY 6, 1956 NUMBER TWO

Edited by Vi Johnson and Bev Willson

The candelight installation of the new officers on January 16 was very colorful as Marge Smith, Skipper, took the wheel for 1956. Other officers installed were Jeanie Mogenson, First mate--Donna Gustafson, Yoeman--Beverly Willson, Purser--Marge Anderson, Historian--Margaret Thompson, Publicity and Althea Peterson, Executive officer.

The refreshment table was themed in blue and white with blue satin cloth, white chrysanthemums and matching tapers. Hostesses were Elsa Auvil, Helen Sorkki, Goldie Kelsey and Eileen Leback. Did you notice our new dishes? Nice addition, aren't they?

Committees for the new year are as follows:
House committee--Shirley Landwehr, Colleen Hensley, Violet Olson
Welfare--Laura Reith, Verna Davis.
Flower Fund--Rosemary Neumeister.
Sergeant at Arms--Lois Hoyer.
Transportation & call--Helen Niemi Helen Koski, Ruth Ellsworth.
Music--Delores Leahy, D. Yockey.
Musician--Pat Malen
Invitations--Mabel Sagen
List--Louise Fulton
Ways and Means--Nora Johnson, Irene Sommerset, Marge Kubik.
Budget--Bev Willson, Margaret Hill, Freda Englund.
Drill Team--Helen Sorkki, Althea Peterson.
Regatta Board--Jeanie Mogenson.

February 20th is the date for our card party. Dommittee in charge is Doris Paldanius, Virginia Graves Barbara Blum, Elsie Frye, Elsa Auvil and Joy Sherrod.

The newly organized Regatta Club will be having another meeting soon. Date will be announced in the Budget. Hope there will be a good attendance.

A recent letter from Louise Saario describes a most eventful trip to the frozen North. It took them ten days to travel 3000 miles which ordinarily takes five to six days. They were out a set of chains--finally chloroxed their tires and went merrily on their way. Temperatures were 25 to 50 degrees below zero and they had to wear long handles, three pair sox, parkas, mittens and were still cold. The tooth paste, hand lotion, etc were frozen solid as well as the food they took along for snacks. The weiners tasted like sawdust, the soda pop had burst and the pickles tasted like pickled popcicles. They couldn't even fortify themselves with bourbon as when they tried to pour it, it was the consistency of molasses. When she shops for groceries she shuts her eyes and grabs because if she looked at the prices she would have indigestion at every meal. Louise sends regards to everyone and says she misses all of us. We know Louise will get along and have friends wherever she goes. Good luck, Louise!

The Past Skippers party was postponed from January 26th to Feb. 2, and we hear via the grapevine that it was a humdinger. Esty was presented with a gift and properly initiated to the club with a bottle of Lydia Pinkham's pills. We've often wondered if those pills were any good. Let us know, Esty.

Emma Jossy was given a "going away" present. Bet she hates to leave town after all the attention she received Thursday night.

Jean Reed has been "ousted" as the eating champion of the club. Fern Johanson really put her to shame by eating two heaping plates of food--even tried to eat her knife. Where did you put it, Fern?

Children now love luxury, they have bad manners, contempt for authority, they show disrespect for elders and love to chatter in place of exercise. Children are now tyrants and not slaves of the household. They no longer rise when an elder enters the room, they contradict their parents, chatter before company, gobble up the food at the table, cross their legs, and tyrannize their teachers.

Anchor Club Installs New Skipper

Mrs. Charles Smith took over the helm of the Anchor club Monday evening, January 16, when installations were held at the Yacht club.

Outgoing skipper, Mrs. Eugene Knutsen, opened the meeting, then led the other officers in installations.

New shipmates to the skipper will be Mrs. Vernon Mogenson, first mate; Mrs. Charles Gustafsen, yeoman; Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, purser; Mrs. Arthur Anderson, historian; Mrs. Roy Thompson, publicity officer; and Mrs. Roland Peterson, executive officer.

Outgoing officers assisting Mrs. Knutsen in the formal ritual were the Mesdames George Fulton, William Elder, John Cederberg, Stanley Sagen, Gerald Phillips, Harold Jacobs. All officers new and old were given carnation corsages and presented gifts by Mrs. Knutsen.

New skipper, Mrs. Smith, presented Mrs. Knutsen with a past skipper's pin and she in turn presented the club a gift.

Annual surprise award, the bronze plaque, for the outstanding member of year, went to Mrs. William Leahy. She was also presented with a corsage.

The refreshment table, over which the new skipper presided was themed in blue and white, the club colors, with blue satin cloth, white chrysanthemums and matching tapers. Hostesses were Mrs. John Auvil, chairman, Mrs. Al Sorkki, Mrs. Orville Kelsey and Mrs. Dick Leback.

The Anchor Log was distributed by Mrs. Don Kubic and Mrs. George Oja.

Anchor Club Sets April 7 Date For Spring Dance

Invitations have ben sent out for the Anchor clubs annual spring dance, which will be April 7 at the Yacht club, chairmanned by Mrs. Gerald Sommerset and Mrs. Roy Thompson.

Serving on the committee for arrangements will be the Mesdames Jack Springer, John Seeberg and the Misses Laurel Black and Shirley Eaman.

Mrs. Enis Juela and Mrs. Harvey Halonen head the committee for a fund-raising project to be started April 2. The Anchor Log was distributed by Mrs. Art Blum and Mrs. Roland Peterson.

Daffodils and yellow tapers centered the table where Mrs. Chares Poindexter poured, and from which the Mesdames Kenneth Simonsen, Paul Hensley and Harry Duff served hot dogs.

OLD NEWS

The George Cole Trio will play for our Annual Spring Dance April 7th at the Yacht Club. The uniform for the evening will be dressy cottons. Hors d'oeuvres will be served throughout the evening. Hours - 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. - $2.50 per couple. B.Y.O.L. The hard working committee consists of co-chairmen, Margaret Thompson and Irene Sommerset, assisted by Laurel Bjork, Shirley Ekman, Alice Springer and Jane Seeborg. Here's a thought! If 70 Anchors came and each one brought another couple we would have 280 people at the dance. But don't bring just one couple, bring your gang. The more the merrier!

- - - -

The rummage sale is now in full swing. Don't forget to bring your old things likecast away diamonds, jewelry, fur coats and your old Easter bonnets. Give your full support to the co-chairmen Ila Rae Juola and Marcella Halonen because you never know when you'll get the job. These girls deserve a lot of credit for their hard work.

- - - -

ATTENTION! March is about over but the drill team will soon be starting to march. Althea Peterson and Helen Sorkki would like your cooperation in checking uniforms and getting new members. It's really lots of fun girls, so sign up early so you will get a uniform that fits.

- - - -

A new year has started so it's time to pay up on the dues.

First of Five

JUDY PALMBERG

Princess Judy Is First of Royalty

Judith Marie, the lovely daughter of the Herbert Palmbergs, makes headlines today as the first 1956 Regatta princess to be announced by the Regatta board of directors.

The news, coming as a big wonderful surprise to Princess Judy, had to be kept a deep secret over the weekend, so Judy and her parents took a trip upriver.

Princess "Number One" is as lovely as a princess should be. A senior at Astoria high school, she is secretary of the Honor society, a member of the Pepsters, and had a part in the senior play. At home, when she has time, she likes to sew and has made some of the pretty cottons that grace a royal figure, five-feet-four-and-a-half.

Princess Judy's rosy cheeks and bright blue eyes under a thatch of brunette waves shows that she likes the outdoors and she is looking forward to the opening of Tapiola swimming pool. After an afternoon of swimming, she likes best a great big plate of Chinese food!

On the artistic side, Judy plays the piano, mostly classical, and on the practical side, this princess hopes to go on to college and major in mathematics.

She was born in Portland 18 years ago, December 27, but came with her parents to Astoria when she was old enough to enter the third grade at Lewis and Clark school.

At home, her first and most enthusiastic booster is brother David, 12, a basketball prospect from the same school.

This year the Regatta board, along with the Anchor club, will sponsor five girls on the royal Regatta court. Other members of the group will be announced this week.

Blond Beauty Named

PRINCESS RETA CLARK

Princess Reta 2nd of Royal Regatta Realm

By PHILLIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Social Editor

Dainty as the daffodils that lift their golden heads above the gardens of Astoria is the second 1956 Regatta princess to be announced by the selection committee. She is blond, blue-eyed Reta Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clarkes.

Princess Reta's light hair tops a peaches and cream (we call it "honey blond") complexion and there is trim, slim little figure, standing five-feet-four, to add up to what gentlemen prefer.

Born in San Diego, Princess Reta, like Princess Judy Palmberg, started life in Astoria in the third grade at Lewis and Clark grade school. Now a senior at Astoria high school along with grade school classmate Judy, she has been a pepster and is so popular with her classmates, she was chosen Homecoming Queen this past fall.

The piano tinkles to Reta's touch, for she takes lessons, and plays both classical and popular. And she really and truly likes to cook, although her favorite dish, Chinese food, is something she hasn't tackled yet.

After graduation, Reta plans to continue her commercial course of study at Portland's Northwestern School of Business, for she has already made up her mind that she wants to take up secretary work as a career.

Although she's 17, it won't be for long, because May 7, the subjects of Regatta land can sing "Happy Birthday, Princess Reta! Happy birthday to you!"

Royal Waterfall

PRINCESS JACKIE POELL

Five-Foot-Three Miss Is 3rd of Royal Court

By PHILLIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Social Editor

Excitement mounts as a third pretty princess gets the nod from the Regatta selection committee for this summer's festival of fun and pageantry. And a good bit of that excitement brushed off onto the 1956 Regatta's third princess, Jacqueline Poell, 17, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Mike Poell.

There's something elfin about this little princess, who says she stands five-feet-three, ("almost"). She has wood-brown hair and green eyes and a provocative smile and she loves the outdoors, that is, if it's the outdoors of our woods and streams and sandy beaches.

But at Star of the Sea high school, where she is a senior, Princess Jackie shows a more serious side. She served as treasurer for the senior class and Sodality, one of the school's all-student organizations, was a cheer leader for three years, is a member of Quilisima Music club, and was one of the little ballerinas in the school operetta, "The Fortune Teller," which had such a successful two-day run here last week.

She works hard on her music, too, and spends long hours practising piano and cello. But when school hours are over, there is nothing Princess Jackie would rather do than play a rough-and-tumble game of basketball or sandlot baseball, mind you.

The town of Hanover, Kan., probably never knew that one of its native daughters, born June 6, would some day grow up to be an Astoria Regatta princess, but that's just what happened. Like the other two 1956 Regatta princesses already announced, Princess Judy Palmberg and Princess Reta Clark, this third member of the Royal Regatta court came to Astoria with her parents in time to enter the third grade.

She hopes to go on to college, and would like to study journalism or maybe education, and, apropos of nothing, unless it just indicates a healthy American appetite, Princess Jackie likes gobs and gobs of fried chicken.

Won't brother Michael, stationed with the air force at Moses Lake, Wash., have something to tell his buddies, now that he has a little princess in the family!

Anchors All Aboard

First with 100 per cent membership in the Astoria Regatta association today were the members of the Astoria Anchor club. Pictured above is Mrs. Charles Smith, Anchor Skipper, presenting a check for $75 to Dr. John Hickman, chairman of the Regatta association membership drive. Mrs. Smith, a former Regatta royal court member herself, said Anchor clubwomen were 'eager' to help join the Regatta drive. Regatta officials said today the membership drive will continue for the next several weeks. (A-B Photo)

Girl "Governor" Is Speaker at Anchor Meeting

Clatsop county seems to be the wellspring of governors these days, and the Anchors were well aware of it Monday evening when Linda Thompson, Oregon Girls State governor, paid them a visit.

Governor Thompson, who gave an interesting account of the highlights of Girls State session in Salem at the state capitol, was introduced by Mrs. Clem Ingalls and Mrs. Ruth Hill.

Anchors completed plans for their banquet to be held Monday evening at the John Jacob Astor hotel. The log was edited and distributed by Mrs. Vernon Mogenson and Mrs. Walter Samuelson.

The refreshment committee consisted of the Mesdames Jack Springer, Walter Johnson, Jerry Clement and Rolland Peterson.

PRINCESS JEANETTE KEMPF

'Wealth of Warmth' Charm of Princess

By PHILLIPA SEABROOK
A-B Social Editor

The 1956 Regatta royal court of princesses is completed with the selection committee's choice of sunny, jolly Jeanette Kempf, daughter of the John Kempfs.

This blue and gold charmer has personality plus, a wealth of warmth and a smile that would melt the snow on Saddle mountain in mid-February.

Besides that, she has a trim little 5-foot-5 figure, eyes as blue as the waters on Youngs Bay on a summer day and hair the color of the sun glinting on those same waters that stretch across from the white, red-roofed Kempf home on Olney avenue.

Soon 18

Princess Jeanette, 17 (she'll be 18 June 2), was born in Morris, Minn., and with her parents and brother Jerry she moved to Astoria in time to enter the second grade. This was at Star of the Sea grade school, and she is an active member of that high school's senior class now. She is secretary of her class, vice prefect of Sodality, president of Quilesuma music club, was cheer leader for two years, and had one of the main leads in the recent school operette, "The Fortune Teller."

And all through school, Princess Jeanette has been a music major, taking violin and voice (and she plays the piano for her own "amazement.")

Besides her lovely, golden voice, this bubbling, merry little princess has a home hobby that makes her even more popular with her friends. She loves to make great big fluffy, yummy cakes, and does so at the slightest provocation.

"Adores" Basketball

She "adores" watching basketball games, likes to swim and play baseball, and when the weather doesn't permit outdoor activities, Princess Jeanette likes to curl up with a good book.

Brother Jerry is a junior at Portland university, and Princess Jeanette, next fall, plans to go to Marylhurst, where she hopes to major in education, and minor in music.

And Brother Jerry doesn't know it, but when he comes home from college, he has a date to take his Royal sister out for a dish of fried prawns, just to celebrate!

Royal Climber

PRINCESS SHERYL BAKER

Poised Beauty Fourth In Royal Regatta Five

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Social Editor

Astoria has its answer to that quiet reserve and certain poise that characterizes princesses all ever the world these days in the 1956 Regatta association's choice for its fourth member of tte Royal Court, Sheryl Baker.

The seventeen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H Edmond Baker has that tranquility of bearing combined with a shy little air that adds up to the eternal feminine, all wrapped up prettily in a five-feet-three (and three-fourths) package.

And this brown haired, brown eyed Regatta lovely is Astoria born, on a bright May day, the 19th, in fact, having received her elementary education at John Jacob Astor school, and now a senior at Astoria high.

Princess Sheryl is a busy bit of royalty. At home she sews learned back in grade school days when she was a Four-H'er, and loves to make pretty things about the house.

At school, she is a member of the Honor society, Quill and Scroll, Service club, Latin club, senior class secretary, Girls league secretary last year, when she was also art editor of the Zephyrus.

And that is where, according to her classmates, this little princess really shines, for she has that artistic touch that might someday lead to fame and fortune.

But in the meantime, she loves to sit down to a platter of those Swedish pancakes her grandmother makes, and fame and fortune in the immediate offing mean Regatta days and all the excitement that is in store for a royal princess.

Royal Advisor

Astoria's Regatta court was "all in" today with the announcement of the chaperon for the 1956 royal princesses. Pictured above is Mrs. Robert Larson, who has had lots of experienced as a chaperon for royalty, now will be in charge of five 'excited' princesses during a busy summer. Mrs. Larson has previously been the adviser to Audrey Mistretta, Miss Oregon winner from Astoria several years ago. She accompanied the Oregon winner to the national Miss America contest. The girls will get together with their new chaperon for the first time Wednesday afternoon at 4 p. m. at the John Jacob Astor hotel when the board of the Regatta association 'officially' meets the new court for the first time.

'Casting Off . . .'

Wearing clothes to Astoria for a day were these five Regatta princesses who cast-off for their official uniformed appearance of the evening. Princesses Judy Palmberg, Sheryl Baker, Jackie Poell and Jeanette Kempf. Traveling clothes were attire for the girls at picture taking time since uniforms, which they will wear for the first time, were hanging up to prevent wrinkles on the long drive. Besides the court wants to surprise Astoria with their new garb at their first public appearance with them at the Soapbox Derby July 15.

Royal Attendants Named; Five Princesses Sail for Sheridan

Astoria's royal ambassadors, the Regatta royal court, were set to "go calling" again this weekend as the Astoria Regatta association pushed ahead with plans for the annual summer festival, and opened their office officially for the summer season.

Meanwhile, closer to home Anchor club officials disclosed the names of crown bearers and flower girls for the 1956 royal coronation.

Bearers Named

Selected as crown bears are Steven Larson, Lewis and Clark Consolidated school, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. William Larson; Larry Daniels, John Jacob Astor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Daniels, and Mark Wuonola, Captain Robert Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Wuonola.

Flower girls are Judy Doane, Lewis and Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Doane, and Christine Timmen, Star of the Sea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verne T[illegible]

Aides Join

Accompanying the court on the jaunt will be Charles DeFoe, Chamber of Commerce secretary, and another board member to be announced at a later time.

In other Regatta news the board of directors named a new executive secretary to replace A. M. Dunlop, who resigned because of the press of other activities, and got their office set up for the year.

Roy M. Thompson, Astoria high school football coach, has been designated the new manager. He has established the association office at the John Jacob Astor hotel in the main lobby. It will remain there through the celebration August 30, 31 through September 1 and 2.

The office is open daily and the phone number is 620, according to John H. Nellor, association president.

Membership Report

Nellor also reported that the membership drive, which is now underway, is progressing "satisfactorily." As of today the only 100 per cent club is the Astoria Anchors, but others are nearing that mark, he said.

Dr. John Hickman, membership drive chairman, said the Astoria Kiwanis club has just about reached the 100 per cent circle.

Plans for the summer festival are progressing on all fronts, Nellor states. The Oregon Fish festival phase of the Regatta is developing [illegible] State and Nation[illegible]

In this week's Budget a diagram of pier 3 was printed. No. 9 was reported as Anchor Office. This should have read "Anchor Johnny".

Pome — writ by us

On the 20th of July at Tapiola Park
Anchors and their families roamed till dark
A hard working committee served food galore
From salads and spaghettis to cakes we adored.

There was baseball to play and swimming, too
Tho' the wind and water turned a few of us blue
Children ate ice cream and screamed in delight
While the parents drank coffee way into the nite.

Thanks to the committee for a job well done
And thanks to the girls — each and everyone.
If you missed our picnic by hook or by crook
Come next year and at least take a look.

As I have written before, I guess my education has been neglected, but I was really surprised to find that Kodiak, in its remoteness, isn't the pristine, rugged Last Frontier I'd expected. I hated finding parking meters all over, but can now understand their need. There is certainly no dearth of cars here, beautiful ones, in Kodiak proper as well as the big Naval Base, seven miles out. In other respects too, Kodiak is moderne; one can buy the same costume jewelry, souveniers, appliances, clothing, etc.,(except shoes) as "outside", but at a price considerably higher.

Life here is very casual. No one ever seems to be in a hurry for anything. I guess there is no place to go in a hurry! The Island is inaccessible, except by plane, weather permitting, or by freighter every three weeks. We have two planes a day, but when the fog hangs low as it does often, planes cannot land and we have no mail -- in or out. However, the past two weeks have been perfectly beautiful.

Kodiak's geographical remoteness has been more than compensated for by a natural beauty that is breathtaking, and almost awesome. While the town itself is very dusty and still apparently shows signs of the eruption of the largest active volcano in the world, Mt. Katmai, in 1912, the Island is covered with a lush, brilliant green vegetation; the channels and bays are the bluest blue, and the surrounding mountains are magnificent in their summer snow.

This has become too lengthy, but I must tell you that there are nine bars within a distance of three blocks! Some of them are very nice, and, of course, quite busy, what with one theater in town. The bars close at 2 a.m., after which the crowd goes to two clubs out of city limits, to stay as long as one cares to. Anchor banquets? Past Skippers?

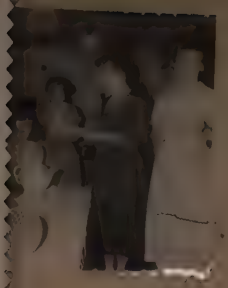

Hallo to anyone who might read or hear this...I guess you can tell I haven't "visited" with old friends for a long time.

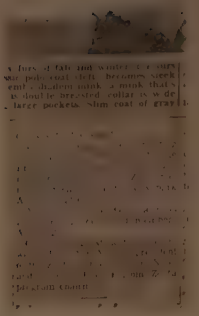

Best wishes for a wonderful, gay Regatta. I'll be eagerly awaiting any news about all your activities and events.....

Hail, Anchors, here we are, all set to go.....

Hail, Skipper, here's to you.....

Good Luck,

Hi, Anchors, All!

Remember me? You Old Timers will, perhaps, but I'm sending you my most recent portrait to refresh your memories. I'm not sure I always looked quite as abject, but the Fotog got a true likeness, taken when I received the Astorian-Budget a few days ago, and saw a picture captioned, "For 20 years They Served as Anchors", and there looking straight at me were Ethel, Syl, Lucile, Mili, Pat Loukas, Freda, Pat Johnson, and Nora! How I wished I were there! I think my exciting 20-plus years might have qualified me, too, for that Graduating Class. (I'm sure that excellent Committee of Elsie, Marge, Bev, Jean and Dorothy knows that I even worked on CARD party committees! ——eh,?)

Feeling and looking as though I'd been relegated into limbo, I remained gazing at that group of grand gals, so representative of many other ardent, hard working Anchors thru the years —— and was lost in reverie, an inexplicable nostalgia running thru me. In retrospect, I was back in the old YWCA, where I and many others were initiated; at early meetings at the old floating Yacht Club, the old Moose Hall where another peppy gang came in; later, our own Pride and Joy, the Clubhouse on 11th St., a veritable masterpiece of ingenuity and skill in decor, with its custom-made venetian blinds (see Mili), and complete furnishings, some of which were awarded us by appreciative business people.....Reminiscence further evoked in swift review, the myriad events: the beautiful tradional tea for the lovely Royal Court; the diversities of the Regatta, with Anchor girls in uniform, all over town, lending color and atmosphere to the gala fete; the pep and splendor of the crack Drum Corps; long colorful parades; hot-dog stands and concessions; the devastating fire of the Regatta building, during Syl's leadership, on the eve of the big show! — Stealing, too, into my mind was a most enjouable event, and one which I wish we would revive: our incomparable masquerade Halloween parties, where costumes were so authentic and clever it was difficult to award prizes! And what fun!....Our annual banquets; when even wore formals. Glamorous formal dances, when everyone WORE formals, and were gla-MOR-us!—— Then the years when our carnivals, parties and dances gave way to the seriousness of another era; lessons in First Aid, War Bond drives; at least two or our members joined the WAVES; when we worked again and emerged with new spirit for new activities; when lives and situations changed for all of us.....

Could go on—ad infinitum-remembering happy events, friendships made with wonderful girls, now in various parts of the country, each one proud of having been an Anchor.....but I was jerked back into reality by the other picture-- of 12 new Anchors A-Weigh. Hearty Congratulations to you neophytes. You'll have fun, mixed with worl, and more Fun!

But now, reality strikes hard. I've been here three months and nary any Anchor knows.....So, methinks there must be sumpin wrong...Maybe I didn't pay my dues! Yet, with this selfsame portrait painted red, I enclose my fee for dues.

Of course you are all working diligently for the Regatta, while I sit here in comparative obscurity. Other than being plagued with a real go-home-to-mamma kind of homesickness, I have enjoyed this sojourn to Kodiak, known as the Sunshine Isle. However, during my first two months here I would have challenged anyone as to the veracity of that. I'm accustomed to rain--lots of it--but oh, my! I was quite unprepared for so much wetness, but most people are oblivious to it. I know I've been considered somewhat eccentric, or "Odd", to quote Dorothy Jacob....but I was rather nonplussed by things here. On my daily walks to the Post Office, I gradually became aware of what I thought were strange expressions, and when finally one day a rather obese Native, sitting outside on a bench in front of a cafe, in the rain, asked me for my parasol, I realized I was an oddity! The postmistress assured me no one, BUT NO ONE, uses an umbrella in Kodiak. Also, I'd been wearing out four pair of high heels in the first two weeks...Marge Anderson can tell you about the rocky, dusty, wet, uneven streets. I've succumbed to low [illegible] and sturdy...babuchas! My brilliant-hued pretty green umbrella is hiding—

Five Little Regatta Princesses Off On A Spree

"We want to cover the waterfront!" shouted the five saucy vivacious Regatta princesses, when the official Regatta photographer, armed with the official Regatta camera, asked them, "Where to?"

Besides, this year's Regatta is including a fish festival, the princesses reminded him, and they thought they should get hep to the [illegible] and workings of Astoria canneries and learn how those big bright fish go into those little bright cans.

What's more, it was one of those warm days, and what more fascinating spot for five energetic but royal princesses than the dim, cool reaches of our big canneries, or the breeze crisp [illegible]

They watched the great big fat tuna going through the butchers hands on its way to the cleaners, and then to the packers and the fabulous packing machines. They squealed with glee over the slices of cold wet Chinook they handled. They inspected the slimers and the gut belt and the swift working packers and the patchers and the graders. And they had a ride on the [illegible] along with cases of canned fish.

After an hour or so of education on fish canning, the five pretty Salty Salmon relaxed in the sunshine on the docks, climbed down along the rocks among the weathered pilings along the breakwater, and dabbled their royal tootsies in the waters of the Columbia.

An Admiral Arrived, A Queen Was Crowned!

High spots in Thursday's opening of the Astoria Regatta are highlighted in the above candid shots by the Astorian-Budget photographer, Don Church: the arrival of Admiral John Farley, being welcomed by the Regatta court and escort of admiral; the raising of the colors at the coronation ceremony by the coast guard; the Regatta Admiral escorting his lovely queen off the platform; and, in the circle, a royal kiss for the Queen Showing a portion of the crowd that started filing into the grandstands at the port docks for the coronation of the queen, followed by a dance and fun at Portland, greets Admiral Farley, after Tommy Luke, past admiral and traditional good-will ambassador from the Regatta's "forever" admiral's flag, enter pavilion for the coronation; Mrs. Robert Shaner Jr., left, and Mrs. Kempf grabs Queen Judy for a happy kiss after the latter was told she was helped escort Admiral Farley and his escorts, Wesley Holmstrom, bearing admiral's flag, enter pavilion for the coronation; Mrs. Robert Shaner Jr., left, and Mrs. Kempf grabs Queen Judy for a happy kiss after the latter was told she was ship in from Tongue Point to pier three. Radiant Queen

A radiant Queen, Judy I of the 36th annual Astoria Regatta, was a proud monarch as she rode down the line of march of the Saturday Grand Parade. With regal dignity she waved to her cheering subjects throughout the two-mile parade route. During the proclamation of the first Oregon Fish Festival, she joined her court and other dignitaries on the reviewing stand to salute the parade. The parade climaxed a dizzy week, and a dizzy summer, for the five royal court members.

Five Judges Name Newest Royal Queen

Before Queen Judy I signalled the start of the 36th annual celebration and became the 31st Queen of Regatta-land Admiral John L. Farley received the flag of his office and was officially received as Regatta admiral. William Holmstrom, past president, and Wesley Shaner, Jr., past president, conducted him to the stage in impressive opening ceremonies. Admiral Farley then ordered Shaner to hoist the Admiral's flag which Holmstrom had presented him on behalf of Major-General William F. Dean, last year's admiral. The party then retired to seats on the floor to witness the Queen selection.

The lovely daughter of the Herbert Palmbergs' was selected by a secret panel of five judges during the pre-coronation ceremonies in the banner-decked Regatta pavilion for this year's queen, from a court of five of the prettiest princesses that ever graced a court anywhere.

Famed Ancestor

Queen Judy, a graduate of Astoria high school, is incidentally and quite appropriately, a descendant of one of Astoria's earliest fur traders, a doughty Scotsman, one Malcom McKay This, of course, the judges didn't know. But it's fitting and pro-perrrrr, as Malcolm would have said.

Queen Judy knelt to receive the shining diadem of Regatta land, from Regatta Admiral John L. Farley, following the decision of the judges, who, including John Nellor, Regatta president, and all his assisting admirals, had the toughest job of the Regatta—that of picking a queen from the five pretty princesses Sheryl Baker, Jackie Poell, Jeanette Kempf, Rota Clark and Judy.

From last year's stately and gorgeous queen, Sue Sandoz, Queen Judy in her royal robes accepted a bouquet of illusion pink roses, from Astoria's mayor, Peter Cosovich, she received the royal scepter, making her ruler of Regatta land of 1956

Overflow Crowd

The evening's ceremony, before a crowd that overflowed the pavilion seats to eight rows of standing room only, went along like the well-organized program it was.

Sparked by the leadership of master-of-ceremonies, Harry Swanson, the evening's festivities started out with a boom from the Astoria high school band, led by Ted Marshall, which entertained with pre-

Anderson-Cosovich Home Reception Brings Crowd

One of the happiest social events of the bright autumn season and of many seasons past was the reception to which Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cosovich and Mr. and Mrs. Michael John Cosovich were hosts following the wedding of their sister, Miss Ann Marie Cosovich to Axel Edwin Anderson, recently at the mayor's home.

ANCHOR LOG

Volume 19 No. 9
September 17, 1956

Editors:
Alice Springer

Once more the Regatta is a thing of the past--for 1956--anyway. From all reports the 1956 Regatta and Oregon Fish Festival was a tremendous success despite the many "firsts" attempted this year. More details will be given at the meeting, but the following is a resume of the activities that the Club took part in:

TEA: Saturday, August 25th
"Every year they are prettier" was the general comment on the tea held at the Yacht Club honoring the five princesses. General Chairman for this event was Virginia Johnson. The decorations in the tea room were masses of Boston Daisies in the window boxes and in the centerpiece of the table. The same yellow of the daisies was carried out in the yellow floor-length table cover with a net over-skirt. In the entrance room of the Yacht Club, wrought-iron garden furniture was backed up by greens and potted plants in varied colors. The decorating committee had Louise Fulton as chairman and Mabel Sagen as co-chairman, with Esther Knutsen and Dorothy Yockey. Fern Johansen was in charge of the kitchen committee and had Thelma Johnson as co-chairman; working with them Shirley Landwher, Phyllis Mittet, Betty Johnson, Lois Hoyer and Millie Oja. Dainty Cookies and fancy sandwiches were served to the 150 guest registered by past-skipper Esty Knutsen. Cleaning up afterwards were Jeanie Mogensen, Aune Malmberg, Vivian Graves, Dorothy Tiensen, Muriel Niskanen -- and other Anchors who were ready to lend a helping hand.

CORONATION: Thursday, August 30th
Not enough can be said for the wonderful job done by the Coronation committee. Words cannot adequately describe the setting--most of you were there to know the tremendous job that was done. With a seating capacity of 1700, and several hundred people standing, the biggest crowd ever saw Judy Palmberg crowned Queen of the 1956 Regatta and Fish Festival. Bea Cederberg and Vivian Graves who were on the wardrobe committee were also responsible for the coronation robe and septre. The program was arranged by Delores Leahy and Donna Gustafson. The setting committee consisted of Millie Oja, chairman, Dorothy Jacobs, Jackie Josephson, and Phyllis Mittet. For those who didn't know -- the chair for the throne was donated by the Elks Club to the Anchors to keep for use in future Regattas, and was covered, as was the pedestal, by the setting committee. The problem now, seems to be--Where to store them?

LUNCHEON: Friday, August 31st
At the luncheon 208 ladies were at the John Jacob Astor Hotel to meet and see Queen Judy and her princesses. At the head table were several past queens and other dignitaries of the Regatta. At each place-setting were two cans of Astoria-canned fish tied in cellophane and a lovely Sally the Salmon with pictures of the Court on her side for a remembrance. Jean Maklin and Ruth Seagren provided the musical numbers on the program. For this affair, Jean Reed was chairman, Marge Anderson, co-chairman, and Pat Malen and Althea Peterson made up the rest of the committee.

PARADE: Saturday, September 1st.
Ahead of the Drill Team, Althea Peterson, will present to the Club the THIRD place ribbon won in the competition of the parade on Saturday. It might be a good time to say that there are a couple of vacancies to fill again--so get to Althea quickly to give her your name and find out when the first practice for next year when the Drill Team will be trying for first place.

CONCESSION BOOTH: Thursday night thru' Sunday.
Chairman of the concessions booth at Pier 3, Pat Simonsen, did not have a complete report at press time, but about 100.00 was the profit for the club on this venture. Helen Niemi and Mabel Sagen completed the committee and total of 44 Anchor members worked. One night the girls even "hawked" their wares thru' the Pirates Den -- Did pretty good too!

There are still more buttons to be accounted for, but the Club has netted 26.00 so far on the sale of Regatta Buttons. Skipper Marge would like to have either the money or buttons in as soon as possible.

Regattta Queen's Luncheon Is Set By Anchor Club

REGATTA RE-HASH

The commiteee working on the throne spent many hours covering the heads of the tacks used with gold paint--then ended up covering the gold-headed tacks with more material.

Sunday morning Jeannie Mogenson found a sign on her front yard with "WELCOME HOME, JEANNIE." Abscence is one way to make your family appreciate you.

It was a long time before Althea knew that the white ribbon the Drill Team won was THIRD place, not just an honorable mention. Then she just about fainted!

In making the throne, Dorothy Jacob cut herself, and was almost bleeding to death, but did the rest of the committee get concerned over her --No, they just worried if any of the blood got on the white velvet!

Have you noticed how well Lea Cederberg and Vivian Graves photograph? They are very much in evidence in the pictures of the Regatta activities of the coronation in Ball Studio window.

Did you know that Mabel Sagen carried the flag in the parade with blood poisoning in her ankle? Apparently the walking kept her circulation going, as she is still among the living.

Jeannie Mogenson carried a few spare cigarettes in her bra for after the parade--but to no avail--by the time she got to Pier 3 they were wet with sweat.

Did you hear about the 1956 Queen and her princesses looking thru an old scrapbook of former Queens? They came to lovely Queen Jean, 1937 -- and the remark that followed was "Golly, that was before we were born."

Was Dorothy Yockey on the corner when Sam lost his pants after they were caught in the bicycyle?

Seen by some at the Tea--nude men running around in the men's locker room. Seems that someone removed the screen --by accident?

Susie-daughter of Freda Englund-went across the Columbia on water-skiis on Sunday, the 2nd, and during the 4-H Fair was a Grand Champion in dressmaking.

Once again many thanks to the ANCHORETTES (husbands of Anchors) who also spent many hours and much brawn to the activities. We undoubtedly are leaving out some important ones, but here is a partial list, [illegible] MOGENSON, KIKI SIMONSEN, JAKE JACOB AND GEORGE NIEMI.

Skipper Marge still doesn't know if it was the gold braid that attracted all the sailors around her at the dance after the coronation. They were lined up asking her to dance.

Regatta events so occupied Faye Hill that she completely forgot her wedding anniversary until late Sunday when her husband reminded her of it!

Former Anchors seen at Pier 3 - Sylvia Hostikka Graf from Portland, and Doris Paldanius from Salem. And the week-end of Sept. 9th brought many former Anchors to town for several weddings: Ellen Page-Windsor, Betsy [illegible]ase, Marilyn Mattson and Irene L'Amie.

Ann Cosovich and Axel Anderson were married at the home of her brother Sept. 9th and many Anchor members were present at the reception.

Joy Lee Sherrod is a bride of several weeks now and making her home in Seattle.

Jean Maklin left Sunday, Sept. 16th for San Francisco, to work for the telephone company and make her home.

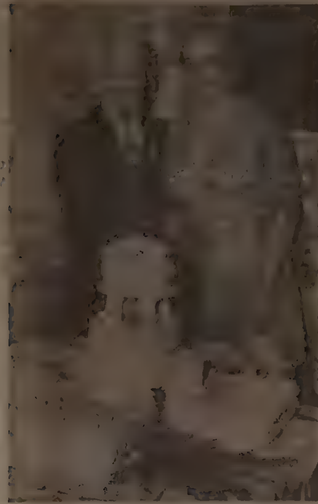

Born to June Taylor on Sept. 10th a baby girl named Lynn Marie. Weight, 7 lbs. 12 oz.

If you thought you were mistaken when you saw Esty Knutsen drive down Commercial St. in a Jeep-you were right. A real neat hot-rod with white side-wall tires yet!

ANCHOR LOG

Volume 19 No. 10
October 1, 1956

Editors: Dolores Leahy and Shirley Lanechr

Girls, tonight we are honored by having as our hostesses, our twenty year members, Ethel Winters, Syl Vaughn, Lucille Thiel, Pat Loukas, Fanny Taylor, and Ann (Cosovich) Anderson. It's nice to see all of you again. Our very best wishes to you, Ann, for a life filled with happiness.

We are very proud of Anchor, Nora Johnson. She was the skilled winner of not one, but two prizes in the Savory Seafood Search during the Astoria Fish Festival and Regatta. Here is Nora's first place recipe in the entree division.

Norwegian Halibut Casserole

1 to 1½ pounds uncooked halibut
2 cups thick cream sauce
6 eggs, separated
6 medium potatoes, steamed and mashed without milk
Salt, pepper, little mace

Steam skinned halibut. Bone and work into very fine flakes. Beat well with mashed potatoes. Add cream sauce. (Make sauce with a tablespoon of butter, put in pan, blend in 5 tablespoons flour, add 2 cupsmilk, cook until thick.) Beat in egg yolks. Season with salt, pepper and about ¼ teaspoon mace. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold into mixture. Turn into 2-quart greased casserole. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for about 45 minutes or until puffy and firm to touch. Serve immediately with melted butter.

This is Nora's second place recipe in the chowder division.

Mother's Clam Chowder

[illegible] slices salt pork or bacon, sliced
1 cup water
2 or 3 diced carrots
1 pint minced clams
Salt and pepper
1 onion, sliced
2 cups diced potatoes
1 stalk celery
1 large can of canned milk, or [illegible] quart of fresh milk

Fry onions in bacon, add carrots, celery, and potatoes. Cook until tender. Add milk and clams with liquid to chowder and simmer.

Nora's prizes were four beautiful waterless aluminum cooking pans with covers, and one large Revere ware pan. There is nothing like keeping it in the family. Freda Johnson Englund's daughter, Suzanne, won third prize in the salad division. Her prize being a light blue fish design hors d'oeuvre plate.

Plans are being made for our fall card party on October 15. The committee, Viola Johnson and Shirley Lanechr as co-chairmen, with ... Catherine Elder and Dolores Leahy, is hoping to make this a very successful card party. Be sure to encircle ... on your calendar, girls, and ... your reservation in early. ... will be in the mail this week.

Dear Anchors:

I've been an Anchor member for twenty years now, and it's been a wonderful crazy twenty years.

I've been a two-headed wonder in a Suomi Hall carnival, I've worked at dances at Olney, Hammond, Wolf Creek, and a cow barn at Youngs River. I've beaten my heart out in several Rose Parades and sold buttons in Bond St. beer parlors for the privilege of doing so. I've taken several fantastic bus tours with the old drum corps--and I've worked a host of tea's, card parties, dances, picnics and Regatta's.

I've held several offices and had the privilege of being Skipper. But I'm getting quite lazy now, so I should like very much to be placed on the inactive list on the twenty year membership status.

Thanks for all those memorable years, and best wishes always,

It might be said that a wedding ring is a sort of tourniquet which is worn on a girl's left hand to stop her circulation.

A little girl went to the grocery store on an errand for her mother, and asked for a roll of bathroom tissue, the purchase to be charged. Remembering the little girl's face but forgetting the name, the grocer said, "Now who is this for?"
"Oh, we're all going to use it." answered the little girl.

Jackie Josephson has found a new love: the sunny south---where she picked her own breakfast orangejuice. "Hand to mouth" existence?

Jean Reed accompanied her husband to Minneapolis to attend a Fur Auction. They left the day after Christmas and returned a week or so later, and brought Bob's father back with them.

Some other out-of-town travelers were Fay Hill, who went to Boise, Idaho; Margaret Thompson to Vancouver, Wash. and Gloria Lind to Portland. Joy Lee Studebaker was an Astoria visitor from Seattle and wewere pleased to seeher at the Christmas party.

Rosemary Newmeister, still 'holding her own', enjoyed a Holiday visit from her Mother, here from Panama. What an exhilarating reunion after five years!

Finale:

Little Johnnie, being reprimanded by his teacher for being tardy for school, remonstrated with the following excuse:
"Pa woke Pa up in the middle of the night saying she heard something in the hen house. Pa, who sleeps in the raw, grabbed his loaded shot gun and ran out into the yard. Ma stood there, with his gun pointing at the chicken house waiting for something to come out when our old hound dog came up behind Pa with his cold nose.....and we've been cleanin' chickens since three o'clock this morning".

A sea-food-casserole that is so pretty it fairly asks itself to a party is Mrs. Harold Johnson's Norwegian halibut casserole. This simple yet delicious dish won first prize in the entree division. Much experienced with cooking for her three sons and her husband, Mrs. Johnson has gained a reputation as one of Astoria's good cooks; she also won second prize in the chowder section of the contest.

Norwegian Halibut Casserole

Mrs. Johnson

By Mrs. Harold Johnson, Astoria

1 or 1½ pounds raw halibut
1 pint thick cream sauce
6 eggs, separated
6 medium potatoes, boiled and mashed without milk
Salt, pepper, mace

Boil halibut, bone and work fine. Add mashed potatoes, beat well. Add sauce, then egg yolks and mix well. Season to taste with salt, pepper and mace. Fold in beaten egg whites. Bake one hour in buttered casserole at 350 degrees. Serve with melted butter. Serves 16.

Hickman Named President Of Regatta Association

Astoria Regatta association had a new president today, a new officer slate and five new directors as they closed the books on the 36th annual celebration last night and opened business with advance planning for the 37th traditional water festival billed for sometime this summer.

Dr. John Hickman, Astoria chiropractor, was unanimously elected new president of the association. He replaces John H. Nellor, who directed the celebration last year.

Selected to serve with Hickman are Charles Smith, vice president, Richard Jensen, secretary and [illegible] treasurer. All officers were elected unanimously following a report from the nominations committee headed by [illegible] board member.

New Directors

New directors, chosen from a field of about 15 candidates, include Charles Smith, John Gustafson, Vernon Mogenson, Ron Graves and Frank Thoranson. Smith, who served a portion of an unexpired term on last year's board, was re-elected to a full three year term. Bob Hewitt, jr., who resigned as a board member last year, was re-elected to serve as this year's legal advisor for another year.

CHIT CHAT

We hear Marge Anderson is leaving soon on a motor trip to Mexico. Hope you have a good time Senora.

Did everyone see the picture of Nora in the Oregonian last Sunday, with her prize winning receips?

Sorry to hear about Bev. Willson mother's accident while on her way to visit Bev. Understand she fell causing serious fractures. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Dorothy Yockey was one of the first in town to start the ball rolling on the coffee hour, benefiting the March of Dimes.

Jeanie and Nancy T. made a trip to Portland with their husbands and came back with a loot from the FRIDAY SURPRISES.

Not to be repetitious, but Jeanie and Verne went to Portland again this weekend for a paint contractor's convention. Those Mogenson's never stay home!

Virginia Johnson had fun watching the novice ice skaters these past couple weeks. Bet there were lots of sore ankles and you know what! Were you one of these?

Princess Judy Hein

Princess No. 1 . . .

Active Civic Tasks Busy Regatta Belle

By PHILLIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Social Editor

It's that time again! Not just spring. Not only the end of winter nor the calm after a wild, wet weekend. But the time to choose a court of pretty princesses to reign over the 1957 Astoria Regatta.

And who better to start off the list chosen by the selection committee [illegible] than Judy Hein?

Yes, but this princess is on the honor roll, anywhere of the Service club, secretary of the student body, and, as a member of Tr-Y Hi, will represent that organization as a delegate to "Youth in Legislature" this spring.

Beside that, this year's first-to-be-announced princess is vice president of Christian Endeavor at her church, and devotional superintendent for the coast union of Christian Endeavor for the Christian church. And if those titles aren't imposing enough, she is honored queen of bethel 58 Job's Daughters and chaplain of the Grand Assembly of Oregon, Order of Rainbow for Girls.

However, don't let all this worry you. It doesn't Judy, for with all her duties and titles, she still loves to go boating and swimming and eat Chinese food.

And now she has another thrilling title to add to her list—1957 Astoria Regatta princess!

Princess and Admirer

PRINCESS NANCY SPRINGER

Blue-Eyed AHS Senior Regatta Court Choice

By PHILLIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Social Editor

Second winsome princess to win the approval of the Regatta selection committee and an opportunity to reign as queen of the 1957 Astoria Regatta is Nancy Lucile Springer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Springer.

Princess Nancy, Portland-born, is about as close to being a native-daughter as one can get, for she came to Astoria with her parents when she was just a tiny blue-eyed baby.

Now those blue eyes smile out from under brownette hair close-cropped and Nancy stands five-five when she doesn't wear heels. A senior at Astoria high school, this 18-year-old member of Astoria royalty was born January 28, graduated from Lewis and Clark grade school and hopes to attend Emmanuel hospital nursing school, for she sincerely wants to take up nursing as a career.

At high school, Nancy is a member of Quill and Scroll, honorary writing society, was class editor for the Zephyrus, is Girls League secretary and sings with the Madrigals, for she is a music major.

A member of the Methodist church and the Rainbows, this slender little princess loves to swim, along with other forms of outdoor sports, and is learning (with a few uncalled for dunkings) to water ski. Oh, yes, and she sews, too, and can prove it by several skirts and dresses she made for herself.

The youngest of the Springer family, Princess Nancy has two older brothers, both married, Jerry and Richard, living here, and an older sister, Mrs. Dann Madden, Corvallis, and she answers to "Aunt Nancy" to several little nieces and nephews.

When it comes to food, a full-course ham or turkey dinner is Nancy's choice, if accompanied by sweet potatoes, "made the way mother makes them."

When Princess Nancy came down to the Astorian-Budget for an interview, "Rebel," one of the "royal [illegible]" [illegible] Shepherd [illegible] to Harry Lipsit, another RR, "asked" if he could have his picture taken with view, "Rebel," one of the "roy- with the selection committee on its choice of Regatta Princess Nancy, when he was asked for a statement.

Jaycees to Again Direct Regatta Big Land Parade

For the fourth year in a row Astoria's Junior Chamber of Commerce will direct the annual Astoria Regatta parade, Jack Rieck, Jaycee director, announced today.

Reuel Meisner, Shell Oil Company representative here, will serve as parade chairman, Rieck said, and Don Jarvis, employed by the Bar Pilot Association, will be vice-chairman. Meisner takes over the parade reins from A. A. "Tony" Naimo, Allstate insurance agent, who directed two of the three previous Jaycee-directed Regatta parades. Naimo was chairman of the historic Sesquicentennial parade which attracted nationwide attention.

The new chairman and his vice-chairman will appoint division chairmen this week, according to Rieck, and will then meet with Naimo to discuss details of parade planing.

Rieck said that several units had already been signed for the parade. Some of the outstanding units which participated in last year's event have indicated a desire to return. Most of these are out-of-town units, he said.

In other action at the regular meeting of the Jaycees held last night nominations were made for the presidency of the group. Nominated were Naimo and Carl Jacobson, Astoria Plywood. Election is April 17.

PRINCESS SHERYL HOAGLAND

Princess No. 3 . . .

Hazel-Eyed Ash Blond Gets Nod by Regatta

By PHILLIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Social Editor

A hazel-eyed, ash blond girl, with the grace of a dancer and the charm that goes with royalty, is the third Regatta princess to be announced by the selection committee for this year's court. She is Sheryl Hoagland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Frank Hoagland, and a senior at Astoria high school.

This 17-year-old bit of femininity (she'll be 18 June 1) is a native daughter, proving that Astoria holds its own with other cities as a birthplace of beauty, and she's lived here ever since. And to further prove that Astoria produces pretty girls, there are three young er sisters, Darle, a sophomore at Astoria high school, Marlys, a freshman, and Nancy, a cute teenager in the sixth grade at Astor school, who was a flower girl a few years back for the Astoria Regatta court.

Princess Sheryl, with a serious look in her hazel eyes, which are fringed with long black lashes, has already decided that she wants to study business administration at Oregon State college after June graduation. She loves to read and likes to go boating on the family pleasure craft, named after the Hoagland's youngest daughter. (The three older Hoagland girls, including Princess Sheryl, also had boats named after them, "but they're fish boats.")

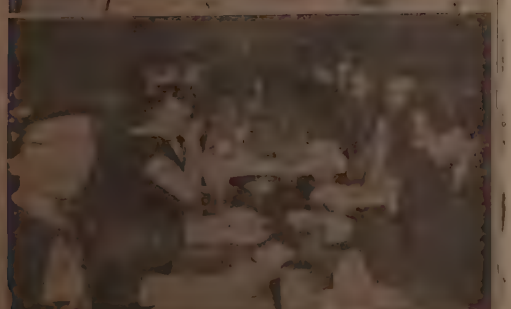

At Astoria high school, this third Regatta princess is a member of the Pepsters, vice-president of Tri-Hi-Y, a member of Forensic club, was a home-coming princess this year, and took a lead in the senior class play. She is past chaplain of the Rainbows and a member of Bethany Lutheran church.

Travel intrigues Princess Sheryl, although she wistfully stated that she's only been in Oregon, Washington and southern Canada, but she hopes to travel farther afield, sometime. She likes to sew, loves home-made popcorn and Chinese food. Incidentally, she's allergic to fish, and thereby hangs a tale. Dad, at CBPA, has access to the finest and freshest fish in the world whenever the family wants it.

But this doesn't bother Princess Sheryl now. In fact, nothing does. In fact, as princess of the 1957 Astoria Regatta court, it's a wonder-

PRINCESS EVELYN LEWIS

Princess No. 4 . . .

Navy Daughter Joins Royal Regatta Court

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK

A navy daughter, Evelyn Ann Lewis, who has seen quite a little bit of the world, but who has adopted Astoria as her favorite home city, is the fourth Regatta princess to be announced by the 1957 Astoria Regatta selection committee.

Princess Evelyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Lewis, Navy Heights, travelled the ocean blue to islands of the south Pacific, living on Guam for two years, with a stopover in Hawaii, then to San Diego. Before that Princess Evelyn with her parents lived in such interesting places as Connecticut and Florida and "all over California." She was born, May 14, in San Diego 17 years ago.

But, already Astoria is her favorite, this lovely princes declared sincerely, and she's only been here two years and two months. "It's the people!" she explained.

Princess Evelyn transferred from Chula Vista high school, near San Diego, to Astoria high school, where she was chosen Queen of Hearts two years ago and Junior Prom princess last year. She is president of the Future Teachers of America at AHS, belongs to the Forensic club, Library club, Math club (Torture hall), the national Honor society and treasurer of the senor class.

She plans to major in math and physics in college, likes to cook, swim, golf and paint (the whole family, including 8-year-old brother Bill, a student at Astor school, goes in for art), but better than any of these, this pretty princess would rather curl up with an exciting math book, of all things.

But you'd never know it to look at this slender princess. Her hair is so dark it looks black, her skin is very fair and her eyes are a deep blue. Add to that a whistle-bai figure and you have Princess Evelyn.

Should you want to see for yourself, be at the little Tongue Point Village chapel any Sunday morning, where this fourth Regatta princess teaches the little third graders Sunday school class, and where, if you please, she is head of the primary department of the Sunday school. For, remember, Evelyn Lewis adopted Astoria. And now it looks as thought Astoria has adopted Evelyn Lewis.

Final Regatta Gal

PRINCESS LINDA THOMPSON

Princess No. 5 . . .

Native Daughter Gets Role on Regatta Court

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Social Editor

The 1957 Astoria Regatta court is complete . . . as of now, with its fifth princess, Linda Kay Thompson, announced by the selection committee.

Princess Linda, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Troyer Thompson, she was born in Astoria 17 years ago May 24 will make it 18! and she's lived here ever since, "in the same house."

This fifth princess, has a stateliness about her and a lot of poise for a 17-year-old, but it might have something to do with the fact that she is Girls State governor, elected at the Girls State conference in Salem last summer. This honor, one of the top ones that a girl can attain in her state, puffed up with pride the members of the American Legion auxiliary who sponsored her, the residents of Astoria and the rest of the county to boot, for is was the first time a local girl had won the governorship. When a local man, Robert Holmes, was elected governor of the state this fall, it rather looked as though honors were sort of coming this way.

At Astoria high school, Princess Linda is yell queen, chairman of School Spirit Morale committee and a member of the National Honor society, among other things. She is past worthy advisor of the Rainbows, and recently won an Elks leadership award.

This tallest of the 1957 Regatta princesses (5 feet 7) has blond hair and blue eyes and a musical, low pitched speaking voice. She plays the piano ("haven't much time these days to practice."), and likes athletics and sports only from the spectator's seat.

But she's an active person, this lovely Linda, and at home she has two dogs, Bubay, one of the "Heintz" variety, and a stray black cocker she sneaked in one day and kept in her room until she got up enough nerve to tell her Dad. Also, there's a family parakeet, Hopey, so named because they hoped he would talk, which he hasn't.

Seafood, the Astoria variety, is her favorite food and she has decided she will major in science at OSC. Her sister Judy (Mrs. Lawrence Dean of Salem), went to the University of Oregon, so her parents will have to learn the Oregon State songs and yells come September.

So there you have it, the Regatta court, as sweet and pretty and court as ever reigned! All aboard and Happy Sailing, Princesses!

Mrs. for the Misses

MRS. EDWARD NIEMI

Active Civic Worker Selected Chaperone For Royal Princesses

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Social Editor

With the Regatta court of five pretty princesses all in a row, it is fit and proper they should have a royal chaperone and the Regatta selection committee, which named the five girls to the court, announce that it is fit and proper and a stroke of genius that they appoint Mrs. Ed Niemi to that position.

Mrs. Niemi (her friends call her "Alice") accepted graciously, but confidently, she was just as thrilled as every one of her charming little charges were when they were informed of their honor.

Born in Quincy, Mass., Mrs. Niemi came west with her parents to California, but it was at the early age of seven that she came to Astoria, where she has lived ever since. She attended the Taylor school and graduated from Astoria high school and it couldn't have been very long after that that she married Ed Niemi, for this attractive matron is already a grandmother, one of Astoria's handsome and youthful ones. (The Ed Niemi silver wedding anniversary was one of the highlights of September's social season.)

Their daughter Aliceann, now Mrs. Warren Bechtolt has two cunning little sons, Warren Edgar (Tooey), 3, and Cary, 2. At home still at the Niemi home on Niagara is young John, 10, a fifth grader at Lewis and Clark school, still too young to be too concerned about five lovely princesses under his mother's watchful eye.

Active and interested in civic and community affairs, the official chaperone of the 1957 Regatta court has served as proudent of the distaff side of the Astoria Golf and Country club, was also president of Rotary Anns, held office in the Order of Eastern Star, served on the advisory board of the Rainbows and is current president of the Astoria chapter of the Daughters of the Nile.

And one thing come to keep the boys for her husband's oil company, but she laughingly stated she will have to ask the boss to give her timeoff with the approach of Regatta days and all their exciting events.

Chances are, he will. But if not, he'll have to deal with the Regatta committee, the five pretty princesses, the admiral, the rear admirals and the whole of Regatta land.

Royal Regatta Gals Aid Lions in Kickoff Of Home Show Tonite

Astoria royal Regatta court will make its first official public appearance of the season tonight at 8:30 at the Armory as they join with local Lions club members to kickoff the first night's activities at the annual Home and Auto show.

Doors to the show will open at 6 p. m., with the stage show slated for 8:30 p. m., and the royal Regatta gals will be introduced from the stage just before the stage show gets underway.

The five princesses comprising the court this year are Judy Hein, Linda Thompson, Evelyn Lewis, Sheril Hoagland and Nancy Spong. All of them are to be June graduates of Astoria high school.

Tom Hixon, president of the Astoria Regatta association will introduce the five princesses and their chaperone, Mrs. E. Niemi, from the stage.

Everything is in "shipshape," according to Bob Neumeister, Lions club home show chairman, as mad day today as the final touches were readied for the grand opening tonight at 6 p. m.

Neumeister said the show was especially designed to please all members of the family, all ages and he hoped that many would take advantage of the event. Admission prices are 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

Special Feature

A special feature this year will be a booth sponsored by the Greater Astoria Boosters, a newly-organized Astoria promotional organization which has come through the Astoria Chamber of Commerce. It will serve as a general information center and will help visitors with "all problems from finding lost children to directing the way to special exhibits," one official said.

Information, telephone service, and paging service will all be supplied through the booth.

Quartet Featured on TV With Top Star Jack Benny

Internationally famed stars of stage, screen, radio and television, the Sportsmen quartet, have been [illegible] as top entertainers for appearances during the three full days of the annual Astoria Regatta, July 18 through 21, Dr. John Hickman, association president announced today.

The four celebrated singers, who are usually the horns of top US comedian Jack Benny's dilemma in his regular television show, have conquered every medium of show business. They have made appearances around the world in night clubs, theaters and at private parties for many years.

[illegible] association was indeed fortunate to sign these singers," Hickman said in making this year is a make-or-break year for the Regatta.

[illegible] only appearance in Oregon this year up to this date, Hickman said.

The dates have been confirmed by the group for the Astoria appearance and they will arrive in Portland later this month to sign the contracts for their appearance. Hickman will go to Portland to meet with them at that time and discuss details of their appearance here.

Meanwhile, in other Regatta news, Hickman and Dr. E. W. Harvey, chairman of the Oregon Fish Festival phase of the celebration, appeared Friday at the forum luncheon of the chamber of commerce.

Dr. Harvey explained the program, tentative at this date, which has been outlined for the celebration, while Dr. Hickman detailed some of the problems facing the association this year.

Main problem currently, Hickman said, is financial and the association must either learn to pay its own way or cease to exist.

Anchors Tell Chairmen of 1957 Regatta

Mrs. Bob Graves heads the Anchor club Regatta committee for this year, appointed at Monday's meeting by Mrs. Vernon Mogenson.

Serving with her will be Mrs. Eldred Mattet, assistant chairman, Mrs. Harold Jacobs, coronation setting chairman, assisted by the Mesdames Al Mather, Kenneth Hill, Jack Spencer, Harry Dreyfer, Mrs. Victor Malen and Howard Burns, program; Mrs. George Fulton and Mrs. Eugene Knutsen, wardrobe; Mrs. Arthur Johansen, tea committee chairman, assisted by Mrs. Albert Sorkki, Mrs. Harold Johnson, Mrs. Al Davis, Mrs. Albert Frye and Mrs. Arthur Anderson, tea decoration; Mrs. Donald Hoyer and Mrs. Donald Kubik, kitchen co-chairmen, assisted by the Mesdames Ralph Land, Charles Foudekter, Frank Thorsness, Floyd Reith Jr., and Bob Johnson, Mrs. Roland Peterson and Mrs. William Leahy, luncheon committee co-chairmen, assisted by the Mesdames Walter Samuelson, Stanley Sagen and Eldred Mattet; Mrs. Harry Duff, Regatta publicity.

Style Show Planned

Following close on the heels of the Regatta plans were those made for the spring style show, to be held at the Yacht club Monday, March 18, at 8 p. m., to which the public is invited. Skipper Mogenson appointed Mrs. William Palmberg chairman of the kitchen committee for this, assisted by the Mesdames George Oja, Walter Samuelson and George Niemi; Mrs. Roy Thompson and Mrs. Robert Landwehr, co-chairmen for models, and decorations, assisted by Mrs. Marvin Taylor, Mrs. John Cederberg and Mrs. Wilham Elder.

Members voted to send a half campership to send a girl to Camp Kiwanilong and to help sponsor a girl to Girls State.

The Anchor Log was distributed by Mrs. Don Johnson and Mrs. George Niemi, during the social hour, when refreshments were served by Mrs. Frank Thornsess, chairmen, Mrs. Albert Frye, Mrs. Howard Burns and Mrs. Sam Yockey.

'Legends Of Sea' Is Parade Theme For 1957 Regatta

"Legends of the Sea" has been selected by the Jaycee parade committee as the theme for the 1957 Astoria Regatta Parade, according to Reuel Meissner who heads the Jaycee planning for the July 20 event.

"This theme," Meissner said, "incorporates a tribute to the Navy in honor of Admiral A. M. Bledsoe, 1957 Admiral, while allowing parade entries covering a wide range of nautical themes, both historical and fictional." This is the first year in recent parade history that a definite theme will govern float entries in the colorful march down Commercial street.

Official invitations to participate in the parade are being printed and will be mailed early next week to hundreds of prospective parade entries representing several states. Several favorite out-of-town units have already stated that they are looking forward to participating once again in the local festival. Local firms or individuals interested in preliminary information on entering are invited to call Meissner at Shell Oil company.

This will be the fourth year that the Junior Chamber of Commerce has organized and handled the big parade for the Regatta association. Jaycees participating in committee phases include: Don Jarvis, assistant chairman; Ron Angberg, secretary; awards and judging, Don Garris and Chuck Lamb; publicity, Carl Jacobson and John Swensen; signs, Bruce Endicott; public address system, Bill Meyer; hospitality, Bob Jackson, Don Henry and Truman Tollefson; housing, Carl Bondietti, Bill McRostie and Frank Elliott; parade marshalls, Jack Ford, E. Johnson; local promotion, Wes Shaner Jr., Ira Richards, Bob Rees and Reuel Meissner. Working closely with the committee is Tony Palmo, chairman of the outstanding 1956 (Sesqui) and 1956 parades.

"City Center" Regatta Slated For Astorians

A Regatta realm in the center of [illegible] was in prospect today as president John Hickman of the [illegible] a board of directors announced re-vamped plans which would use the entire [illegible] field area as site for the annual celebration July 18, 19, 20 and 21.

[illegible] and enlarged carnival [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible] combined Regatta and Fish Festival.

A 20-unit carnival, with games, rides and food booths, will be set up in the street surrounding the Armory, if current plans are approved, Dr. Hickman said.

Sees Council

He will go before the Astoria city council next week to ask that 10th street between Marine Drive and Exchange streets, and Duane street between 16th and 17th streets, be vacated for the week to provide room for the carnival to setup.

Blocking off of these streets, Hickman said, will form a huge [illegible] for carnival and [illegible] the two new and revised Parade V Den.

Dr. Hickman disclosed that negotiations are now underway to [illegible] for the carnival [illegible] and Tuesday, around it, as the [illegible] of the Regatta and Fish Festival.

Not Master

However, Dr. Hickman pointed out that arrangements for the carnival are not final. He said that while local Moose [illegible] are responsible [illegible] the carnival, [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] to come to [illegible] agreement. It is expected that a final answer will be made known in the next [illegible] Dances, shave shows, Ferris wheel [illegible] and a new festive [illegible] Sports Fair are to be held in the Armory, Dr. Hickman announced after the Recent Regatta board meeting.

The main floor of the Armory is to house the Fish Festival exhibition under the direction of Dr. E. W. Harvey, [illegible] space for the stage show and for various displays.

Dr. Hickman also pointed out that the famed Sportsmen quartet, which appears regularly on the Jack Benny television show, is enthusiastic about their coming to Astoria.

He said that he had met the group on Pacific Coast and that they are looking forward to the four days in Astoria. They will make [illegible] appearance during the Regatta. Once, briefly, at the coronation, and then each night at the Regatta pavilion in the Armory. The night show will be of 45 minutes duration. A possibility exists, Dr. Hickman said, that another act or two may be added to the program. A fifth time for a stage show has as yet to be designated.

Fish Delicacies

In keeping with the Fish Festival theme of the Regatta Dr. Hickman said that food booths on the main floor of the Armory would sell only snacks made from some form of fish food. He said that in this way the celebration would push the product for which Astoria is famous.

The basement of the Armory may be used to house a new idea in Regatta activity, a Sports Fair. Dr. Hickman said that the idea had been proposed at the board of directors recent session and it is still tentative.

Under the plan sporting goods organizations, boating organizations would install booths of their products.

It is planned to show such displays as guns, boats, motors, camping equipment, fishing gear, and all other types of sports equipment. Dr. Hickman said that the board is considering the program further and expects an announcement in the near future regarding the event. However, he did point out, that the board is generally favorable to the new plan.

Board Additions

Two new directors have been added to the board in recent weeks to replace resigned directors, Dr. Hickman also announced.

John McLoughlin, of the New England Fish company, has been appointed to replace Richard Jensen, who took a leave-of-absence due to the pressure of business.

Paul Potts, of Astoria Tire and Battery, has been named to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of John Gustafson. Gustafson resigned due to the pressure of business as well.

In other news along the Regatta front Dr. Hickman said that the name of the new Regatta admiral would be announced within a few days.

He said that the admiral is an outstanding one and will serve with distinction.

Buttons for the 37th Regatta will go on sale within the next few days, Hickman also announced. He said that buttons are new and unusual this year and that a concerted drive will be undertaken to sell them.

[illegible] Dr. Hickman points out that a Regatta button would [illegible] aim to make everyone in Clatsop county a Regatta supporter."

Concrete Bridge Approach Claims Two More Youths

VANCOUVER (UP)— Two 16-year-old boys, fleeing from a deputy sheriff, were killed early Tuesday when their stolen automobile hit a power pole and then crashed into a concrete abutment on the north end of the Interstate bridge here.

One of the victims was identified by Coroner Paul Mylan as Ronald Paul Pullis of Seattle. The driver of the car was not identified immediately. Mylan said the boy, who appeared to be the same age as the Pullis youth, had no identification on his person. However, the coroner said he is fairly certain the boy is from Seattle.

The accident was almost identical to another crash at the same spot last month when two Seattle men in a stolen car tried to escape pursuing Washington state patrolmen and were killed when they plowed into the same abutment.

In Tuesday's fatal crash, Clark County Deputy Sheriff Lynn King said he spotted the boys north of Vancouver about 3 a.m. He followed them to make a routine check. When he tried to pull alongside, the youths speeded up. He estimated the car was traveling about 85 miles an hour when it went out of control and crashed.

Police said the car was stolen from South Tacoma. It was registered to Lane H. Cox of Tacoma.

Button Drive Launched Today For Astoria Regatta Festival

"Button, button, who has'nt got a button," paraphrasing an old nursery game, will echo down Astoria's main streets this week as the Astoria Regatta association launches a Make-or-Break button sales campaign to finance the 37th annual celebration scheduled for July 18, 19, 20 and 21.

A three-pronged sale approach for the all-new button plan started today as Dr. John Hickman, president of the association, placed buttons for sale in the hands of three separate groups. A concerted plan for the sales campaign, adding more sales sites and more organizational aid, will be announced at a later date, Dr. Hickman said.

Dr. Hickman said that buttons this year will not be season passes for all Regatta events and that they will be offered for sale at a reduced price. In past years Regatta buttons have sold for at least $2.00 and have entitled purchasers to all events of the Regatta on a free blanket admittance cost.

This year the button will cost only $1 and will entitle purchasers to participate free of charge in the Fish Festival fish-fry and all Marine events.

Both of these events are to be expanded this year, Dr. Hickman says, and the button sales will help defray these added costs.

Button sales will also be used to finance the parade and to carry some of the expense load for other events in the Regatta that have proved burdensome in the past.

Members of the Regatta court are now selling buttons and the Astoria [illegible] the Chamber of Commerce office and the members of the board of directors have been the backbone of the initial sales drive so far.

An extensive and detailed sales plan, one which will send the Regatta court on button sales visits to all of Astoria's civic organizations is also envisioned. Details of the plan will be announced following next regular meeting of the Board of Directors.

Buttons this year are of the "booster" type, Dr. Hickman pointed out. They are designed in a new and novel way, bearing the pictures of the five princesses and are larger than those of the past, measuring two inches in diameter.

"We hope that Astorians demonstrate that they want to continue the Regatta by supporting the association through purchase of buttons," Dr. Hickman said.

He warned that finances of the association are nearing the low water mark and if the planned celebration does not pay its own way it may not continue.

"Be a booster. Buy a button and boost Astoria and save the Regatta," he urged.

Navy Man To Be Regatta Admiral

ADMIRAL ALBERT M. BLEDSOE

First 'Real' Sailor Dons Regatta Togs for July Fete

An American military hero, who was in the forefront of the magnificent march of American men and material via land, sea and air lanes back to the Philippines in 1944-45, and whose beribboned chest boasts some of this nation's top decorations, will serve as admiral for the 37th annual Astoria Regatta, Dr. John Hickman, association president, announced today.

The first real-life sailor in the long history of the Regatta will don the spangles of the Regatta's top hand, when Rear Admiral Albert M. Bledsoe, USN, commander of the 13th Naval District, accepts the added stars of a full-fledged Admiral for Regatta-Rites in mid-July, Dr. Hickman said.

Admiral Bledsoe notified the association today that he would be on hand for the event and that he was looking forward to participation in the traditional command.

No Stranger Here

No stranger to Astoria, Admiral Bledsoe has been a visitor in the city on many occasions both in peacetime and war. Most recently he [illegible] Naval [illegible] and [illegible] tours.

A native born Texan, Admiral Bledsoe has a background of service to his country in the finest traditions of a naval officer.

His naval career spans both World War and the Korean conflict.

In 1917 he graduated from the US Naval Academy at Annapolis [illegible] years of service to his country.

During World War I he served on battleships in the Atlantic area [illegible] His tours of duty found him aboard the American fighting ships Nevada and Mississippi.

Was Instructor

After World War I, during the time when US military might was trimmed and retrenched, he served as instructor at the naval academy and aboard various ships.

In 1935 through 1937 he was personnel officer for the Pacific Fleet. He later attended and graduated, in 1938, from the Naval War College at Newport, R. I.

At the time of the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, which catapulted the US into the thick of World War II, Admiral Bledsoe was [illegible] destroyer division 6, then engaged in convoy duty in the Pacific.

During the uneasy treacherous days of the opening phase of the war in the Pacific ships and [illegible] were [illegible] guard the convoys of ships and material to safety in allied ports.

Later he was assigned as director of the division of enlisted personnel in the Navy Department and [illegible] responsible for direction of the Navy's [illegible] of the greatest [illegible] in history.

Marge Mather's clean house
27th and Something
The very last day of March

Dear Anchors, former drones, assorted husbands, etc.

While Marge tries to get Dorothy Jacob on the phone to find out all the facts about the rummage sale, we'll try to fill you in on what is going on in Anchor land.

Seeing Laura Fern having her usual drippy meat loaf sandwich in Paramount a week ago Saturday, we grabbed the next stool and tried to pump her about what scandalous things she or her cronies had been up to. But she claims to have been leading a real drill life: Can this be Laura Fern? She claims that it takes all her energy to go to work every day and that she has no extra zip for misbehavin'/

Ha ha — I'll bet Christine she can swim?

Comments about town indicate that our style show was enjoyed by everyone present. We particularly liked the card tables set up with the models passing close enough so that everyone could see. Commentator Peter Sorkki introduced models Peggy Larson, Sue Fulton, Viola Johnson, Alice Springer, Dorothy Tienson, Jane Seeborg, Esty Knutsen, Nancy Thoranese and Jackie Josephson. Winners of door prizes were the Mesdames Don Overholser, John Kempf, Edwin Niska, Jack Budd, Don Tucker, and our own above mentioned Dorothy Jacob. The committee in charge was Anne Malmberg, Millie Oja, Laura Fern Samuelson and Helen Niemi. Decorations and models were supervised by Margaret Thompson, Shirley Landwehr, June Taylor, Jane Seeborg and Bea Seeberg. This was a pleasant way to make profits. From "behind the scenes" came word that when Springer ruined her hose, good committee member Bea took hers off for Alice to wear.

The boys have a night out with the girls.

Former Anchor member Lillian Boyer surprised me with a most welcome letter last week and wrote that she often thinks of the Anchors--especially when a particularly goofy idea presents itself. She also said that she has thought of writing the club a letter but is afraid all the new members would say "Who the hell is she?" So be it anyway, Lillian, and don't let any of those ideas stagnate up there in Hermiston.

The calm before the storm.

Speaking of former Anchors, I stopped at the Josey's for coffee on Frida I recommend it for all of you travelers on Sunset--Not only is it handy, but cheap too. Emma has done lots of papering and painting in the last month. They have chickens that are laying eggs and a pet lamb at the back door, so are making like real farmers.

Caught Althea sneaking into Safeway last Saturday hopi she wouldn't see anyone she knew just because she was in pedal pushers. So Marge Smith was there and Mabel Niskanen too. Althea feels encouraged about the drill team and they are practicing on Thursday nights now. New non-Anchor members who are most welcome additions are Pat Williamson and Mayonna Riutta. Althea also mentioned that she had seen Goldie Kelsey in a doctors office in Portland. Goldie had hit her leg on a car door and was in for treatment. Her new address is 4410 N. Amhurst, Portland 3.

Hi there up!

I called Fern Johansen to see what juicy tidbits she could devulge--but about all I found out was that Fern was at home at 11:45 Sunday morning instead of in church. She did say that Virginia, Millie, Freda, Viola and Nora and spouses had all attended the state basketball tournament. Millie reports that MacArthur Court was hadr pressed to accommodate all the Johnsons.

Here's the scene.

I also tried to get some information out of Sue, but she just said she did not do those silly things like she used to. We did hear that Mabel celebrated her birthday after the style show. Should think there ought to be something there that would make good reading because it isn't every day you have a 29th birthday, huh Mabel?

Rosemary Neumeister must have been starving to death when seen pounding on the door at Pat & Len's in the wee hours last Sunday morning after the Home Show. Also, we are wondering how many Anchors got seasick? on the return from the Elk's visitation across the river. D. Jacob said that if she hadn't been so well-oiled, she would have known it was storming and been scared to death. Bill Elder told me Monday that Katie was still rocking.

And then, there is our lucky Anchor, Viola J. who won a prize at the Home Show.

We have been waiting for Marge Anderson to come back from Mexico so we could give you a first hand travelogue but she hasn't accomodated us.

Former member Louise Saario, of Fairbanks, Alaska, visited friends in Astoria recently. The Anchors who attended the cocktail party at the [illegible] were pleased to have an opportunity to chat with Louise. Also [illegible]

Do you suppose she can swim?

By the way, Anchors, you must be a very healthy, hearty group; or so the new bookkeeper at the Columbia Hospital reports. Elsa has aged(?) with her efforts to whip into shape the bookkeeping system there; and due to this "aging" the Al Frye's were hosts for a surprise birthday party, honoring Elsa, with Anchors Beverly Willson, Dorothy Jacobs and Marge Mather, and spouses among the guests.

Seen, opening up the "Sands", Friday evening were the Vernon Hogensons', the Howard Burns and the Chuck Smiths. Marge insisted that sister Jean buy her lunch at the Fiesta Club the next day, with lots of black coffee.

Notice to all Anchors who are in a spring housecleaning mood: Your Anchor Club is holding a Rummage SALE at the old Crohn Jewelry store location, next door to the old Saario Fur Shop. Dorothy Jacobs and Alice Springer are co-chairmen for this fund raising event, so lets all swamp them with rummage, huh?

Here's a few that maybe you haven't heard--------

And then there was the one about the bashful beau who wanted to propose to the "One and only". Not knowing how to pop the question, he decided to ask his mother how his Dad had asked her hand in marriage. The Mother referred him to his Grandfather who happened to be noddin in his easy chair.
"Grandpa, how did you ask Grandma to marry you?"
"Well, now, Grandson, as I recollect, we were dancing. Your grandmother reached up and whispered something in my ear, and I said, "YOU ARE"

In his medical memoir, DOCTOR at LARGE, Dr. Richard Gordon writes: One day a mother brought her teen-age daughter to my office and explained that the girl, who sat shyly staring at me, coughed all night every night. I told her the youngster's chest must be exposed so I could make an examination. When the girl was ready, I put my stethoscope on her chest and said with a smile, "Big breaths." Instantly her shyness thawed. "Yeth," she said proudly, "and I'm only thixteen."

Junketing Regatta Court Heard

Lions, Rotary-Anns Visited As Official Tours Start

Button tours for the Astoria Regatta association's 37th annual summer water festival got underway last night as the junketing court of five princesses made two stops on the road they hope will 'button-pave' their way to the biggest and best Regatta in recent years.

Today the tours continue with appearances at noon at the Rotary club and other dates at service clubs throughout the week.

The Regatta message, intoned by the five princesses, who each told of one phase of the many-sided celebration, was carried to both the Lions Club and the Rotary-Anns at the J. J. Astor hotel Tuesday [illegible]

Historian Reverses

At each of the organizations the court was introduced by Regatta association president Dr. John Hickman. They were accompanied by their chaperone, Miss Ed Nieml, and at each appearance the court boosted Regatta button sales. For their evening of button sale efforts they added $40 to Regatta coffers.

Princess Judy Hein told the story of the coronation, one of the traditional Regatta events which is scheduled for opening night activity again this year. She announced the Governor R. D. Holmes will be on hand for honors along with the Regatta Admiral Albert Bledsoe.

She also announced that the Salem Cherrians and Portland Rosarians will attend the festival and participate in the coronation.

Princess Sheryl Hoagland, who is the second princess in two years to be named Sheryl, told the story of the second annual Oregon Fish Festival which is part of the Regatta again this year.

Worldwide Contest

She announced that a worldwide cooking contest would be added as part of the Savory Seafoods search. The event is to feature national dishes and already 12 national dishes have been entered.

Princess Evelyn Lewis talked about the Sportsman quartet, which has been signed for the [illegible]

She told Lions members and Rotary Anns of the [illegible] social careers of each of the four [illegible] members.

Career Report

Princess Linda Thompson discussed the naval career of Regatta Admiral Bledsoe. Princess Nancy Springer told the story of the Regatta buttons and talked finances with the groups. She said that the funds drive for the association this year is an important one.

The five princesses were garbed in their official outfits for their appearances. They are attired this year in identical gray wool suits with box jackets, beret type red hats, red and white polka dot blouses, red earrings, and black patent leather shoes and handbags.

Earlier last week the princesses appeared at the USO for the annual dance in their honor. They, along with their chaperone, were presented with corsages by the organization.

President Hickman said that any organizations in the city that wishes to hear from the five princesses may call him at 245 and arrangements will be made for a [illegible]

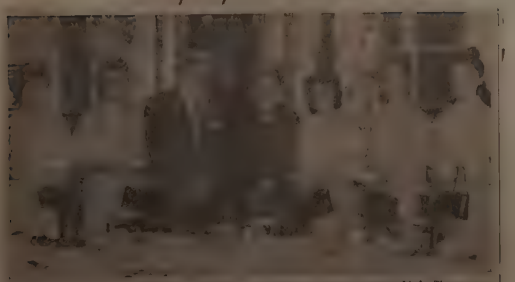

Regatta Button Tours Start Tuesday

Governor R. D. Holmes, a longtime supporter and participant in the Astoria Regatta, gets the top honors this year, in the above photo, as Regatta association president John Hickman presents him with the first commission as an admiral for the 37th annual run of the traditional water festival. Governor Holmes also received a Regatta button. He expressed keen interest in the work of the association and Oregon Fish Festival activity. Pictured with the governor and Dr. Hickman above are, on the right, Charles Smith, vice president of the association, and Rep. Walter Helmstrom, who is a past president of the association. Rotary Anns Meet Regatta Princesses

Rotary Anns, at their regular dinner meeting Tuesday evening in the John Jacob Astor hotel Rose room, had the opportunity to meet the Astoria Regatta court, special guests of the evening.

Dr. John Hickman, 1957 Regatta chairman, introduced the five Regatta princesses, Linda Thompson, Nancy Springer, Evelyn Lewis, Judy Hein and Sheryl Hoagland, and their official chaperone, Mrs Ed Niemi, who is a member of Rotary Ann.

Adding to the festivity of the evening was a musical program, consisting of a piano duet by Gayle and Marion Hauke, and songs by a vocal trio, Marilyn Morfitt, Janice Isaacson and Judy Simonsen, accompanied by Jocelyn Maddox.

The business transacted after the dinner revolved largely around plans for the annual Rotary Ann dance, "Spring Virus," to be held May 18 in the Bikini room of the Hotel Gearhart. Mrs. Jerry Greenberg is chairman, with the following assistants: the Mesdames Ade Kerbel, Bob Wooldridge and Bob Larson, decorations; B. E. Roman, J. J. Morrell, Richard Jensen and Cliff Elledge, program; Lynn Hughes, Henry Kaufman and Phil Weinstein, reservations; Bob Chessman and John Verscheuren, invitations, and Lance Spalding, hors d'oeuvres.

Those in charge of the dinner were the Mesdames Otto Owen, Robert McLean, Ed Paldanius and Morrell, who centered the tables with miniature spring woodland scenes.

The next regular meeting will be June 25.

A-B Mistake

Astoria's Anchor club will sponsor the annual Queen's luncheon this year on Saturday afternoon July 20 rather than on Friday, July 19, as erroneously reported in the Astorian-Budget. The luncheon has been held on Friday during Regatta week, traditionally, but the club feels the Saturday date will give them better opportunity to complete arrangements and make it easier for individuals to attend the event.

Uniform Switch Set For Regatta Fete

Festival Expand Is Told

Astoria's upcoming 37th annual Regatta, scheduled for July 19, 20 and 21, had some revamped uniforms today and a horde of new admirals as Dr. John Hickman, and the board of directors, issued a blanket commission as a rear admiral to every man and woman of high school age and above in the Astoria city limits.

The board's sweeping new directive came swiftly on the heels of the plans of the association to broaden the base of the celebration to include all of Astoria in a truly representative Regatta and Fish Festival.

"This is Astoria's biggest celebration of the year, and the only one in which the whole community is united, and the board of directors wants everyone to take a part," Dr. Hickman said.

Were Mailed

In years past the association has mailed special commissions to commission rear admirals both in and out of the city. Statewide commissions will continue to be sent, Dr Hickman said, to notables and those the community wishes to invite, particularly to the celebration, but this list also is to be pared.

Each year the board has broadened the local commission list, but has found it an impossible task to keep up with all those who would desire to [illegible] Regatta.

Some people have felt in the past that if they did not receive a commission they were not supposed to participate in the Regatta," Dr. Hickman said.

Sent Yearly

"This is not the case. Commissions were sent each year to those who indicated they wanted them or to those who had participated in the past. But to avoid confusion this year we are commissioning the entire town," he said.

The broadened base of the commission plan was also to include women, the board decreed. Special new uniforms, something entirely new to Regatta activity have been chosen for the women to wear.

A similar age group as the men commisioned by the board's order is also set for the women.

The board was emphatic is urging community cooperation and said that main purpose in adding both a new women's and a new man's uniform was to urge wider community wearing of the uniform.

They pointed out that other communities in the state are transformed into special eras for their specialized celebration and that Astoria should be no exception

"We can have a great celebration, one that all of us will remember for years to come," Dr. Hickman said, "if the community gets the spirit of this event."

Added Styles

The traditional Regatta uniform, of blue coat, white pants, black shoes, yachting cap, shoulder patch and Regatta button, for men, has been unchanged by the board's action.

It remains the basic Regatta uniform. But an optional uniform has been added. For the day, and also for evening wear, the board has selected a uniform for men of blue denim trousers, sports shirt, Regatta button and patch, and blue denim yachting cap.

The board said that those who have the older type uiform may prefer to wear it or may prefer to wear it for evening affairs, but they emphasized that the new uniform is acceptable for both day and evening wear.

For the women, other than Anchor club members, the board selected a uniform of black or blue skirt, white blouse, dark shoes, Regatta button and patch, and overseas cap.

Expectations are that the caps will be available in local stores in [illegible]

The board also decreed the week July 15 through the 22 as Regatta Uniform week. At that time all persons, particularly those who work in the downtown areas, are urged to wear Regatta uniforms.

In Regatta news Dr. Hickman reported that button sales for the first Saturday of the button campaign got off to a" great" start.

Mrs Ralph Lind New President of Lions Auxiliary

Members serving punch and cookies at the USO after the dance were Mrs. Kenneth Hill, Mrs. Vernon Mogenson, Mrs. Frank Thorsness and Mrs Hugh Winstanley.

The auxiliary voted to give an additional donation to to epilepsy research project.

Mrs. Leroy Steinmann won the special prize with numerous prizes won at pirate bingo after the meeting.

In honor of their special guests the dinner tables were decorated in Regatta colors with miniature sailboats, their sails adorned with the [illegible] by the hostesses, Mrs. [illegible] and Mrs. Frank Thorsness.

Princesses Thank Anchor Club for New Wardrobes

In their trim little gray suits, accented with [illegible] accessories, the five lovely Regatta princesses each gave a pretty speech on phases of the forthcoming Regatta and Fish Festival when they appeared at Monday night's Anchor meeting.

With Mrs. Ed Niemi, their chaperone, the princesses expressed their appreciation to the Anchor club for their new outfits.

As this was the main event at the meeting, hostesses Mrs. John [illegible], chairman, and the Mesdames Harry Dressler, Roy Thompson and George Niemi served strawberry shortcake from a table centered with a flowered wishing well amid cherry blossoms and white lilacs.

The Anchor Log was edited and distributed by Mrs. Charles Gustafson and Mrs. John Tienson, with a special prize going to Mrs. Jerry Phillips.

Princesses of the 1957 Regatta were pretty escorts for their mothers, when Mrs. Ed Niemi, official court chaperone, entertained for them at her home recently. Seated in front of their royal mothers are, left, Princesses Linda and Mrs. Troyer Thompson; Sheryl, and Mrs. Frank Hoagland; Judie, and Mrs. Paul Hein; Nancy and Mrs. Ted Springer; and Evelyn and Mrs. D. Anchor Club Swells Funds For Regatta

Anchor club members to date have sold 341 Regatta buttons, according to a report at last week's meeting, made by Mrs. Vernon Mogenson, skipper.

Mrs. Mogenson also reminded members that the Anchors will meet from now on until after the Regatta at 8:30 p. m. instead of at 8, to allow the drill team to get in an hour's practice before meeting time.

During the refreshment hour, when pink tapers and pink rhododendrons centered the tea table, Mrs Charles Smith was awarded the evening's special prize.

Hostesses were the Mesdames Robert [illegible], Kenneth Hill, George Oja and Miss Laurel Bjork.

Anchor members and their husbands enjoyed a buffet supper, followed by bingo and dancing at the Yacht club Saturday evening, for which Mrs Charles Gustafson and Mrs. Vernon Larson were co chairmen, assisted by the Mesdames Sam Yockey, David Hoyer, Arthur Johnson and Woodrow Wilson.

[illegible] parade has grown so popular that participation has grown beyond expectations. Thus, he said, new regulations governing the parade units have been included in the invitations. This was done to assure only top quality participants.

However, he pointed out, if any Astorians have favorite or know of outstanding parade units they are asked to call them to the attention of the Jaycee parade committee.

Persons desiring to suggest units may do so simply by contacting members of the junior chamber organization.

Deadline July 5

Registration deadline for units in the parade must be registered by July 5.

Meissner said that the list of workers for the event from the Jaycee organization will be named in the near future. It is the third year in a row that the group has sponsored the parade. A. A. "Tony" Naimo was parade chairman for two years. He serves in the capacity this year as parade adviser as a member of the Regatta board.

Varied types of units have been invited to participate. Invitations already mailed have gone to bands, musical groups, drill marching units, drill riding units, display marching units, display riding units and novelty units.

Crowd Estimated

Promise of the 30,000 spectators made to the prospective parade units was based on past crowds at recent Regatta parades, according to the Jaycees.

For the Sesquicentennial parade three years ago estimates placed the crowd who watched the huge event at close to that figure. Last of Astoria's Anchor Club, in business as official aide's for the Astoria Regatta Association, opened their purses for the 37th annual water festival this week and okayed a series of expenditures designed to help promote what they termed, "an outstanding event for Astoria."

Luncheon, button, dance band and sceptre burdens were lifted from the financially overwhelmed shoulders of the association by the series of moves unanimously enacted by the group.

Meeting early this week the club announced some financial help for the hard-pressed Regatta Association is designed to be translated into entertainment for the community during Regatta time.

First the club lifted the financial burden off the Regatta Association for paying for the annual Queen's luncheon. The luncheon is traditionally a no-host affair but the association has paid the cost of decorations and other incidentals. The cost has never been high, or prohibitive, but the club will now assume financial as well as administrative responsibility for the event.

The luncheon is scheduled to be held Friday, July 19, this year at noon. In previous years the popular event has been held on Saturday. Anchor club spokesman said they felt the Friday date would be more desirable and provide less rush for the members of the court than they have experienced on previous Regatta Saturdays.

Chairman of the luncheon committee is Mrs Roland Peterson, co-chairman, Mrs William Leahey. Working as committee members are Mrs. Stanley Sagen, Mrs. Walter Samuelson and Mrs. Eldred Mittet.

Action by the club to help finance a dance band for the Saturday night's Queen Ball came when some club members expressed a wish that a large well known band be brought into the city for the affair. In recent years local orchestras with small membership have been utilized.

Unanimous Vote

The club members unanimously voted to help pay for the orchestra. It was emphasized that the Regatta Association could not afford to pay the whole cost for an orchestra of major caliber and it was for this reason that the club took the action to aid them.

Tentatively the Anchor club has decided with the Regatta board to engage Eddie Andersons' 7-piece orchestra for the ball. His band is from Portland and is well known in Astoria.

Still spending money the Anchors also voted to purchase a silver sceptre dome of rhinestones. The device will be used at the coronations of Requatta Queens this year and in the future.

The club also checked in officially today for the third year in a row as the first 100 per cent button buying civic organization in the community.

Regatta Board Junks Plan For Float in Rose Festival

Plans for an Astoria float in the Portland Rose Festival parade in June have been junked by the Astoria Regatta Association due to lack of public response to appeals for manpower in helping to get the float ready, Dr. John Hickman, association president, announced today.

Dr. Hickman said that the association had been willing to, and would still be willing to, and had made all arrangements for participation with the Rose Festival Association. A financing plan for the decorations had also been arranged.

"We received much enthusiastic support when we broached the subject of entering a float in the Rose Parade, but when the association asked for help in getting the float ready we received only a few calls," Dr. Hickman said.

Big Crew Needed

Vernon Mogenson, who had been designated by the board to chairman preparation of the float, said that to get the float ready it would be necessary for a large contingent of Astorians to go to Portland, where the float would of necessity be decorated, and remain until the float was decorated, even if it took all night. And, Mogenson said, it probably would.

The basic design of the Astoria float, which was proposed for entry in the parade, would have been the proposed trans-Columbia bridge. A place would also have been provided for the Astoria Regatta court. Theme of the float would be the song title, "Cross Over the Bridge."

Mogenson said that for sometime the board considered the possibility of constructing and decorating the float in Astoria and then driving the completed float to Portland the night before the parade, timed to [illegible] parade.

Because it was pointed out by [illegible] that a lower decorated float, "it would take several thousand flowers to cover the float), would not survive the long haul to Portland.

Dr. Hickman said the board was reluctant to give up the idea of sponsoring the float in the parade, but that the association's board of directors had neither the time nor the manpower to undertake the task alone.

Several requests were made for help through civic organizations and finally the public appeal for manpower was made.

While many persons did call and volunteer services or groups of sailors or high school age students as aids to the float construction, Dr. Hickman said that some obstacle was found to accepting the offers.

Has No Funds

He pointed out too that the association has no funds to provide transportation to Portland for the workers nor to provide food or housing allowances for those who would make the trip to Portland to help decorate the float.

The association had also planned for the Astoria high school Fisherettes to march in the parade.

Dr. Hickman said that the association was sorry to junk the plans and to disappoint those who had counted on the event, but unless some overwhelming evidence of public support was immediately forthcoming the plan is officially discontinued.

Early Queen For Royal Regatta

Here's how royalty for Astoria's Regatta looked in days gone by. Queen Frances Thomas of either the 1902 or 1903 Regatta is her name. Confusion over the dates comes from the fact that in official Regatta records the regally garbed miss is listed as Queen in 1903. On the back of the picture, which was loaned to the A-B through Duncan Shields, Tolovana Park, the year 1902 is given as the Regatta dates. (A-B Photo)

Anchor Meeting Theme to Hawaii For Bride-Elect

Hawaii was the theme of the Anchor meeting Monday night, in honor of the members, Miss Jacquelyn Josephson, who leaves soon to be married in Hawaii.

A miniature palm tree swayed above Hawaiian figurines on the refreshment table, and Miss Josephson was presented with a wedding gift from her sister Anchor members. At the short business meeting, Mrs. Vernon Mogenson, skipper, announced that the club will sell Regatta buttons downtown July 3. She also called for reports from the various Regatta committee chairmen on the progress of their projects.

The Anchor Log was distributed by Mrs. Harry Dressler and Mrs. David Hoyer, and the hostess committee, the Mesdames Walter Samuelson, Harvey Hallonen, Arthur Anderson and Donald Kubek, awarded the evening's special prize to Mrs. Charles Leback.

Jr. Bandsmen To Rehearse For Regatta

All Astoria high school bandsmen, next year's eighth grade band students and recent high school graduates who play band instruments may be a colorful and important part of the Regatta parade this year, according to Ted Marshall, high school band leader.

Rehearsal for the parade numbers starts Tuesday at 7 p. m. in the high school band room, with this first rehearsal primarily organizational. However, if enough of those attending bring instruments, a short rehearsal will be held, according to the director. Scheduling of future rehearsals will be discussed and determined Tuesday evening.

Engagements for the band during the week of the Regatta include, beside the grand parade Saturday, the coronation ceremony

Regatta Court at Long Beach Club

Astoria's junketing Regatta court of five princesses bounced over to Long Beach Monday night for an appearance before the Kiwanis club.

Members of the court were accompanied by Mrs. Ed Niemi, chaperone, and John H. Nellor, secretary of the association.

Princesses dined with the Peninsula Kiwanians and then presented a 5-speech resume of the upcoming July water festival. Each princess talked on a different phase of the Regatta celebration. Members of the court who made the trip included Linda Thompson, Judy Hein, Evelyn Lewis, Sheryl Hoagland and Nancy Springer.

The trip was one of a series which has taken, and will take, the court to the far corners of the state between now and Regatta time.

Fish, Fish, Fish . . .

60 Varieties of Fish Featured in Festival

Fish, fish, and more fish—that will be the central theme of the 1957 Oregan Fish Festival to be held in Astoria July 18-21

More than 60 different forms of fish and shellfish found in waters throughout the state are of commercial importance in Oregon. A large share of these animals will be displayed in fresh condition at the Fish Festival by the Oregon Fish Commission. Another exhibit being prepared by the Fish Commission will show what is being done to conserve fishery researces in the state.

Many fishery products difficult to obtain in fresh condition will be displayed at the Fish Festival by the US Fish and Wildlife Service, according to Dr. Edward W. Harvey, chairman again this year.

The Fish and Wildlife Service will also have a "Fisheries IQ Test" on hand for visitor participation, Harvey said.

Another federal agency, the US Food and Drug Administration, will depict safeguards that have been established for marketing fish products. The Oregon State College Seafoods Laboratory of Astoria will demonstrate various methods of processing fish and shellfish. To complete the story of fish from sea to table, the Oregon State College Extension service will sponsor continuous cooking demonstrations during the Fish Festival.

And for those who care to relax in between exhibit viewing, there will be a small theater set up with motion pictures running continuously. The subjects? Fisheries, of course!

Regatta Gals Hit Road for Lebanon

The Astoria Regatta royal court braved drenching showers Friday on a trip to Lebanon to attend that community's annual strawberry festival.

Princesses Judy Hein, Nancy Springer, Sheryl Hoagland and Evelyn Lewis made the trip, accompanied by Mrs. Ed Niemi, official chaperon, and Charles DeFoe, chamber of commerce manager. Princess Linda Thompson was attending Girls State and unable to make the trip.

The girls were to ride in a parade and then participate in a ceremony of eating the largest strawberry shortcake in the world.

About 15,000 visitors were expected for the festival.

The Regatta princesses carried folders advertising the regatta and Fish Festival for distribution to festival guests.

Kickoff Nearing For 37th Annual Astoria Regatta

Astoria Regatta - Fish Festival planners shifted into high gear today as the leaves of the calendar flipped over another month . . . this one of the month of the celebration . . . and with H-hour for the 37th annual water festival just 10 days away.

President of the association Dr John Hickman, said that planning for the event is well within its final stages and that he could promise "one of the best celebrations on r...

However, Dr Hickman said that all was not sunshine with Regatta planners. Button sales are a big worry for the association and they have dropped off considerably in recent weeks.

Effort Needed

"Unless a great effort is made on the part of association members, and unless we get better community co-operation, the celebration could fail." He urged all citizens to buy and wear Regatta buttons and to get into the spirit of the celebration.

Sweeping new plans were also disclosed by Dr Hickman for the celebration. He announced that the Moose Lodge has been turned over to the association for the entire four days of the celebration for use as a Pirate's Den.

A gigantic carnival atmosphere will prevail in the Gyro Field area, he pointed out. Gyro Field, the Moose Lodge, the streets around the armory and the armory will all be used for various phases of the celebration.

The celebration kicks-off July 18 with arrival of Admiral Albert M. Bledsoe and Governor R. D. Holmes aboard the Blue Water from Portland.

Sportsmen Due

Another high point will be arrival of the famed Sportsmen quartet. They will appear nightly at the armory during the celebration.

The Queen will be crowned at Gyro Field in the first of two major events planned for that area. Thus is on Thursday evening. Following the coronation the armory itself will open officially for the Fish Festival and for the Sportsmen program and the dance. A dance will be held nightly at the armory Regatta-pavilion.

Saturday evening, following the parade, the Gyro area will be used to stage the band show. This has proven to be one of the most popular of the Regatta events, Dr. Hickman pointed out, and is expected to be bigger and better this year.

But, between Thursday and Friday the center of the celebration shifts to the Armory-Moose Lodge area. A carnival will be set up in the streets in front of the Moose Lodge and behind the armory.

L-Shaped Area

They will form a huge L-shaped recreation area. Inside the armory itself will be the Fish Festival exhibits and the armory will be the site of the huge free fish-fry on Sunday, the final day of the celebration.

The huge land parade is scheduled for Saturday afternoon. Friday evening will be the youngsters parade, sponsored by the Kiwanis club. This is the first time the parade has been a night affair.

Live dance bands have been signed for the dances and a big name band from the region has been signed for the Queen's ball at the armory on Saturday night.

Dr Hickman was particularly grateful to the Moose Lodge membership today. He said that they are donating their lodge and many of them have volunteered to help the Regatta and work in the Pirate's Den. He said that many of them will be named to committees he will announce at a later date. Games and bar facilities will be provided in the Moose Lodge. It will be open to the public as a Pirate's Den throughout the four days.

Marine Parade

New this year, Dr. Hickman said, will be a big marine parade and fishing industry demonstrations. The Seafoods cooking contest is slated as well as a new feature, the cooking demonstrations from nations distant from Astoria.

Also new will be the crowning of a King of Fisheries. He will be chosen from fishermen after completing various tests and other appearances.

An outstanding speaker has been designated for this appearance. The Governor will also be on hand at that ceremony. He will issue a proclamation officially proclaiming the 2nd annual Oregon Fish Festival.

Command At Group Changed

At a colorful ceremony, Friday, the Columbia River Group Commander, Captain Joseph James Carey was relieved by Captain David L. Roscoe Jr. After both captains had inspected the personnel of the Columbia River Group, Captain Carey read his retirement orders. Captain Roscoe then read his relieving orders and assumed command as Commander of the Columbia River Group.

Captain Carey was born in Vineland, New Jersey on November 20, 1900. He is the son of Machael Joseph and Annie (Clark) Carey. He attended Vineland high school prior to his appointment to the US Naval Academy, at Annapolis, Maryland. Captain Carey was commissioned as Ensign in the US Navy in June 1927, and subsequently advanced to the rank of Captain in 1945. During his naval career, Captain Carey has served on many ships and stations, in various capacities, among which were the USS Dale, USS S-45, USS S-18, USS R-13, USS S-48, Bureau of Navigation, Navy Department, Washington, D. C., USS Richmond, USS Massachusetts, Oregon State college, as professor of Naval Science, Staff of Chief of Naval Operations, as Commander Escort Destroyer Squadron Four, Military Sea Transportation Service of the Navy Department, and finally as Commander Columbia River Group, Pacific Reserve Fleet, here in Astoria. While on board the Massachusetts Captain Carey was awarded a citation for meritorious service during operations against the enemy in the Pacific War area.

Captain Carey is entitled to wear the following medals and campaign ribbons earned during his naval career: The Bronze Star Medal with combat "V", American Defense Service Medal, American Campaign Medal, Asiatic-Pacific

The Royal Regatta Gals and The Governor

Some 'old friends' meet an old friend in the above picture, as members of the Royal Regatta court line up with Gov. R. D. Holmes, a fellow Clatsop "county-ite." The five princesses, along with their chaperone, Mrs. Ed. Niemi, visited the governor during the Salem Willamette River Days and the Albany Timber Carnival which they attended over the Fourth of July weekend. The girls presented the governor with a commission to the Regatta. Governor Holmes will be on hand for at least part of the celebration. Pictured left to right above are, Mrs. Ed. Niemi, chaperone, Sheryl Hoagland, Judy Hein, Governor Holmes, Evelyn Lewis, Nancy Springer and Linda Thompson. A busy week now faces the five.

Regatta Royalty Have Busy Fourth

Members of the Regatta royal court attended two celebrations in the Willamette valley over the Fourth and had themselves photographed while visiting Gov. Bob Holmes in Salem.

The court attended the Albany Timber Carnival and the Salem Willamette River Days celebration. At both events the girls rode in the parades and attended the celebration programs, being introduced numerous times. They distributed Regatta literature.

While in Salem they visited Gov Holmes at his office in the capitol.

Accompanying the court were Mrs Ed Niemi, official chaperone Sam Yockey and Ron Smart who drove cars provided by Ernie Garcia and Charles Leicht, local automobile dealers.

Anchor Club Told Girl State Story

Miss Julie Johnson, co-sponsored by the Anchor club at Girls State, told members of that organization, the benefits and enjoyment she derived from a visit to Girls State last month, at Monday night's meeting.

Prizes went to the Mesdames Arthur Anderson, Robert Landwehr and John Nellor, after which refreshments were served in a setting reminiscent of the recently-past Regatta, with dark blue table cloth, milk glass candelabra and Regatta princess dolls, dressed in blue and white striped dresses and little white hats, like the Regatta court afternoon frocks.

Hostesses were the Mesdames John Seeborg, chairman, Charles Leback, Eldred Mittet, George Fulton, Eugene Knutsen and Kenneth Simonsen.

Star Studded Regatta Poised For "Kickoff"

A star-studded 37th annual Astoria Regatta and 2nd Oregon Fish Festival was poised to get under way today with what planners termed "the most varied and colorful four-day show ever presented in Astoria."

All through the Regatta-realm busy celebration officials were working overtime to complete final plans for the event. It brings the famed Sportsmen quartet, one of the top singing groups in the nation.

J. R. Dea, one of the top speakers in the nation, the dare-devil antics of the Oswego Ski club and the roar of sleek hydroplanes and all the traditional regatta activities in a jammed-packed four day event from July 18 through 21.

Parades, stirring band music and colorful pagentry are all billed on the program.

Kickoff Thursday

Kickoff for the celebration is Thursday at 4 p. m. when Rear Admiral Albert M. Bledsoe, commandant of the 13th Naval district, arrives at the east end mooring basin aboard the Blue Water. Other Regatta dignitaries will be aboard the craft. Then in quick order the fumed and fabled events of the Regatta get under way.

Coronation of queen, one of which, five lovely princesses are vieing for the honor, will be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, at Gyro field. Then immediately following the coronation the Armory will be opened for the first time.

Featured in the Armory will be fish industry exhibits and the floor show and dance. The Sportsmen will appear at the Coronation and each night at the Armory. A dance will also be held nightly at the Armory.

The Pirates' Den, long a favorite of Regatta fans, will be open throughout the celebration. It is in a new location this year, in the Moore lodge, directly across from the Armory. All Regatta fans may attend.

Highlighted Friday will be the crowning of the King of the Fisheries, a new feature this year. At that time Gov. R. D. Holmes will deliver the proclamation for the Fish Festival and J. R. Deas, Chicago, will present the address. A band concert, featuring the Roseburg high school band, under the direction of Harold Withnell, former music director here, will present a concert. The show gets under way at 8 p. m. It immediately follows the Children's parade. The Sportsmen quartet will also appear for a concert.

Dance Set

Immediately following the King of Fisheries the dance and evening floor show will be held at the Armory. R. J. Hansen will be master of ceremonies for the crowning rites.

Top events for Saturday would be hard to find with a variety of activities planned. The popular band show gets underway in the evening at Gyro field. More than 18 individual bands will perform, according to A. A. Tony Naimo, director of parades for the Regatta association.

Saturday morning the Oswego Ski club presents a two hour exhibition of water ski talents at the east end mooring basin. At 3 p. m. the grand parade which has 61 entries gets started.

Marine Parade

Immediately following the land parade a marine parade will hour the Astoria waterfront. Two bands will participate in the parade of boats which will cruise along the waterfront from the east end mooring basin to the west end mooring basin and back again.

Sunday is highlighted by the Galleytime at the armory Mass session to the fish fry to be Regatta highlights.

POTLUCK

Saturday night's potluck was a huge success. There was plenty of beer and the food was delicious. Following the supper the gamblers took over the premises and Bingo was played, with Lois Hoyer winning the highest stake of $4.80.

AFTER POTLUCK

Later hours found many Anchors, husbands attached, dancing at the Elks Club, The Chuck Smiths and Bob Neumisters, after leaving the club, noticed the fire, and hero Chuck turned in the alarm. Word immediately spread to the Elks. On hearing the news Leonard Farris doffed suit for his turnouts and rushed to battle the blaze. At least a dozen Anchor couples watched the blaze into the wee hours of the morning. Among those seen was Verna Davis who was there in her night wear. One of the firms demolished was the Floyd Reith Insurance Agency.

ANCHOR OFFSPRING IN NEWS

Sons and daughters of Anchors graduating from high school last week are Suzanne Englund, Tom Johnson, Brian Johnson, Robert Clement and Zandra Winters.

One of the nicest things we've heard lately--Ethel and "Nuts" Winters, the morning following the graduation, hosted the entire class to a backyard breakfast of STEAKS, hashed browns, cake, pie--the works. What a lovely idea.

Gray School's American Legion Award was presented to Millie Oja's son, George. Congratulations Millie.

The Anchor Club is sponsoring Julie Johnson for her coming trip to Girl's State.

Janyse Reith will be crowned Poppy Queen of the American Legion Auxiliary Juniors. She sold 500 poppies during a two day street sale. One of the runners up was Diana Smith.

...NCHORS AWAY

Marge and Chuck Smith went to Seattle recently for a shoe showing.

Faye and Ken Hill took a trip to Hood River.

Donna and Chuck went to Portland for brother Fred Gustafson's wedding. They left their children at home. (Could this have been a second honeymoon???)

Fishing Salute 'Bigger'

Second Annual Fish Festival Expanded Local Leader Says

"Bigger and better this year," that was the word today from Dr. E. W. Harvey, chairman of the Oregon Fish Festival, on plans for the second annual Astoria salute to the fishing industry of the state, region and nation.

Cooking contests, a King of the Fisheries, an international food fair, exhibits and fishing exhibitions, are all on the agenda as part of the 37th annual Astoria Regatta, sponsoring body for the Oregon Fish Festival.

The Festival originated just a year ago when the emphasis of the Astoria Regatta turned from sports fishing, through sponsorship of the Salmon Derby, to an overall industry salute, through sponsorship of the festival, according to Dr. John Hickman, president of the Regatta association.

Many Help

More than three score Astorians will participate in promotion and preparation of the event, Dr. Harvey said. All of them will be working on some phase of the celebration. In addition he pointed out that the efforts of many persons interested in the program from throughout the state are making contributions through 'enthusiastic support,' of the program.

Oregon Governor, R. D. Holmes, will also be on hand for the celebration. The integrated program, which combines many of the activities of the Regatta-Fish Festival at the armory, calls for four days of events, and calls for a proclamation keynoting the Fish Festival from the governor. He also will arrive with the Admiral, Rear Admiral A. M. Bledsoe, to kickoff the Regatta on Thursday, July 18.

Major committee heads working with Dr. Harvey on the celebration have also been named. Dr. Hickman, association president, earlier in the year named Ron Graves, Astoria insurance man, as floor manager for the Armory, which will house the Fish Festival exhibits and the major events of the Regatta itself.

Top Aides

Two other top aides, named by Dr. Harvey, are J. M. Van Hyning, in charge of technical exhibits, and George Alstadt, in charge of industrial exhibits.

Included in the program this year again is the popular Savory Seafoods Search which attracted nationwide attention as a cooking contest last year. This year it is headed by Mrs. A. H. Mather. Working with her are Mrs. Arthur Paquet, M[illegible] Edwin P[illegible], Mrs. Herman H[illegible], Mrs. J. A. Nichols and M[illegible] England.

A [illegible] feature of the Fish Favorite from Far Away will be held on Friday and Saturday mornings, July 19-20. It will feature favorite seafood dishes from various countries.

Heading this portion of the program is Anne Strachen as narrator. Others are Mrs. Sverre Koppen, Mrs. John Auvil, Mrs. Veikko [illegible] and Adelaine Satner. [illegible] demonstrations from 12 d[illegible] nations will be featured.

Another new feature this year [illegible] of a King of the F[illegible]. The contest will choose a [illegible] from a group of [illegible] fishing [illegible] in the state [illegible] the Washington state [illegible] McLaughlin is [illegible] this portion of the program.

[illegible] started last year, the [illegible] of the Fleet will be continued [illegible] Dr. Harvey said. [illegible] is in charge of [illegible]. Decorations are under the direction of Mrs. A. V. [illegible] and the Altar Guild of the Episcopal [illegible].

Marine Parade

The Marine Parade this year is under the [illegible] of George Radich. He is to be aided by Carl [illegible], [illegible], John Bozanich, and [illegible].

Marine [illegible] the Fish Festival are to be directed by [illegible], [illegible] by [illegible] A. H. Mather, O. M[illegible] and J. A. Nichols. It is to feature boat and gear demonstration.

A [illegible] for the Galley Time which [illegible] the festival on Sunday, will be announced at a later date, Dr. Harvey said.

Regatta Revels

Practice was on tap tonight at Gyro field for Regatta coronation participants. The court, escorts, Regatta officials and Anchor club members are to be on hand. Mrs. Vivian Graves, chairman of the coronation for the Anchors, has ordered all Regatta admirals to be there. Otherwise they won't know what to do on the night of the coronation," she says.

A wee bit of Paris is scheduled for Astoria during the Regatta-Fish Festival. The Pacific Art Guild will operate a Parisian Sidewalk Cafe at the Astoria hardware store Friday and Saturday. It will feature sidewalk tables and coffee, cake and soda pop will be on sale. Paintings by members of the Guild will be hung on a clothes line to give it that Parisian flavor. Paintings will also be offered for sale. Hours for the show are 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. both days.

Sidewalk sailors in this Columbia river town caught the Regatta tempo today as the deadline for the famed water festival was just a scant 48 hours away. Festival ruled as merchants throughout the town put their employees in Regatta garb and as the Regatta carnival began to set up for operations. It opens tonight and will run through the entire celebration.

The carnival which runs through the Regatta will be set up at the foot of Sixteenth street on Marine Drive. They are using the new parking lot recently completed. The Regatta association had hoped to put the unit up in the streets at the armory but high-wires prevented the plan.

Astoria's armory was a scene of hubbub and confusion today as the props went in last night and early this morning for the Regatta-Fish Festival displays. Ron Graves, Armory floor manager, was on h[illegible] last night to supervise the [illegible]ment of the bleachers to a [illegible]cation. The bleachers will [illegible] the huge gymnasium floor into two sections . . . for an exhibit area and a dance floor area.

Five big sections plus an admiral's and Queen's division will be featured in the Grand Parade for the 37th annual Regatta and 2nd Oregon Fish Festival, Ruel Miessner, parade chairman announced today. A total of 61 individual units will walk the line of march which stretches from a point in Uniontown to a windup area near Gyro Field.

Court on TV Tonight

It's television tonight for Astoria's junketing royal Regatta court.

The five princesses, their chaperone and the Regatta association president, Dr. John Hickman, will appear over Channel 6 at 10:30 p. m. over the Chuck Foster news program. The program is being conducted by Sherman Washburn, veteran radio newscaster in the Portland area.

Washburn is no stranger to Clatsop county residents. For many years he served as the public relations office during the annual encampment of Oregon national guard at Camp Clatsop.

The Astoria royal court will tell the story of the Regatta-Fish Festival during the appearance on the television program. Dr. Hickman will also make an appeal for support from Portlanders and Oregonians for the event.

The court and other [illegible] of the Regatta will leave Astoria this [illegible] for the Portland trip and [illegible] return tonight.

Next official appearance for the [illegible] will be at the [illegible] club [illegible] Yacht club [illegible] for court plus the wives of Regatta officials.

Regatta News Travels

News of Astoria's historic Regatta and Fish Festival has scaled the Rockies and traveled through several mid-western states according to Mr. and Mrs. George Radich, recently returned from a vacation, part of which was spent in Montana. The Astoria couple are personal friends of J. Hugo Aronson, governor of Montana, and during their stay in that state's capital, Helena, extended unofficial greetings from the Regatta-Fish Festival committee and an invitation to the governor to visit Astoria. In the picture above, Mrs. Radich is shown pinning her Regatta Booster button on Aronson who expressed his pleasure at the invitation and said he hoped soon to be a visitor to our famous fishing community. Aronson who is now serving his second term as Montana's governor, is a naturalized citizen of the United States, having come to this country in his early twenties from his native Sweden.

Gillnet Races on Tap for Regatta Sat. Marine Event

One of the most "thrilling" events of the Regatta-Fish Festival will be the annual gillnet boat races which will be held Saturday, July 20, about 11 a. m., according to committee spokesmen.

Spokesmen said that the course for the race will off the eastend mooring basin and officials are looking forward to a goodly number of gillnet boats entering the races for prizes. Work is going ahead for the obtaining of substantial prizes to be awarded the winners of this event.

The race will wind up the commercial boat and gear demonstration which begins at 10 a. m. and lasts until noon.

Chairman of the race committee is William Westerholm, 322 Tenth.

Registration forms for the race can be obtained at Westerholm's office. The race will be limited to typical Columbia river type gillnet boats, officials said.

Westerholm and a committee of two will handle the race. It is believed that two races will be run one for limited gillnet boats and the other for unlimited classification. The two classes will be defined on the basis of engine horsepower. Committee men said prizes for the race are being arranged at the present time.

Officials here are hoping for a large number of entries. They said that hopes are high that boats from upriver areas will enter the race. "We'd like boats from all along the river to be in these races," one spokesman commented.

PAG to Stage Sidewalk Sale During Regatta

At the Thursday meeting of Pacific Art guild final arrangements were made to have a sidewalk cafe "gay Parree" style during the Re[illegible] yer of the Astoria Hardware company. A clothes line display of paintings by the local artists will be offered for sale. Homemade cakes, coffee and soft drinks will be served during open hours from 10 to 4 p. m.

Ardena Larson, president, appointed Gail Caperna and Jennie Davenport as co-chairmen, with Connie Swanson and Lorraine Leahy serving on the committee.

Guild members will meet tonight, Monday, at the Armory to paint two large murals for the Sea Foods contest being held in connection with the Regatta celebration.

Culminating the Percy Manser instruction course, a "potluck" supper was held at the Alderbrook clubhouse. Members participating in the classes were agreed that the 12 days of painting with Percy Manser had been a pleasant, as well as a profitable experience.

PAG will sponsor a "one-man" show by George Clark of Hood River. The exhibit will be held in the Astoria library, Juply 19-20. Mrs. Clark will accompany her artist husband to Astoria, and act as hostess for the two-day showings.

The next meeting of Pacific Art guild will be July 25. Visitors are always welcome.

'31 Local Queens on Royal Log

Astoria's historic Regatta, patterned after an Australian water carnival, began in 1894 and has survived fire, depression and war to rank as one of the oldest events of its kind.

The 63 year history of the Regatta is plagued with local and national calamities that have forced temporary cancellation, but have failed to extinguish the spirit that has served to revive the festival time after time. Its most recent revival, in 1952 after World War II, established the event as a top ranking attraction in the Sunset Empire.

In 1902, 1909, 1917 through 1931 and 1942 to 1952 no Regatta's were held. But each time exigencies forced postponement of the event it has lived in spirit to revive again.

Thirty-one vivacious daughters of the Sunset Empire have worn the purple robes of Regatta Queen. The first of the royal line began her reign in 1897. She was Mrs. W. G. Gosslin.

Her thirty-second successor will be chosen Thursday, July 18, from a list of five 1957 princesses. They are Judy Hein, Linda Thompson, Sheryl Hoagland, Evelyn Lewis and Nancy Springer.

Official Kickoff Due Friday for Summer Festival

Official kick-off for the 37th annual Astoria Regatta and 2nd Oregon Fish Festival will be held Friday noon at the traditional pre-Regatta Chamber of Commerce luncheon, Charles DeFoe, Chamber secretary said today.

DeFoe said arrangements for the luncheon will be made by Dr. John Hickman, association president.

Each year the luncheon is a kick-off for the celebration and chamber members, Regatta association members and guests start wearing uniforms for the celebration. DeFoe urged as many chamber members as possible attend the luncheon and he urged them to wear uniforms as well.

Members of the royal Regatta court, and the chaperone, and Regatta officers and board members will all be on hand for the event. Dr. Hickman said they will present a preview of some of the highlights of the impending celebration.

Also slated for the program are remarks from Dr. E. W. Harvey, member of the Regatta board, and chairman of the Oregon Fish Festival.

Dr. Hickman urged all citizens, whether they attend the association's Chamber luncheon or not, to commence wearing the official Regatta uniform on Friday.

He pointed out that two uniforms, formal, and informal, and a woman's uniform, have been designated as acceptable this year. The formal uniform is the familiar one of year's past and the informal one is a blue denim outfit with sports shirt. Women will wear white blouse, dark skirt, overseas cap.

Regatta Revels

Food, fun and frivolity are promised Regatta revelers this year in abundance by the Astoria Regatta association in four event-paced days July 18, 19, 20 and 21. Varied events, new angles and tradition are all blended in the program for the celebration which is now complete. The board met last night to iron kinks out of the final plans and get ready for the big event.

New director Jerry Sullivan has a big job cut out for him during the event. For four days he will act as chaperone for the Sportsmen quartet. He will travel with them wherever they go and present them at the many appearances they have scheduled. The famed group, seen on TV on Jack Benny's program, will appear each night, at the coronation and at various Regatta events.

Regatta spirit will soon pervade the city according to director Vernon Mogenson. He announced to the directors last night that plans have been completed for putting in 20 street decorations in the city a week before the celebration. Mogenson's plans also include installation of decorations in the armory itself.

A US Navy vesel will be on hand to help add to Regatta festivities. The USS Rasher, a destroyer escort, has been assigned for duty throughout the celebration. It will be located at a waterfront dock and will be open to the public during specified hours.

The Blue Water, the trim river craft owned by Col. Carl Shoemaker, and no stranger to Regatta events will be on hand again this year, according to Alden "Pete" Miller, who is in charge of greeting the admiral's party. The admiral, Regatta officials, the governor, and other dignataries will arrive in Astoria aboard the vessel about 4 p.m. on Thursday August 18. They will be met at the eastend mooring basin by all Regatta hands.

Captain Carl Cover, military aide to the governor, has been assigned as aide to Admiral A. M. Bledsoe. He will arrive aboard the Blue Water in the official party. Capt. Cover has served in previous Regatta's.

Button sales are lagging according to button sales director Joe Nerenberg. He says a big drive is slated this week and next weeek. Door-to-door sales by the Junior Chamber of Commerce are in the planning.

Regatta perennial Tommy Luke, an ex-Regatta admiral, will lend his 'carnival spirit' to the Regatta again this year. He will be on hand for the entire celebration. He is also slated to be the "main attraction" a special pre-coronation dinner for Regatta officials and the judges for the Queen selection at the John Jacob Astor hotel.

Tongue Point's annual admiral's luncheon will have a limited guest this year. Just 60 persons can be handled at the luncheon and reservations for the event must be made before the event. The Astoria Chamber of Commerce office is accepting reservations for the luncheon now. All Regatta officials, the Sportsmen and Admiral will attend the all-male affair.

The Regatta sponsored Carnival, which will be set up at the armory-Moose Lodge site, is to be here for six full days. It will run from July 16-21. It provides free admission to the grounds, and is a Davis Brothers Carnival.

Moose Lodge members have been named to the Regatta board as a [illegible] to work on the [illegible] chairman [illegible] who is as[illegible] and C. H. B[illegible], as co-chairmen. Other committee members are Charles B. Anderson, Vern Parks, Maurice Mattson, Harvey Pekkala, Orris Berg, Cliff Cross, Al Johnson, Carl Marrison and Clarence A. Peterson.

Junketing royal court members went to Sheridan on a recent trip and were accompanied by Joe Nerenberg and the chaperone, Mrs. [illegible] Niemi. A trip is planned to the Albany Timber Carnival and the Salem celebration this week.

[illegible] that's a special Regatta feature this year. A [illegible] will be featured at the [illegible] Queen's Ball [illegible] the Regatta association [illegible] provide the food free to all in the pavilion.

Regatta Revels

A man who might be called the [illegible] city schools [illegible] program returns to Astoria [illegible] for participation [illegible] activities. Harold [illegible] who left here two years ago [illegible] the position of head [illegible] at Roseburg high school [illegible] schools renowned band here for the parade, [illegible] for himself [illegible]. Wednell developed [illegible] program in the [illegible] high school and grade schools. He was music supervisor here for many years.

Portland Beaver baseballers, who will be visited by Astorians at Astoria Day July 14, will reciprocate with a return visit the next day for fishing. Just who would make the trip was not definite, but a gang of Beavers will be on hand for fishing, that's for sure. In other years Beaver players have spent considerable time in the area angling for salmon.

Water events and lots of them, have been lined up for the 37th annual [illegible] what would a [illegible] be without [illegible] Jerry Sullivan, board member, has made arrangements for the Oswego Water Ski club to be on an appearance for the Regatta. They will appear on Sunday. The group will bring 25 [illegible] water ski stars to the [illegible] show. The show features some of the fanciest water [illegible] ever performed. The [illegible] was the group which was featured during the Portland Rose Festival.

However the Oswego group creates the biggest problem facing water event planners. That is to [illegible] ski jump. The group has asked the Regatta to [illegible] they cannot [illegible] normally use [illegible]. They want the ski jump [illegible] with plywood [illegible] and should be [illegible] for a smooth surface. It is [illegible] to be about two feet under water at one end and about six feet above water at the other. They will perform mid-air antics from the platform. Problem [illegible] now what do we do is the one Regatta planners are wrestling with the most. But a set of plans for the device is supposed to arrive in the near future.

Famed members of the Sportsmen quartet, fresh from an engagement in the Cocabana on New York's Broadway, will fly to Astoria for their roles in the 37th annual Astoria Regatta. According to reports they have created a sensation in their present booking. In addition the quartet will have their wives here during the Regatta and will combine vacations with their booking here. Wives of the men will fly in from Hollywood, where they maintain permanent residence, to Astoria to join their husbands. Regatta planners are including the wives in on as many Regatta events as they will choose to enjoy.

Regatta officials emphasized today that the [illegible] 'fishfry' [illegible] event, is [illegible] Regatta buttonholders [illegible] have Regatta buttons [illegible] free of [illegible] Sunday [illegible] and to all [illegible] Regatta [illegible] much [illegible] relat[illegible] stressed the [illegible] Batter[illegible] entitle the [illegible] free admittance to the [illegible] and the marine events. All other events of the Regatta will have separate admission tags this year.

Parade officials of the Junior Chamber [illegible] again this year [illegible] big land parade [illegible] Saturday for the [illegible] some [illegible] the special Friday [illegible] meeting Chairman [illegible] of the Jaycee parade [illegible] promised a 'quality parade' again this year. He explained how the Jaycees have organized the parade again this year to a [illegible] with individual members of the organization responsible for various phases of the parade arrangements.

Jack [illegible] newest member of the board of directors of the Regatta [illegible] was elected to [illegible] who resigned [illegible] working hard on [illegible] superior marine events [illegible] year's Regatta. He has [illegible] 14 motor boats [illegible] the eastend mooring basin and unless some [illegible] on the [illegible] Sunday [illegible] of the boats are to come from Aberdeen, Wash.

Tongue Point Courts Court

REGATTA LAND AHOY!—Setting their sights across the wide blue waterways of Tongue Point to the green hills and the color-bright streets of Astoria, the five princesses of the 1957 Regatta look ahead to the excitement that July 18-21 will bring to them. "Deck Officers" Sheryl Hoagland, left, and Evelyn Lewis, stand below, and topside are Linda Thomason, Nancy Springer and Judy Heis, aboard USS Orono YTB 190 (which means Yard Tug Big).

CRANING AT A CRANE—There were lots of things to see on their tour of the naval base for five nautical-minded little princesses, and one of the first gigantic pieces of mechanism that had them craning skyward was a mammoth crane. Awed with the immensity of "the thing" are, from left, Princesses Evelyn, Nancy, Linda, Sheryl and Judy.

FIRE CONTROL AND WATER DETAIL—The sturdy, efficient USS Orono never had it so good, when the five Regatta court princesses swarmed over it, asking innumerable questions about its operation. In the upper photo, Princess Evelyn takes the wheel, and Princess Judy shouts the orders. In the lower picture, Princess Sheryl mans the water gun, Princess Nancy sounds the alarm bell and Princess Linda points to where the excitement (of the Regatta) is starting to blaze brightly on the horizon.

MANNING THE MOPS—It isn't often that sailors have such interested (or comely) pupils to instruct in the intricate art of swabbing decks, and the five Regatta princesses were apt pupils during a lesson in mop swinging. Princesses Sheryl and Linda are being clued by Seaman John Gracio, Spokane, and Nancy, who gets the swing of it, while Judy and Evelyn watch Seaman Carl Hatcher, Atlanta, Ga., who gives his "partner" a w[illegible]

"ALL ASHORE THAT'S GOING ASHORE!"—And the "cruise" aboard the doughty USS Orono was over. The Regatta court, Princesses Evelyn, Sheryl, Nancy, Linda and Judy, from left, salute the officer in charge of the ship, R. K. Chappell, and their guide, Nick De Young, who was their escort on the base for the afternoon, and who didn't seem to mind his duty one bit. The princesses approved Tongue Point as ship-shape, secure and "simply s[illegible]" and the Navy held a similar opinion of the Regatta Court.

Should inclement weather make the Gyro Field coronation site undesirable the coronation will be moved to the Armory, Dr. John Hickman, president of the association, said today. He said that in the event of bad weather the coronation would be moved, but not until the last minute. He advised that if such an event occurs the proximity of the field and the Armory should impose no problem on any Regatta coronation goers.

Greater Astoria Boosters will sponsor an information booth at the Armory throughout the Regatta-Fish Fete, Charles DeFoe, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said today. The booth will serve as a nerve center for pavilion activities and it can find any lost children for pavilion visitors. It also will be 'manned' to provide answer to all questions.

A special pre-coronation concert will be presented by the 13th Naval District's commandants band. Time for the coronation is 8 p. m.

Regatta Anchor officials who will be on stage during the program include Past Presidents William Holmstrom and John H. Nellor, Mrs. Ed Niemi, court chaperone, Mrs. Vernon Mugenson, Anchor skipper, Charles Smith, Regatta vice president of the association, and Dr. John Hickmon, president of the association.

Old Regatta, New Fish Fete Merge For Four Days Of Frivolity For Sunset Empire

Rear Admiral Is Regatta Top Man

ADMIRAL ALBERT M. BLEDSOE

An American military hero, who was in the forefront of the magnificent march of American men and material via land, sea and air lanes back to the Philippines in 1944-45, and whose beribboned chest boasts some of this nation's proudest decorations, is Rear Admiral Albert M. Bledsoe, Admiral of the Fleet for the 37th annual Astoria Regatta.

The first real-life sailor in the long history of the Regatta donned the spangles of the Regatta's top hand, when Rear Admiral Albert M. Bledsoe, USN, commander of of the 13th Naval District gladly accepted the added stars of a full-fledged Admiral for Regatta-Rites in mid-July, according to Dr. John H. Hickman, regatta president.

No Stranger Here

No stranger to Astoria, Admiral Bledsoe has been a visitor in the city on many occasions both in peace and war. Most recently he has toured Tongue Point Naval Station on inspection visitations.

A native-born Texan, Admiral Bledsoe has a background of service to his country in the finest traditions of a naval officer.

His naval career spans both World Wars and the Korean conflict.

In 1917 he graduated from the US Naval Academy at Annapolis and began his long years of service to his country.

During World War I he served on battleships in the Atlantic area. His tours of duty found him aboard the American fighting ships Nevada and Mississippi.

Was Instructor

After World War I, during the time when US military might was trimmed and retrenched, he served as instructor at the naval academy and aboard various ships.

In 1935 through 1937 he was personnel officer for the Pacific Fleet. He later attended and graduated, in 1938, from the Naval War College at Newport, R. I.

At the time of the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, which catapulted the US into the thick of World War II, Admiral Bledsoe was commander, destroyer division 6, then engaged in convoy duty in the Pacific.

During the uneasy, treacherous days of this opening phase of the war in the Pacific, ships under his command guided the convoys of ships and material to safety in alien ports.

Later he was assigned as director of the division of enlisted personnel in the Navy department . . . . and it was under his direction that the Navy experienced the greatest growth in its history.

Guides Expansion

Under his direction the Navy was expanded from 200,000 men to a fighting machine of two million men.

In 1944 and early 1945 he commanded the cruiser Denver and received the Navy Cross for his part in the reoccupation of the Southern Philippines.

After his promotion to Rear Admiral he commanded the US Naval Forces Afloat in the occupation of Japan for two years, and from 1948 to 1950 he was stationed at Bremerton as commander of the Naval base. His last tour of duty before returning to Seattle area was in Panama as commandant of the 15th Naval District.

Many-Sided Job

At the present time Admiral Bledsoe's duties are threefold. Commander US Naval Base, Bremerton, Commandant, Thirteenth Naval District, which comprises the four northwest states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana, and Commander, Northern Sector, Western Sea Frontier, which includes the waters off the states of Washington and Oregon.

Admiral Bledsoe is married and has three children.

For the 37th time in 64 years, citizens of the Sunset Empire toss aside their cares for four days of revelry starting Thursday in the most famous and colorful water festival in the Pacific Northwest.

In a romantic and fabled Regatta-realm, that has spanned the years from the days of wind wafted sailing craft to atomic submarines, traditional observances merge with some new wrinkles in the 37th annual Astoria Regatta, and it's counterpart, the 2nd Oregon Fish Festival.

Admiral Albert M. Bledsoe, commandant of the 13th Naval District, Seattle, will signal the start of the celebration with his arrival at the east end mooring basin. He will arrive aboard the Blue Water and his party will include Clatsop county's own Gov. R. D. Holmes.

Commandant's Band

The Commandant's band, from the 13th Naval District, will be on hand to play their commanding officer ashore. From that moment on a frenzied four-day schedule takes over that leaves scant time for Regatta visitor and participant alike.

Coronation of the queen follows at Gyro Field at 8 o'clock, Thursday evening, and one of five presents will inherit a tradition of queenship handed down from a line of 31 Regatta queens. The new queen will be the 32nd Regatta ruler.

She will be chosen from among Princesses Judy Hein, Linda Thompson, Evelyn Lewis, Sheryl Hoagland and Nancy Springer. Each of the girls will present a speech at the coronation and each of their virtues will be extolled by the royal chaperones. Chaperones are Ralph Norgaard, Princess Judy, Rolland Gregg, Princess Nancy, Gary Manners, Princess Sheryl, Larry Battles, Princess Evelyn and Edward Hall, Princess Linda.

Governor Due

Governor Holmes, Tommy Luke, Mayor Peter G. Cosovich and other dignitaries will make appearances at the coronation. The famed Sportsmen quartet will appear for the first time during the queen's selection.

General chairman of the coronation committee, which is under the auspices each year of the Astoria Anchor club, is Mrs. Bob Graves. She is assisted by Mrs. Eldred Mittet as co-chairman.

When Judy Palmberg, more familiarly Queen Judy I of the 36th annual Regatta, passes her duties on to the new Queen the 37th Regatta will have officially begun.

Jeffrey Smith, Star of Sea, is crown bearer for the coronation ceremony. Flower girls are Janice Tubbs, John Jacob Astor elementary school, Joan Hader, Captain Robert Gray elementary school. Pages include Ross Fearey, Lewis and Clark elementary school and Donny Tagliavento, Lewis and Clark consolidated elementary school.

Committee in charge of stage settings include Mrs. Harold Jacob, Mrs. Kenneth Hill, Mrs. Armas Niskanen, Mrs. Harry Dressler and Mrs. Jack Springer.

Wardrobe Group

The Court's wardrobe was selected by Mrs. George Fulton and Mrs. Eugene Knutsen. The program was deleveloped by Mrs. Howard Burns and Mrs. Eino Juola.

Immediately following the coronation at Gyro field the formal opening of the Astoria Regatta-Oregon Fish Festival pavalion will take place at the Astoria Armory. Billed for the first formal floor show during that evening will be the Sportsmen.

A dance, featuring live music, the first of three planned for the Armory through the celebration, gets underway following the Sportsmen.

The Sportsmen will feature a special Teenage type program and for this evening alone a special teenagers price will be charged. Admission Thursday to the Armory will be 75 cents for teenagers and $1 for adults.

Variety Keynote Of Fete

Variety is the keynote of the 37th annual Astoria Regatta and 2nd Oregon Fish Festival.

Something for old and young alike is the keynote. For young, anywhere from 6 to 60, a special Fish Festival feature is the fishing pond which is to be available at the Armory. Fishing for nine-inch trout is the feature.

Astoria's Armory has been converted into the center for the Regatta-Fish Fete this year. It houses all the exhibits of the Fish Fete and the auditorium for the Regatta itself.

The Savory Seafoods Search, with top name judges from throughout the area, will be another Armory feature. The Fish Foods from Far Away is another fish cooking event billed for the ladies special interest.

Scheduled for downtown in Astoria is the Rock and Gem Show, on Commercial street, and the Norwegian display of varied articles. Also the Pacific Art Guild Parisian sidewalk cafe which is to be on Commercial street as well.

Continuous throughout is the Carnival which is located at the foot of Sixteenth street on Marine Drive.

Pirate's Den this year is in the Moose Lodge directly across from the Armory. The public is invited to attend the Pirate's Den at any time during the open hours.

Aldrich Point

This point was named for R. E. Aldrich who at one time lived there and had a small mercantile establishment. In pioneer days it was known as Cathlamet Point for the Cathlamet Indians.

Women from all corners of the county had the pleasant opportunity of meeting the 1957 Regatta court and their chaperone, when the Anchor club was host for the annual Regatta court tea Saturday afternoon at the Yacht club. The receiving line later in the afternoon had time out for a refreshing cup as they are here, standing, from left, Mrs. Ed Niemi, chaperone, Princesses Evelyn Lewis, Sheryl Hoagland, Linda Thompson, Judy Hein and Nancy Springer, Mrs. Vernon Mogenson, Anchor club skipper, and Mrs. Arthur Johansen, chairman for the tea. Mothers of the princesses poured during the afternoon, and seated are, left, Mrs. Trayee Thompson, and Mrs. Ted Springer, at the gay red and white appointed table. (A-B Photo)

Anchor Tea For "Court" Is July 13

The first big social event of the summer season, which annually heralds the coming Regatta and which is anticipated by women all over the county is the Anchor club tea, honoring and introducing the Regatta court of five princesses

It will be held this year Saturday, July 13, from 2-4 p. m. at the Yacht club, as usual, according to Mrs. Arthur Johansen, tea chairman. Out-of-town invitations have been sent, blanket invitations have been sent to all women's organizations, and the Anchor club expressed the hope that this article would serve as an invitation to all women in the community who are interested in meeting the five pretty girls who compose the court. Princesses Judie Hein, Nancy Springer, Sheryl Hoagland, Linda Thompson, Evelyn Lewis, and their chaperone, Mrs. Ed Niemi

This first of the pre-Regatta events, for which the Anchor club, escort organization of the Regatta court ever since its was organized, goes all out, is chairmanned by Mrs Johansen She appointed Mrs Albert Sorkki chairman of decorations, to be assisted by the Mesdames Albert Frye, Don Johnson, Harold Johnson and Mrs Arthur Anderson

Mrs Donald Hover and Mrs Don Kubic head the refreshment and kitchen committee, with helpers Mrs Frank Thorsness, Mrs Floyd Reith Jr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson

Anchors Picking Posies for the Regatta Tea

The terrace above the "outdoor" living room of the Albert Sorkki's pretty home on 36th and Duane was where members of the committee for the Anchor tea for the Regatta court, to be held Saturday at the Yacht club, wound up. Flower decor will include the bountiful crop of Esther Reed daisies, to be used with deep blue flowers, carrying out the Anchor colors at the annual event for all women of the community. Mrs. Al Mather, left, takes notes on what Mrs. Donald Hoyer, seated on ground, Mrs. Arthur Anderson and Mrs. Albert Frye offer for ideas for the tea, while on the terrace above Mrs. Don Kubik, left, Mrs. Donald Johnson and Mrs. Sorkki pick a "test" bouquet to try out the effect. The tea, an annual pre-Regatta honor for the court is from 2-4 p. m. (A-B Photo)

Clowns on Water Ski Agenda

CLOWNS, AS USUAL clown around and these members of the Oswego Ski club are no exceptions to the rule. They perform colorful and humorous antics throughout the two hour show to be presented at the eastend mooring basin July 20. Members of the clowning group, pictured above, are, Jerry Sweeney, Bill Coats and Butch Nyssan. They are all long-time members of the Oswego Ski Club.

Gals With the Buoys

GALS AND A BUOY may not be unusual, but in this case it is . . . depending on the boys, of course. Here are the royal Regatta court members on a day at the Coast Guard base at Tongue Point. They couldn't just inspect the huge buoys they had to find out all about them by close inspection. Climbing over the huge water safety device are, reading from top to bottom, Princess Linda Thompson, Sheryl Haagland, Nancy Springer, Evelyn Lewis, and standing on safer ground, Judy Hein. The girls spent a day at the base. (A-B Photo)

Aquamaids Present Flag Act

Regatta Committee of Years Ago

THIS DISTINGUISHED array of Regatta officials were planners for the 14th annual Astoria water festival, which, according to present records, was held in 1908. Members of the group above are unidentified. They are the Admiral and his aides. Perhaps some modern day Astorians can identify the men behind the whiskers in the foreront of the picture.

Ex-Astorian Brings Big Band for Parade

C[illegible] street will echo the snappy marching airs played by the big Roseburg high school marching maneuvering band both for the Children's Regatta parade July 19 and the grand march Saturday July 20, according to Rauel Meissner, Jaycee parade chairman. The outstanding high school group is led by a bevy of majorettes, directed by Harold Withnell (far right), former Astorian. A variety of bands will enliven the big parade this year, Jaycees report.

Local Talent Ready

ANOTHER LOCAL UNIT set to appear in the Grand Parade Saturday during the 37th annual Astoria Regatta and 2nd Oregon Fish Festival is pictured above. They are the junior marching unit of the American Legion Auxiliary of Clatsop post 9. They will be out to win a top award on their post and to make the home folks really proud during the parade.

The Royal Regatta Gals and The Governor

Some 'old friends' meet an old friend in the above picture, as members of the Royal Regatta court line up with Gov. R. D. Holmes, a fellow Clatsop "county-ite." The five princesses, along with their chaperone, Mrs. Ed. Niemi, visited the governor during the Salem Willamette River Days and the Albany Timber Carnival which they attended over the Fourth of July weekend. The girls presented the governor with a commission to the Regatta. Governor Holmes will be on hand for at least part of the celebration. Pictured left to right above are, Mrs. Ed. Niemi, chaperone, Sheryl Hoagland, Judy Hein, Governor Holmes, Evelyn Lewis, Nancy Springer and Linda

World War I Beauty

WORLD WAR I was in full sway, but the United States was still neutral, when this Sunset Empire beauty walked the Regatta realm as Queen of all she surveyed. The picture is of Queen Ali Forzstrom of the 1914 Astoria Regatta. Judging from trends in women's styles, notice the shoes, please, the queen might be any modern beauty o fthe Lower Columbia. The site of the photo and the escorts hovering on the fringes of the picture are unknown.

People and Pyramids

TWO STORY SKI stunts are just a part of the many precision maneuvers performed by the Oswego Ski club. They plan this particular maneuver for the 37th Annual Astoria Regatta July 20. Pictured above are members of the group performing what is known as the 5-man pyramid. It is just one of a dozen acts scheduled for the July 20 appearance at the regatta. Left to right on the top layer are Sharon Eggers and Sharon Sprague. On the bottom, left to right, Rocky Eggers, Tex O'Fee, and Bill Coats, all of Portland.

Rainbow Marchers

THE RAINBOWETTES, colorful marching girls from Portland, will strut their stuff during the Grand Parade during the 37th annual Astoria Regatta. The parade, always a top event, will be held at 2 p. m. on Saturday. The group above is composed of Rainbow girls from four assemblies in Portland. They are the Martha Washington, Portland No. 14, Rose City, Mt. Scott.

Astoria's 37th annual Regatta and 2nd Oregon Fish Festival was poised for a sun-blessed four-day celebration today as Admiral Albert M Bledsoe arrived at his new command at 4 p m at the east end mooring basin and as the deadline drew near for the coronation of the 32nd queen in the 64 year history of the celebration.

Oregon's Governor R. D. Holmes, a Clatsop county resident for many years, was back in his home country today as well. He was aboard the fabled yacht Blue Water which brought Admiral Bledsoe and other Regatta dignitaries into this Columbia river realm.

One of five lovely daughters of the Sunset Empire will don the purple raimants of the royal Regatta line at ceremonies which get underway at 8:15 p. m. at Gyro Field. The queen will be crowned by Admiral Bledsoe and Governor Holmes, past Queen Judy Palmberg and other Regatta top hands will be on stage.

Mrs. B. E. Graves, Anchor club chairman for the coronation, said that all was in readiness for the event. The decorations for the stage have been completed and loud-speaking equipment has been installed and tested she said.

Bright, sunny weather brought smiles to most Regatta leaders who had been dismal the past few days as rain invaded the Sunset Empire. Prospects are for good weather throughout the Regatta, according to weather outlook.

Scheduled for their first appearance of the celebration, the first of many, will be the Sportsmen quartet. They had been expected to arrive at the east end mooring basin aboard the Blue Water.

However, they were delayed in Portland and will arrive by car later in the day.

Tickets for the coronation go on sale at 6:30 p. m. at Gyro field. Admission prices are 75 cents for children and $1 for Adults. Children under 6 years of age will be admitted free of charge.

Immediately following the coronation the grand opening of the Armory combined Regatta-Fish Festival pavilion will occur. On tap are the tours of the fish industry exhibits, appearance of the Sportsmen quartet and a dance. Friday morning another round of Regatta activities kicksoff.

Also opening tonight for the full Regatta run is the Moose Lodge Pirate's Den, located across the street from the Armory. The carnival, on Marine drive across from the Armory, will also be open throughout the Regatta.

The Gem and Mineral show opened this morning as well as the Norwegian specialties show. The Parisian sidewalk cafe, sponsored by the Pacific Art Guild, also went into operation today.

Meanwhile, the entire town was gripped with a festive fever as the deadline for answering the big question arrived. Who will be queen was the main topic of conversation in coffee shops and up and down Commercial street today. One of these five girls will: Princess Judy Hein, Princess Linda Thompson, Princess Nancy Springer, Princess Sheryl Hoagland and Princess Evelyn Lewis.

Whoever she is, she will have a welcome from Tommy Luke, famed Portland ambassador of good will. Luke, once a Regatta top admiral, will be on hand again this year.

The court spent most of the day in preparation for the big event tonight. They met Admiral Bledsoe and Governor Holmes at the east end mooring basin and at 6:30 p. m. will dine with members of the board in a pre-coronation get together.

Famed Singers Due Thursday

Famed singers of radio, television, movies and nightclubs, the Sportsmen quartet, are due in Astoria Thursday for the start of their 4-day visit during the 37th annual Regatta and Oregon Fish Festival. First appearance by the group will be at the coronation, briefly. They will appear nightly at the armory in an hour program of diversified musical numbers. They also will take part in other Regatta functions. Their wives will fly in from Hollywood to join them and combine business with vacations.

Ski Ballet Is Scheduled

Beauties and the Boys

HOW TO GET a crowd in quick order is demonstrated in the above picture. It's simply really . . . just take a modern sports car and mix well with five lovely girls, in this case the Royal Regatta court, and you come up with a throng of eager, even if young, males. The males in this case are all members of the Asteran-Budget carrier crews who gathered around the car when they stopped at the A-B recently for a picture taking sojourn. (A-B Photo)

Famed Old Home in Region Is Now Big Clatsop Museum

Capt George Flavel, the mariner, shipping figure and capitalist who brought the Victorian age to bloom in Astoria, with the erection of this mansion, was one of the most remarkable men in the maritime history of the Pacific Coast. His record as a master and his skill and daring as a bar pilot was well known. His ability as a business man approached wizardry in the judgment of the day for he had acquired a monopoly on piloting and towing at the bar in face of severe and ruthless competition from Portland capital.

Mrs. Flavel's parents were Mr. and Mrs Conrad Boelling, pioneers of 1847. She was a little girl of 3 years when she came to Astoria, and the primitive village that was Astoria, and the family spent the first months in the only available shelter "Shark House", a crude and crude dwelling built by the survivors of the US warship "Shark," wrecked on the bar in 1846. Her home remained Astoria for 80 years, and she ended her days in the finest mansion on the banks of the Lower Columbia River, surviving her husband many years.

One of the outstanding features of this luxurious home was the number of elaborate mantels of choice woods. Fireplaces were a hobby of Capt Flavel, who liked warmth, comfort and luxury. There are six fireplaces, all different. They are, of course, all Victorian in style, hand carved rosewood, mahogany, walnut and maple. Paneling in the rooms are of highly polished redwood with Philippine mahogany and other rare woods. Tilings of the six hearths are all imported, each from a different European or Asiatic country. Towering Monument Beacon For Travelers to Astoria

The monument is situated atop Coxcomb hill in the center of an Astoria residential district. It is easily accessible on paved roads.

Maintenance work on the monument and grounds is continuous and is under the supervision of the city government. A light blazes from the tower nightly and serves almost as a beacon to those traveling toward Astoria by land, sea, river or air.

A full-time custodian resides atop the hill at the monument site and takes constant care of the grounds. Signs throughout the downtown area of Astoria direct traffic to the monument.

Towering above Astoria on a promontory that commands a panoramic vista of ocean, river and mountain, the Astor Column, erected in 1926, commemorates the westward sweep of discovery and migration which brought settlement and civilization to the Sunset Empire.

All of the events which led to the establishment of American claims to the Northwest territory, and the ultimate winning of the west are colorfully emblazoned on the column which juts 125 feet into the sky. Inside of the towering tube are 166 steps of a circular stairway which leads to the top of the tower. On top is a circular platform which gives an encompassing view of the Columbia river bar, Youngs Bay, and the rivers in the surrounding countryside.

The column itself is patterned after the noted Trajan Column erected in Rome by Emperor Trajan in 114 AD. It was designed by Electus Litchfield, New York architect, and the decorations on the shaft were completed by an Italian artist, A. Piatterla. Descendants of John Jacob Astor and the Great Northern railway are responsible for construction of the monument.

Depicted on the column in pictoral freize are the coming of the settler and civilization, restoration of Fort Astoria to the United States in 1818, the sinking of the Tonquin in 1811, arrival of the Pacific Fur company party in Astoria in 1812, Tonquin arrives in Astoria and the building of Fort Astoria in 1811, Tonquin sails for New York 1810, Lewis and Clark expedition builds Fort Clatsop, 1805-06, Lewis and Clark expedition making salt arrival of the Lewis and Clark expedition, 1805 and discovery of the Columbia river by Captain Robert Gray in 1792.

Ft. Clatsop Reconstructed As Famed Explorer Saw It

Fort Clatsop was the winter headquarters in 1805 and 1806 of the Lewis and Clark expedition and the first US Military Post west of St Louis. This historic fort was rebuilt in its exact replica (determined by the Journals of Captain Clark) in 1955 by the Astoria Jaycees and other civic organizations with logs donated by the Crown-Zellerbach Paper Corporation.

The fort is 50 x 50 feet, with three rooms along one wall and four on the other. Through the center is a military parade ground as this was a military expedition.

There were 33 members in the Lewis and Clark party including the Indian guide Sacajawea and her small son. As the winter home of the 33 member party Fort Clatsop is one of the true historic sites in early western American history.

The dedication of the rebuilt Fort on August 21, 1955, marked the first event in Clatsop County's observance of the Lewis and Clark Sesquicentennial. Legislation has been introduced to determine the feasibility of making Fort Clatsop a national shrine.

Fort Clatsop is located on the exact site of the original fort and is 4½ miles south of Astoria near US Highway 101. The fort is always open for visitors and it is rapidly becoming the greatest tourist attraction along the Oregon coast.

Guess Who?

GUESS WHO THIS royal personage might be? That's the game that has to be played for this lovely representative of the royal Regatta realm is unidentified, she apparently ruled over Regatta festivities many years ago, judging from the styling of the costume and the chair in which she is seated. Anyone care to venture a guess?

Tough Clown Act

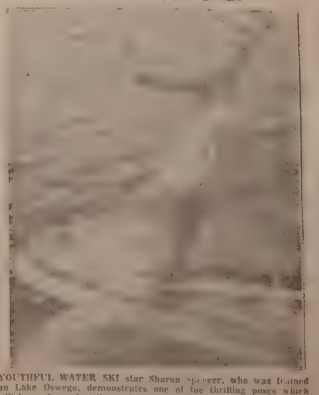

CLOWN ON A PLATTER is the title of this famous act performed by Butch Nyman of the Oswego Ski Club. It is one of the acts promised by the club for their Regatta appearance July 20. This act combines humor and technical skill that is scarcely equaled by any other water ski group. Thrills like this one are common during the two hour show the water ski club has planned for Regatta festivities.

QUEEN HATTIE IS the name of this lovely royal Regatta Queen who is said to have been queen of the 14th annual Regatta. She is pictured above with some of her attendants. She is listed as Harriet Wise of the 1908 Regatta in official Regatta records. Anyone recognize the children who surround her?

Youthful Ski Star

YOUTHFUL WATER SKI star Sharon Spencer, who was trained on Lake Oswego, demonstrates one of the thrilling poses which will be performed at the east end mooring basin July 20 during the 37th annual Astoria Regatta. This young star of the water skis has performed professionally at Cypress Gardens, Florida last summer and intends to return there for this years winter season.

Varied Events Lure Crowds At Regatta Time

The Longview Eagles auxiliary drill team, one of the top-ranked fraternal drill units in Washington state, will demonstrate their precision marching Saturday afternoon in the big Regatta Fish Festival parade. Several former Astorians are in this group.

The Jaycee parade committee headed by Reuel Meissner have more than 60 units now listed for the grand march including ten floats and numerous musical units.

Regatta Revels

Among the first units in today's Parade in the Queen's Division, will be, of course, Regatta Queen Judy II, Gov. Robert D. Holmes, and his official foot guard the Eugene Hylander Bagpipe Band, the Astoria Anchor club, and the Royal Rosarians, Portland. Accompanying the Admiral's division will be the Honor Unit, the precision drill team flown here from the Oakland, Calif., Naval Air Station, the Regatta court, and the Astoria high school band and the Fisherettes. Among outstanding units from out of town in the procession will be the Clan MacLeay and the Portland Scottish Pipe Bands, Leatherneck Drum and Bugle Corp from Portland, Tillamook Sheriff's posse, Roseburg high school band, American Legion Drum and Bugle corps from Tacoma, Wash.; Eagles auxiliary drill team, Longview Boy Scout Drum and Bugle corps, Longview; VFW Drum and Bugle corps, Hoquiam; Clark County Motorcycle Patrol, Vancouver, Wash.; Beaverton high school band, and a variety of noted mounted and special units.

A little bit of old Paris invaded Regatta land streets during the early days of the celebration . . . in the form of the sidewalk cafe sponsored by the Pacific Art Guild. The group took over the foyer of the Astoria Hardware store. As another touch of Paris they hung paintings on a clothes line. (A-B Photo)

Famed singers of stage, screen, radio and television. The Sportsmen quartet, are shown above as they perform during one of their many Regatta appearances. They appear nightly at the armory.

The group presents a varied and humorous act that displays the full range of their musical talents. The group is accompanied by their own pianist. (A-B Photo)

Norwegian delicacies were served up by club members on Commercial street during the Regatta. The group is operating a food and exhibit shop. Visitors report the food is excellent and that the handiwork some of the most beautiful they have ever seen. The booth is open on Saturday and will close out this Saturday evening. (A-B Photo)

Some of Astoria's leading citizens of days gone by are captured by the camera as they launched a Regatta button drive in 1904. They are, left to right, Herman Wise, Judge Frank Carney, Harry Hoefler, a Mr. MacBride, a Mr. Selig, Bill Sherman and Ted Laurin. (A-B Photo)

One of the more popular spots during the Regatta to date has been the Rock and Gem Show of the Trail's End Gem club of Clatsop county. Located on Commercial street the group has played to full houses on each day. Exhibited are some of the fine displays of collections of local 'rock-hounds'. A full crew is on hand to explain the various exhibits. (A-B Photo)

Cooking demonstrations were featured at the armory on Friday as part of the Fish Festival. In the above photo some of the experts are shown as they prepare their favorite dishes for a large crowd of interested spectators. The contest was a favorite at Fish Festivals and was also held on Friday. Winners in the cooking contest were presented with their prizes Friday as well. (A-B Photo)

LUNCHEON

Planning a Luncheon Fit for a Queen

Each year a beautiful Astoria girl is crowned queen of the Regatta, and each year the Anchor club holds a luncheon in her honor, attended by women from all parts of the realm of Regatta. Planning the luncheon, for which reservations should be called in by Friday, is the Anchor club Regatta Queen luncheon committee, which met for coffee at the John Jacob Astor hotel, where the luncheon will be held Saturday at noon. From left, the Mesdames Eldred Mittet, William Leahy, Stanley Sagen and Roland Peterson, with Mrs. Walter Samuelson standing. Wives of Regatta officials' wives and past Regatta queens will also be honored. (A-B Photo)

The girls, all of them from Astoria, feature some fancy twirling antics as they march along the parade route. They have appeared here before.

IT WAS A Centennial Year in Astoria when the above picture was taken. Riding on the float was the Queen of the celebration. According to lettering on the picture it was taken in 1911 when the city observed the Astoria centennial. The Queen is not identified, nor is it clear whether the celebration was conducted in conjunction with Regatta activity.

Marchers in 14th Regatta

STREET PARADES were popular even in earlier Regattas, as the crowd watching this one during the 14th annual Regatta testifies. Some military unit of the 1908 era is leading the parade down an unidentifed Astoria street. Ticker tape can be seen dropping down from the upper stories o fthe biuldings.

Navy Girl Travels Far, Likes Astoria

A Navy daughter who has seen quite a little bit of the world, but who adopted Astoria as her favorite home city, is Princes Evelyn Ann Lewis of the Royal Regatta court

Princess Evelyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Lewis, Navy Heights, travelled the ocean blue to islands of the south Pacific, living on Guam for two years, with a stopover in Hawaii, then to San Diego. Before that Princess Evelyn with her parents lived in such intresting places as Connecticut and Florida and "all over California." She was born May 14 in San Diego 17 years ago.

But, already Astori[illegible] her favorite, this lovely Prin[illegible] declared sincerely, and she's only b[illegible]en here two years and two months. It's the people'" she explained

Princess Evelyn transferred from Chula Vista high school, near San Diego, to Astoria high school, where she was chosen Queen of Hearts two years ago and Junior Prom princess last year. She is president of the Future Teachers of America at AHS, belongs to the Forensic club, Library club, Math club (Torture hall), the national Honor society and treasurer of the senior class.

She plans to major in math and physics in college, likes to cook, swim, golf and paint (the whole family, including 8-year-old brother Bill, a student at Astor school, goes in for art), but better than any of these, this pretty princess would rather curl up with an exciting math book, of all things

But you'd never know it to look at this slender princess Her hair is so dark it looks black, her skin is very fair and her eyes are a deep blue. Add to that a whistle-bait figure and you have Princess Evelyn.

Famed Events on Summer's Agenda

The Annual Astoria Regatta and Oregon Fisheries Festival is foremost among the area's annual civic and community events. Held each year during late summer, thousands of visitors make this one of the most colorful celebrations held in Oregon. Seaside's Annual Miss Oregon Pageant is another Clatsop County mid summer attraction Many area, state and regional conventions are held each year in Astoria Seaside and Gearhart. Astoria's Annual Home and Auto Show, 4-H Fair, Dog Show and Armed Forces Day observance enjoy the participation of all local citizens and many visitors.

Busy, Dizzy Routine Faces Court Leader

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Social Editor

With the Regatta court of five pretty princesses all in a row, it is fit and proper to present the royal chaperone, Mrs. Ed Niemi.

Born in Quincy, Mass , Mrs. Niemi came west with her parents to California, but it was at the early age of seven that she came to Astoria, where she has lived ever since. She attended the Taylor school and graduated from Astoria high school and it couldn't have been very long after that that she married Ed Niemi, for this attractive matron is already a grandmother, one of Astoria's handsome and youthful ones. (The Ed Niemi silver wedding anniversary was one of the highlights of September's social season).

Their daughter, Aliceane, now Mrs. Warren Bechtolt has two cunning little sons, Warren Edgar (Tooey), 3, and Cary, 2. At home still at the Niemi home on Niagara is young John, 10, a fifth grader at Lewis and Clark school, still too young to be too concerned about five lovely princesses under his mother's watchful eye.

Active and interested in civic and community affairs, the official chaperone of the 1957 Regatta court has served as president of the distaff side of the Astoria Golf and Country club, was also president of Rotary Anns, held office in the Order of Eastern Star, served on the advisory board of the Rainbows and is current president of the Astoria chapter of the Daughters of the Nile.

And she finds time to keep the books for her husband's oil company, but she laughingly stated she will have to ask the boss to give her time off for Regatta days and all their exciting events.

Chances are, he will. But if not, he'll have to deal with the Regatta committee, the five pretty princesses, the admiral, the rear admirals and the whole of Regatta-land

A hazel-eyed, ash blond girl, with the grace of a dancer and the charm that goes with royalty is Princess Sheryl Hoagland of the royal Regatta court. Princess Sheryl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs Frank Hoagland and a June graduate of Astoria high school.

This 18-year-old bit of femininity is a native daughter, proving that Astoria holds its own with other cities as a birthplace of beauty, and she's lived here ever since. And to further prove that Astoria produces pretty girls, there are three [illegible] ager in the sixth grade at Astor school, who was a flower girl a few years back for the Astoria Regatta court

Princess Sheryl, with a serious look in her hazel eyes, which are fringed with long black lashes, has already decided that she wants to study business administration at Oregon State college after June graduation. She loves to read and likes to go boating on the family pleasure craft, named after the Hoagland's youngest daughter (The three older Hoagland girls, including Princess Sheryl, also had boats named after them, "but they're fish boats").

At Astoria high school, this Regatta princess is a member of the Pepsters, vice-president of Tri-Hi-Y, a member of Forensic club, was a home-coming princess this year, and took a lead in the senior class play. She is past chaplain of the Rainbows and a member of Bethany Lutheran church

Travel intrigues Princess Sheryl, although she wistfully stated that she's only been in Oregon, Washington and southern Canada, but she hopes to travel farther afield, sometime She likes to sew, loves home-made popcorn and Chinese food Incidentally, she's allergic to fish, and thereby hangs a tale. Dad at CRPA, has access to the finest and freshest fish in the wolrd whenever the family wants it.

Nationally Known Speaker Slated To Talk Locally

A nationally-known public speaker, who is reputed to be one of the finest in the United States, will give the feature address of the main event for the Oregon Fish Festival Friday, July 19, Dr. E. W. Harvey announced today.

J. R Deas, an official of American Can company from Chicago, will make the keynote address during final stages of the King of the Fisheries contest Friday evening at the Armory at 8 o'clock.

Astorians who have heard Deas speak rate him as a top-notch orator. They say he is interesting and entertaining

His topic for the Astoria address will be related to the Pacific northwest fishing industry, Dr Harvey said.

Meanwhile, entrants are coming in for the King of the Fisheries contest which is a part of this year's event. The Astoria chamber of commerce has received notification of entrants from several towns in the surrounding community. The contest tests fishermen skills in a variety of areas.

Oregon's Gov. R .D. Holmes will also appear on the Friday night program. He will issue the proclamation announcing the Oregon Fish Festival

Site of the address, presentation and governor's proclamation is the Astoria Armory. Major events of this year's combined Regatta-Fish Festival will be held at the Armory, officials said. The coronation and band show will be held at Gyro field.

Farm Property in Abundance Locally

51,458 acres, or just over 9 8 per cent of Clatsop County's 524,800 acres are farm property, and farm products valued at $3 million are marketed annually

The major agricultural classifications are Dairy farming; Live stock, including beef and sheep, Poultry, including egg and broiler production; Mink farming, for the production of high quality pelts and production of Astoria Bent grass seed used nation-wide for superior lawns

Among the smaller crops are Cranberries, which are grown only in Clatsop and Coos counties in Oregon. Small fruits and nursery crops are good producers Holly growing is a slowly expanding industry, and its commercial success has ben demonstrated

Abundant rainfall, mild climate and the growing season of 273 days are all important factors in the success of the 697 farms of Clatsop County

For further information contact Mr. J. H. Wood, Clatsop County Extension Agent, Federal Building, Astoria, Oregon.

Royal Lovely Will Pursue Serious Study

A vivacious brunette is Princess Judy Hein of the royal court for the 37th annual Astoria Regatta

Princess Judy, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Paul Hein, Youngs River road, first opened her big brown eyes 18 years ago January 8 in Grants Pass, but it wasn't very long afterward that she, her older brother Jack (freshman at OSC now) and their parents migrated up the coast to Astoria.

After graduating from Lewis and Clark Consolidated school, Princess Judy enrolled in Astoria high school, and now in her senior year, she thinks she'd like to study psychology in college next year. A deep subject for a pretty girl? Yes, but this princess is on the honor roll, a member of the Service club, secretary of the student body, and, as a member of Tri-Y Hi, represented that organization as a delegate to "Youth in Legislature" this spring.

Norwegians Will Show Handiwork

A native Norwegian exhibit, sponsored by the Daughters of Norway, will be a feature of this year's 37th annual Astoria Regatta.

The Daughters of Norway will sponsor the exhibit and Norwegian refreshments, at 1282 Commercial street Friday and Saturday, July 19-20, of the big four day celebration. Authenic Norwegian customs, foods and exhibits will be displayed

Portland Gal Near Native Of LC Area

Winsome is the word for Princess Nancy Lucile Springer of the royal Astoria Regatta court.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Springer.

Princess Nancy, Portland-born, is about as close to being a native-dauhgter as one can get, for she came to Astoria with her parents when she was just a tiny blue-eyed baby.

Now those blue eyes smile out from under brownette hair close-cropped and Nancy stands five-five when she doesn't wear heels. A June graduate of Astoria high school, this 18-year-old member of Astoria royalty was born January 28, graduated from Lewis and Clark grade school and hopes to attend Emmanuel hospital nursing school, for she sincerely wants to take up nursing as a career.

At high school, Nancy is a member of Quill and Scroll, honorary writing society, was class editor for the Zephyrus, is Girls League secretary and sings with the Madrigals, for she is a music major.

A member of the Methodist church and the Rainbows, this slender little princess loves to swim, along with other forms of outdoor sports, and is learning (with a few uncalled for dunkings) to water ski. Oh, yes, and she sews, too, and can prove it by several skirts and dresses she made for helself.

The youngest of the Springer family, Princess Nancy has two older brothers, both married, Jerry and Richard, living here, and an older sister, Mrs. Dann Madden, Corvallis, and she answers to "Aunt Nancy" to several little nieces and nephews.

Port Here Handles Much US Shipping

The Port of Astoria is under the direction of five elected Commissioners. Located in Astoria, ten miles from the sea lanes, the facilities include three piers with six berths for ocean vessels; 415,000 square feet sprinkled warehouse space; ten acres open storage area; a 1 million bushel grain elevator; mechanical equipment including a 35 ton capacity locomotive crane for handling all types of cargoes; 11,125 feet of rail trackage; bunkering oil facilities for ocean vessels. Two small boat mooring basins with space for 1000 boats are operated by the Port.

Beside that, this year's first-to-be-announced princess is vice president of Christian Endeavor at her church, and devotional superintendent for the coast union of Christian Endeavor for the Christian church And if those titles aren't imposing enough, she is honored queen of bethel 58 Job's Daughters and chaplain of the Grand Assembly of Oregon, Order of Rainbow for Girls.

Regatta Revels

The Pirate's Den, located in the Moose hall this year, opens daily at noon, officials said. Some confusion existed over opening hours Thursday, but the official time in 12 noon. The Moose have turned over their facilities to the Regatta association for the 4-day celebration.

Tommy Lake was not the only ex-Regatta admiral on hand for the celebration. Maj. Gen. T. E. Rilea, Regatta Admiral of not too many years ago, was also on hand.

Open house continues aboard the USS Savage throughout the Regatta. Hours are from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m. More than 70 persons visited the ship on the opening day of the Regatta.

Sailboat races scheduled for the east end mooring basin on Saturday morning should really bring out some rivalry. St. Helens has sent at least two, and perhaps more. Lewis Wright, or CRPA, who formerly lived in Vancouver says a lot of interest in the races has been developed in Vancouver. [illegible] are, Wright said, that a crowd of Vancouverites will be on hand for the races.

CRPA is playing an even larger part in this years' celebration. They are sponsoring the Tacoma American Legion Drum and Bugle corps appearance in the Regatta parade. It is regarded as one of the outstanding units in the parade.

Free refreshments await parade marchers Saturday at the end of the parade. The Jaycees will put up a hospitality house at the end of the line of march for the weary paraders.

Astoria's Regatta had some guests from afar today. Among them were Mr and Mrs Sid Kline, who came all the way from Honolulu to join in the celebration of the Regatta. They brought lovely leis from the islands and adorned passengers aboard the Blue Water with the lovely blossoms.

Douglas McKay, former Secretary of the Interior who recently was named by President Eisenhower as member of a US-Canada joint commission on water resources, will be a Regata guest Saturday. McKay notified Mayor P. G. Cosovich that he and Mrs. McKay and Mr. and Mrs. Spec Keene of Corvallis, who are vacationing at Neskowin, would be here Saturday to see the parade. Keene is director of athletics at Oregon State College.

Abrahamson Plumbing company of Astoria is sponsoring Longview Boy Scout Drum and Bugle corps appearance in the grand parade Saturday.

Recordings of the docking of Carl Shoemaker's yacht, the Blue Water, official flagship of Admiral Bledsoe, with greetings to the Portlanders aboard and interviews with Gov. R. D. Holmes and Adm. Bledsoe will be broadcast tonight from 5:5:45 p. m. over KAST. The program, "Your Home Town This Week," sponsored by Floyd Reith and Sons insurance, was taped by Herman Robison of KAST, and will also include excerpts from the coronation ceremony last night.

Mary Marrett riding a beautiful stallion will lead the Grand Parade on Saturday. She will carry the Regatta colors.

Regatta Revels

Don Garis, chairman of the awards committee for the Regatta parade for the Astoria Chamber of Commerce, said today that judges for the contest have been selected except for one. He said that the judges would sit on the reviewing stand and that they would also be feted at a special luncheon to be held on Saturday just prior to the parade. Garis said that all of the trophies and ribbons have arrived and have joined the rest of the display in the window of Payne's Men's Store.

Tether the horses, the ancient Astoria fire engine, (motor-driven, however), will be screeching through the city's streets on the next few evenings to sell Regatta buttons. Astoria's Junior Chamber of Commerce, custodians of the fire engine, will launch their big button drive, starting Friday. So, get your dollars out for the Jaycees will be rapping on your doors.

TV REVIEW: How to get job done in 55 seconds was demonstrated by Dr. John Hickman, Regatta president, on KOIN-TV last night from Portland. Dr. Hickman and the five Regatta princesses, along with the chaperone, Mrs. Ed Niemi and court chairman, Sam Yockey, appeared on the news program of Sherman Washburn. Dr. Hickman [illegible] of the Regatta in the alloted time. The five princesses, the chaperone and court chairman, stood in the background behind Washburn and Dr. Hickman. A note of humor crept into the show when Yockey presented Washburn with a commission from the Astoria Regatta as a Vice Admiral. Washburn quipped, "While the word vice is something we don't like to mention in Portland, I am none-the-less happy to receive the commission."

Jaunty overseas caps, standard equipment for women's Regatta uniforms, went on sale at Jerome's and Astoria Apparel today. The hats were made in Astoria and are being sold through the Regatta association. They are part of the official uniforms for the Regatta this year. Regatta officials urge all Regatta boosters to wear uniforms for the celebration.

The traditional Friday luncheon for the admiral of the 37th annual Astoria Regatta has a limited guest list this year. Sixty persons can be served on a first-come-first served basis. Reservations must be made in advance at the Chamber of Commerce office. The luncheon is held at Tongue Point and the number of guests is limited by the amount of space available.

Miss Astoria, Jo Hansen, had Regatta royality at her tea yesterday. The tea was held at the Zion Lutheran church. Princesses on hand were Judy Hein and Nancy Springer. Work and 'beauty shop' committments kept the others from attending.

Special new programs, bigger and better than ever, will be distributed by the association this year, according to Ron Graves, brochure chairman. Graves, is in charge of getting the book organized and he reports that it will be done early this week. The program will be mailed with the out-of-town commissions. Sponsors will also receive copies of the booklet for distribution. They will also be on hand for use by the public during the Regatta. They feature many new ideas this year . . . among them reports on the scenic and historic spots to visit in Clatsop county for tourists. Formal and informal pictures are also included of the Royal court. A detailed story of each princess is also included as a guide to coronation guests on the background and qualifications of each of the candidates for Queen.

Commissions for out-of-town admirals are to be in the mail later in the week according to Sheryl Baker, office secretary. The Regatta office this year is in the Farmer's Insurance office of Ron Graves. Local admirals are automatically commissioned. President John Hickman issued a blanket commission for all Astoria citizens as admirals earlier in the year.

Speaker on Tap

J. ROGER DEAS

Noted Speaker Hails Fish Industry Here

Astoria's seafoods industry will be hailed by J. R. Deas, nationally known public speaker, who will speak at the first of two sessions billed Friday evening at the Armory as part of Regatta-Fish Festival activities.

Also featured will be the Sportsmen quartet and a concert by the Roseburg high school band.

As a result of this many platform appearances, J Deas of American Can company, is known to major convention and other audiences as a talented speaker on our industrial society and the fundamental values in American life.

Because of his extensive travels, and the many informal meetings with leaders in government, business and community life, Deas brings to his talks an insight into economic trends and the people and events behind them.

Since September 1951, when he joined American Can, Deas has traveled nearly 300,000 miles to meet with approximately 1700 audiences in nearly every state.

Deas tailors his talks for each audience, and he has been acclaimed for his mastery of subject matter and for the facility with which he establishes his identity with the groups he addresses.

As an "ambassador of good will" for the container-using industries, Deas stresses their importance as a bulwark of our free economic system. He describes their many services to the consuming public and how they contribute to the nation's economy as employers of many thousands of people and as large-scale purchasers of farm and factory products.

A native of California, Deas attended the California School of Fine Artas. Early in his business career, he joined E. A. Pierce and company, San Francisco investment bankors, and became a financial analyst.

Later he became secretary of the San Francisco City Planning commission and, at the Founding Convention of the United Nations, served as an associate consultant to the United States Delegation. He also has been president of the California Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Prior to his service with Canco, Deas was research secretary to Earl Warren when the present Chief Justice was governor of California. Deas is married, has two children and lives with his family in Riverside, Conn.

Kiwanis Sponsoring Children's Parade

The Kiwanis club will conduct its annual kids' day parade July 19 at 7:30 p.m. as a feature of this year's Regatta and Fish Festival, the club announced today.

There will be a grand prize, as well as a $3 first prize, $2 second prize and $1 third prize in each division, and ribbons also for the prize winners.

Prizes will be awarded in the following divisions: Baby buggy, boys' tricycle, girls' tricycle, boys' bicycle, girls' bicycle, wagons, floats, costumes and miscellaneous

Excessive Theatrics

FARMINGDALE, N.J. (UP) — State police said Tuesday realism was carried a bit too far at nearby Cowboy City, a recreated Old West town where bank holdups and train robberies are staged for tourists. Detectives said thieves weren't acting when they broke into Kiddyland and looted a safe of $6,800.

Regatta Pageantry Ends

Top Marchers Return Here

Proudly strutting by the reviewing stand in last years' Regatta Grand Parade is the Oakland Naval station drill team. The group won championship honors in Regatta parades for two years in a row. They will be after their third Regatta honor in this year's parade. Parade officials said the entry from the Oakland group was a surprise. They had been led to believe the group would not be on hand. They wired today, however, that they would be here. (A-B Photo)

Judges Set For Big Land Event on Sat.

Judges for the Grand Parade of the Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival, which is to be held Saturday, July 20, were announced today by Don Garris, awards chairman.

Sixteen judges in all will evaluate the eight divisions of the big parade which will wind through Astoria's center, beginning at 3 p. m.

The eight divisions include: commercial floats, non-commercial floats, bands, music groups, drill marching units, mounted units, display marching units, pipe bands, and best drum major and majorette.

Two judges will be assigned to evaluate each division of the parade, Garris said. They will be seated at the official reviewing stand and will confer after the parade to name the winners.

Awards will be made at the special band show to be held Saturday evening at Gyro field.

Judges named by the Junior Chamber of Commerce committee are Mrs. Margaret Lews, Seaside, Alan Lundberg, Tillamook; Jim Morrell, the Rev. Mr. Orval Whitman, Mrs. Elmira Douma, Wheeler, Tommy Luke, Portland, Mrs. Fern Morse, Harry Steinbock, Mrs. Fred Sandoz, Byron Roman, Mrs. Ted Springer, Art Sandstrom, Joe Flynn, Lloyd Attig, Eugene Knutsen and Tony Sramiello.

Entrant List For Regatta Parade Line

Entries in the Regatta-Oregon Fish Festival Parade are still being received, with the total now swelled to more than 50 individual units, Parade Chairman Reuel Meissner reported to his Jaycee committee last night.

Several new units and many favorites of past years will be in the line of march when the big parade starts the colorful march at 3 p. m. next Saturday. Three Scottish pipe bands are already entered this year, causing the committee to set up a special division for these skirling units, according to Don Garris, judging and awards chairman.

Interest in the event is high this year, Jaycees feel, pointing to larger number of bands and ten floats in the community festival. Garris warned sponsors to be sure that their entries comply with specifications this year. Floats will be downgraded if they don't meet requirements set forth on the printed invitations sheet.

Jaycee sub-committees are working at top speed on housing, hospitality, awards and judging, plans on forming and marshalling the parade, and all of the other behind-the-scenes operations so necessary for a successful parade. In addition, plans for the entertaining band and drill team show Saturday evening after the parade are being finalized by Chairman Tony Naimo. Details on these functions will be announced shortly.

65 Fishing Boats Take Part in Big Waterfront Parade

Sixty-five fishing boats of all kinds and classes paraded along the Astoria waterfront and participated in a ceremony of blessing of the fleet Saturday afternoon as one of the features of the annual Regatta.

The marine parade, from the west end mooring basin to the east end basin, was one of the biggest ever held here.

Led by the power scow Golden Age carrying a Portland bagpipe band, it included 45 drag boats, 2 crab boats, 5 trollers, 40 or more gillnet craft, 4 cannery launches and seven pleasure craft.

There were two bagpipe bands on board, plus Queen Judy Hein and members of the Regatta court.

George Radich was in general charge of the parade, assisted by Lewis Wright and R. L. Hansen.

Many of the boats were decked out in bunting and flags.

The fleet blesing ceremony took place at the pier of the east end basin, with the Rev. Robert Greene of the Grace Episcopal church conducting a ceremony that has been used in other fishing ports in the past.

Three boats — a drag boat, a crab boat and a gillnet craft—were blessed by the clergyman with their crews and fishing gear, symbolizing the other 50 boats massed nearby.

Participating in the blessing ceremony were A. H. Conger, Joe Nichols and Riley Linville, fishermen, who offered the boats and gear for the blessing.

More than 250 people attended the ceremony.

Ray Holtgrieve, a gillnetter who came all the way from Bridal Veil in the Columbia gorge for the Regatta and Fish Festival, said that the blesing ceremony was "wonderful" and "very impressive" and that it alone was worth the trip here.

Holtgrieve had as passengers James Gleason, Multnomah county commissioner, and G. J. Gleason, state senator.

Chairman Radich of the marine parade committee said "we learned a lot from the first big marine parade in many years, but want to hear suggestions for future such parades. Please write to Marine Parade Committee, Post Office Box 60, Astoria.

Stay-at-homes and shut-ins can get a picture of the Queen real fast tonight. Three television stations in the Pacific Northwest are geared to present the announcement of the Queen's selection at least by the 10 p. m. news shows. KING-TV, Seattle, KOIN-TV and KGW-TV, Portland are the channels which will flash the word and the picture of the winning princess. Here's how it works. The stations have pictures of the princesses—that is, one of each girl. They also have a biographical sketch of each girl. As soon as the queen's name is known a Regatta official will call the stations and they will make the announcements.

Anyone want to enter a boat race? Hydroplane and runabout boat owners who want to enter the Regatta Races, to be held Sunday at 1 p. m. at the east end mooring basin, may do so, according to Jack Ford, chairman of the event. He says local water stars can sign up at 11 a. m. Sunday at the east end basin if they want to race. Admission for the marine races is 50 cents for those without buttons. Those with buttons are admitted free. Al ready 14 boats have been signed for the races.

Maybe it's pre-coronation nerves—Troyer Thompson, father of Linda Thompson, queen candidate, wanted to top off his natty appearance today as a Regatta admiral in his blue coat and white trousers with a haircut. He visited Charlie Brooks' barbershop and midway in the haircutting operation the barber chair collapsed. Nervous, Mr. Thompson?

Reservations for the Regatta court Anchor Club luncheon must be in by Friday, Mrs. Roland Peterson, chairman of the Saturday noon event, announced today. Mrs. Peterson said that the Sportsmen quartet, the past Regatta Queens, and the royal court along with other officials would be on hand for the luncheon. It is at the John Jacob Astor hotel. Those desiring to attend are urged to complete reservations as soon as possible. They may do so by calling Mrs. Peterson at 1305-L, or Phyllis Mittett, at 2013.

The Regatta will have lots of visitors for the parade, but let's not overlook the home-grown talent. The Astoria high school band and [illegible] are slated for the event. They have been on attractions in Regatta parades for many years.

Reviewing stand for the parade on Saturday will "probably" be located on the south side of Commercial street at 14th street, Reuel Meissner, parade chairman said today. He wasn't too sure of it, however. It seems a protocol problem stumped the parade planners yesterday and it hasn't been entirely resolved at this time. The original plan was to have the governor on the reviewing stand on one side of the street and the judges on the other side. But, some parade group [illegible] objected to having [illegible] on the grandstand when we perform for the judges. The Navy was called in on protocol advice and now both stands will be on one side of the street.

The Portland Bagpipe band, scheduled for appearances at the parade and at the band show, have added another date to their Regatta visit. They will perform at the Gobletime at the armory on Sunday. Also set for a Gobletime show is the Oakland Naval station drill team.

The Eugene Highlanders, a bagpipe band, will serve as the official band for the Governor of Oregon, R. D. Holmes, in the big parade. They have been designated as the Governor's band.

Tickets for tonight's coronation ceremonies will go on sale at the Gyro field house at 6:30 p. m. Regatta officials announced today. Prices are 75 cents for children and $1 for adults. Children under six are admitted free.

The Grand Parade at 3 p m today was swelled to more than 65 units as new last minute entries were confirmed by long distance phone late last night Reuel Mc ter, general chairman for the Jaycee-organized event announced this morning At least ten bands and drum and bugle corps, ten drill teams and marching units, eleven mounted units, 14 floats, and a wide variety of other colorful units will be in the line of march today The parade is divided into seven divisions, each under direction of a Jaycee marshall and assistant, according to Jack Ford, marshalling chairman Two-way radios borrowed from the Oregon National Guard will aid in forming and controlling the march The procession will form between Woody's Drive-in and the Halfway House and head East on Marine Drive to Eighth street then East along Commercial through downtown Astoria to the I-H and Gyro Field area

Regatta Admiral Riedsor turned performer for a brief time during the Regatta stage show at the Armory last night. He played the accordion with part of the act of the Sportsmen. And is was a pretty good job, too . . . according to the kibitzing musicians.

The unenviable positions as judges for the big march this afternoon were announced last night by Don Garris, Jaycee chairman for judging and awards. The 17 judges will view the parade from the stand at 14th street Scores will be tallied and winners in each division will be awarded their plaques and ribbons tonight at the band show at Gyro field, Garris stated Judges are as follows Floats, Non-Commercial- Mrs. Margaret Laws, Seaside and Alan E. Lundberg, Tillamook: Floats, Commercial Mrs Elmira Duoma, Wheeler and Tommy Luke, Portland- Pipe Band Rev. Orval Whitman and Mrs. Fern Morse: Bands: Byron Roman and Art Sandstrom: Mounted Units Eugene Knutsen and Tony Stramiello: Musical Groups. Mrs. Ted Springer and Jim Brunold: Drill Marching Units: Jim Morell and Harry Steinbock. Display Marching Units: Mrs. Fred Sandoz and Lloyd Attig: Best Majorette and Major Eugene Lowe. Judges are local people unless otherwise noted

Beginning at 1:30 Saturday afternoon, the Astoria Jay-C-Ettes will be selling ice cream and pop for parade watchers and participants at three locations: 12th and Commercial by Jeromes, 9th and Commercial by Larson Dairy, and in the parking lot at Sebern's Furniture

Committees worked far into the night and were up at dawn today preparing for the big parade and other events today in the 37th Astoria Regatta and the Oregon Fish Festival

The inevitable last minute details in finishing up construction of the many floats occupied many persons. The entry of the Rockaway community club, however, was on hand at the parade forming area at dawn today. Approximately 14 floats in all will be in the procession, Jaycee parade officials report

Members of the Roseburg high school band were well taken care of last night as Astoria area homes were opened to the visiting group, reports Carl Bondietti, Jaycee housing chairman. The band marched in the children's parade yesterday and then played at the events in the Armory last night. After doing the town briefly, they were taken to their homes away from home by Jaycees and others who provided transportation

Add to woes of a parade chairman: Long distance calls at last minute from units asking entry in the parade program already carefully worked out- and housing- "please set up a luncheon for 40," et al

Add to CRPA contributions to the Regatta fete 2000 parade programs for the big parade. Already, however, new entries have made the listing incomplete, according to Jaycees.

Bob Brown, outdoor editor of Portland's television station KPTV, Channel 12, is here today gathering film for showing next week. Brown planned to get some Regatta shots for a news show at 5:45 Monday and some fishing film for an outdoor show next Friday at 5:45 p. m. He also planned to gather film material on the Regatta and outdoor activities for future shows.

Regatta offices located in the Ron Graves Farmer's Insurance office on 12th street, have been besieged with queries on the uniforms for the Regatta this year. According to Sheryl Baker, Regatta office secretary, the callers want to know if the Regatta uniforms used in the past have been changed. The answer is a big NO, say Regatta officials. Confusion on the question appears to stem from an A-B headline which appeared over pictures of the regulation uniforms and the new addition . . . it said "the old . . . and the new." As the story that accompanied the pictures explained the so-called old uniform was style retained, but a new informal one was added, hence the 'new.'

Uniforms acceptable for wear during the celebration according to Regatta protocol include the familiar blue dress coat, white trousers, black shoes, yacht cap, shoulder patch and Regatta button. Anchor girls with uniforms use them as official garb. The new informal uniform, wearing of which is optional or interchangeable with the old one, is blue denim trousers, sports shirt, blue denim jacket, shoulder patch, button, blue denim yacht cap. For women who for the first time [illegible] uniforms for the Regatta is white blouse, blue or black skirt, overseas cap with button, shoulder patch.

Note on the Regatta-sponsored Portland Beaver ball game trip July 14. Astoria will not get credit for any tickets which are not purchased in Astoria. In other words, for Astoria to have a good representation, and one that counts, the tickets should all be purchased here before going to Portland Busy Regatta court members will put in an appearance today at the tea sponsored by the Junior chamber of commerce auxiliary at the Zion Lutheran church. The court has a busy schedule of events lined up in the next few days.

Boat races are assured today, according to Jack Ford, who is in charge of a portion of the marine events. Fourteen motorboats from Aberdeen will definitely be on hand for racing Also two additional boats just dropped in at the chamber of commerce office today to get information on taking part

FISH FESTIVAL FACTS—Fish sticks will be served at the Sunday fish-fry to be sponsored Sunday, July 31 as the final event of the Oregon Fish Festival and the Regatta. Last year huge sides of salmon were baked before open fires, but this year the Fish Festival has really gone electronic The fryers which are used at the CRPA fish sticks plants are simply going to be moved to the Armory to cook fish sticks for diners at the fish-fry. Matter of fact all of the labor, food and whatnot for the big dinner are being contributed.

The Canessa is in charge of cooking the fish for the fishery . . . and the fish is being taken now, according to reports from the waterfront. Drag boat operators are contributing the fish free to the association for the celebration. Aiding Canessa in his cooking chores will be members of the Cannery Workers union.

Trophys for the parade the Saturday land parades are now on display in the window of Payne's Men's Store. The awards will be made in seven separate divisions to the more than 30 individual units already signed for the parade

Pictures of the princesses, which were taken by Ball Studio, are now on display in four Astoria locations and one Portland store. In town the portraits can be seen at Astoria Apparel, Pacific Power and Light, First National Bank and Thiel Brothers. In Portland the pictures are on display in the window of Meier and Frank company.

Anchor club members have again proven their worth to Regatta board members. Already this year they have sold more than 500 buttons and they are still going strong Button sales are still a big worry for Regatta planners. Special button sale drives are slated in the next few days

The big band show, a popular Regatta event, will be held at Gyro Field this year. The crowd which overflowed the site of last year's celebration for the show caused Regatta planners to seek the biggest auditorium in the city. The feel that Gyro should be able to handle the big crowd.

Sidewalk sailors all along Regatta realm were packing up the tempo of the snowballing spirit for the celebration today. Charles Smith, Regatta promotions [illegible] man, said that Astoria merchants were busy getting ready to put in window displays carrying out the Regatta theme. 'Displays may follow the parade theme, which is legends of the sea, or they may simply follow a Regatta Fish Festival motif, Smith says

TV tonight for the Astoria royal Regatta court will not be the only time that the story will be told via the new medium. Charles DeFoe, secretary of the Astoria chamber of commerce, will tell the story Saturday over the television station in Eugene. He will also show pictures and slides of the celebration which was held last year. Also slated for television on KPTV in Portland are pictures of the Regatta over the local-live-weather-news show of 'Geri Lindsey and the Weather.' On July 18 it will feature the Regatta-Fish Festival.

A one-floor show is promised for the Regatta-Fish Festival main building, the Astoria armory. Floor planners have decided to keep all activities of the combined celebration on the main floor. They will place a row of bleacher seats about halfway across the basketball court floor and divide the building in that way. Booths will be on one half of the floor and the dance hall and the stage on the other. It is hoped that in this way better seating can be provided for the stage and a better setting for the Fish Festival exhibits

A. A. 'Tony' Naimo, father of the Band Show as a Regatta feature, is back in the thick of planning for this one. He had hoped that he could just sort of supervise this event for the year . . . . but his chief cook-and-bottle-washer has left Astoria. So he again is shouldering much of the responsibilities. He is the first to admit, however, that without the Jaycees and their hard workers little of the parade or band show would ever materialize.

A Jaycees 'button-brigade' will [illegible] to the hills during the next [illegible] days to put some life into lagging Regatta button sales House-to-house door bell ringing is on the agenda. The group has always provided a lot of work force for the Regatta, but with the Miss Oregon Pageant coming up the week after the Regatta they really have a busy two weeks ahead of them

Anyone know how to build a water ski jump? Regatta planners are puzzled by this one. They have the plans for the thing, which is how they describe it, but they don't know where to begin. Officials have issued an urgent appeal for hammer and nail men and someone who can read blueprints. The jump is needed by the Oswego Ski Club as part of their two hour show of water antics scheduled for the marine events during the Regatta.

Astoria took on a festive air some time last night or early this morning as street decorators hit the city. Early risers driving down Commercial street this morning, if they bothered to look, saw huge liners strung across the street advertising the Regatta-Fish Festival event. Huge signs were also put up by the workers from Portland In all, 20 of the street liners have been put up.

Anchor Report On Regatta Work Is Praiseworthy

"Well done" was the comment of the Anchor club's skipper Mrs. Vernon Mogenson, when her various committee chairmen reported on the success of the club's part in the past Regatta.

Members sold a total of 221 Regatta booster buttons, 223 women attended the Queen's luncheon, and praise from many attending the coronation proved that event had more than met approval.

The favorable reports during the business session were followed by a refreshment hour at which the tea table, covered with a pink metallic cloth, was centered with massive pink and white dahlias.

Mrs. David Hoyer was hostess chairman, assisted by the Mesdames Charles Smith, Arthur Johansen, Charles Gustafson and William Leahy. The evening's special prize was won by Mrs. Albert Frye, and the Anchor Log was edited and distributed by Mrs Eugene Knutsen and Mrs. Vernon Larsen.

Although the 1957 Regatta and Fish Festival has faded into the past, memories of three glorious days still linger. Mr. Weatherman was most kind and brought us idcal Regatta weather and everyone was gripped with "Regatta Fever", and tho some folks are still recovering from aching feet, tired backs and just plain general fatigue, we can honestly say, it was one fine celebration.

CORONATION:

To begin the three-day celebration, the Coronation ceremony, under the guiding hand of Vivian Graves, Coronation Chairman and Phyllis Mittet, Co-Chairman, was held August 19 at Gyro Field under a star-studded sky and witnessed by some 600 people who saw lovely Judy Hein crowned Queen of the 37th Annual Regatta by Rear-Admiral A. Bledsoe. Queen Judy viewed her subjects enthroned on a white satin chair backed by a large gold and lavender sea shell sparkling with golden glitter, which was the artistic work of Dorothy Jacob, Alice Springer, Faye Hill and Kathleen Dressler. The ceremony was conducted with nary a mistake and comments heard everywhere, say this was the most beautiful coronation ever. Thank you seems so little to say to the above girls for allthe time and effort spent to make it as smooth as it was so-- here's an orchid to all of you.

Tea:

First of the many activities on the busy Anchor schedule, was the tea honoring the Regatta Princesses, held Saturday, July 13 at the Yacht Club, which was virtually a setting in a summer garden. Upon entering the Clubhouse, the guests pleasantly viewed a garden scene complete with lily pond and beach umbrella, under which sat two lovely bathing beauties, namely, Julie Johnson and Becky Johnson, attractive daughters of Anchor members, Viola Johnson and Virginia Johnson. Greeting the guests in the receiving line was our Skipper, Jeanie Mogensen, Fern Johansen, General Chairman of the Tea, along with the five Regatta princesses, Judy Hein, Sheryl Hoagland, Nancy Springer, Linda Thompson, Evelyn Lewis, and their charming chaperone, Mrs. Ed Niemi. The main room was tastefully decorated with summer flowers in colors of red and white. The tea table was beautifully appointed and was covered with a red bouffant organdy ruffled skirt, which was the topic of conversation. The centerpiece was composed of red and white Esther Reed daisies to complement the decor of the club rooms; even the dainty petit fours served were most attractively iced in colors of red and white. During the tea hours, Gail Hauke provided the pleasant background music. Presiding at the tea table were the mothers of the Regatta princesses as well as Mrs. John Hickman and Mrs. Peter Cosovich. We musn't forget to mention our little feathered friends in their pert little cages, who were chirping right along with the women!

Responsible for this annual event were the following girls: Fern Johansen, General Tea Chairman; Decorating Chairman, Helen Merkki, Nora Johnson, Betty Johnson, Marge Anderson and Elsie Frye. The Refreshment committee was headed by Lois Hoyer, Chairman, Marge Kubik, Laura Reith, Nancy Thorsness, Gloria Lind, Edna Clement and Marge Mather. Many thanks gals, for a delightful afternoon.

LUNCHEON:

The Luncheon, honoring Queen Judy and her royal court, was held at the John Jacob Astor Hotel on Saturday, July 20, with one of the largest crowds yet, 223 people to be exact. The luncheon committee was headed by Althea Petersen and ably assisted by Phyllis Mittet, Dolores Leahy, Mabel Segen and Laura Fern Samuelson. A beautiful floral arrangement of pink roses and white stock, which was in the shape of a crown, graced the center of the Queen's table. Many "Oh's" and "Ah's" were heard in appreciation of its beauty. As favors for each guest were cans of tuna and salmon encircled with a silver crown with cut-out pictures of Queen and princesses. Very nice. An added treat at the Luncheon, was the appearance of the famed Sportsmen Quartet who thrilled every woman there with their renditions. Some of the notables present included Mrs. Robert Holmes, First Lady of Oregon, Mrs. Douglas McKay, wife of former Governor of Oregon, and Past Admirals' wives, Mrs. Tommy Luke and Mrs. Thomas Riles. T'was a swell luncheon and our thanks to all you girls who made it possible.

PROGRAM:

Laine Burns and Ila Rae Juola were the two girls responsible for arranging such a fine program coronation night. Many thanks girls.

Dear Anchors,

The Regatta now seems like it was so long ago, but, of course, not forgotten.

[illegible] memories [illegible] really, a few very special ones. "The Regatta tea and the Queen's Luncheon" are both, what I would call my "special memories."

Perfection must be the key word of the Anchor Club because the tea and luncheon were just PERFECT. Not only the Regatta Court was impressed, but I've heard so many flattering remarks about the event from those who attended.

May I, for a minute, forget that I was a princess that the Anchors had for us to make our reign fun packed and it went memorably one.

I'd like you to know that I certainly enjoyed meeting all of you and getting to know you as well. You're a swell group, from every point of you, and I'm proud to have all of you as my friends.

Thank you for everything

Very sincerely,

Linda Thompson

Anchors Plan October Party

At the recent Anchor club meeting, it was decided to have an October card party and Mrs. Skipper, Mrs. Vern Mogenson, appointed the Mesdames Axel Englund, Hiram Johnson and Sam Yockey in charge of purchasing a cedar chest to be filled with linens, to be awarded as a prize

She also appointed Mrs. Charles Smith and Mrs. John Nellor co-chairmen, to be assisted by the Mesdames Walter Johnson, Harry Hallonen, Charles Leback, Bob Reed and Woodrow Wilson.

Hostesses chairman Mrs. Armas Niskanen, Mrs. Don Hoyer, Mrs. Mickey Utt and Miss Audrey Diiro awarded the special prize to Mrs Harold Johnson. The Anchor club meets next on September 16.

[illegible]lecting the wardrobe for the royal court was the pleasant task for Sus Fulton and Esty Knutsen. Since many hours of time were spent on thisproject, it was most gratifying to know that the princesses were very pleased with the clothes selections. Nothing like patting yourself on the back! Ha! Ha! Anyway, it was a fun committee to work on. Thank you Sus and Esty.

PUBLICITY:

Added to the list of Regatta committees, was the creation of a Publicity Chairman, which was capably handled by Beverly Duff. Bev worked closely with the local newspaper, which gave the Anchors well-deserved publicity. Good job done, Bev!

[illegible]:

'Tho the Drill team didn't bring home any ribbons this year, we are all proud of your appearance in the big Parade. Did you know that the Drill team received an informal invitation from a Royal Rosarian to appear in the Rose Festival parade next year? He was very impressed with the intricate maneuvers the team executed. How about that? For particulars, see Althea.

FOOD BOOTH:

Many, many thanks to Helen Niemi and Pat Simonsen who organized the Food Booth at the Armory, and to all the girls who worked. At this writing, don't know how many hot dogs were sold.

SAVORY SEA FOOD:

Working diligently for the Savory Seafood Search were four Anchor members, Freda Englund, Ellen Conger, Marge Mather and Mary Lou Haggren. Did you see the gals picutres in the Journal? Congratulations to Freda's husband Axel, who won second prize in the men's appetizer division.

ANCHORS AWAY:

Rosemary Neumeister and family planning a sojourn to Harrison Hot Springs, Canada, Skipper Jeanie Mogensen and family also going to the famed Canadian resort. Have a wonderful time Skipper and enjoy yourself. You deserve it!

Canada has beckoned other Anchors. Bea and John Cederberg recently returned from up Victoria way. Kathleen and Tex Farris returned from Victoria just in time for the Regatta.

Sus Fulton and children enjoying the sunny weather at Walnut Creek, California. She will return the end of August.

Marge and Chuck Smith and children recently vacationed in California. Trip to Disneyland was highlight of trip as well as dancing to Lawrence Welk and his champagne music.

Mary Lou Haggren flew to Alaska to join her husband, She will make the trip home via boat.

Lorraine Hoyer and family had a one night stand at Brightenbush Hot Springs. Ask Lorraine about the ultra ultra room were they spent the night!

DID YOU HEAR:

Helen Niemi has taken up squeezing the bagpipes? Wot gives?

Dorothy Yockey has taken up playing the Musical Saw. Free lessons. Men only need apply.

Esther and Hi Parker in town for the Regatta. Hi was recently transferred to Salem. For the Associated Oil Company, that is.

Other ex-Anchors seen in town were Pat Malen and husband, Vic, from Bellevue, Washington, and Doris and Ward Paldanius from Salem.

JOKES:

Doctor: You need to stop worrying so much. Throw yourself into your work.
Patient: But doctor, I run a cement mixer! Putty! Putty!

Daffynishion: Calypso Bakery. One that sells Day-O-Bread.

I sneezed a sneeze into the air,
It fell to earth I know not where.
But hard and cold were the locks of those,
In whose vicinity I snoze.

Anchors Change Card Party Date

Mrs. Vernon Mogenson skipper of the Anchor Club told members that the date for the October card party has been changed from the 21st to the 24th and that the linen-filled cedar chest will be given away at that time.

Members decided to be hostesses at the USO from October 21-31, and that Mrs. Harry Duff and Mrs. Floyd Reith Jr. will be in charge.

Mrs. Mogenson appointed Mrs. Arthur Anderson to fill the office of sergeant-at-arms vacated when Mrs. Harry Dressler moved away.

The Anchor Log was distributed by the Misses Evelyn Carlson and Laurel Bjork.

Hostesses the Mesdames Al Conger, Jerome Clement, Roland Peterson and Gerald Somerset presented, at the coffee hour, the evening's special prize to Mrs. John Hill.

Co-Chairman Marg Smith and Maxine Mellor report a profit of $92.35. Prizes awarded to Irene Blackburn, Zoe Palmrose, Mrs. John Anderson, Hilda McPherson, Hulda Taylor, Anchor Faye Hill, and Mrs. E. H. Nelson.

The committee purchased 2000 tickets to be sold for chances on the cedar chest. A total of 1775 were sold bringing in $61[illegible].00. After expenses a profit of $515.11 was realized.

[redacted] Members Selling 3 or more books were:

Eileen Wirkkunen (one of our new members) won the prize of $5.00 by selling 5 books
Marg Anderson 4 books plus 11 tickets
Reyona Ruitta 4 books plus 6 tickets
Vivian Graves 4 books
Althea Peterson 3 books plus 7 tickets
Muriel Miskunen 3 books

The winning ticket was sold by Vivian Graves. Mrs. J. A. Hill was the lucky person to win the cedar chest. She was overjoyed when she was called out of bed to receive the good news. Mrs. Hill is a sister-in-law of Anchor member Millie Oja.

Second prize was a blanket won by Mrs. Nancy Nelson who is employed at the First National Bank.
Third prize was a bath towel set won by Marianne Iverson who is a niece of Sus Fulton.

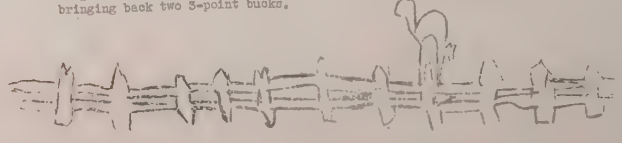

Those on the committee for the Cedar Chest were Viola Johnson, Dorothy Yockey and Frieda Englund. They wish to thank all Anchors for the lovely donations. The cedar chest was purchased at Greenberg Furniture Store, and we wish to give them a special thanks for the generous discount. Also to Payne's for the display space which helped to create interest in our project. Both stores have been very cooperative in helping the Anchor activities in the past and it is certainly appreciated.

Pat Johnson and husband Walt will be celebrating their 25th Wedding Anniversary on the 24th of November. Pat is presently suffering from a broken wrist.

Goldie Kelsey and husband were in town over the week end. She is employed by the "Welcome Wagon" in Portland.

Ethel Winters, one of our 20-year members, is to be congratulated on winning the women's prize in the "Big Buck Contest". The buck was shot in eastern Oregon while on a hunting trip with Millie and George Oja. The buck was dressed out at 198 lbs.

Marg Mather and family enjoyed a hunting trip to eastern Oregon bringing back two 3-point bucks.

Anchor Club 1957 Skipper Is Honored

Mrs Vernon Mogenson was the inspiration for the annual skipper's banquet given by the Anchor club Monday evening at the Islander, preceded by a cocktail hour.

The long tables had miniature paint bucket nut cups of gold paper, the brushes emblazoned with the skipper's picture, and the centerpiece was a large bucket covered with miniature gold chrysanthemums, filled with gold and bronze mums.

Seated at the head table with the guest of honor were Mrs Robert Landsehr, Mrs. [illegible] Fuerset, Mrs. Vivian Gre[illegible], Allen Davies, Mrs. Albert [illegible] Mrs. George Niemi.

P. Mittet & A. Malmberg

One of the more important events of the year, The Skipper's Banquet, was enjoyed this year by an unusually large group of Anchors-- 69 in all and this included the following 20 year members: Elsa Auvil, Ethel Winters, Norm Johnson, Laina Burns, Lucille Thiel, Millie Oje, Elsie Frye, Pat Peterson. Ethel Winters made a very favorable announcement. The 20 year members will furnish the spirits for our Christmas Party, December 16. Thanks gals!!!

A big thank you to the Skipper Banquet committee, Irene Somerset, Pat Simonsen, Thelma Johnson, Rosemary Neumiester, Rayona Riutta, Marge Anderson, Virginia Johnson. Nice to have a relative on the committee. The girls were all great actresses. Thelma & Rosemary made quite a pair of "seaweed smokers". Thelma was about choking when she was "practicing" before the show.

The movies of Jeanie's wedding proved very pleasant reviewing--After about the 7th showing Irene had a little hard time adjusting the film. Speaking of film, Verna complained about the lighting and how hard it was to get any pictures. We wonder if it may have been just one too many for them.

We are wondering if Jeanie found herself a new pair of slippers with the generous collecting from the girls.

Jean Reed must have heard false rumors about the kind of dinners served to come to the banquet with her lunch.

How much money did you make on the cigarettes Aune Malmberg bought from you, Helen? Aune really doesn't smoke but enjoys a cigarette once in awhile when out on the town.

Laura Fern was really spruced up pretty--She showed us her pretty slip and asked if there was anything else she could show us.

Nancey Thorsnes was sporting a lovely orchid. What was the special occasion, Nancy.

"Tammy" didn't go over so well at the Banquet. How about practicing up for next year.

From all reports the girls all had a wonderful time--From those who were home before midnight to those who didn't "hit the sack" till 4:00 A.M.

We are informed one of our members, Lorraine Hoyer, is quite a square dancer and the costume she appeared in at the recent Sadie Hawkins party was a KO!--Something like a red tee shirt to the knees with black hose.

How lucky can one get. We hear Shirley Landwehr's husband surprised her with a Hammond Organ which she already plays very nicely.
The Christmas party committee had a most enjoyable time at Shirley's. They all had a chance at pumping the old player piano in the rec. room.

VOLUME 20 No. 1 JANUARY 1957 Phillips & Auvil

HO HUM--- We're Soooo Tired!---- Are you?

A 21 gun salute to the officers of the ROYAL ANCHORS - piped aboard for the 1957 cruise. Hail:

SKIPPER	Jeanie Mogenson	HISTORIAN	Verna Davis
FIRST MATE	Vivian Graves	PUBLICITY	Helen Niemi
PURSER	Irene Sommerset	EXECUTIVE OFC	Elsie Frye
YEOMAN	Shirley Landwohr	CORRES. Yeoman	Muriel Miskanen

Anchor crewmen signed up for this year's voyage promise to obey willingly and steadfastly all orders and to take shore leave only with excused absences. "Shoulders to the wheel", for our excellent corpsof officers for an eventful year!

A full and active 1956 came to a close with a sumptuous and grandiose Christmas party for which the officers were hostesses. The decor, with a glimmering silver and pink tree, was carried out to the enchanting, and bounteous, refreshment table, covered with a pink net cloth. A number of shiny, ethereal angels graced the tiered centerpiece, catching the flickering lights of the many lovely candles.

Somehow the Cocktail-Dress effect was somewhat lessened when hungry Anchors suddenly bolted to the table, ala picnic style! They usually display subtle sang-froid and aplomb trying to get in line first, but evidently the delectable cuisine and Tom 'n' Jerrys were too much.

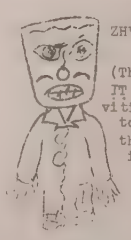

Those attending were pleasurably entertained in a featured Parissiene Night Club in which the MC, Maurice Chevalier (Marge S) gave out with the OOH-La-La's among the many beateous 'celebrities'. He rated raves from critiques, as did his Revue of Cani. Chorines.

Specially imported for a one nite stand only were two (WEIRD) men from Mars, who in spite of their unique looks, commanded such riotous laughter and revelry from the patrons that they invited all Anchors to be their guests on their return trip to Mars! Wanna go?

The many celebrities were spotted, a number of 20 year members were notably among the missing. The Tree and gift exchange was such fun!

TRUTH IS STRANGER THAN FICTION

A pria, rich old maid in a nearby town prohibits the newspaper she owns from mentioning any part of the human body in it's stories. One cub reporter who hadn't been briefed on this rule, referred to a woman's breasts in his account of an automobile accident. The editor caught the dictaphone just as the paper was going to press and stormily struck out the offensive word. The editor was so busy with other problems he didn't see the correction. New Hats Bloom For Anchor Club Spring Card Party

Anchor club members and their guests were given a preview of the hats to be worn this spring at their card party which was held last night at the Yacht club.

The feeling of spring was evident with pussy willows in bloom in each window box. The theme of spring was gracefully carried out with a decorative tree hat display from the Clara Lone hat shop. On each card table were four dainty paste paper hats tied with a gay ribbon that served as tally cards for the games.

Bridge, canasta and pinochle were played with high score winners being Mesdames R. E. Trout, G. Richard and Maynard Christenson. Low score winners were the Mesdames Lois Ryding, O. M. Emry and Doris Mattson.

Miss Joe Leahy St. won the special prize and the winners of new hat certificates were the Mesdames Lois Ryding and Harold Thom.

On the committee for the evening were Mrs. John Cederberg and Mrs. John Seeborg, co-chairmen, assisted by the Mesdames Ralph Lind, Leonard Farris, Mildred Melnberg, Miss Audrey Dirro and Miss Susan Anderson.

Club members who volunteered their services were the Mesdames Eldred Mittet, Marvin Taylor, Hernan Haggren, Sam Yockey, Gene Knutson, Miss Evelyn Carlson and Miss Bernita Antijuni.

Topics discussed by the Anchor club at its Monday evening meeting was a report given by Mrs. Harry Duff on the committee selected to approach each high school in the county concerning the selection of a princess to represent her school as a nominee for the Regatta count.

This year there will be seven princesses, one from Star of the Sea, Jewell, Seaside, Knappa, Warrenton and two from the Astoria area.

Reports were made by Mrs. John Cederberg on the successful card party and Mrs. Allard Conger on her copper jewelry lessons which were given by the home extension unit.

The club voted 100 per cent to back the Jay-C-Elles library fund by purchasing a number of tiles for their new location.

Mrs. Harold Jacob and Mrs. Jack Springer again volunteered to manage the annual fund-raising project which is slated for April.

In preparation of the club's 25th anniversary which takes place in July, Mrs. Roland Peterson and Mrs. George Fulton are restoring and re-binding some of the records and scrapbooks which date back to 1933.

Again this year the club will be co-sponsor of a girl to Girl State.

A complete club directory, which has been compiled and published by Mrs. John Nellor, was distributed to each appreciative member. At the close of the meeting a wedding gift was presented to Mrs. Richard Carlson (Laurel Bjork), a recent bride.

Anchor Club Hears Plans For Regatta

A film on cancer opened the meeting of the Anchor club at its Monday evening meeting. Patrolman Elliot and John Holthe ran the film and at its conclusion, Dr. Palmtrose held a question and answer session with the club members on the subject.

Following this, the chairmen of the various Regatta committees gave reports on the progress of their projects:

Mrs. Vern Mogenson reported on the button campaign. This year the buttons will be round shaped and sell for 50 cents each.

Mrs. Eldred Mittet announced the queen's luncheon will be held at the high school cafeteria Friday, August 29.

Mrs. Sam Yockey, chairman of wardrobe committee, reported that the princesses are busy shopping for their Regatta finery and so far have selected a suit with white pleated skirt and short jacket in navy blue.

Mrs. Harry Duff announced plans are underway to feature a square dance jamboree Sunday, August 31. It is expected 600 to 800 people will participate in this event.

Changes were made on the committee for the anniversary party to be held in July. Mrs. Howard Burns was named co-chairman to replace Mrs. Arthur Johanson and Mrs. Robert Reed was added to the list of workers. Mrs. Bob Neumeister, yeoman, handed in her resignation as she and her family are moving to Portland. The executive board appointed Mrs. Don Kubik as her replacement.

The club is pleased to note that two of its members has someone in her family who have been selected to participate in the Regatta festivities. Mrs. Charles Gustafson's mother, Mrs. Donovan Mitchell, is chaperon for the princesses and Mrs. Hiram Johnson's daughter Judy is one of the seven princesses.

At the close of the meeting, Skipper Graves thanked the members who volunteered for the Red Cross blook bank and Mrs. Neumeister for her work and efforts in the past and success and good luck to the future.

Refreshments were served from tables done in the "April showers bring May flowers" theme. Gay minature umbrellas graced the tables filled with colorful camellias.

Committee for the evening was Mrs. George Niemi, chairman, with the Mesdames John Cederberg, Stanley Sagen and Bob Neumeister assisting. Special prize for the evening was given to Mrs. Arthur Anderson.

Seven Princesses in a Row

Seven princesses in a row met their sponsors, the Astoria Regatta board of directors, at a special reception Sunday afternoon at the John Jacob Astor hotel. Regatta officials, Anchor club officials and the parents of the princesses were all guests at the event. Pictured above are the seven excited royal court members who were posing for their first picture as a group this year, and some officials of the Regatta and Anchor club. Back row left to right are Jean Hallaux, Tony Nalmo, Regatta president, Mrs. Donovan Mitchell, Regatta court chaperone, Mrs. Bob Graves, Anchor club skipper, and Regatta board member, and Mrs. Harry Duff, Anchor club first mate and Regatta board secretary. Princesses in the front row are: Reading from left to right, Carolyn Lawson, Seaside; Ellen Morris, Astoria, Judy Stacey, Knappa, Jule Johnson, Astoria, Gayle Ross, Astoria, Jeanette Watts, Warrenton, and Patt Nogle, Jewell.

PRINCESS CAROLYN LAWSON

Seaside's Choice Busy Girl, Leads Many-Sided Life

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Women's Editor

Seaside's answer to the 1958 Regatta court is Carolyn Nadine Lawson, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Lawson, with hair as golden as the sands of Seaside and eyes as blue as the ocean on a summer day.

Born in Forest Grove on a summer day, one August 2, Princess Carolyn, then a little yellow haired baby girl, moved with her parents to Cannon Beach, where she lived until she was four.

Next stop, Seaside, for which she has been an ardent booster ever since, along with older brothers Jerry, a sergeant in the air force stationed in Germany, and Steve a student at Pacific university. Their little sister plans to train to be an executive secretary at Behnke-Walker Business school, Portland, after graduation and Regatta time. Her father works for the G and A Logging company.

Water Lover

Quite naturally, Seaside's princess loves to swim, and likes cooking and sewing ("but I'm not very good at it"), would like to learn to ski and bowls whenever she has the chance, which is quite often, and keeping busy at home with "Lucky" (part Springer Spaniel), and three birds, a canary, a parakeet and a [illegible]

PRINCESS ELLEN MORRIS

Blue-Eyed Miss 6th Princess Set On Royal Roster

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Women's Editor

By the old saying that precious things come in little packages, the sixth 1958 Regatta princess, Ellen Mae Morris, is just that. "Five-feet-two, eyes of blue . . . , has everybody seen our gal?" sing Star of the Sea high school students, for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Morris, is their choice of the senior class to represent them in the Regatta court.

Like the daughter of Rosy O'Grady, Princess Ellen is a shy little girl with a sweet and winsome manner that makes her as lovely [illegible] and dainty as a doll.

Blue Eyes

Her blue eyes framed by long blond hair are part of the picture and when she smiles her [illegible] "Well there's Betty, a junior at Star of the Sea; Larry, a sophomore, Bill, 13; and Bob, 9," she said, and you could tell by her tone of voice what a lot of fun a family of five children have, even though they all have to do their share of helping at home and working toward their education.

For this diminutive princess, in her senior year, gets up in time to work in the business office at St. Mary's hospital before she goes to school each morning, then after school and weekends, too. She hopes to go to Marylhurst college in the fall.

Active Student

At Star of the Sea [illegible] president of Queen's [illegible] student council, Sodality club and Pep club, sings in the school chorus, and is Yell Queen.

Born in Oak Creek, Colo., May 22, 1940, she came to Astoria in time to start the first grade at Star of the Sea school. She finds time at home to make some of her own clothes, plays the piano, likes to bowl and loves chicken, broiled.

And beside the Star of the Sea student body and her own family who make up a pretty sizable cheering section for little Princess Ellen at home there is a black dog, "Tike," who, in spite of his "57 varieties" has suddenly acquired a regal look, and a cat "Sparky," [illegible] now that he belongs to a [illegible] royal, will lick any cat in the house.

JEANETTE WATTS

Warrenton Girl 1st Princess On Royal Court List

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Women's Editor

Attention, all residents of Regatta land (which reaches the length and breadth of Clatsop county and to all the ships at sea)!

It's Regatta princess time again, with the news, as happy as spring and as exciting as the latest on the Astoria bridge, that here will be seven of Clatsop's loveliest girls representing each of the count[illegible] high schools, making up the court this year.

Leading off the beauty parade for the 1958 Regatta court is Warrenton's lovely Princess Frances Jeanette Watts, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Alsbury.

Brown-eyed

Born August 3, 1940, in Philadelphia, Tenn. (not Pa.), this princess with the warm brown eyes and hair, came to this county with her parents when she was two years old, so now her home town is Warrenton, where her stepfather is assistant foreman of the highway commission.

And the green dune grass of Warrenton hasn't had much chance to grow under her feet, for she is president of the Girls' Athletic association at school, secretary of the Pep club, a member of Girls' league, was a princess of the March of Dimes court, a candidate for Merry Christmas, sang in the chorus, is a Homecoming princess, a member of Theta Rho, in the cast of the senior class play, "Pog Island," and is on the honor roll.

First Named

Aside from all that, she likes shorthand and social economics best of all her studies, loves swimming in Cullaby and cooking at home, has a lovely lithe figure that stands 5-feet-6, has a brother Jimmie, a seventh grader at Warrenton grade school; and a red cocker [illegible]

PRINCESS JUDY STACEY

Misty Meadows Of Knappa Yield 5th Royal Belle

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Women's Editor

Up river, where the misty meadows of Knappa are edged by a mighty river and crowned by forested hills lives one of the 1958 Regatta princesses, Judy Stacey, fifth to be announced by the Regatta committee.

Choice of Knappa-Svensen high school for this year's court is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thorburn Stacey, and she was born in Astoria July 12, 1940, but she has lived in the scenic upriver community of Knappa all her life.

Ash blond hair, deep blue eyes and a skin like peach blossoms compose this princess, as lovely as the haunting music of a Sibelius symphony. Oh, yes, she is Finnish, almost pure Finn, she claims proudly, all 5-feet-8-inches of her.

Active Student

At Knappa-Svensen high school, Princess Judy was treasurer, and is now secretary of her class, is president of the Loggerettes, was May day princess, homecoming queen, is a member of Girls' Athletic association, was in the class play, sings in the school chorus, is on the May day dance committee and works in the school store.

She goes in for such active activities as basketball, baseball and volleyball, pulls a bathing suit on her lithe figure for swimming in the many water spots around her home, and drops a line overboard whenever the fish are biting. Plenty of opportunities for a pretty angler in Princess Judy's realm.

Because of her love of the outdoors, this vivacious girl would like to be camp councilor at Camp Kiwanilong this summer, and she'd also like very much to start in as a nurse's aide at the hospital, for she wants, some day, to be a nurse.

Likes Sewing

Princess Judy loves to sew and cook, like all good little Finnish girls, and she has no preference when it comes to food, "just so long as it's food."

All of which meets with the adoring approval of three younger sisters, Patsy, 7, Frances, 6, and Jan, only 3, who now have their sights set on someday [illegible] the honor and bestowal on their older sister that of being a real live princess.

Royal Chinooks Corps to Escort Regatta Court

At the short business meeting held by the Anchor club Monday evening at the Yacht club, Mrs. Al Sorkki reported that the Royal Chinook drum and bugle corps will be the official escort for the queen during the Regatta parade.

[illegible], Sam Yockey announced the complete wardrobe for the seven princesses has been selected, and all are looking forward [illegible]

The princesses itinerary was outlined by Mrs. Harry Duff and their next public appearance will be on Armed Forces day. Some of the out-of-town cities the princesses will visit are Portland, Hillsboro, Albany, Salem, St. Paul and Molalla

Plans have been completed for the anniversary party to be held at the Yacht club July 12, according to Mrs Hiram Johnson, co-chairman Dinner will be served at 7 30, preceded by a cocktail hour and dancing from 9 to 1 to Curly Larsen's orchestra.

Following the meeting, Mrs Arthur Anderson showed movies of the Anchor drill team performing during past Regattas

Anchor Club Opens Sale

ASTORIA (Special)—Astoria Anchor Club members have opened an extensive summerlong sale of Regatta buttons.

The blue and white button which depicts a commercial fishing boat in action, is a booster button and does not entitle free admission to any Regatta functions, Regatta officials explained.

Heading the drive is Mrs Harold Jacob, who stressed that for the first time the sales campaign will be on a county-wide basis

The decision to turn the sales drive over to the Anchor Club is due to the fact that sales must reach the 3,000 figure if the Regatta is to be successful financially, Regatta Assn. President Tony Naimo said.

Assisting Mrs. Jacob in the drive are Mrs. George Fulton, publicity director; Mrs. Vernon Mogenson, Mrs. Arthur Anderson, Mrs. Gerald Phillips and Eileen Wirkkunen.

'Operation Button,' got under way in Astoria today as Anchor club members hit the streets on the first day of an extensive summerlong Regatta button sales campaign.

In the most ambitious button drive in Regatta annals the Anchor club is in complete charge of the entire program, hoping to sell an initial 3,000 in the first phase of the drive and more additions in the final weeks before the Regatta gets under way at the end of August.

Cost Cut

Not only does the button which is shown here and depicts a commercial fishing craft in action make a new meaning this year but it is designed to pare The button sells for 50c each this year rather than the customary one dollar it is expected to Regatta officials hope the value is enough to prompt buyers and does not subtract from coin given to any Regatta function.

Regatta board members were at a luncheon today when Anchor club members hit the streets in force to launch the drive. Members were dressed in costumes ranging from [illegible] actually selling them. Heading the drive is Mrs. Harold Jacob, who was appointed in charge of the committee by Mrs. Bob Graves, Anchor club skipper.

In past years Anchor club members have been the main sales force for Regatta buttons, but this is the first time they have taken complete charge.

Regatta association president Tony Naimo says the decision to turn the sales drive over to the Anchor club was due to the critical condition of the Regatta finances. He asserted that if button sales do not reach the 3000 figure at least, and if they do not go beyond the Regatta could easily fail through becoming insolvent.

Drive Vital

Naimo said that the button drive this year was a make-or-break proposition. "We want to know if the area wants a Regatta and if they do if they are willing to support it and participate in it," he said

Mrs. Jacob said the drive this year is also unique in another aspect For the first time the sales campaign will be on a county-wide level. She pointed out that the princesses come from five different areas of the county and that sales drives will be conducted in each of these areas.

She said also in the near future she would name the drive chairman in these areas who are volunteers, not necessarily members of the Anchor club.

Big Parade, Open House On Armed Force Day Log

Regatta Court in Big Parade

Twenty-nine parade units, including princesses of the Astoria Regatta march down Commercial street Saturday morning to kick off the local all-day celebration of Armed Forces day.

Parade units assemble at 9 a. m. and embark on their route at 9:30 to the music of the Royal Chinook Drum and Bugle corps and the Astoria high school band, with Mayor Peter Cosovich and Capt. William Watson, commander of Tongue Point, serving as grand marshals.

Viewers lining the 10-block parade route will see the navy color guard, naval station marching unit, Naselle air force base drill team, naval station Waves marching unit, Columbia river group marching unit, Fleet Reserve association color guard, Fleet Reserve auxiliary, Cub Scouts, Astoria high school Fisherettes, Royal Chinook color guard and boat, Civil Air Patrol, VFW color guard, Boy Scouts, 162d National Guard engineer vehicles, US communications truck and the Clatsop county disaster car, with a police escort leading off the parade.

Astoria's Royal Regatta court and chaperon left early today for two appearances in the Willamette valley this weekend. They will stay overnight in Salem tonight and return to Astoria late on the evening of July 4. Court members are pictured above in one of the cars which took them on their trip. Heading the drive is Mrs. Harold Jacob, who stressed that for the first time the sales campaign will be on a county-wide basis.

The decision to turn the sales drive over to the Anchor Club is due to the fact that sales must reach the 3,000 figure if the Regatta is to be successful financially, Regatta Assn. President Tony Naimo said.

Assisting Mrs Jacob in the drive are Mrs. George Fulton, publicity director; Mrs. Vernon Mogenson, Mrs. Arthur Anderson, Mrs. Gerald Phillips and Eileen Wirkkunen.

Big Parade, Open House On Armed Force Day Log

Regatta Court in Big Parade

Twenty-nine parade units, including princesses of the Astoria Regatta, march down Commercial street Saturday morning to kick off the local all-day celebration of Armed Forces day.

Parade units assemble at 9 a. m. and embark on their route at 9:30 to the music of the Royal Chinook Drum and Bugle corps and the Astoria high school band, with Mayor Peter Cosovich and Capt. Wilham Watson, commander of Tongue Point, serving as grand marshals.

Anchors Launch Extensive Drive To Sell Buttons

"Operation Button," got under way in Astoria today as Anchor club members hit the streets in the first day of an extensive summer-long Regatta button sales campaign.

In the most ambitious button drive in Regatta annals the Anchor club, in complete charge of the entire program, hopes to sell an initial 3,000 in the first phase of the drive and then add more in the final weeks before the Regatta gets under way at the end of August.

Cost Cut

Not only does the button which is blue and white and depicts a commercial fishing craft in action, have a new meaning this year but it is reduced in price. The button sells for fifty cents this year rather than the seventy-five dollars it commanded in Regatta days when the button is simply a booster button and does not entitle free admission to any Regatta functions.

Regatta board members as well as Anchor club members hope the Anchor club to assume complete control of the drive and be the first group to profit from selling them. Heading the drive is Mrs. Harold Jacob, who was appointed in charge of the committee by Mrs. Bob Graves, Anchor club skipper.

In past years Anchor club members have been the main sales force for Regatta buttons, but this is the first time they have taken complete charge.

Regatta association president Tony Naimo says the decision to turn the sales drive over to the Anchor club was due to the critical condition of the Regatta finances. He asserted that if button sales do not reach the 3000 figure at least and if they do not go beyond the Regatta could easily fail through becoming insolvent.

Drive Vital

Naimo said that the button drive this year was a make-or-break proposition. "We want to know if the area wants a Regatta and if they do if they are willing to support it and participate in it," he said.

Mrs. Jacob said the drive this year is also unique in another aspect. For the first time the sales campaign will be on a county-wide level. She pointed out that the princesses come from five different areas of the county and that sales drives will be conducted in each of these areas.

She said that in the near future she would name the drive chairman in these areas who are volunteers, not necessarily members of the Anchor club.

Buttons are again numbered she said and special plans are being mapped in regard to this feature, she said.

Numbered Buttons

The numbered buttons are also being manufactured annually on a numbered basis to Regatta royal court members and others. The first seven buttons, those numbered one through seven, were reserved for the royal court princesses and their attendants, one button number going to the chairman responsible for Regatta president and committee, to the opening member, the Anchor Skipper.

Assisting Mrs. Jacob in the drive are Mrs. George Fulton, publicity director; Mrs. Vernon Mogenson, Mrs. Arthur Anderson, Mrs. Gerald Phillips and Eileen Wirkkunen.

Mrs. W. R. Thompson announces the engagement of her niece Miss Jean Macklin, daughter of Mrs. Joe Kunez, San Francisco, to Ralph M. Hartwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hartwell, Idaho Falls, Idaho. Miss Macklin graduated from Astoria high school in 1951, and was employed here by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company office until her recent transfer to San Francisco. Her fiance served here with the Coast Guard before returning to hi shome in Idaho. No date has been set for the wedding. (Bail Photo.)

Royal Chinooks Corps to Escort Regatta Court

At the short business meeting held by the Anchor club Monday evening at the Yacht club, Mrs. Al Sorkki reported that the Royal Chinook drum and bugle corps will be the official escort for the queen during the Regatta parade.

Sam Yockey announced the complete [illegible] for the seven [illegible] and all are anxious [illegible] for their arrival.

The princesses itinerary was outlined by Mrs. Harry Duff and their next public appearance will be on [illegible]. Some of the out-of-town cities the princesses will visit are Portland, Hillsboro, Wheat, Salem, St. Paul and Molalla.

Plans have been completed for the anniversary party to be held at the Yacht club July 12, according to Mrs. Hiram Johnson, co-chairman. Dinner will be served at 7:30, preceded by a cocktail hour and dancing from 9 to 1 to Curly Larsen's orchestra.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Arthur Anderson showed movies of the Anchor drill team performing during past Regattas.

The Anchor Log was edited by Mrs. Sorkki and Mrs. Allard Conger.

Refreshments were served from tables decorated with spring flowers. Committee for the evening was Mrs. Axel Englund, chairman, with the Mesdames Richard Carlson, George Oja and Woodrow Wilson. The special prize of the evening was won by Mrs. Eldred Millet.

Anchor Club Reatta Plan Sails Along

Comprehensive reports were made by each chairman of the respective committees at a recent meeting of the Anchor club, with all phases of the club's participation in the Regatta activities progressing according to plan.

An early treat is in store for club members at the July 7 meeting, when princesses of the Regatta court will make an appearance.

Regatta buttons arrived and were given out to members by Mrs. Harold Jacobs, button chairman.

It was announced that a style show will be given during the Regatta queen's luncheon August 1 with fall apparel and back-to-school clothes being featured, according to Mrs. Harold Johnson, chairman, Mrs. Richard Riutta and Mrs. Vernon Larsen, committee workers.

The club's scrap books have been renovated and brought up to date and are on display in the Yacht club, telling the story of the Anchors' activities from the club's beginning in 1933.

Committee for the evening was composed of Mrs. Kenneth Hill, chairman, and the Mesdames Walter Bob Williamson and Lorraine Gregor, Mrs. Gerald Phillips won the special prize, and the Anchor Log was distributed by Mrs. Al Davis and Mrs. Riutta.

Fish Festival's Director Named, Events Outlined

Astoria's Oregon Fish Festival is all rigged and geared for its third annual companion cruise with the Astoria Regatta, Tony Naimo, association president, announced today with appointment of Dr. E. W. Harvey to again head the celebration.

Dr. Harvey, who invented the fall festival as a salute to the fishing industry of Oregon and Astoria, heads the celebration for the third time. The celebration also returns to the site of its origin again this year, Pier 3 at the Astoria port docks.

Concurrent Events

Plans for the celebration call for concurrent timing with other Regatta events, Dr. Harvey says, and the whole program will be somewhat abbreviated.

Oregon's Gov. R D Holmes will be on hand to proclaim the festival and other top events of the celebration, which have become well-known throughout the Pacific northwest, will be held Major events of the festival will be held on Friday, August 29, and Saturday, August 30. Other events connected with the Regatta will run throughout the full five-day celebration. Exhibits will be held again this year in Pier 3 and presumably will be open throughout the five days.

Anne Strachan, Clatsop county home economics extension agent, will be narrator for the event, and Ruth Klipstein, food nutritionist from Oregon State college, will also participate. The event is slated for Friday, Aug. 29, from 10 a. m. to noon and from 1.30 to 3:30 p m.

Seafoods Search

Also tentatively scheduled for Friday at 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. is the cooking contest, the Savory Seafoods Search. Mrs. Rudy Lovvold is chairman of the event, Dr. Harvey said.

Working with Mrs. Lovvold will be the Mesdames Cecil Gr[illegible] Jalmar Johnson, A. J. Cougl[illegible] Trygve Teth, George Moskovita and Kenneth Berg. Prizes for the cooking contest will be awarded at 8:30 p. m.

Anchor Club Logs Silver Anniversary

It was in July, 1933, that a group of girls decided a club could be formed of Astorians that would help and promote the activities of the Astoria Regatta. Preparations accomplished this group was christened the Astoria Anchor club and it "cast off" for a cruise that has lasted for a quarter of a century.

While many replacements have been made in the roster during this time, there are some of the original crew on active duty at this "sail-

A milestone in Regatta lore was reached during the silver anniversary party held Saturday, July 12, on the "decks" of the Astoria Yacht club as the officers, members and invited guests "set sail" for an evening of salutations and festivities. Reminiscing was the order of the day for some, while future "sailings" were anticipated by many others.

The quarters of the Yacht club were decorated in a blue and white nautical theme that featured scrolls which disclosed the skippers and their officers since 1933. The Anchor Logs of this and previous sailings were on display for all to admire during the evening. Each table was decorated in white with blue streamers, blue and white flowers and silver ferns. Sailing ships along the tables gave each place setting the nautical atmosphere that prevailed.

Association Sends Roses

A bouquet of 25 roses, received from the Astoria Regatta association in honor of the event, was prominently displayed, along with numerous shadow boxes which contained blue hydrangea and Esther Reed daisies. Corsages, made by Mrs. George Oja, were presented to the charter members, present officers and committee members prior to the evening activities.

A schedule of events consisted of a program in which the present skipper, Mrs. Bob Graves, introduced each of her officers and followed this with introductions of the honored guests, charter members, the Mesdames Harold Johnson, Axel Englund, Walter Johnson, Axel Anderson, Dan Thiel, Forrest Vaughn, K. W. Winters and Sylvia Graff.

Trophies were then presented by Mrs. Robert Reed to Mrs. Harold Johnson and Mrs. Axel Englund for 25 years continuous Anchor activities. Twenty-year pins were also presented to the Mesdames Albert Frye, Howard Burns and Hiram Johnson.

A poem composed by Mrs. William Loukas was read by Mrs. Albert Sorkki.

"Sack" Dancers

Special treat was in store when dancing girls in "original sack" costumes presented a dance of the roaring 20's. The girls included Joanne Storaasli, Patti Wolleson, Linda Williams, Gayle Ross and Julie Johnson, accompanied at the piano by Gail Hauke.

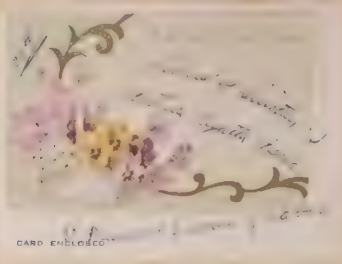

A musical group specifically formed for this event were the singing sextet. This group consisted of Charles Smith, Sam Yockey, Woodrow Willson, Charles Gustafson, Don Hoyer and Frank Thorsness, whose tight schedule permitted only two numbers. Yockey accompanied at the piano and his musical accompaniments were well received.

Anchors Report Regatta Plans Well Underway

Chairmen of the various committees gave reports on the progress of the Regatta activities at the Anchor club's meeting Monday.

It was announced also that a pot luck dinner and dance would be held in September, with anchor husbands as guests.

An unusual centerpiece greeted the members at refreshment time. The table was set with a lace cloth and summer flowers encircled with a black wrought iron candle holder and candles.

In charge for the evening were the Mesdames Al Sorkki, chairman, George Fulton, Paul Tolonen and Lowell Altheide.

Regatta Parade Entries Pile Up

For the first time in the history of the Astoria Regatta, the Regatta queen and her princesses will ride on a float, according to Dick Steinbock, chairman of the committee in charge.

The royal court's float will be sponsored by the Astoria Regatta Association, with the Jaycees, the Jay-C-Ettes, and the Anchor clubs furnishing workers, Steinbock said.

Assisting Steinbock on the central committee are Mrs. Bill Wilson, Mrs. Stanley Sagen, and Carl Bondietti.

The theme of the float will be in keeping with the theme of the Regatta Grand Parade, "Water Wonderland."

Seventeen other firms and organizations have stated their intention to enter floats in the Regatta parade, slated for Saturday, Aug. 30. Most recent of these is the Clatsop County Republican Central committee. Others include Sunset Area Council of Square Dancers, Astoria public library, Seaside Chamber of Commerce, Klipsan Council 46, Degree of Pocahantas, Seaview; Deepsea market, Seaside; Warrenton Jaycees, Clatsop County Retarded Children's association, Columbia River Packers Ass'n., USO, Pacific Power and Light company, Civil Air Patrol, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., Beaver lodge 35, IOOF; Clatsop County Democratic Central Committee, Jeri's Turntable, and Warrenton boat club. Also represented will be the Astoria Fire Department.

To date a total of 57 units have been secured for the parade, according to Don Garris, chairman of the Jaycee parade committee. Among them are three bagpipe bands, five to seven drum and bugle corps, 10 marching groups and four mounted units.

It is hoped that several more entries will sign up before Aug. 23, Garris said.

REGATTA REVELS

Regatta tempo quickened today as the 38th annual running of the oldest water festival in the Pacific Northwest got under way.

Regatta pioneer ... pushed final plans and Regatta headquarters hummed early today, and probably would still be humming until late tonight.

Sheryl Baker, herself a former Regatta princess, is serving as Regatta secretary for the second year in a row. She is headquartered in the Ron Graves insurance company office.

Plans for this year's Regatta call for the most diversified program in years, according to Regatta planners. Main events 'on the water' include hydroplane races, sailboat races, gillnet boat races and a big marine parade. 'On the land' main features are the big land parade, directed by Don Garris, quarter midget races, a square dancing jamboree and a folk dancing jamboree.

Official decorators for the Regatta have already been in town, according to Tony Naimo, association president. He says they have hung portions of the ceiling decorations in Pier 3 at the Port Docks. All events of the Regatta, except water events and the fish feed, midget races and the square dance jamboree, which is scheduled for the Armory, are scheduled for the Regatta pavilion.

Oregon's Governor and Mrs. R. ... Holmes along with his admin... assistant Harry Swanson and his wife will be special guests ... the Regatta this year. The governor will appear at the royal court dinner, the coronation, and will deliver the Fish Festival proclamation on Sunday.

Admiral Chester McCarty's wife will accompany him to the Astoria Regatta. She has already accepted an invitation to attend the Queen's luncheon. A reception for the admiral will be held this year prior to start of the Regatta. The admiral will arrive Wednesday, August 27 aboard the King and Winge skippered by Dr. Clyde Parlova. Two aides, Major A. G. Thompson and Captain Alberius Outlaw will accompany the general here.

Lots of exotic foreign dishes, as lively as the folk dancing demonstrations slated for the Regatta pavilion Sunday night are promised for the International Smorgasbord, according to Aggie Skinner, who is in charge of the event. She says a long table of foreign delicacies featuring special dish donated by the various clubs ... Guests to the big show, the Don Newcomb combo and the mixed groups will also sing for this event.

Last year's Regatta Admiral, A. S. Bledsoe, rear admiral in the U.S. Navy, cannot return to Astoria this year for the Regatta. The admiral wrote his regrets.

Busy Time Ahead for Anchor Club

First on the many activities will be the tea which will be held at the Yacht club Saturday, August 23, from 2 to 4 o'clock. This event is free to the public is invited to come and meet the royal court and princesses.

Thursday evening, August 28 is the coronation of the queen. This will take place at Pier 3.

The log scaling cafeteria will be the setting for the queen's luncheon held on Friday, August 29 at 12 o'clock noon. Reservations must be made by Wednesday by calling ... of FA 3-3456. Following the luncheon a style show will be given featuring back to college and school apparel.

The club's next meeting will be held September 15 with the potluck and dance Saturday September 20.

The serving table was decorated with a lace cloth silver candle holders, crepe candles and a graceful epergne filled with colorful flowers.

In addition to the evening was Mrs. Caroline Gustafson, chairman, with the Mesdames Donald Hoyer, Meagle Nickerson and Gladys Wells. Special prize of the evening was won by Mrs. Paul Tolonen.

Past Queens To Model in Regatta Show

Shades of yesterday will be featured in a revue of costumes worn by past Regatta queens, modeled by them, clothed by the queens themselves to be staged gratis by the Jay-C-Ettes and Beta Sigma Phi sorority Friday, August 29.

The revue, a new event this year for the Regatta, will be held at Pier 3 at the port docks, where hostesses from each club will don the prized costumes worn during their reigns.

The Regatta Revue will have two shows, one at 8 p.m. featuring the oldest queens, and one at 11 p.m. for the younger queens and those who've been since the revival of the Regatta. Phil D'Agostino's orchestra will furnish background music appropriate to each era, and also play for dancing for the audience after the show is over at 8:30.

During the intermission at 10:30 an exhibition team from Arthur Murray's Seattle studio will perform, with audience participation to follow and prizes for the best couple on the floor.

Another feature on the program will be the modeling of bathing ... of yesteryear by a group of ... who wish to remain in ... and letting the latter show the latest in swimsuits modeled by svelte college girls.

Mrs. Wesley Skinner and Mrs. Pete Breyant of the Jay-C-Ettes and Betas, respectively, are co-chairmen of the Regatta Revue, which promises to be of special interest to women and men alike. The new event is being planned to ... for years and then announce the regatta admission price for the events taking place at the pier that night will cover the revue, including the dancing.

Uniform Is Same

Official Regatta uniforms remain the same as those traditionally worn, association president Tony Naimo announced today.

The dark blue coat, shoulder patch, button, white trousers and dark shoes as the official dress for men. Women are urged to wear dark skirts and light blouses. Naimo said unofficial uniforms are blue denims and he urged all citizens to don them for daytime Regatta wear.

Parade Group Asks Volunteers On Queen's Float

Another "first" of this year's Regatta will be a queen's float according to the 1958 Regatta association.

The float, to be appropriately decorated to this Regatta's "Water Wonderland," will have the Regatta queen surrounded by her six princesses. Heretofore, the court has ridden in individual convertibles.

Dick Steinbock, float chairman, said that all the work on the float will be done in the evenings from August 18-22 at Pier 2 of the Port Docks, and that, although the Jaycees, Jay-C-Ettes and Anchor girls have volunteered to help, any additional volunteers will be appreciated.

Chairman Steinbock is assisted on his planning committee by Mrs. George Fulton, Mrs. Bill Wilson, Mrs. Stanley Sagen and Carl Bondietti.

Regatta Tea Calls 200 to Greet Court

Tea with the Regatta court made a memorable afternoon of Saturday for some 200 women, who were guests of the Anchor club at its annual pre-Regatta event.

The lounge of the Yacht club displayed a striking color combination of coral and yellow, carried out in masses of gladioli. Entering the club, guests were confronted by an eye-catching art exhibit, with marine views and seascapes by Charles Mulvey of Seaview lining the walls, below which were arrangements of nets, glass floats and driftwood.

The tea table, covered with yellow net, displayed a centerpiece in the shape of a large fish fashioned of myriad coral gladioli blossoms and flanked with coral tapers. Also following the nautical theme were a marine setting on the platform at one end of the lounge, featuring a lighthouse with its flashing beacon, a skiff, and a stretch of sandy beach.

Receiving with the seven Regatta princesses, Judy Stacey, Julie Johnson, Ellen Morris, Patt Nogle, Gayle Ross, Jeanette Watts and Carolyn Lawson, were their chaperone, Mrs Donovan Mitchell, the Anchor skipper, Mrs. Robert Graves, and general chairman of the tea, Mrs Eugene Knutson.

Tea time Saturday afternoon had seven dainty Regatta princesses and their gracious chaperone waiting to be served when the Anchor club was host in their honor at the Yacht club. It was the traditional tea party that gives women of the community an opportunity to meet each member of the Regatta court. Mothers of the princesses were asked to pour, and here Mrs. Richard Alsbury (mother of Princess Jeanette Watts, Warrenton) on the left, and Mrs. Lawrence Morris (mother of Princess Ellen, Star of the Sea) right, are serving. "Queen's Luncheon"

Huge Crowd at Luncheon

More than 300 luncheon guests jammed the cafeteria at Astoria high school Friday for the annual Anchor club-sponsored Queen's luncheon, for women only. Special guests for the luncheon were members of the royal court, past Regatta queens and Mrs. Chester McCarty, wife of the admiral, and Mrs. R. D. Holmes, wife of the Governor of Oregon. Pictured above is the royal court and Queen Gayle Ross, just after they entered. Mrs. John H. Nellor, luncheon co-chairman, with Mrs. Eldred Mittet, is shown at the microphone on the left. Reservations must be in by Wednesday for the event. (A-B Photo)

Next Comes Luncheon for Regatta Unit

Next social event of top interest for women of the county, now that the 1958 Regatta court tea is a happy memory, is the Anchor club luncheon Friday noon honoring the Regatta queen of 1958, to be held at the new high school cafeteria.

All plans are complete for the annual event, in spite of the fact that, until Thursday night's coronation, which of the seven lovely princesses will be the guest of honor, remains a mystery. Former Regatta queens, who are coming from far and near for the event will also be honored.

Co-chairmen of the luncheon, which starts at noon and which will feature a refreshing fruit plate, hot rolls, angel food dessert and coffee, are Mrs. Eldred Mittet and Mrs. John Nellor. They are being assisted by Mrs. Gerald Sommerset, Mrs. Charles Gustafson Jr. and Mrs. Robert Reutter.

This year's luncheon will include something novel and of interest to the feminine attendants—a style show of back to school and fall and winter fashions, to be modelled immediately after the luncheon. Anchor members and their children will be models for fashions from Morton's, Jerome's, Leon's Kiddies Korner and Astoria Apparel of Astoria and Margaret Graham's and Kay-Lynn's of Seaside, with hats from Klara Alma.

Mrs. Harold Johnson is head of the style show, assisted by Mrs. Vernon Larson and Mrs. Richard Rudie.

Reservations for the luncheon, which is open to the women of the county and their out-of-town guests, must be in by Wednesday. Mrs. Mittet, FA 5-2795, or Mrs. Reutter, FA 5-0780, are taking all reservations.

In the lap race [illegible] are $100, $50, $25 and a $25 [illegible] insurance policy. In the two [illegible] are $150, $100, $50 and $30. Two lap races will be conducted. The races are Sunday morning. Riswick emphasized that prizes are subject to change—in this case upwards. He said more donations are coming in and that the prizes could be increased.

All square dancers in the area are asked to be at the Astoria Armory at 7 p.m. tonight to help remove bleachers, and decorate and prepare the hall for Sunday's square dance jamboree. Del Kernes, square dance chairman of the Armory, announced today.

[illegible] impetus for organization comes from the Astoria Regatta. The club is open to anyone interested in participating and will work out a schedule of activities connected with water skiing, boat racing and swimming. Dr. Rex Butler is acting as temporary chairman of the club and Ted Lane is secretary. The club plans routines as part of the Regatta on Labor Day.

A Regatta first was scored today when association president Tony Naimo announced that weeks of negotiations had added a new segment to the Regatta program, one that program planners had almost given up on. Naimo said the 337th Air Base Squadron, Portland, would send a helicopter here for an air-sea rescue demonstration. The event is scheduled between 10 and 12 at the east end mooring basin on Sunday. This is the first time the Air Force Unit has appeared here.

Reservations are being accepted at the Chamber of Commerce office for Friday's annual Admiral's luncheon at Tongue Point. The affair has been expanded to include 120 persons this year and is being offered free of charge. Transportation will be provided by navy bus to Tongue Point for the luncheon.

A carnival has been added as a feature of the Regatta this year and it will operate throughout Regatta week. It will be set up next to the Regatta pavilion at Pier 3 in the Port docks.

Regatta Sets Record

Admiral Chester McCarty and a party of Astoria Regatta officials and Clatsop county civic leaders were slated to arrive here early this evening to officially kick off the 38th Annual Astoria Regatta and 3rd Oregon Fish Festival. The King and Winge was to be greeted by a party of local people and the Royal Chinooks. Arrival time was originally scheduled for 6:30 p. m. at the east end mooring basin.

This topsy-turvy Regatta realm was set for a new ruler today with Queen Judy Hein 1957, slated to relinquish her scepter to one of [illegible] nation sites we have ever had,' the Anchors assert.

The traditional Pirate's Den will again be offered this year. Plans are just about complete according to Ellsworth Thiel, who is in charge. Adults only will be admitted to the Pirate's Den.

The Chessman Flag, which traditionally flies at coronation rites, will again be [illegible], according to Marilou Haggren. The flag will be raised by a color guard from Tongue Point and will fly throughout the Regatta.

[illegible] be made at Englund's marine supply.

All members of Company L, 186th Infantry, are urged to report to the Armory by noon Saturday August 30. They are to participate as a unit in the Regatta grand parade. This announcement was made by Lt. Al Iverson.

Luncheon reservations have been coming in at a fast clip for the annual Queen's luncheon and the numerical limit has just about been reached, according to luncheon committee chairmen. Committee members urged those who still desire to attend to call immediately. The luncheon will be closed to guests when 300 have signed up. The luncheon is scheduled for Friday noon. For reservations call FA 5-4804, FA 5-4319 or FA 5-2795.

Bill Studwell, a member of the Regatta board two years ago and in charge of the Pirate's Den during the 1955 Regatta, the first time [illegible] back for this years' celebration. He and wife are visiting here from Everett, Wash.

William Holmstrom will serve as aide to Admiral McCarty during the Regatta. Holmstrom, a past president of the Regatta association, has long acted in the official capacity as aide to Regatta admirals. He will be in charge of the group which greets the admiral today at the east end mooring basin. Don Heny and Comdr. Frank Wenniecki will help him.

Sheryl Baker, a former Regatta princess who has acted as Regatta secretary this summer, has been busy as a bee these days, according to association president Tony Naimo. Naimo said Marian Hauke had been recruited to help her and the two have 'done a magnificent job getting the commission out.'

Commissions are still available for those who may have been inadvertently missed from the mailing lists or for out of town friends. If you want one, just call the Regatta office, located in the Ron Graves insurance company office.

The Marine Corps color guard from the Portland recruiting center will be the official color guard in the Admiral's division of the big Regatta parade.

The Tigard Union high school band, 50 strong will participate in the big parade, Saturday after a triumphant tour and a spectacular show at the Shriners All Star game in Portland.

Organ interludes are scheduled each night at the Regatta pavilion [illegible] of the evening. The organist will be Marian Hauke.

The Astoria fire department is in need of a team of horses to pull its big hook and ladder in next Saturday's Regatta parade.

Firemen said they have rigged up one of the old hook and ladder vehicles from the "horsedrawn" era, but the one thing that's lacking is a team of horses to pull the rig.

The hook and ladder is one believed to be about 90 years old, with all of the equipment necessary in those days.

At one time horsedrawn fire ladders were a common sight on Astoria streets.

"We hope someone knows of a team we can acquire for use during the parade so we can have an authentic horsedrawn ladder just as it was back in the days when such equipment was modern in the local firehouse," one fireman said.

Dancing is planned every night except Sunday at the Regatta pavilion, according to Regatta officials. Music will be provided by the Four Tones.

Admission prices for the Regatta are for admittance to the pavilion are for a series of events, Regatta officials said. They pointed out that one price covers admission to the pier which may feature several events. As an example they said one ticket to pier on Sunday night provides admission to the Norwegian Chours, the International Smorgasette and the Folk Dance Jamboree.

Button sales for the Regatta will continue through Saturday, according to button sales campaign manager Dorothy Jacob. She said the Astoria chapter of Job's Daughters will conduct a special drive on Saturday just before the big grand land [illegible] The chapter is donating [illegible] The drive will be between 12:30 and 2:30.

Adm McCarty turned into a real mariner during the journey of the King and Winge to Astoria. He took over at the wheel and, according to Capt. Clyde Parlova, was [illegible]

[illegible] and cranny of the ship, according to Skipper Dr. Clyde Parlova. The girls stayed awake throughout the trip, but some of the adults were caught cat-napping.

Bridge was a popular game during the long ride to Astoria aboard the King and Winge, according to those who made the trip. Two tables of bridge were played during most of the trip.

Racing regiestrations for the Sunday gillnet events have slowed down and the lower horsepower races have not even received any entries as yet, according to Don Riswick. He urged gillnetters to [illegible] signing up with [illegible] Westholm at the CRPA office.

Royal Chinooks are really going to be busy during the Regatta. Leo Sobeul, one of the leaders, volunteered the group for lots of activity and the board eagerly accepted.

Gillnetters have an added inducement for [illegible] today. J. V. Riswick, race chairman, announced an additional prize. He said Norman Junes, operator of Northwest Propellor service, had offered free propellor service for a year to the first place winner in each of the Sunday races.

Route of the parade which starts at 2:30 p. m. Saturday is east along Marine drive from 3rd to 8th street, then on Commercial street east to 20th street where refreshments will be given paraders after the march. Parade headquarters will be near Woody's Drive-In Saturday, Chairman Don Gerris reports.

Complete Regatta programs, containing the schedule of events for the full five days, have been printed and will be available at Pier 3 tonight. The programs contain many pictures of past Regattas, stories about Clatsop county and will make interesting souvenirs, Regatta officials says.

Past glory will shine again Friday night when former Regatta queens will don their royal robes for the Regatta Revue sponsored by Beta Sigma Phi and the Jay-C-Ettes at Pier 3. Those who will model the regal finery of bygone days and [illegible] Graham; 1904—Mrs. Ed Printiss' gown, modelled by Miss Judy Olsen; 1934—Josephine Waffle Swanson; 1936—Nancy Fulton Lowe; 1937—Jean Reed Maunula; 1941—Ann Halderman McGowan; 1952—Lydia Dorn Pavlat; 1953—Marilyn Ransom Gustafson; 1954—Molly Malarkey, 1955—Sue Sandoz, 1956—Judy Palmberg, and 1957—Judy Hein.

Incidently, one of the most enthusiastic former queens is Mrs. Archer (Ivy Barker, 1901) [illegible] from Portland for the past queens' reunion from 4:30-6:30 at the Harry Swanson home. Although she can still wear her gown, she won't be modelling it Friday night at the revue, but she "wouldn't miss the reunion and revue for anything." was thrilled and honored to be asked to come back for the Regatta, and hopes all the young friends she knew back in 1901 will be at the reunion to revive Regatta memories with her.

Problem confronting Jay-C-Ette chairman Ruth Shaner in finding 20-inch waists (but not a teenage shape) to model gowns solved with the finding of little Mrs. Thomas Graham and collegian Judy Olsen.

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company is reported to have placed a [illegible] in the parade [illegible] working out an original idea. So far the float is a mystery.

Marshals of the Saturday parade will be able to get around to the various divisions of the parade during its formation with the use of electric golf cars. With these speedy and maneuverable vehicles marshalls will be able to move quickly from one segment of the parade to another readying everyone for the grand show.

The drag boat Marian F skippered by Arthur Paquet, came into Astoria Thursday with a cargo of fresh fish caught for the big Fish Festival Seafoods Barbecue. The fish, taken right from the ocean, will be served Sunday nooo at the big fish fry at Columbia Field.

An added feature of the 38th Regatta is a 30-piece display of rocks, minerals and gem stones set up by the Trails End Gem and Mineral club in the former Astoria Hardware building on Commercial street. The free-admission show is open Friday, Saturday and Sunday from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m., club representatives report.

Astoria's Sea Scout sailing craft, the Flying Cloud, won a second place in the sailboat race of the Regatta. The race was held Friday afternoon off the east end mooring basin. The City of Roses, a Portland Sea Scout craft, won the six mile race in a time of one hour and seven minutes. The time for the Flying Cloud was one hour and 11 minutes.

More than 330 youngsters participated in the Children's parade Friday night. Winners in the various divisions were Dickie Jensen, Jane and Melissa Hill, Jennifer Connally, Mary Craig, Terry Joe Reneke, Virginia and Wendy Sagen, Sandy and Jackie Springer, Don Garris, Jr., Patty Wullger, Patricia Wahltell, Anne Wyatt and Rennie Mattilo. The grand prize winner was Terry Joe Reneke.

Entertainment between halves of the Regatta Revue Friday night turned out to be a surprise for the audience (and those par[illegible]) young instructors then showed the four couples what NOT to do on the dance floor, split up the husbands and wives and had them demonstrate to the audience what they had just been shown. Competing were Capt. William Watson and Mrs. Eugene Lowe, Gene Hallaux and Mrs. Watson, Mayor Pete Cosovich and Mrs. Frank Fowler and Dr. Fowler and Mrs. Robert J. Hanson. Audience applause for the hilarious demonstration of the latter couple won [a] bottle of champ[agne for "Fred As]tair" Fowler and "Ginger" Hanson.

Applause from spectators—and the chance to win an award [illegible] the [illegible] outstanding parade groups travel some hundreds of miles, to attend our community fete, Regatta officials note. They ask that viewers give a warm reception to the visitors Saturday.

"All units—including all dignitaries [illegible] the full parade [illegible] cee parade chairman, stated today. Usually at parades, spectators, towards the end of the route, miss seeing honored officials, he noted, in announcing the new policy.

The Astoria Motorcycle club, who have played a valuable part in past Regatta activities, particularly during the big parades, will provide a color guard and again act as messengers during the parade this Saturday, according to Jack Rieck, in charge of forming the 70-unit procession. George Hauer is AMC president.

A grateful Anne Strachan, chairman of the International smorgasette set for Sunday night at Pier 3, announced that more than 130 individual dishes are being [illegible] for the event and [illegible] said she was most thankful for the cooperation she had received from throughout Clatsop county. Another item being prepared, she said, are 2000 smors. These are smoked sturgeon appetizers. They're being prepared by the Olney women's extension unit.

A [illegible] have [illegible] the [illegible] Regatta queen and court, led by Dick Steinbock, float chairman, and Carl Bondietti, bobth Jaycees. The non-competitive float is mounted on a 1949 Packard chassis, donated by Cecil Brim.

When the old-time swim suits failed to arrive from Portland yesterday, there was a last-minute scurrying about to dig up some water-wear for bathing beauties of long ago, on the part of the committee. They came up with some dillies, but all small sizes. So the Astoria Clowns, who were to model the ones from Portland, were replaced by the four whistle-bait figures that modelled the modern suits, Sandi Hill, Julie Hoare, Jeanne Maddox and Gail Soderman.

Astoria's Regatta court and Regatta officials are getting to be television veterans. They appeared on TV again last night, over Chuck Foster's news program on KOIN-TV, as the King and Winge left Portland for Astoria. Earlier they had appeared on two Portland television stations. Other Regatta officials appeared on TV in Eugene.

A carnival midway will be featured at the Regatta pier. Concessions from the Davis brothers carnival, which is here for the week, will be constructed [illegible] the [illegible] of the pavilion. Rides will be placed [illegible]

The famed precision drill team from the Naval Air Station, Oakland, Calif., is returning again for the parade tomorrow. Last year they barely arrived in time to compete for the honors which they tramped off with and will be after again. The unit flies to events in cities all over the United States.

Clan MacLeay Bagpipe band with several former Astorians among its kilt-clad marchers, is one of three Scottish pipe bands that will take part in festivities Saturday.

Lights burned late last night in warehouses and garages in the Sunset Empire as workers toiled to complete a record number of floats for the "Water Wonderland" parade. Some surprising and spectacular units are in store for parade viewers, parade committeemen hear.

★ ★ ★ ★

On the sunlit terrace in the garden of the Peter Cosovich home, Wednesday, the seven Regatta princesses and their mothers were entertained at an al fresco luncheon for which their popular chaperone Mrs. Donovan Mitchell was hostess. The princesses, seated in front, from left to right, are Gayle Ross, Ellen Morris, Judy Stacey, (behind her) Carolyn Lawson, Patt Nogle, Julie Johnson, and (behind her) Jeanette Watts. Standing back, left, are Mrs. Leo Ross, Mrs. Lawrence Morris, Mrs. Henry Lawson, Mrs. Milton Nogle, Mrs. Hiram Johnson and Mrs. Richard Alsbury, mother of Princess Jeanette. Princess Judy's mother, Mrs. Thorburn Stacey, was unable to come in from Knappa for the event, which also honored Mrs. Tony Naimo, wife of this year's Regatta president.

Thursday Coronation Big Regatta Kickoff

Anchor Club Plans Fall Activities

The Anchor club held its first meeting since the Regatta Monday evening at the Astoria Yacht club, with Skipper Vivian Graves thanking all the members of the club for a job "well done."

Each chairman in turn thanked her helpers and volunteers for their hard work and efforts. Thank you notes were received from Queen Gayle, the six princesses and Mrs. Donovan Mitchell, chaperone for the royal court.

Coming events on the club's calender is the potluck and dance to be held at the Yacht club Saturday, September 20, at 7:30 p. m. Music will be furnished by Curly Larsen and his band. Committee members are the Mesdames R. M. Landwehr and Vern Mogenson, co-chairmen; Kenneth Simonsen, Donald Hoyer, Marvin Taylor and William Dreitlein.

Monday, October 6, the club will have a "white elephant" sale after the business meeting.

October 20 is the date for the Hallowe'en card party. Co-chairmen named for this event are Mrs. Art Anderson and Mrs. Stanley Sagen, with the Mesdames Walter Samuelson, Axel Englund, Jerome Clement, Fred Fredrickson and Ronald Hubbard assisting.

The sergeant-at-arms duties will be carried out by Mrs. Richard Rutta during the absence of Mrs. Joseph Thompson who is leaving for Corvallis, while her husband returns to college.

Guest of the evening was Miss Jeanie Maddox who gave a talk on how dancing can build better citizens.

Refreshments were served from a blue-covered table decorated with blue candles and fall flowers. Also present was a cake iced in blue and white featuring the crown and scepter of the Regatta.

Chairman for the evening was Mrs. Gerald Phillips, with the Mesdames Art Johanson, David Hoyer and Vern Larsen assisting. The Anchor Log was edited by Mrs. Herman Haggren and Mrs. Charles Lebeck.

Marie H. Holmes

Dear Invited Guest:

I want to thank you for all the wonderful memories you have given me. The Long Queen's Luncheon and especially the coronation. To the world you contributed towards the fight was surely worth it for everyone is saying this is the best festival we've ever had.

I'm sorry it had to end so soon as I have had so much fun and appreciate all the nice things you have done for me.

GOVERNOR'S HOUSE
SALEM, OREGON

Marie H. Holmes

August 11th

Dear Mrs. Pattet.

We have recently moved into our new home so the enclosed nice letter has only just arrived. It first went to the old address, which makes my reply a bit tardy, I'm sorry.

Of course, I get most reminiscent when Regatta time comes around and although I've enjoyed attending some I'm going to have to send my regrets this

Dear Luncheon Committee

I want to thank all of you for the lovely luncheon and shower given me. The Kay Francis luncheon and especially the coronation. All the work you contributed towards the Regatta was surely worth it. Everyone is saying it is the best Regatta and the most entertaining one we have had here.

I'm sorry it had to end so soon as I have had so much fun and appreciate all the nice things you have done for me.

Dear Luncheon Committee,

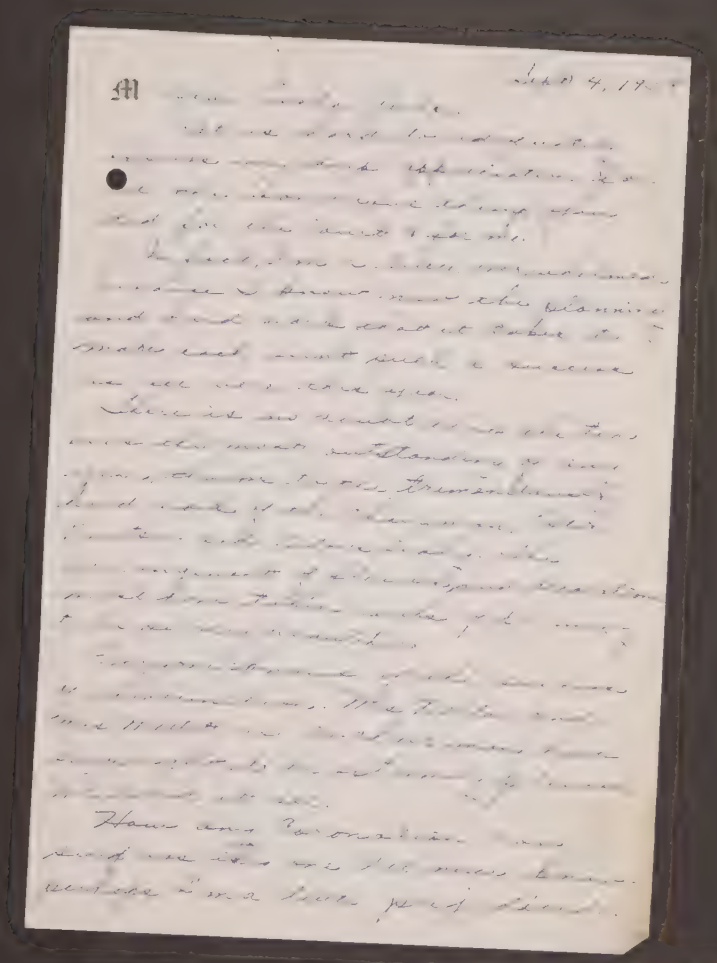

I want to thank you so very much for everything you have done for me. I've had a wonderful time. You have been very much interested in my luncheon. Everything turned out so well. This year, one I shall always remember. Thanks again for being so nice to me.

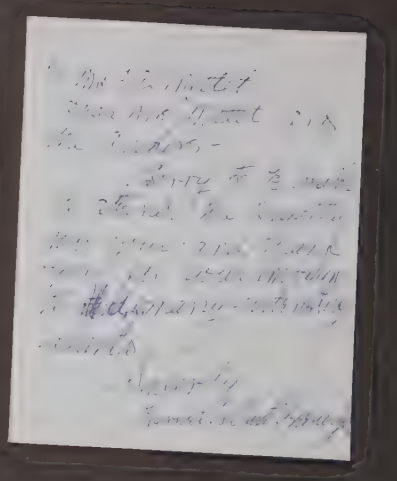

Sincerely,
Gayle Foss

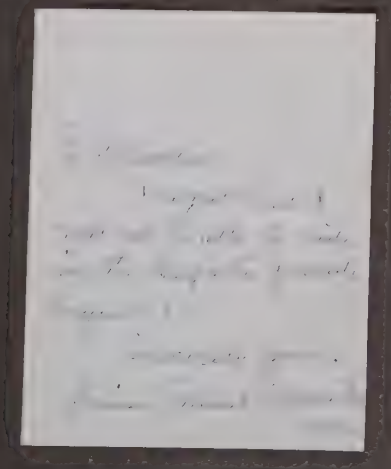

Mrs. Mitchell who was such a wonderful chaperone, and it sure made it so much fun with you.

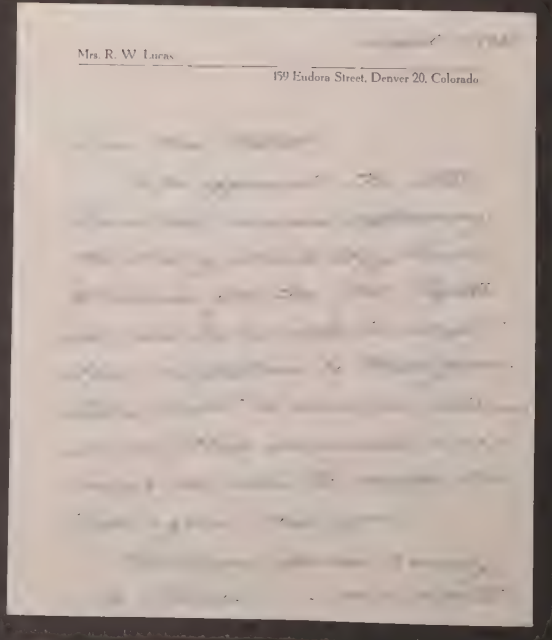

I hope I will be able to be with you some other time.

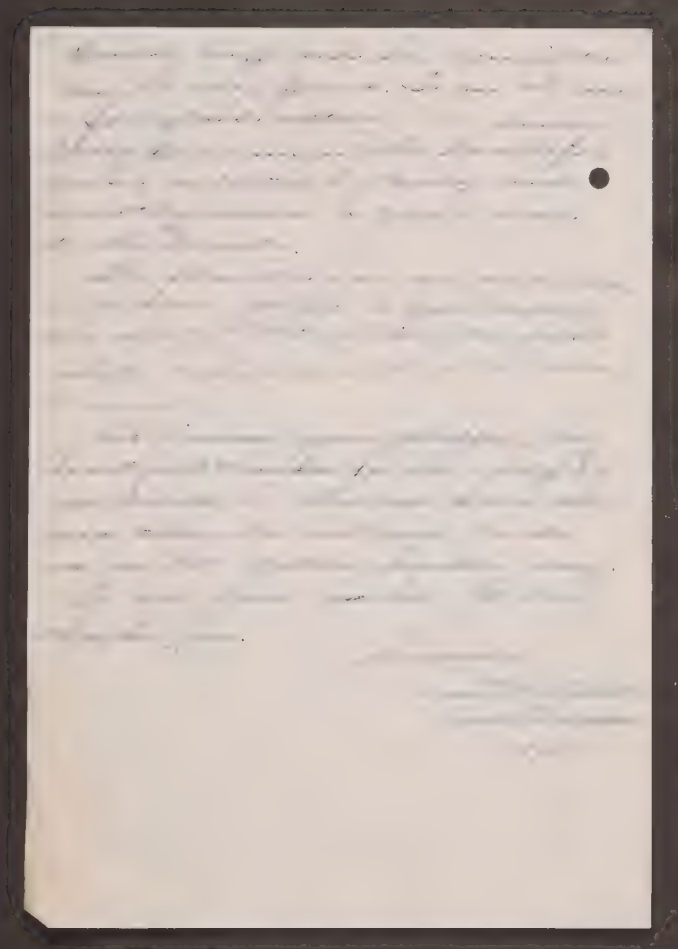

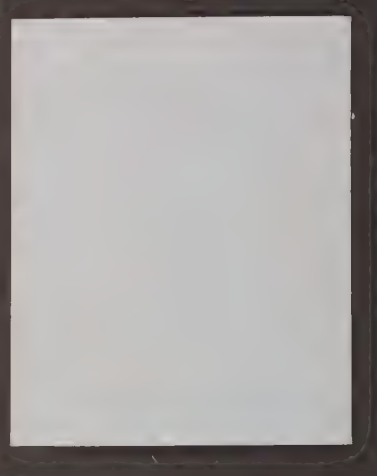

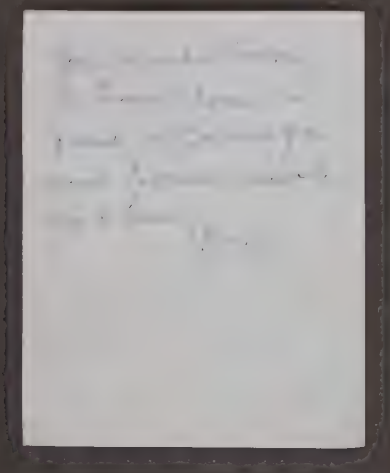

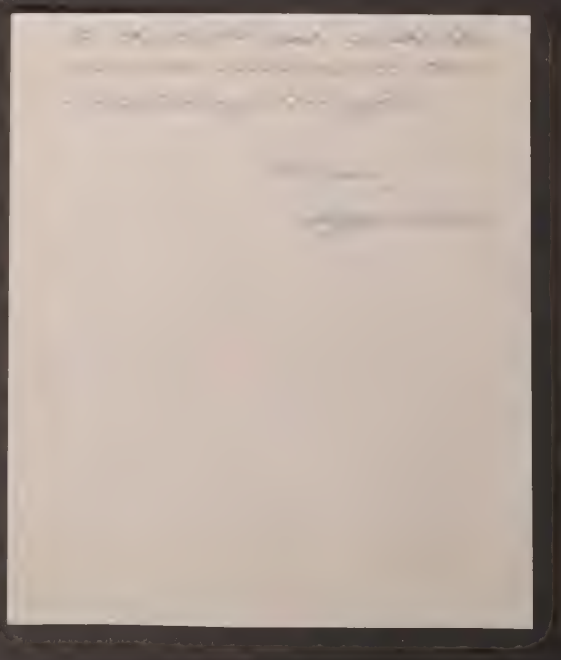

Sincerely,
Gayle Foss

Anchor Auction Brings Bids on White Elephants

A white elephant sale was held by the Anchor club at its meeting Monday evening. With the chant of going-going-gone, auctioneer Delores Leahy sold the amusing and useful articles to the spirited bidders.

Prior to the sale the club voted on a special money making project to be held in November and again support the Astoria Band Boosters and to serve as hostesses at the USO October 26, 28 and 30. The Misses Ann Shairer and Clovia Wells are co-chairmen for this event with the Mesdames Harry Duff, Frank Thorsness, Al Davis, Richard Rutta, Albert Frye, Vern Mogenson, Lowell Altheide, Herman Haggren and Al Mather.

Club members enjoyed visiting the Anchor room which has been newly painted and redecorated.

Guest of the evening was Mrs. Wesley Shaner of the League of Women Voters.

Committee for the evening was Mrs. John Hill, chairman with Mesdames William Malmberg, Jerome Clement and Hugh Winstanley. The Anchor Log was edited by Mrs. Charles Smith and Mrs. Marvin Taylor with special prize of the evening going to Mrs. Shaner.

CARD PARTY

The hard working committee decorated with corn stalks, pumpkins, autumn leaves and Mr. Scarecrow, making the card party a huge success. Laura Reith, Frankye Thompson and Louella Klepp were the winners of gift certificates from Reed and Grimbergs. Many thanks to Reed & Grimbergs for donating a $5.00 gift certificate and Mr. McCoury for the plants given as door prizes. The raffle profited $43.70 and the card party receipts were approximately $101.18 from 5½ tables. Co-Chairmen Mabel Sagen and Marge Anderson assisted by Laura Fern Samuelson, Frieda Englund, Edna Clement, Sheila Fredrickson, and Janet Hubbard deserve a big hand.

SKIPPER'S BANQUET
November 17, 1958

The following poem dedicated to Vivian and composed by Pat Louks.

Some [illegible] wondered why Vivian to be special?
[illegible] more grounds [illegible] stood --
Even as some stars [illegible] brighter,
Some mortals are so endowed.

Yes, Vivian was to be special,
So the mighty Gods took care
That she be given all the graces,
Then granted an extra share.

She was given poise, given charm,
Fair features for a queenly air.
Blessed with an aura of dignity
For her own very personal flair.

They tucked a song in her heart,
Placed a smile on her lips,
Added a shy dash of humor,
For that needed fil lip.

Filled with compassion and understanding
Sprinkled with talent and ability,
The Fates smiled down upon her,
And gave her to humanity.

Anchor Auction Brings Bids on White Elephants

A white elephant sale was held by the Anchor club at its meeting Monday evening With the chant of going-gong-gone, auctioneer Deboer Leahy sold the amusing and useful articles to the spirited bidders.

Prior to the sale the club voted on a special money making project to be held in November and again support the Astoria Band Boosters and to serve as hostesses at the USO October 26, 28 and 30. The Misses Ann Shaner and Clovia Wells are co-chairmen for this event with the Mesdames Harry Duff, Frank Thorsness, Al Davis, Richard Ruuta, Albert Frye, Vern Mogenson, Lowell Altheide, Herman Haggren and Al Mather.

Club members enjoyed visiting the Anchor room which has been newly painted and redecorated

Guest of the evening was Mrs Wesley Shaner of the League of Women Voters.

Committee for the evening was Mrs. John Hill, chairman with Mesdames William Malmberg, Jerome Clement and Hugh Winstanley The Anchor Log was edited by Mrs. Charles Smith and Mrs Marvin Taylor with special prize of the evening going to Mrs. Shaner.

"Sold to a surprised Bidder!"

CARD PARTY

The hard working committee decorated with corn stalks, pumpkins, autumn leaves and Mr. Scarecrow, making the card party a huge success. Laura Reith, Frankye Thompson and Louella Klepp were the winners of gift certificates from Reed and Brimbergs. Many thanks to Reed & Grimbergs for donating a $5.00 gift certificate and Mr. McCoury for the plants given as door prizes. The raffle profited $43.70 and the card party receipts were approximately $101.18 from 54 tables. Co-Chairmen Mabel Sagen and Marge Anderson assisted by Laura Fern Samuelson, Frieda Englund, Edna Clement, Sheila Fredrickson, and Janet Hubbard deserve a big hand.

The following poem dedicated to Vivian and composed by Pat Louks.

...ave you ever wondered why Vivian is so special?
...ay was it meant but from the onset --
Even as some stars shine brighter,
Some mortals are so endowed.

Yes, Vivian was to be special,
So the mighty Gods took care
That she be given all the graces,
Then granted an extra share.

She was given poise, given charm,
Fair features for a queenly air.
Blessed with an aura of dignity
For her own very personal flair.

They tucked a song in her heart,
Placed a smile on her lips,
Added a shy dash of humor,
For that needed fil lip.

Filled with compassion and understanding
Sprinkled with talent and ability,
The Fates smiled down upon her,
And gave her to humanity.

WHAT: Rummage Sale
WHEN: November 17 - 22
WHERE: Old Astoria Drug Building (Corner 11th & Commercial)
WHO: Alice Springer and Dorothy Jacobs, Co-Chairmen

The things most asked for are toys, of any kind, books for kids or grown-ups, dishes of any size, shape, or color and furniture. Of course, clothes of any type and size. If you can't bring your wares to the store, call Alice or Dorothy and they'll be happy to pick them up for you. They want everything there the 17th or 18th, so they can sort, arrange and price the goods before they open for business. Clean out your unused stuff and get it there on time! This way, we can make our needed monies fast and easily.

U.S.O.

The U.S.O. boys enjoyed three nights of our entertaining. Hot dishes and cakes were served on Sunday night to one of the biggest crowds in a long time. Tuesday everyone had waffles and Thursday donuts and cider. The fellows really liked the home cooking and everyone had plenty to eat. Clovia Wells and Ann Schairer did a wonderful job arranging everything.

NOMINATION OF NEW OFFICERS

Here are the names nominated for new officers:

Skipper:	Bev Duff	Publicity:	Leona Tolonen Lorraine Hoyer Mary Lou Haggren
First Mate:	Shirley Landewehr Delores Leahy Marge Anderson	Corresponding Yeoman:	Ann Schairer Susie Anderson Faye Hill
Yeoman:	Bernie Antijunti Sheila Fredrickson Lois Hoyer	Executive Officer:	Virginia Johnson Millie Oja Phyllis Mittet
Purser:	Rayona Riutta Dorothy Yockey Alice Springer
Historian:	Ellen Conger Aune Malmberg Maxine Nellor

Don't forget -- we elect our new officers at the December 1st meeting. Be here to vote for your choice. The nominating committee was: Helen Sorkki, Viola Johnson, and Bev Willson, who did a wonderful job.

THIS & THAT

Leona Tolonen claims life does begin at forty. Every nice day you'll find her at some creek or lake fishing. She finally has time to fulfill her hearts desires.

Dorothy Jacobs is busy these days getting ready for the holidays, papering her house.

We will all miss Marcella Halonen and sorry to hear she's dropping Anchors. Hope she has a speedy recovery.

Inactive member Ethel Winters is moving to Salem. They have their house up for sale -- anyone looking for a new home?

B.L. and Gerry Phillips are busy these days painting and cleaning up their new apartment at the Armory. They plan to move in the near future.

Anchors Honor Skipper at Fete

"Three O'clock in the Morning" was the theme, with tiny gold painted clocks featuring the skipper's picture at each table setting.

The main table was decorated with a brass container filled with chrysanthemums ranging from a deep bronze to pale gold, twin brass candelbras containing red candles, gold sprayed ferns and sprigs of pale red flowers. This decor was carried throughout the remaining tables.

Entertainment was provided by committee members with a poem read by Mrs. Al Davis and dedicated to Skipper Vivien. Cleverly costumed dancers presented novelty numbers that included some dedicated to the skipper during her tour of duty.

Members responsible for the evening were Mrs. Arthur Johanson and Mrs Allen Davis, co-chairmen assisted by the Mesdames George Oja, Paul Tolonen, Arthur Tilander and Armas Niskanen.

After the Milwaukee football game Marge Smith and Donna Gustafson visited Ex-Anchors Rosemary Neumeister and Gloria Lind.

Welcome back to Sadonna Gustafson.

Janet Hubbard has a new addition to her family -- a baby puppy.

SKIPPER'S BANQUET

Fern, Verna and committee have been busy working on the coming party. This year it will be held at the Sunset Empire Room. Cocktain hour followed by dinner at 8:00 P.M. If you didn't sign up at the meeting call Fern or Verna for reservations. Let's all turn out and show Vivian how much we appreciated her as our 1958 skipper.

WHITE ELEPHANT SALE

Auctioneer Leahy did a grand job of selling our mistakes at the last meeting. The club made $29.70 and everyone enjoyed bidding each other up for the items.

Please excuse "hurry up" job on the Anchor Log this month -- regular machine decided not to work so had to improvise at the last minute -- M.N.

(Tune: Daisy, Daisy)

Vivian, Vivian, give us your
'tenchun', do
We're half crazy, trying to Serenade you.
We're met the Leanen Sisters bunch of Anchor blisters
We'll do our best
To sing with zest
I hope that this pleases you.

(Tune: Always)

I'll remember you, always Skipper true, always
When the things we plan
Need a helping hand
We would lead us yours.

Always
When there was such work for us
That's when you were there to guide us
Not for just an hour, not for just a day
You were there to help,
Always.

(Tune: 3 O'Clock in the Morning)

JINGLE BELLS

We're dash - ing thru the snow
In a one horse open sleigh,
O'er the fields we go,
We're laugh - ing all the way;
The bells on bob-tail ring,
We're mak-ing mer-ry bright,
What fun it is to ride and sing a sleigh-ing song to-night.

CHORUS

Jin-gle bells, Jin-gle Bells,
Jingle all the way, Oh what fun it
... ride in a one horse open sleigh. (repeat)

WHITE CHRISTMAS

I'm dream-ing of a white Christmas
Just like the ones I used to know-
Where the tree-tops glis-ten and chil-dren lis-ten to hear sleigh bells in the snow.
I'm dream-ing of a white Christ-mas with ev-ry Christ-mas card I write may your days be mer-ry and bright
And may all your Christ-mas-es be white.

RUDOLPH THE RED-NOSED REINDEER

Ru-dolph, the red-nosed reindeer had a ver-y shin-y nose and if you ever saw it,
you would ev-en say it glows.
All of the other rein-deer used to laugh and call him names
They nev-er let poor Ru-dolph play in an-y rein-deer games:
Then one foggy Christ-mas Eve
Santa came to say: Ru-dolph, with your nose so bright, won't you guide my sleigh
to-night,
Then how the rein-deer loved him
as they shout-ed out with glee:
Ru-dolph, the red-nosed rein-deer,
you'll go down in his-to-ry.

WINTER WONDERLAND

Sleigh-bells ring, are you lis-tin'
In the lane, snow is glis-t'nin,
A beau-ti-ful sight, we're happy
to-night,
Walk-in'in a Winter Won-der-land.

Gone away is the blue-bird,
Here to stay is a new bird,
He sings a love song, as we go a-long,
Walk-in a Winterwonder- land.

In the mead-ow we can build a snowman,
Then pre-tend he is Par-son Brown;
He'll say,"Are you mar-ried?"
We'll say, "No, man! But you can do the job when you're in town!"
Lat-er on, we'll con-spire-
as we dream by the fire;
To face un-a-fraid, the plans that we make,
Walk-in in a Winter Wonder Land.

Bright Spot on Stormy Afternoon

The sunshine yellow tapers and "first" daffodils centering the table in the dining room of Mrs. Harry Steinbock's home Saturday were themed to spring, although outside the view windows a sou'wester blustered its way across the town. Astoria's first lady opened her Ridge drive home to the March of Dimes at a tea, attended by an enthusiastic crowd, despite the weather. Mrs. John Hope, county chairman [illegible] this year's March, greeted the guests and pouring throughout the afternoon were Mrs. Hall Larson, city chairman, Mrs. Michael Rogers, Warren [illegible], shown here being served by [illegible] while Mrs. [illegible] serves tea. 1958 Princess Judy Stacey Is Bride of James B. Moore

Of interest to many people in the Lower Columbia area is the recent marriage of Judith Arlene Stacey 1958 Regatta princess and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thorburn H. Stacey Svensen, to James B. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Moore, Knappa.

The Rev. Robert H. Warren, of the Community church at Longview performed the marriage ceremony on January 24, in the presence of the families and a few friends.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a corn flower blue princess style dress with a pink flowered hat and pink accessories.

They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kelly.

After a Portland honeymoon the couple is now [illegible] Burnside. Mrs. Moore is employed by the First National bank and Mr. Moore is working in Bradwood.

Do We Want a Regatta?

Do we want to maintain the Regatta and Fish Festival or are we tired of the event and ready to discard it?

It's to be hoped that many people will fill out and mail in the questionnaires now being published for several days in this newspaper, so those responsible for the decision can know what Astoria people want.

The Regatta-Fish Festival is a community enterprise. It's the responsibility of all of us, and we all ought to share in the decision as to its future.

The facts of the situation are simple.

The festival has run at a financial loss every year since the Salmon Derby ceased to provide funds for its support. The bankroll left by the Derby vanished with the 1958 Regatta and a $1300 deficit remained.

Public interest and participation in the event has not been great enough in recent years to justify the leaders of the program from going ahead with it unless the people speak up to say if they want it to continue and if they are willing to pay for it.

The Regatta has survived more than six decades since its start. It has been dropped twice, only to be revived later on. Its vitality indicates that there has been a real need and desire for such a community festival.

But times have changed. People's summer fun no longer is dependent on community festivals like this. They travel. They golf. They are less dependent on friends and neighbors for entertainment.

Main purpose of a Regatta-Fish Festival now, and for several years past, is to bring visitors into town rather than to entertain the home folk—although that is still an important element.

Some of the grumbling that has been heard on the streets about the Regatta has been complaints that it doesn't attract visitors.

There has been other complaining, also, on various other grounds.

Now's the time to get those complaints into writing—plus constructive suggestions, if one has any such. Let's all help decide this important question—whether to maintain the festival or let it perish, perhaps to be revived again some time in the indefinite future.

Correction

The article and picture of Lt. Schairer, WM, in yesterday's paper erroneously referred to the young officer as Lt. Ann Schairer, when it should have read Lt. Agnes Schairer. Agnes and Ann Schairer daughters of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Schairer, are identical twins, which is no excuse for the mistake, but which had something to do with the confusion on the part of the reporter who knew them when they were little girls and couldn't tell them apart even then. Lt. Agnes Schairer is the officer in charge of the recruiting office for the Woman's Army Corps at Battle Mound, and Miss Ann Schairer was recently awarded the highest honor for a member of the Girls Service organization for having served 2500 hours over a period of five years at the USO "Right"

Miss Ann Schairer was singled out at the recent Navy dinner honoring volunteer workers of the USO for having served 2500 hours during the past five years at the local USO. She is shown here receiving her certificate, which, according to Harvey Taylor, right, USO director, is probably an outstanding record for volunteer work in any USO installation. Miss Schairer is a twin to Lt. Agnes Schairer, home on furlough from the Woman's Army Corps which this newspaper in an article yesterday confused over the attractive identity of twins, called Lt. Ann Schairer. Harry Gallagher, USN, chairman of the dinner, stands at left as MC. (U.S. Navy Photo)

News from Hilmar Dale

Vol. 22, No. 3 Janet Hubbard -- Beverly Willson March, 1959

Our first money making project of the year (the February card party) was a huge success which should make our Ways and Means committee very happy. The clever raffle was very lucrative and there were forty-eight tables of cards in play.

The Centennial theme was carried out and the committee was in centennial dress. The conversation piece of the evening was the stage setting, replica of an early day parlor with two figures in centennial dress.

Prizes in cards were won by Hazel Bechtelheimer, Karen Thomas, Judy Dean, Ann Graves, Helvie Koskela and Myrtle Dreyer and special prizes went to Lucille Scarborough, Sheila Fredrickson and Laura Fern Samuelson.

Three cheers for a wonderful committee composed of Aune Malmberg, chairman, Viola Johnson, co-chairman and Edna Lovvold, Estey Knutsen, Nancy Thorsness, Sheila Fredrickson, Vivian Graves, Phyllis Mittet and Jane Tilander, assisted by Dolores Leahy and Ann Schairer.

Fish Festival Shows Profit

Dr E W Harvey who has directed the annual Oregon Fish Festival in connection with the Astoria Regatta for the last three years, has submitted data to show that the Fish Festival does not share in the financial red-ink condition of the Regatta proper.

Dr Harvey reports that the first Fish Festival in 1956 had income of $1910 and expenses of $2080 for a loss of $170, but that in the two succeeding years it has made substantial profit.

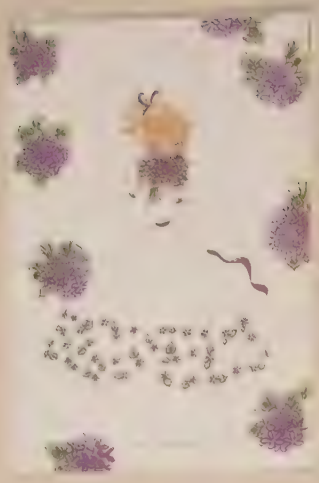

In 1957 the second Fish Festival cost $1875 and produced $2,176 revenue for a profit of $601. In 1958 the third Fish Festival did still better, costing $1539 and producing $2961 for a profit of $982.

Thus in three years the Fish Festival has produced a net profit of $1423 to go into the Regatta revenues.

Regardless of the future of the regatta, it appears that the Fish Festival has justified its continued existence.

Not only does it make money but it has a fine promotional value for the fishing industry. It calls public attention to the high quality of our seafood, its low cost, and its appetizing qualities when properly prepared.

Boost, Don't Knock, the Regatta

Astorians, in fact all of Clatsop county, should get behind the Astoria Regatta.

Too many residents of this area, some who consider themselves prominent, have spent the past few summers ridiculing the Regatta, but few have offered any constructive ideas to improve it or make it a going concern.

Time has been spent in criticism and the old phrase, "well, it won't work," but who has come around with a constructive suggestion on how to make it better and how to draw visitors from throughout Oregon and other parts of the country to this area?

A few items might be studied by these persons who feel smug when they predict the downfall of an activity that could bring needed cash into the community.

1. Find out what visitors want to see and what will draw a crowd to the area.
2. Pick events extremely suitable to the area as well as fascinating to spectators.
3. Have a "gimmick," something that will not only be an eye-catcher to the community but throughout the state, and might even catch the interest of some national publication.
4. Forget the desire for personal glory and the big I, pitch in and work for the benefit of the community, not for one particular person or event.
5. Find out the reason why certain events which at the time seem good, fail. Also see what draws tourists to similar attractions in other areas.
6. What do people want to see, hear, eat when they attend the Regatta.

Don't always run down something until a study of it is made to see where the weaknesses lie and what can be done to improve it.

Astoria has lost its salmon derby, Warrenton is showing this city up when it comes to getting the sports boat for fall fishing, and now there are those who say the Regatta should go because it hasn't paid off. True, it hasn't, but it would be better to find out first why it hasn't paid off and try to remedy the situation. There may be a way of making the Regatta a moneymaking proposition and an attraction that tourists won't want to miss.

If local citizens aren't interested in attractions in their area they can't expect to bring in outsiders to spend their money here.

Don't always run down something until a study of it is made to see where the weaknesses lie and what can be done to improve it.

Astoria has lost its salmon derby. Warrenton is showing this city up when it comes to getting the sports boat for fall fishing, and now there are those who say the Regatta should go because it hasn't paid off. True, it hasn't, but it would be better to find out first why it hasn't paid off and try to remedy the situation. There may be a way of making the Regatta a moneymaking proposition and an attraction that tourists won't want to miss.

If local citizens aren't interested in attractions in their area they can't expect to bring in outsiders to spend their money here.

Astorian Budget - April 20

Boost, Don't Knock, the Regatta

Astorians, in fact all of Clatsop county, should get behind the Astoria Regatta.

Too many residents of this area, some who consider themselves prominent, have spent the past few summers ridiculing the Regatta, but few have offered any constructive ideas to improve it or make it a going concern.

Time has been spent in criticism and the old phrase, "well, it won't work," but who has come around with a constructive suggestion on how to make it better and how to draw visitors from throughout Oregon and other parts of the country to this area?

A few items might be studied by these persons who feel smug when they predict the downfall of an activity that could bring needed cash into the community.

1. Find out what visitors want to see and what will draw a crowd to the area.

2. Pick events extremely suitable to the area as well as fascinating to spectators.

3. Have a "gimmick," something that will not only be an eye-catcher to the community but throughout the state, and might even catch the interest of some national publication.

4. Forget the desire for personal glory and the big I, pitch in and work for the benefit of the community, not for one particular person or event.

5. Find out the reason why certain events which at the time seem good, fail. Also see what draws tourists to similar attractions in other areas.

6. What do people want to see, hear, eat when they attend the Regatta.

Don't always run down something until a study of it is made to see where the weaknesses lie and what can be done to improve it.

Astoria has lost its salmon derby. Warrenton is showing this city up when it comes to getting the sports boat for fall fishing, and now there are those who say the Regatta should go because it hasn't paid off. Regatta To Name Five For Court

The first five princesses to be chosen from throughout Clatsop county for the Centennial royal court of the 39th annual Astoria Regatta will be named Saturday night at Seaside high school.

Despite incompleted plans for the annual summer water festival, association members will name the five princesses in a series of dances in the home communities of the girls before the end of May. Each of the princesses will be chosen by the student body of the high school she attends.

Court Reduced

A five-princess court is a reduction from the seven-member court of last year, Jean Hallaux, board president pointed out, and the change was made in the interest of economy and necessity.

He pointed out costs are high for outfitting each princess and the association is pressed for funds this year.

Princesses will be chosen from each of the Clatsop county high schools, with the exception of Jewell high school. No student at Jewell professed an interest in participating as a member of the court this year.

Hallaux said arrangements for the five dances in the county are being made by Gordon Hutchens, Mrs. William Leahy and Mrs. Harry Duff, all members of the court committee. Following Saturday's dates are Star of Sea high school, May 19; Warrenton high May 22; Knappa high, May 26, and Astoria high, May 29.

Another departure from tradition this year is that only one princess is being chosen from Astoria high school.

Second Countywide

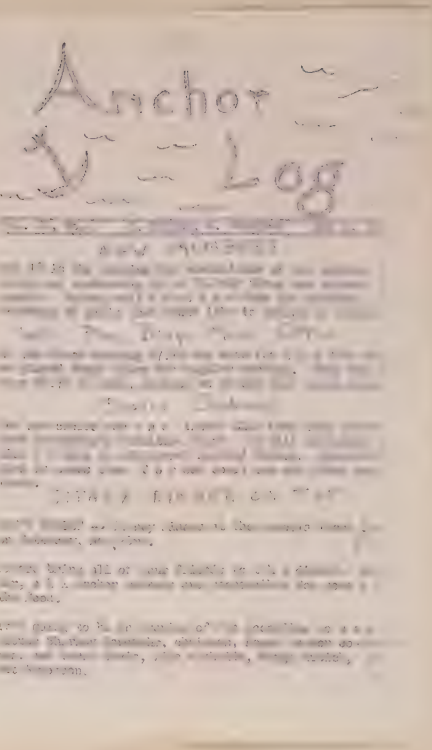

This is the second year in a row that princesses from throughout the county have been chosen as members of the Regatta court. Last year's queen was Gayle Ross, a 1958 graduate of Astoria high school.

Hallaux said the royal court will be used in conjunction with the countywide Centennial celebration and participate in many of these events throughout the summer. He said the court would make more "at home" appearances and few, if any, out-of-town trips.

The dance will be held in the Seaside high school cafetorium, starting at 8 p. m.

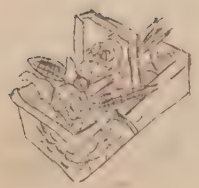

A delegation of the members of the Regatta association will be on hand to announce the name of the girl chosen princess. Expected to attend as representatives of the association are Mr. and Mrs. Hallaux, Mr. and Mrs. Hutchens, Mr. and Mrs. Leahy and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Nelle.

Dates for the Regatta are August 27, 28, 29 and 30.

Warrenton Adds 3rd Princess For Summer Regatta

WARRENTON (Special) — The third Regatta princess to join the 1958 court by vote of her schoolmates is Jenita "Jenny" Faye Shultz, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Shultz, Warrenton, named at a Warrenton high school student body dance, Friday evening at the grade school auditorium.

Princess Jenny, a petit five foot brown haired senior, was editor of the high school year book, The Warrior, secretary of the Warrenton chapter of the Clatsop County National Honor society, is senior class representative to the student body council and Girls League vice-president. She was Homecoming Queen last year, Girls State representative, was Homemaker of Tomorrow and took part in both the junior and senior class plays.

Announcement that Warrenton's princess is named Jenny was made by Jean Hallaux, president of the Regatta association and she was pinned with the official Regatta orchid by Mrs. Harry Duff, secretary of the Regatta board and skipper of the Anchor club Runners up, called to the stage, which had as a background a large sail boat and nautical pennants, were Judy Martin, P ... Pearson and Betty Nichols.

Both Seaside's princess Marjorie Wilson, and Star of the Sea princess Betty Morris, were on hand to congratulate the third member of the royal court family.

Accompanying Regatta President Hallaux and Mrs. Duff were Gordon Hutchens, vice president, Mrs. William Leahy, Anchor club first mate and board member John H. Nellor, board member and Mrs. John Cederberg, Mrs. Frank Thorsness and Mrs. Stanley Sagen, Anchor club members.

The fourth princess on the royal court will be named Tuesday night at Knappa high school. The fifth and final princess will be named at an Astoria high school dance to be held next Friday night at the American Legion club dance ...

Star of the Sea high school's contribution to the 1959 Regatta court is Betty Rosalin Morris, 17 year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Morris, 20 Skyline Place who was selected by student vote at a dance for that purpose Tuesday evening in the school gymnasium.

Jean Hallaux, president of the Regatta board, introduced Gordon Hutchens, vice-president, who called forward the nine girls contesting for the honor, following the counting of the students' ballots by the Regatta board members present, Hallaux, Hutchens Joe Turci and John H. Nellor.

Presented Corsage

Regatta President Hallaux then announced the name of the winning princess, who was presented amid the cheers of her school mates, with a corsage by Mrs. William Leahy, Anchor club member of the Regatta association.

Princess Betty, Astoria-born, has attended Star of the Sea school from the first grade to this her senior year. She is a "dark" blond with blue eyes and stands five-feet-seven. She was a prom princess in her sophomore year and prom queen this year, serving also as secretary of the student body this past year. She is a member of the Pep club, Thespians and Glee club. Last year, her sister Ellen was a member of the Regatta court.

MARY JANE KURATLI

AHS Candidate Completes Roster Of Regatta Court

By BRUCE WESCHE
A-B correspondent

The 1959 Regatta court of princesses was completed Friday night, when Mary Jane Kuratli was chosen by student body vote to represent Astoria high school, at a dance in the upper hall of the American Legion club.

The brown-haired blue-eyed daughter of the Ruben Kuratlis, five-feet-six-and-a-half inches in height, was born in Portland 17 years ago, October 28, 1941, and graduated from Capt Robert Gray school here before entering Astoria high school, where she has taken an active part in school activities throughout the four years.

Her freshman year she was a member of the [illegible] Tri-Hi-Y, assistant business manager of the Astor Pe-[illegible] newspaper, Junior prom princess, Girls State representative and member of the Math club, Y-Hi and Scroll and Service club and worthy advisor of Fern assembly Order of Rainbow for Girls.

Appeal for Funds

The Astoria Regatta association, faced with a $1300 deficit from last year's and other past festivals, has set up a $6000 budget for this year's operation and plans to go to the citizens of Astoria with an appeal for financial help.

This is something the Regatta has tried to avoid in the past, but this year it appears necessary if the Regatta is to survive this Centennial year.

This certainly would be a poor year to abandon it, for the Regatta is an old and famous festival and one of our biggest potential attractions for Centennial year visitors.

The Regatta association has trimmed its costs drastically to reduce the burden it must ask the community to help share.

Chairman Jean Hallaux says it cost $14,000 to put on the 1958 Regatta. This year the budget has been slashed to $6000—more than a 50 per cent reduction. He and his committee believe that on this limited amount it still will be possible to conduct a fine Regatta that will be a credit to Astoria and a good lure for Centennial year guests.

It surely would be poor advertising for Astoria to give up the Regatta—one of Oregon's oldest and most famous institutions—in Oregon's 100th year.

Regatta Drive For Funds Set

Next week will see the kick-off of a citywide funds raising campaign for the Astoria Regatta this summer, according to Jean Hallaux, association president

The 39th annual celebration, known this year as the Centennial Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival, has been scheduled for August 27 thru August 30.

The fund raising effort will have as its goal the elimination of last year's deficit and the acquisition of funds to operate this summer's celebration. Hallaux said

Merchants and professional groups will be solicited only once and donations will also purchase advertising space in the annual Regatta program, Hallaux explained. In addition booster buttons will be sold for $1 each.

The entire Regatta-Fish Festival celebration will be keyed to the Centennial theme, with an "old fashioned" air, Hallaux said.

Changes made in the program to date include changing the big parade to Saturday, August 29, at 6:30 p.m. followed by the band show in the Armory. The Kiddies parade has been switched to Saturday morning, probably 9 a.m.

The Regatta-Fish Festival will include the popular free fish feed, the Savory Seafoods Search and cooking contest, the International Smorgasette and marine events.

An "old fashioned" picnic at Tapiola park, which would include swimming races, foot races, and an open air band concert is among the possible festivities, Hallaux elaborated.

This year no outside admiral will be chosen. Instead, the honorary title will be conferred upon a distinguished citizen of the community or county.

Astoria Regatta Slates New Bid To Raise Funds

A[illegible]e citywide funds ra[illegible]
[illegible] to help finance a re[illegible]
[illegible] redesignated, Astoria Regatta this summer will kick off next week, Jean Hallaux, association president announced today.

Hallaux said the traditional summer celebration, the 50th in a history that goes back into the 1850's, will be called the Centennial Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival. The new name, he pointed out, combines the two main features of the [illegible] water festival, [illegible] association[illegible].

[illegible] directors, to be recruited by association board members, will participate in the funds-raising bid, which has two major objectives, Hallaux said.

First objective will be to eliminate the deficit from last years' celebration and the second to obtain new funds to operate this summers' celebration.

Concentration of the funds campaign will be in two major areas, he said, first, solicitation of merchants and professional groups for funds, and second the sale of booster buttons, this year for $1 each.

Solicitation of merchants and professional groups will be based on a "package" deal, Hallaux stressed.

"In other words these groups and individuals will be approached to provide funds one time only and donations will also purchase advertising space in the annual Regatta program," he said.

Stressing the importance of the Regatta to the area and for this year in particular, Hallaux said the summer festival which is billed from August 27 through August 30, is the only major Centennial event slated of any great length in the [illegible]

Seen Tragedy

"It would be a great tragedy if this community which is the oldest settlement in the Pacific Northwest, did not have a Centennial celebration. It will not have one unless the community supports it in this funds campaign," Hallaux said.

He also said a loss or discontinuance of the Regatta-Fish Festival would tend to lessen the reputation of the community in the eyes of other cities in the state.

The entire celebration will be keyed to the Centennial theme and will be an "old fashioned" celebration, he pointed out.

Many changes have already been made in the format of the celebration and more will be made, he emphasized.

This year there will be no outside admiral chosen. Hallaux said a plan is being evolved to make selection of the admiral an honorary title for a distinguished citizen of the community or county. Tentative plans call for selection of this individual at a special funds-raising dinner to be held a week prior to the Regatta itself.

"In this way the community can salute a distinguished citizen who either through his job or his other [illegible] of achievement and made real contributions to the area," he said.

Complete plans for this tentative event will be mapped at a later date.

Night Parade

Another change is switching of the daytime land parade to an early evening event. The parade is tentatively scheduled for Saturday, August 29, at 6:30 p.m.

The same switch also moves the traditional Kiddies parade from Friday evening to an early hour, probably 9 a.m., Saturday morning August 29.

Also involved in the switch is the popular band show, which this year will be held at the Armory immediately following the big Saturday evening land parade.

Many popular events of the past Regatta-Fish festival celebrations will be retained, Hallaux said. Among these are the free fish feed, the Savory Seafoods Search and cooking contest, the International Smorgasette and marine events.

Another possible event is a full day "old fashioned" picnic at Tapiola park. This would include swimming races, foot races, and an open air band concert.

"The emphasis in this tentative event would be in participating in activities, rather being just a spectator," Hallaux pointed out. The day would also be featured as a Centennial costume day. Details of the feasibility of this type of program will be investigated this week at the regular Regatta association meeting.

Names Sought

Each Regatta board member is also expected to bring the names of five volunteers who will aid in the funds campaign to the Thursday session. Details of the funds-drive will be outlined at this meeting.

Objective of the Regatta-Fish Festival this year is to provide a Centennial summer of activity, Hallaux said. He pointed out that tentative plans also call for a Regatta golf tournament and bowling tournament.

The 1959 Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival court of five princesses made their first public appearance in the Miss Oregon parade in Seaside Saturday afternoon and got their first thrill as applause and cheers greeted them along the line of march. From left in back are Betty Morris, Star of the Sea; Margey Wilson, Seaside; Mary Jane Kurath, Astoria; Jennie Shultz, Warrenton and Anna Marie Marinovich, Knappa-Svensen. The Royal Chinooks were escorts.

New Miss Oregon Named At Seaside

Big Crowd Watches Paraders

SEASIDE (Special)—One of the biggest crowds to stretch over an elongated line of march watched the Miss Oregon parade in Seaside Saturday afternoon and cheered the 20 lovely Miss Oregon contestants on their way along the glory road of the Miss Oregon Pageant.

A seagull's eye-view of the line of march could have resembled a garland of colorful flowers as the contestants with Miss Oregon 1958 and Miss Seaside rode atop gleaming convertibles, with the bouffant skirts of their different colored formals spread out petal-like over the back end of the cars.

Route Long

The parade route, cleared by the Seaside police, started from the "U" on Beach drive at 2 p.m., hitting the more crowded stretches of Broadway about 2:20. Led off by a color guard from Tongue Point naval base, advance escort by Mayor Les Raw, Miss Oregon 1958 Mary Ellen Venton and Miss Seaside Virginia Morgan was followed by Miss Oregon candidates from Tillamook-Gold Coast, Pendleton, Malheur county, Yamhill county, Salem, Corvallis, Warm Springs, Coos Bay, Springfield and Jackson county.

Separated by the Scottish Pipe band of Portland were the other contestants from Prineville, The Dalles, Forest Grove, Lincoln county, Jefferson county, Portland, Sweet Home, Baker and Central Oregon.

Judges for the four-day pageant came next in two cars, Mrs. Eli McConkey, Astoria, getting the largest share of the applause from local residents along the route.

The Astoria 1959 Regatta court, in trim navy blue and white nautical dress rode in a convertible furnished by Harold Holmes. They were accompanied to Seaside by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hutchens.

The Astoria Clowns added the bright spot of comics to the parade with their gooney antics along the line of march, adding a man-sized gorilla to their merrymaking personnel and to the delight of the youngsters in the crowd. The clowns were the recipients of one of the trophies to be awarded by the Seaside Chamber of Commerce for the first time this year.

Other trophies went to the Naselle Air Force drill team for its snappy rhythm routines; the Tillamook-Gold Coast Buccaneer float of pirates, male and female; the Beaverton high school band for a musical unit; and the Clatsop County Wranglers, horses and riders resplendent in new aqua and white trappings emblazoned with their motif, a sea horse.

Other units were the Dahlia court atop the fire engine, a jet-bound Reddy Kilowatt, the Banks Buffalo float with girls in Centennial costume, Longview Junior Drum and Bugle corps, several antique cars, mounted riders including the Clatsop Teen-Trotters club, several miniature horsedrawn sulkies and the Moose Hunters.

Final float, following the mounted riders and winding up the parade, was that of the city street cleaning department.

Former Queen To Chaperone Court

A former Astoria Regatta Queen Mrs. Harry Swanson Jr., has been named official chaperone for the 1959 Regatta court by the Regatta board of directors. Mrs. Swanson reigned as Regatta queen in 1934, just twenty-five years ago.

During the past year Mrs. Swanson has been teaching at Parrish Junior high school and Waldo Junior high school in Salem, while her husband served as aide to Gov. Robert D. Holmes during his term of office. Next year she will teach English at Astoria high school.

Anchor Club Maps Course For Regatta

Astoria's Anchor club cast-off for a busy summer this week as Skipper Mrs. Harry Duff announced the roster of Anchor committees assigned to work on the annual Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival.

Traditionally the Anchor club participates in the Regatta-Fish Festival celebration as directors of coronation ceremonies and many other events connected with the celebration. This year the Regatta-Fish Festival is scheduled to run from August 27 through August 30.

Coronation Set

Coronation of the Queen, to be chosen from a court composed of five graduating senior girls chosen from Clatsop county high schools, will be held Thursday, August 27. Co-chairmen of the coronation activities are Mrs. William Leahy, and Mrs. Charles Gustafson, Mrs Duff said.

Other committee members assigned to work on coronation and royal court activities are:

Coronation Setting—Mrs. Donald Hoyer, chairman, Mrs Robert Reed, Mrs. Arthur Johnson, and Miss Ann Schairer.

Coronation Program — Mrs Charles Smith and Mrs. Leonard Harris.

Royal Court Wardrobe — Mrs Kenneth Hill and Mrs. Hiram Johnson.

Publicity — Mrs. Eldred Mittet.

Other committee assignments released by Mrs. Duff for major Anchor club Regatta-Fish Festival activities includes the appointment of Mrs. Arthur Johnson and Mrs. Vernon Larson as co-chairmen of the Anchor club royal court luncheon committee. This is an anntal affair and last year more than 300 persons attended. It was held at the cafeteria of the new Astoria high school. The royal court and past queens of the Regatta are honored at the luncheon.

Others assigned to this committee include: Mrs Hugh Wahlen, Mrs. Jack Springer, Mrs Paul Thonen and Mrs. Harold Frew.

General chairman of the Anchor club Regatta-Fish Festival committee this year is M. Vernon Mogenson. Mrs. Duff announced.

Other committees for the event are:

Decorations—Mrs. John Cederberg and Mrs. Allen Davis, co-chairmen, Mrs. Richard Riutta, Mrs Victor Olson, Mrs. John H. Nellor and Miss Clovia Wells.

Refreshments—Mrs. David Hoyer and Mrs. Charles Lebeck, co-chairmen, Mrs. Harold Johnson, Mrs William Gunderson Jr., Mrs. Donald Johnson, Mrs. Ronald Hubbard, Mrs Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. Frank Thornton.

Assigned to direct the style show, a new event for the Anchor club during Regatta-Fish Festival season this year, is Mrs. George Fulton, Mrs Duff said. Other committee members are Mrs. Sam Yockey, Mrs. John Hill and Mrs Allard Conger.

In charge of the Anchor club drill team, which plays a prominent part in all Anchor club Regatta activities, is Mrs. Stanley Sagen.

A meeting held this week at the home of Mrs. Duff launched the Regatta season for the club.

Members of the royal Regatta-Fish Festival court this year are: Margery Wilson, Seaside, Mary Jane Kurath, Astoria, Anna Marie Marincovich, Knappa; Jenny Schultz, Warrenton, and Betty Morris Star of the Sea.

Chaperone for the court is Mrs. Harry Swanson Jr., a former Regatta queen.

1958 Regatta Princess, Patricia Rose Nogle Is Wed

MR. AND MRS. DUANE KERANEN

(Ball Photo)

Roses and rhododendron decked the Seaside Christian church chapel Saturday for the wedding of Miss Patricia Rose Nogle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Nogle, Jewell to Duane Keranen, son of Waine Keranen and Mrs. W. J. Neumann, Vancouver.

The Rev. Wilbur Hensley conducted the service for which the bride was escorted by her father. An antique Swiss music box, bought by the bride's great-grandparents in 1890, softly played Lohengrin's wedding song. Tapers were lighted by Miss Linda Neumann and William Neumann Jr.

The bride, a 1958 Regatta princess, wore a full-length tiered lace and net gown, her veil and head piece worn by her mother at her wedding, and her bouquet a spray of white roses.

Miss Lynn Tweedy, her only attendant, wore aqua with a nosegay of variegated carnations. Jaxon Nogle, brother of the bride, attended the groom and Joseph Castellano, brother-in-law of the bride, was usher.

Mrs. Nogle wore a pink lace sheath with bone-white accessories, and pastel pink orchids, while Mrs. Neumann, mother of the groom, chose lavender lace with a lavender orchid corsage.

The L. W. Knutson home in Gearhart was the scene of the wedding reception where arrangements of summer flowers were used about the rooms. Miss Darlene Hall presided at the silver service. Miss Kellie Nogle, sister of the bride, served the punch. Miss Rita Nogle and Miss Lynn Claudia Christenson, cousins of the bride, cut the three-tiered cake and Mrs. Joseph Castellano registered the guests.

A corsage of golden roses, made by the groom's grandmother, topped the white travelling suit worn with white accessories by the bride for her wedding trip down the Oregon coast to Burbank, Calif., where the bridal couple will reside after June 15.

In Seaside for the wedding and the following reception in Gearhart were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Small, Aumsville, Ore., grandparents of the bride; Mrs. Bonnie Williamson Campbell, Kingsa Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kilby, Eugene; Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Nuson and Terry, Clatskanie; Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Holman, Ellensburg, Wash., grandparents of the groom; W. A. Keranen and Mr. and Mrs. Win Neumann, Linda and Billy, Vancouver; Mrs. Eugene Tweedy, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Nogle, Miss Pamela Newport, Janeth Atterbury, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Dorner, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Dorner, Mrs. Beverly Kargman and daughter Claudia, all of Portland; Mrs. Donovan Mitchell, Mrs. Charles M. Gustafson and Miss Ellen Morris, Astoria.

Clatsop's "Big Day" On Sunday

Sunday will be Clatsop county's big day at the Oregon Centennial fair when 320 Clatsop citizens will collaborate to put on an entertainment program throughout the afternoon.

Dr. Edward Harvey, in charge of the event, has announced that Robert J. Hanson will act as master of ceremonies for the program. It will be held in the Centennial bandstand if the weather is fair and in the International Theater building if things are rainy.

Many Clatsop county people are expected to visit the fair for the day, in addition to those scheduled to perform.

Arts Show Set

There will be a continuous demonstration of arts and crafts from 12 to 5 o'clock, with Mrs. E. Peterson Jr., Mrs. Graham Sheets and Mrs. S. H. Lacey in charge.

The Royal Chinooks drum and bugle corps, the Oregon governor's official corps, will parade through the exposition grounds, starting at 11 o'clock, to inaugurate the Clatsop program.

At 12:30 the Astoria high school band, sextet and trio will open the program, under direction of T. G. Marshall with Dr. C. W. Browning as coordinator.

A Finnish chorus directed by Helvie Silver and Ed Mattala as coordinator will come on at 1:30, to be followed by the Finnish Brotherhood Dramatic club's presentation of a one-act play at 2 o'clock. Sophia Thompson is coach and Matt Kujala is coordinator.

Regatta Court Appears

Gordon Hutchens will introduce the Astoria Regatta and Fish Festival royal court at 2:45 p.m., and this will be followed by a Centennial fashion show at 3 p.m., with Adelaine Sather as director. A dance by the Daughters of Norway dance team, directed by Adelaine Sather, will come on at 3:45 to wind up the program.

Travelers to the fair can reach the grounds from downtown Portland by way of Interstate or Denver avenues, turning off at the Columbia slough crossing to reach the parking areas. Travelers going by the Columbia highway may cross the St. Johns bridge to the fair grounds.

Performers may gain access to the fair by going to the main east gate, at the northeast corner of the exposition building, where Mrs. Clark Hayden or Mrs. Harvey will grant admission.

Booth All Set

Visitors to the fair Sunday can also see the Clatsop county booth, as well as booths installed by the Columbia River Fishermen's union and CRPA, telling about the fishing industries and its products.

Chamber of Commerce manager who returned Thursday evening from Portland reported that the Clatsop booth is in operation and in his opinion is one of the better county booths there.

Rolf Klep, designer of the booth, and Burghy Bell, county Centennial coordinator, went to Portland Friday morning to arrange for some needed alterations and improvements to the booth.

Miss Linda Blomquist of Astoria and Miss Helen Lerback of Seaside are on duty as booth attendants.

History Shown

William Westerholm, member of the fishermen's union, arranged the union's booth showing the history of the fishing industry. Westerholm said today the union is looking for a manikin to be dressed in foul weather clothing as an exhibit in the booth.

CRPA has installed a booth showing products of the local fishing industry.

Citywide Funds Drive Kicksoff For Regatta

Monday 1st Day Of Bid

A full-scale city-wide funds drive for the Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival will kick off Monday with a business area solicitation, Mrs. Lucille Maris, Regatta board finance committee chairman, announced today.

The drive, which will be conducted by a 'brigade' of more than 25 Regatta fund raising volunteers, will be the main funds drive by the association this year, Mrs Maris said. It will hit every business and professional group in the community, in an effort to finance the Centennial year Regatta-Fish Festival.

Stickers Ready

Contributors will receive a window sticker indicating that they are one of the 'sponsors' of the celebra- [illegible] this summer. This donation will provide advertising space in the Centennial year Regatta-Fish Festival program and it will also be the only time direct solicitation for funds will be made of business and professional groups, Mrs. Maris said. However, a large scale Regatta-Fish Festival booster button drive is to be conducted.

Regatta - Fish Festival sponsor stickers will also be sold to individual [illegible] both to display and advertise the Festival spirit and advertise the locality Mrs Maris pointed out.

Canvass Studied

Other possible funds-raising efforts will be a house-to-house canvass of the entire city. "We intend to at least ask everyone in Astoria if they wish to buy a booster button," Mrs. Maris stated.

As a pre-funds drive kickoff, more than 350 letters were mailed Friday to business and professional groups in the community explaining the drive for funds. In the letter Regatta association President Jean Hallaux stressed the importance of the celebration to Clatsop county during the observance of Oregon's 100th anniversary.

He pointed out the Regatta association is the oldest sponsoring body of a community celebration in the Pacific northwest and that a historic year such as this one would hardly be a good time to drop the celebration.

Budget Pared

An operating budget of $6000 has been set by the association for this year. In recent years more than $14,000 has been turned over during the summer celebration.

Despite this reduced budget Hallaux said, "The board of directors feels a celebration can be produced which will be attractive to all [illegible] and will revive the traditional Regatta spirit and cooperation so long lost in Astoria."

Mrs. Maris said volunteer solicitators will be armed with receipt books and will be on the streets Monday morning to start the campaign No time limit has been placed on the length of the drive, but it will be extensive, she said.

Members of the board of directors met Thursday night and outlined tentative events for the summer festival.

Items included so far are swimming races, speedboat and hydroplane races, and the huge fish feed

Dances Set

John Shenk, Astoria oilman, also attended the meeting and was appointed to serve with board members Joe Tursi and Lewis Wright in mapping plans for marine events.

Howard Jollie, a member of the Sunset Area square dance council, also attended the session and announced the group would again sponsor a square dance festival to be held in conjunction with the Regatta. It will be held at the Naval Reserve building at the Port Docks on August 29 in the evening.

Regatta Drive On

The campaign for funds for the 1959 Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival got underway this week with a solicitation of the business district, according to Lucille Maris, Regatta board finance committee chairman.

More than 25 volunteer fund raisers will contact every business and professional group in the community. Contributors will receive a window sticker showing that they have become sponsors of the big summer event.

Donations will provide advertising space in the Centennial year Regatta-Fish Festival program and will be the only solicitation made for funds, Mrs. Maris said.

In addition a large-scale Regatta Fish Festival booster button drive will be conducted. The sponsor stickers will also be sold for display in cars to advertise the festival.

A house-to-house canvas will also probably be made Mrs. Maris said.

Jean Hallaux, president of the Regatta association, has pointed out that the association is the oldest sponsoring body of a community celebration in the Pacific northwest and that a historic year such as this Centennial one would be a poor time to drop the event.

The budget this year has been set at $6000.

John Shenk, Astoria oilman, was appointed to serve with board members Joe Tursi and Lewis Wright in mapping plans for marine events.

Howard Jollie, member of the Sunset Area square dance council, has announced that the group would again sponsor a square dance festival to be held at the Naval Reserve building at the Port Docks on August 29.

MR. AND MRS. GENE P. REXRODE

Jacquelyn Josephson Is Wed To Engineer in Sausalito

News from Sausalito, Calif., tells of the recent wedding there of a former Astoria girl Miss Jacquelyn June Josephson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil A. Josephson, 404 West Lexington, to Gene P. Rexrode, Mill Valley, Calif., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rexrode, Louisville, Ky.

The Presbyterian church in Sausalito, where the Rev Robert McKenzie conducted the double ring ceremony, had bouquets of white gladioli, stock and baby breath and on the altar, brass vases, flanked by lighted tapers in brass, held white roses and carnations.

The bride wore a waltz length gown of white imported Swiss embroidered organdy with fitted bodice, scalloped neckline, short sleeves and bouffant tiered skirt. Her head veil was held in place by a tiny cap of crystalette, she wore organdy mitts and carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid with streamers tied with elf rosebuds.

Former Astorian Attends

Miss Janet Larson, Sausalito, formerly of Astoria, was her only attendant in a frock of soft green imported organdy in waltz length, the bodice fashioned of lace over organdy, the bouffant skirt appliqued with delicate lace forming a wide border at the hemline. With it she wore a matching organdy headband and carried a nosegay of white elf roses encircled with white carnations and tulle.

John Litchliter, Sacramento, was chosen for best man, and the usher was Herman Pritchard.

Parents of the bridal couple were unable to attend the ceremony.

During the ceremony, Donald Francisco, organist, played a medley of wedding selections, including "O Perfect Love."

Reception At House

The new home of the bride and groom on Shoreline highway was the scene of a reception at noon following the wedding service where white flowers and tapers formed the decor and massed greenery and flowers flanked the fireplace.

Mrs. John Litchliter, Sacramento, poured, Mrs. Herman Pritchard, El Cerrito, cut the two-tiered cake, which was decorated with flowers and doves and topped by wedding bells and lilies-of-the-valley, while Miss Patricia Matthews and Miss Shirley Dirro, both of Astoria, assisted about the rooms.

The young couple left on a honeymoon to Carmel, for which the bride changed to a black waffle-weave fitted wool suit with large white collar, white accessories and black patent leather pumps and bag, with her white wedding orchid.

The bride, an Astoria member of Beta Sigma Phi is employed at the Presidio, San Francisco, while her bridegroom, a graduate of Manuel high school, Louisville, in 1931, received his degree in engineering from the University of Louisville, where he was affiliated with Sigma Tau honorary engineering fatermity, and the American Society of Civil Engineers. They will reside at 419 Shoreline highway, Mill Valley, the groom employed as a civil engineer with the Bay Toll Crossings, San Francisco.

Following the announcement of their engagement May 31, Mrs. James Ulrey was hostess at a luncheon shower in San Francisco.

Former Astorians present at the wedding and reception included the Misses Patricia Matthews, Shirley Dirro and Janet Larson, roommates of the bride, Mr and Mrs. Peder Pederson, Jerry Smith and Jon Cosovich.

Mr. and Mrs. Rexrod plan to visit their parents and friends in Astoria in September.

Regatta Court Princesses Feted By Chaperone

Mrs Harry Swanson, official chaperone for the 1938 Regatta [illegible] ber of the Anchor club Regatta wardrobe committee, Tuesday evening.

The first get-together of the Regatta princesses parents and the officials was an evening coffee, served in the spacious dining room of the Swansons' Victorian home on Duane, where Mrs. Jean Hallaux, wife of the Regatta president, and Mrs. Gordon Hutchens, wife of the Regatta vice-president, poured. Miss Christine Swanson assisted in serving.

During the informal social evening, the five princesses and their officials discussed wardrobe plans, problems of protocol and other important details of the exciting days of the Regatta next month.

A surprise visit during the evening was that of Col. and Mrs. Donald French (Jean Paulsen), here on a visit. Mrs. French was one of Mrs Swanson's [illegible] when the latter was Regatta Queen 25 years ago.

Regatta Court Busy

The five Regatta princesses have launched on a busy round of appearances before various dinner and luncheon meetings of service clubs.

The Royal court appeared before the Astoria Rotary club last Wednesday and gave speeches concerning the forthcoming Regatta celebration.

The five princesses are: Margery Wilson, Seaside; Jenita T. Shultz, Warrenton; Anna Marie Marinkovich, Knappa; Betty Morris, Star of the Sea; Mary Jane Kuratli, Astoria. They are accompanied by their chaperone Mrs. Harry Swanson Jr.

The court has also appeared at the Astoria Anchor club meeting and the Kiwanis club. Other tours slated include: July 28, Astoria Lions club; August 6, Lions Auxiliary; August 12, Officers Wives Tea, Tongue Point Naval station; August 13, Zonta club; August 22, Anchor club tea; August 25, Rotary Anns.

The annual Regatta-Fish Festival celebration will run from August 27 through August 30.

WELCOME

[illegible] congratulations to eight new members who were initiated at the last meeting. Each girl was presented with an Anchor pin. The new members are: Carol Seppa, Anne Strachan, Retta Salo, Margaret [illegible]mpson, Joyce Lundholm, Doris Bryant, Betty K[illegible]pelt and Nadine Slotte.

These girls proved that there will be no shortage of talent in our group, judging from the grand performance they put on the night of initiation.

The girls of the Old West would have to throw a high ruffle to compete with the "Can-Can" girls of this era, wouldn't they! And to say nothing of the sharp shooters and brave sheriff we have, too.

Annual Visits To Clubs Launched By Regatta Court

Five princesses of the Royal Regatta court were special guests of the Astoria Rotary club Wednesday noon as they started the annual round of dinner and luncheon visits with Astoria service clubs.

Various aspects of the forthcoming Regatta celebration were discussed by each of the five girls in short speeches. The five are: Margery Wilson, Seaside; Jenita T. Shultz, Warrenton; Anna Marie Marincovich, Knappa; Betty Morris, Star of Sea; Mary Jane Kuratli, Astoria. The girls were accompanied by chaperone Mrs. Harry Swanson, Jr., and Regatta association Pr. sident Jean Hallaux.

The meeting was the regular Wednesday session of the Rotary club.

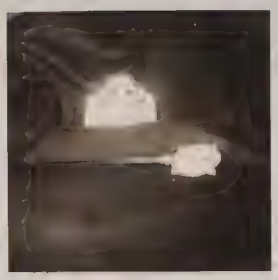

Earlier Regatta-Fish Festival princesses visited the Astoria Anchor club on Monday in the traditional first stop on their annual club visitation tour. They again presented short speeches and were accompanied by the chaperone. A reception for them followed the regular business session of the Anchors.

Regatta planners meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the Ron Grave insurance office as deadline for the start of the 39th annual celebration nears. The celebration runs from August 27 through August 30.

Princesses also were scheduled as guests of the Kiwanis club for luncheon Thursday noon. President Hallaux was scheduled to accompany them with Mrs. Swanson.

Other tours scheduled for the court include: Tuesday, July 28, Astoria Lions club, President Jean Hallaux will present the court. Thursday, August 6, Lions Auxiliary, Mrs. Harry Duff, association board member and Anchor skipper will present the court; Wednesday, August 12, Officers Wives Tea, Tongue Point Naval station, 2 to 4 p.m., Mrs. Duff will present the court. Thursday, August 13, Zonta club, Mrs. William Leahy will present the court; Saturday, August 22, Anchor club tea, Tuesday, Aug [illegible] Rotary Anns, Mrs. William [illegible] will present the court.

Organizations which desire visits from the court and have not scheduled them are urged to do so as soon as possible. They may make arrangements for visits by calling the association secretary, Mrs. [illegible] FA 5-3038, or Gordon Huff [illegible] association vice-president in charge of court activities at FA 2-6489.

Princesses Guests of Anchor Club

The Regatta court made its first appearance in crisp white skirts and houses, topped by navy blue Centennial jackets, at the Anchor meeting at the Yacht club Monday.

Royal chaperone Mrs. Harry Swanson introduced each princess, then each gave a short talk on a part of the Astoria Regatta and Fish Festival.

The Anchor drill team, the queen's official escort, is busy practicing for formation at the coronation and will also march in the parade, according to Mrs. Norman Sagen, chairman.

Regatta plans are in full swing. Each Anchor is busy on at least one committee to assist in every way to make the annual Regatta a success.

Mrs. Vernon Mogensen, general chairman of the tea, has announced the occasion honoring the princesses and chaperone will be held August 22 at the Yach club. All women of the county are invited to attend this affair and meet the court and their mothers.

The luncheon honoring the queen and her court will be held Saturday, August 29, at the high school cafeteria, according to Mrs. Arthur Johansen, general chairman. Mrs. George Fulton is chairman of the style show that will be presented at the luncheon.

The princesses had a chance to look at the crown and scepter as they were displayed in a setting of flowers and candlelight. Mrs. Eldred Mittet, chairman for evening, poured. She was assisted by Mrs. Arthur Johnson, Mrs. Don Kubik and Mrs. Charles Leback. Mrs. Robert Reiter and Mrs. Richard Riutta were the prize winners of the evening.

Five Princesses Named For Fete

Mary Jane Kuratli, Astoria high school senior, was chosen Regatta princess last Friday night at a dance in the American Legion Club. Miss Kuratli's selection completes the Regatta court for 1959.

She graduated from Capt. Robert Gray school and has been very active in school activities throughout her four years in Astoria high school. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Kuratli, 1348 Jerome Ave.

The four other Regatta princesses, each representing a Clatsop county high school, are Anna Marie Marincovich, Knappa High; Jenny Schultz, Warrenton High; Betty Morris, Star of the Sea high, and Margie Wilson, Seaside High.

One of the five princesses will be chosen queen of the annual event some time this month.

You're Invited to a Party

Regatta Princess Betty Morris left, nurses aid at St. Mary hospital, listens happily as Jeanette Marincovich USO Girl of the Season tells her that the Regatta court will be honored at a dance Thursday night at the USO. Miss Marincovich, also employed at the hospital, explains that the event is an annual one, sponsored by the Navy boys and junior hostesses of the USO. (A-B Photo)

Wright To Head Festival

LEWIS WRIGHT

[illegible] for the 38th annual water festival scheduled to start August 27 and run through August 30.

A busy meeting session was topped with announcement that Lewis Wright, an employee of Columbia River Packers association, would head the 4th annual Fish festival.

Inaugurated in 1956, the fish fete has become an integral part of the celebration and is a salute to the fishing industry in the area.

For three years Dr. E. W. Harvey, of the Seafoods laboratory has been director of fish fete events. This year Dr. Harvey is city Centennial chairman. Events of the Fish Festival will be integrated into the Regatta itself, which is primarily composed of land events this year, but with a full day of marine activities.

Fish Feed Due

Main features of the projected fish salute this year will be a fish feed, cooking contests, cooking demonstrations and other activities.

Wright, who is a graduate of Astoria high school, is a member of the board of directors of the association. He returned to Astoria about two years ago from Vancouver, Wash., where he worked at the Vancouver CRPA receiving station.

Other plans projected by the association. He returned to Astoria. Campaign to be officially kicked-off in the near future, according to Mrs. Lucile Maris, button sales chairman.

Low Admission Eyed

A virtually "admission-free" Regatta-Fish fete is planned this year, Jean Hallaux, president said, if fund raising campaigns prove successful.

He said this did not mean that no admissions would be charged for Regatta events, but that admission prices would be "geared to the economy-minded pocketbook."

Fund raising for the association [illegible]ed, he pointed out, and he urged helpers to push the drive and called for the cooperation of the merchants.

A full day of racing, to be headed by John Schenk, is planned. A Youth activity day and a free Coronation Centennial costume ball are also planned tentatively.

Joining Regatta planners were Miss Adelaine Sather and Mrs. Murray Smith. They will work on an International festival to be featured by the Smorgasette and a program presented by the various national groups represented in Astoria.

Regatta Buttons Campaign Starts

Button sales campaign for the Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival kicked off Wednesday under the direction of Mrs. Lucile Maris, association board member.

The drive, which is county-wide will cover various organizations, business districts, industrial areas and household areas in an effort to "pin a button on everyone."

Job's Daughters started the sale on Commercial street Wednesday morning. Other organizations already pledged to sell, include Astoria Anchor club, Beta Sigma Phi, DeMoleys and Rainbow girls. Organizations which sell at least 250 buttons will get a percentage of the total sales.

Goal for the booster button sale is 5000, Mrs. Maris said. Drives are also planned for Knappa, Seaside, Warrenton and other areas in the county.

Officially in charge of the drive is the Anchor club. The buttons will admit wearers to some Regatta events free, Jean Hallaux, association president, said.

Regatta Parade Entry Blanks Sent

More than 65 invitations and entry blanks have been mailed out during the past month to possible entrants in the Astoria Regatta-Oregon Fish Festival parade, set for Saturday August 29.

William Ohlmann is general chairman of the annual Jaycee-directed event. Several inquiries from groups interested in entering but not on the original mailing list have been received.

Persons or groups interested in [illegible] the parade, or with suggestions for the event can reach Ohlmann at [illegible]

Admission Prices Could be The Trouble —

We are glad to note that the Astoria Regatta planners have decided to make admission prices attractive to whole families.

We have long believed that high admission prices to special events, as well as theatres and the like have resulted in poor attendance. A family with four children must plan on five dollars for admission to even the least expensive events. One can imagine how many such events a family can take in during the Regatta for instance. Even if the children are left home, a baby sitter fee is often necessary. Or rather than feel selfish about going to something the children would enjoy also. Mom and Dad decide to stay home too. In this way, even the two adult admissions are lost.

It would seem that when costs of an event are not appreciably increased by an increase in attendance it would be more profitable to draw a really big crowd with low admission than a poor one with high admission.

Too many things have been blamed on the advent of TV. We for one would find TV far less attractive than a live performance if attending it were within the range of the family pocketbook.

MR. AND MRS. CLARK PERRY MILLER

Miller-Sandoz Wedding Is Summer Social Event

A gentle breeze from the sea swayed the alders and swirled hundreds of heart-shaped petals around Mrs. Clark Perry Miller (Susan Sandoz) Saturday evening, as she tossed her bridal bouquet from the terraced walk of her parents' home to the outstretched arms of her bridesmaids, sorority sisters and school-mates waiting below. The dark-haired, stately daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Frederick Sandoz had exchanged wedding vows that afternoon with the son of the Darl Vernon Millers of Portland.

The double-ring ceremony, conducted by the Rev. Jack Walden, called friends of both families from many parts of the northwest and more distant spots, packing the First Presbyterian church to standing room status. Large fan-shaped arrangements of snow white gladioli, spider chrysanthemums, stock and yellow-centered chiffon daisies graced the sanctuary, flanked by seven-branced candelabra, lighted by the ushers, after which Mrs. Robert C. Anderson sang "Calm Is the Night" and "Through the Years," accompanied by Mrs. Charles Dodge on the organ. "The Lord's Prayer" was sung by Mrs. Anderson as the bridal couple knelt at the benediction.

The wedding aisle, down which the bride was escorted by her father, was festooned with French bows of white satin holding clusters of lily-of-the-valley, daisies and ivy.

White organdy embroidered with yellow-centered daisies fashioned the bride's gown, made with simple cowl neckline and wide bouffant skirt. A matching cap held her fingertip veil of imported illusion and she carried yellow-centered butterfly orchids and stephanotis.

Bridesmaids In Yellow

Mrs. John Supple (Mary Sandoz) was her cousin's matron-of-honor in a frock of pastel yellow organza in princess style, with deep ruching of the same shade around the skirt, ending in a large bow low in back. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Gary H. Leaverton, Portland, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Vincent Summerville, Seattle, Mrs. Edward Lilly, Eugene; Mrs. Hugh Seppa (Carol Holmes) and Miss Joan Matthews, in frocks identical to that of the maid-of-honor. All the bridal attendants wore slippers dyed to match their dresses, head bows appliqued with daisies and carried bouquets of daisies and ivy.

John Souther was chosen best man and groomsmen and ushers were Thomas Frederick Sandoz Jr., brother of the bride; Samuel E. Dick, Dr. Gary H. Leaverton, Donald Hart, Samuel C. Skillern and Harry H. Brown.

Mrs. Sandoz wore a sheath of yellow Japanese brocade for her daughter's wedding, with a head net trimmed in yellow velvet, and a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Miller's gown was of gray starched organza with tiered peplum, garnet velvet hat and spray of matching carnations at her waist.

Wedding Bells Chime

Church bells rang out as the final vows were made and several hundred wedding guests left the church for the Sandoz home on the hill, where striped canopies stretched across the lawns and colored Japanese lanterns glowed among the trees at dusk. Inside the home massive arrangements of white gladioli, asters, chrysanthemums and yellow-centered daisies repeated the wedding decor of the church. Tall silver epergnes holding chiffon daisies and stephanotis flanked by towering candelabra graced the bride's table, where, presiding at the silver coffee services were the Mesdames Mary Dick, Seattle; Gordon Clark, Portland; Elton Louks, Omaha, Neb.; Roy Ayer, Portland; Fred S. Sandoz and Victor Watson throughout the afternoon and evening.

The little Misses Martha Jean and Barbara Ann Bolton, cousins of the bride from San Rafael, registered the guests.

Cocktails and Canapes

Champagne and caviar were served during the early part of the reception, with miniature hamburgers charcoal-broiled at one end of the garden, until a fried chicken buffet was spread under the large tent on the side lawn.

The attractive newlyweds left on a honeymoon to Lake Tahoe, Carmel and the San Francisco bay area, for which the bride changed from her wedding gown to a gold silk shantung suit, brown hat and purse and brown and white feathered hat with the orchids from her wedding bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller will reside in Portland, where the bridegroom, a graduate of the University of Oregon, is associated with a well-known insurance company.

Among the guests at the wedding and reception were many residents of Portland, the Willamette valley, Seattle, several from Idaho, Spokane, California and Denver, with some coming from New York and Santiago, Chile, especially for the occasion.

They Were Belles of the Ball at USO

The five pretty princesses of the 1959 Regatta were honored last night by the USO at a dance in the upstairs ballroom, which was festooned with rose colored streamers and colored lights. Kent Freeman, member of the operational board of the USO, was master of ceremonies, introducing each princess. The Starlighters orchestra played for dancing, and there was a brimming punch bowl and home-made cookies from the senior hostesses at intermission time. Princesses and their chaperone, Mrs. Harry Swanson Jr., received dainty wrist corsages from the USO. Shown in their new "Tic-Tac-Toe" sweater blouses, gifts from Marion's Style shop, which they wore with trim white skirts, are, from left, Princesses Jennie Shultz, Warrenton; Margie Wilson, Seaside; Anna Marie Marinovich, Knappa; Betty Morris, Star of the Sea; and Mary Jane Kurulli, Astoria. Mrs. Marcus Irene Dunaway is new junior hostesses advisor.

Seafoods Cooking Events on Agenda For Regatta, Festival

Continuation of the seafoods cooking contest and seafoods cooking demonstrations as components of the Regatta-Fish Festival was announced today by Lewis Wright, Fish Festival director, with appointment of Anne Strachan, Clatsop county home economics agent, as chairman of the two events.

Wright said Miss Strachan would serve as general chairman for both of the events which are to be held at the 4-H Fairgrounds buildings on August 28, the second day of the 39th annual water festival.

The Savory Seafoods Search, the cooking contest, will have six divisions this year and cash prizes will be given as well as a perpetual trophy to the garnd prize winner. Divisions are: appetizers, chowders and soups, salads, entrees, seafoods prepared by a man, and seafoods prepared by a girl or boy.

A total of 13 cash prizes will be given, Miss Strachan said, including the grand prize and first and second prizes in each division.

Entry blanks for the seafood cooking contest are now available in local stores or may be obtained from Miss Strachan or other members of the Regatta board of directors.

Assisting Miss Strachan in the supervision of the contest are Mrs. Rudy Lovvold and Mrs. C M. Love. Persons interested in assisting are urged to call Miss Strachan. Judges for the contest have not as yet been selected.

Cooking demonstrations are also to be held at the 4-H Fairgrounds. The emphasis this year will be for teenagers, Miss Strachan said. Two teenagers from each of several organizations in the county are being asked to demonstrate seafood dishes.

Groups participating are the Girls Service Organization, Job's Daughters, Rainbow girls, including one chapter from Long Beach, Wash., and one from Seaside, Theta Rho, 4-H groups, Junior Norwegian group, Tri-Hi-Y, Christian Endeavor.

The event will be held in the demonstration room of the 4-H Fairground buildings. Hours are 10 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 p.m. to 3 p.

Mrs. Richard Jacobson is assisting Miss Strachan in organizing the event.

A search is also under way for a name for this event. In the past it was referred to as Fish Favorites from Far Away when foreign seafoods were featured. But, with the teenage seafood demonstrations a new name is sought. Anyone desiring to submit a name may do so by calling Miss Strachan at the county extension office.

Plans For Fete Ironed Out By Regatta Board

Button sales and program plans were main topics of a lengthy session of the board of directors of the Astoria Regatta association Thursday night with the start of the historic celebration just 20 days away.

Association directors, under the gavel of President Jean Hallaux, hammered out some decisions to iron out the wrinkle in the final program planning.

Under present plans the celebration will kick-off Thursday, August 27, with arrival of an admiral. Tentative plans call for selection of a local admiral at a special Regatta recognition dinner to be held at the USO building August 31. Coronation of the queen is to be held at the Astoria Armory.

Plans and program for this event are under the direction of Mrs. William Leahy, first mate of the Anchor club. The Queen's ball, which is to be a Centennial costume ball will follow the coronation and it will also be held at the Armory.

Friday Events Due

Highlighting Friday events will be the cooking demonstrations and cooking contest with the children's parade in the evening. Friday night an International festival, which features the International Smorgasbile, is slated for the Armory. The Kiwanis club is in charge of the children's parade. Friday noon the annual Tongue Point luncheon will be held.

Various foreign nationals will participate in this program. Directing activities are Mrs. Murray Smith and Hiram Johnson.

Saturday morning water events get under way at the east end mooring basin. These are directed by Joe Tursi and Lewis Wright, fish festival director.

At noon the Queen's luncheon, sponsored by the Anchor club, will be held at the cafeteria at Astoria high school. Persons desiring to attend are asked to place reservations as soon as possible.

Following this the Zonta club will present a tea and style show. This will be held on the lawn outdoors in front of the library.

Saturday night the first night grand land parade in Regatta history will be held in the downtown area. It starts at 6:30 p.m. This will be followed by the band show in the Armory.

Another new Regatta event, a youth festival and stunt day, will be held at Tapiola park. This will be directed by the Optimist club.

A full day of racing is planned for Sunday at the east end mooring basin, starting at 8 a.m. Time trials will be held in the morning with main events in the afternoon. These are directed by John Schenk. Marine parade and Blessing of the Fleet will also be held Sunday morning at the east end mooring basin.

The big fish feed will be held Sunday noon.

Final Regatta events will be held Sunday with the afternoon boat races at the east end mooring basin.

Other events scheduled include a Square Dance jamboree at the Naval resrv Armory Saturday night. Dats of the Regatta are August 27, 28, 29 and 30

Zontans to Stage Big Fashion Show At Regatta Tea

With the time for the Regatta and Fish Festival fast approaching, most of the business session at the Zonta club luncheon meeting Thursday, was devoted to the discussion and the further planning of the Centennial fashion show and tea which this club has scheduled for August 29th, the same day as the Anchor club's luncheon honoring the Queen and her princesses and the past Regatta Queens.

The luncheon is to be held from 12 to 1 o'clock in the Astoria high school Cafeteria, and this will be followed at 1:30 by the fashion show in the high school auditorium.

Immediately after the fashion show, the tea will be held on the greens in the courtyard, with both the fashion show and tea open to the public. All clothing merchants in the city are being asked to participate in this fashion show, for which there will be no charge.

Mrs. Norman Hirchert of the Kiddies Korner is the Zonta club's general chairman for this afafir.

Zontas Host 1959 Regatta Princesses

The Astoria Zonta club entertained the Regatta court and its chaperon Mrs. Harry Swanson at their noon luncheon Thursday, and in return were entertained by each of the five princesses, each princess discussing a different phase of the up-coming Astoria Regatta and Fish Festival.

To open the program, Lucille Maris, a Zontian and a member of the Regatta board, introduced Mrs. Swanson, this year's chaperon for the court, who after a short talk, introduced the first princess, Betty Morris, from Star of the Sea school. Princess Betty told the Zontians about the Fish Festival which includes the Savory Seafood recipe search and the annual fish feed which this year is planned to be a salmon barbecue.

Princess Anna Marie Marincovich of Knappa high school told the member about the coronation and the Centennial theme that has become part of almost all the events of this year's Regatta.

Next, Princess Mary Jane Kuratli of Astoria high school outlined the water events that will be featured during Regatta week, including the races, the marine parade and the annual blessing of the fleet.

Princess Jenny Schultz of Warrenton high school described the plans for the kiddies' parade and the grand parade and the square dance jamboree, and finally, Princess Marjorie Wilson of Seaside high school told about the International smorgasette. In closing, she thanked the members of the Zonta club for the invitation to the court and extended a cordial welcome to all to attend Regatta events this year.

In addition to the large turnout of Zontians at the meeting, Mrs. Ruth Ginn brought with her a guest, Mrs. Hugh Dow from Lodi, Calif. After the smorgasbord luncheon was finished, individual committees working on the fashion show and tea planned for Saturday, August 29, after the queen's luncheon at Astoria high school, met and completed their plans.

The fashion show will be held in the Astoria high school auditorium, beginning at 1:30 p.m. and will include new and old fashions not only in women and girls' lines but also for men and boys. After the fashion show is over, a Silver Centennial tea, sponsored by the Zontians, will be held "on the green" at the school. In discussing the program, the members re-emphasized that while reservations were necessary for the queen's luncheon beginning at noon on that day, all attending the luncheon and anyone else was cordially invited to the free fashion show and Centennial tea. Mrs. Lawrence Hirchert, general chairman for the event, said, "It's an event for the whole county during our Centennial year . . . we want everyone to come."

Regatta Board Outlines Events

Astoria's annual Regatta and Fish Festival will have a number of innovations and changes this year. Some final plans for the big ... scheduled for August 27, 28, 29, and 30, were ironed out last Thursday night by the directors of the Astoria Regatta association, under the direction of President Jean Hallnor.

The Regatta will open Thursday, August 27, with the arrival of an admiral, who will probably be selected at a special Regatta recognition dinner, tentatively slated for Aug. 21 in the USO building. A local man will carry the title of Regatta Admiral for this year's event.

The Coronation is to be held in the Armory, followed by the Queen's ball, a Centennial costume affair. Mrs. William Leahy, first mate of the Anchor club, is in charge.

Featured Friday will be the cooking demonstration and cooking contest, with the children's parade set for the evening. The Kiwanis club will sponsor the Kiddies' parade.

Friday night the International festival, featuring the Smorgasette will be held in the Armory under the direction of Mrs. Murray Smith and Hiram Johnson.

Saturday morning's water events will be held at the east end mooring basin, with Joe Tursi and Lewis Wright, fish festival director, in charge.

At noon the Anchor club will sponsor the Queen's luncheon, to be held at the Astoria high school cafeteria. Following this, the Zonta club will hold a tea and style show on the lawn outdoors in front of the school library.

This year's grand land parade will be an evening event. It is slated for Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. and will be followed by the band show in the Armory.

Another new Regatta event is a youth festival and stunt day scheduled for Tapiola Park and directed by the Optimist club.

Sunday will see a full day of racing at the east end mooring basin starting at 8 a.m. Time trials will be in charge of John Schenk. The marine parade and Blessing of the Fleet will also be held Sunday morning at the mooring basin.

Sunday noon the big fish feed will be conducted, followed by an afternoon of racing at the east end mooring basin.

A Square Dance jamboree, will be held Saturday night at the Naval Reserve Armory.

Centennial Salute Capped By Fete

Hanson Named Admiral

An Astoria based Coast Guard officer with a distinguished record of service stretching back more than a quarter of a century will serve as Admiral for the annual Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival, Jean Hallaux, president, announced today, as the water festival in the Pacific Northwest pays tribute to a service vital to the waterborne Sunset Empire.

Lt. Cmdr. Martin Hanson, commanding officer of the Port Security unit at the Port Docks will serve as titular head of the mythical Regatta realm, which launches its 39th season August 27 through August 30.

Selection of Cmdr. Hanson completes the series of Regatta salutes to the various branches of the military service, that began in 1952. He joins the company of the late Maj. Gen. Thomas E. Rilea, Maj. Gen. William P. Dean, Rear Admiral Albert Bledsoe and Maj. Gen. Chester McCarty who have held the title of Regatta Admiral in recent years.

Distinguished Career

Distinguished service with the Coast Guard both as an officer and an enlisted man for 28 years is the record completed by Cmdr. Hanson when he voluntarily retires from the service on August 31 just a day after his service as Regatta Admiral ends.

He began his career with the Coast Guard on August 17, 1933, as an enlisted man. It was at the start of World War II, that he was raised to officer status. Since that time he has climbed steadily to his present rank.

Cmdr. Hanson leaves the service to return to college to complete a master's degree and enter the teaching profession. He is a graduate of Occidental College with a bachelor's degree in English. His master's degree will be in mathematics. He will attend the University of Oregon.

[illegible] weekend will not mean a return to the northwest for Cmdr. Hanson and his wife and daughter Caroline. "We have friends here with the northwest," says [illegible] and we will live here [illegible]

Cmdr. Hanson and his family came to Astoria four years ago after Coast Guard service in World War II and the Korean conflict both at sea and in land bases.

He has served in California, Philippines, Guam, Florida, Virginia and Astoria. His home state is Florida although he was born in California.

Linked To Oregon

Linking [illegible] to Oregon is the fact that his wife is a native Oregonian. She was born and raised near Amity. He is linked through marriage even closer to the Oregon tradition. Her family holds the original deed on a farm near Amity that has been in the family since 1843.

During his long service Cmdr. Hanson has served as operations and executive officer aboard the Pontchartrain, a cutter, which was in the news quite prominently five years ago.

Honored

LT. CMDR. MARTIN HANSON

The vessel participated in the rescue of a group of persons aboard an airplane which crash-landed at sea while bound for Hawaii. This incident occurred the year after Cmdr. Hanson left the command.

His other service activities have won for him a variety of decorations. He wears: American Defense and American theater ribbon; Pacific Theater ribbon; World War II Victory medal; Korean campaign ribbon; Philippine Independance ribbon; expert rifle medal; and expert pistol medal.

Throughout his Coast Guard career Cmdr. Hanson has continued his lifelong interest in sports. At college he participated in football as both a center and tackle and was named an All Conference tackle in football. He was also captain of the tennis team, and all conference singles and doubles champion in the rugged Southern California collegiate conference.

Wins Tennis Crown

He won the Navy Far East tennis championship during his service in that zone against competitors from all Navy, Coast Guard and Marine units in the theater.

His record also includes the sea command of the USS Blunt-reed, a Coast Guard ship that worked with the Navy during the start of World War II. This ship identified every vessel that entered San Francisco bay during those tense days.

He has attended the Combat Information school in Boston; Control school in Philadelphia, and Atomic, Biological and Chemical warfare school in Maryland.

Cmdr. Hanson and his wife will make their home in Eugene next year and their daughter will enter Occidental college in California. She was a 1959 graduate of Astoria high school.

Active Here

During their four year stay in Astoria Cmdr. Hanson and his wife have been active in community affairs and civic affairs. They have both served in a variety of capacities.

Cmdr. Hanson is a member of the Astoria Kiwanis club and is serving on the board of directors for that club. He is also a past president of the Presbyterian Men's club. He is also on the board of directors of the Community Concert association.

He has served also as a member of the operating committee of the USO here.

Rough assignments have been plentiful for Cmdr. Hanson during his years in the Coast Guard and one of the roughest was right here in Astoria.

He recalls that the Astoria Kiwanis club last spring invited the top 10 per cent of the graduating class from the high school to be luncheon guests. They assigned Cmdr. Hanson to be speaker. He says he really sweated that assignment out—the reason, his daughter was one of the guests.

Annual Regatta On Tap

By JOHN H. NELLOR
A-B City Editor

Clatsop county's Centennial summer, as gay as a girl in a gingham gown, adds another bright candle to Oregon's already glittering 100th birthday cake next week as the Pacific Northwest's oldest community tips a jaunty Regatta cap in a final climatic anniversary salute to Old Oregon.

Astoria's annual Regatta Fish Festival, which has become a countywide celebration, caps one of the busiest summers this staid old Sunset Empire has ever experienced with four days of revelry August 27, 28, 29 and 30.

But this historic corner of Oregon, which can trace its roots back to 1811 with the founding of Astoria, has rocked all summer long as an increasing tempo of Centennial events has piled, virtually, one on another.

Hundreds of citizens have been involved in planning the series of birthday salutes within the county. In addition hundreds more have toured the famed Centennial Exposition center in Portland and visited the Clatsop booth, which occupies a prominent spot. But what could prove to be the biggest weekend lies just ahead.

Four-Day Event

Four days of Centennial-themed events are billed in the 39th Regatta and 4th annual Fish Festival, according to Jean Hallaux, association president. The entire celebration will be keyed to the Centennial observance and to an "Old fashioned" community celebration.

Some events, as old as the celebration itself, will be repeated again this year but some all new activities have been added. Among these is a Youth Activity day to be sponsored by the Optimist club. This event is planned to provide youngsters with a growing share in Regatta-Fish Festival activity. This is to be held August 29, in the afternoon.

It will be a field day with prizes for winners of supervised track and field events.

Another revival for this year will be a full day of racing on Sunday, August 30. Time trials are planned in the morning for hydroplanes with the final heats in the afternoon at the east end mooring basin.

Salmon Feed Set

Still another repeat event it the salmon barbecue. This year more than a ton of salmon will be prepared and served at the 4-H fairgrounds building. This is set for Sunday, August 30.

Kicking off Regatta-Fish Festival observances is the Queen's coronation, which is to be held at the Astoria armory, Thursday, August 27.

Other traditional events are crowded into the busy four-day schedule, one of the busiest in the memory of old-Regatta hands.

But the festival is just another event in what has been a hectic summer of celebration. All summer long Centennial-themed activities have been held in each corner of the county.

This weekend alone a trio of events attracted capacity crowds. Arrival of the Morning Star II, the Seaside Dahlia parade, and arrival of the Portland model railroad excursion train combined in a dizzying succession of events.

Started Early

Earlier this summer, the area added its first candles to Oregon birthday cake with the Miss Oregon Pageant at Seaside and dedication of the Salt Cairn.

This was followed by the dedication of the monument to Solomon and Cellast Smith on Clatskanie Plains, in a Centennial salute to Oregon's first school teachers.

In Astoria the county Arts and Crafts show has operated for several weeks and continues during the Regatta-Fish Festival. It has presented a variety of activities, capped in recent days by street dancing and outdoor sidewalk programs.

But the real start for the county celebration came last February with the visit of Vice President Richard M. Nixon for issuance of the Oregon Centennial stamp. Thousands of first-day covers were processed at the post office before the start of Oregon's big birthday party and on that big day Vice President Nixon braved inclement weather to keynote the entire Centennial from Astoria.

Coins For Sale

Centennial coins, shaving permits and many other schemes have been used by the county committee to raise funds.

Sharing the spotlight in planning county Centennial events are Ken Meier, county chairman, Burnley Bell, of the governor's committee, and Dr. E. W. Harvey, Astoria city chairman.

Regatta planners include, in addition to President Hallaux; Gordon Hutchens, vice president; Mrs. Harry Duff, secretary; Ron Graves, treasurer; Don Garris, Joe Tarsi, Lewis Wright, Mrs. Lucile Maris, and Eugene Lowe, directors of the Regatta association.

WELCOME TRAVELERS—Astorians turned out to greet this crowd of excursion train riders who arrived Sunday. Here Mayor Steinbock greets the group. They later toured historical sites in the county by bus.

Industry Is Saluted

FISHING SALUTED — Newest wrinkle to the historic Regatta celebration is the Oregon Fish Festival, which was launched in 1956 from an idea conceived by Dr. E. W. Harvey. Since that time it has been an integral part of the celebration. Dr. Harvey has directed the festival each year. Cooking contests are staged, exhibits shown during the fete.

Fish Feed Draws Crowd

BIG CROWDS—Moved under one roof in 1956 and 1958 at the Astoria Port Docks, Pier 3, the Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival, drew its largest crowds in years. Here a portion of the Regatta-Fish Fete fans are shown as they line-up for the huge fish fry staged in 1956. Some 4,000 persons were fed bottom fish on a Sunday afternoon as a festival climax.

Fish Festival To Include New "Teenarama"

"Seafood Teenarama" is the name selected by the Regatta-Fish Festival board to identify the seafood demonstration to be presented Friday, August 28, in the county fair building.

"Seafood Teenarama" is replacing Fish Favorites From Far and Away" demonstrations that were held for two previous years. Purpose of the event is to give the teenagers a chance to participate in the Fish Festival and to give their clubs recognition.

The following organizations have been asked to volunteer two girls each to demonstrate the seafood dish of their choice at the Teenarama: Girls Service organization of the USO Girl Scouts, Job's Daughters, Rainbow chapters from Astoria, Seaside and Long Beach, Theta Rho, 4-H, Junior Norwegians, Christian Endeavor and Try-Hi-Y.

To date Pat Maxwell, Carol Bagglund, Job's Daughters, Susan Amundson, Sharon Clark, 4-H, and Sandra Osterlund, Janice Reith, Astoria Rainbows have offered to demonstrate. It is hoped to have all 11 groups participating.

Fish Festival Activity Integral Part Of Annual Celebration

Salutes Astoria Firms

[illegible] Chairman of the [illegible] of the Astoria [illegible], last week to [illegible] the [illegible] marked the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] a salute to the Lower Columbia fishing industry.

Association members at [illegible] unanimously voted to change name from Astoria Sports [illegible] to Astoria Fisheries Regatta, in recognition of the celebration as complementing the city's regatta activities. The club [illegible] [illegible] although there could have existed a limited derby [illegible] consideration of an [illegible] measure.

Replaces Derby

To replace the derby, as a central facet of the celebration, the board of directors adopted the annual Fish Festival. It is now an integral part of the association and forms the major portion of annual association activities.

The idea for the Fish Festival was conceived by Dr. E. W. Harvey, of the Oregon Seafoods Laboratory. For three years Dr. Harvey [illegible] as brain child as director of Fish Festival director, under the auspices of the Regatta association. This year, lured to activity as city chairman of the city Centennial committee, Dr. Harvey has been forced to abandon active leadership of the festival. To replace him the board of [illegible] has named Lewis Wright, a member of the board who is employed in the fishing industry.

Traditionally the central activity of the Fish Festival has come to be the huge Fish Fry, which attracts as many as 3000 persons to a meal of barbecued fish. Other highlights have been the Savory Seafoods Search, a cooking contest, Fish Favorites from Fairway, a fish cooking demonstration event, and the exhibits.

Marine highlights include the Blessing of the Fleet, a religious ceremony, the Marine Parade and fishboat races.

One Celebration

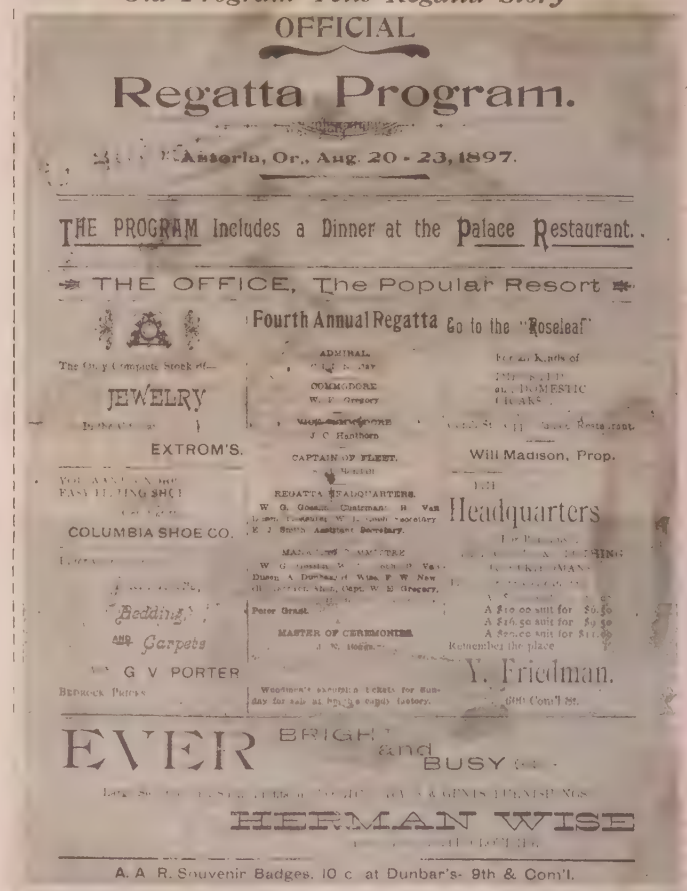

Central Regatta and Fish Festival activities have always been conducted at the same site. In 1956 the entire celebration was conducted from the huge Pier 3 at the Astoria Port Docks and in 1958 from the Astoria Armory. In 1959 the celebration returned to the pier.

Officials of the association say that some confusion has developed in recent years over the question of whether the celebration was two separate ones or one integrated one. They emphasize that the celebration is an integrated one and both segments are operated under the banner of the Regatta association, which is a duly incorporated body.

In an effort to correct this misunderstanding it has been suggested that the association change the name of the fall festival to Astoria Fisheries Regatta. No action has as yet been taken on this suggestion.

HISTORIC REGATTA — Astoria's annual summer water festival, the oldest in the Pacific northwest, has a colorful history that stretches back into the early days of Oregon. It began, patterned after an Australian water festival, in 1894. Pictured above is the program for the celebration of 1897. This year's celebration now combined with Fish Festival, is the 39th to be held. The celebration has survived fire, war and depression to still rank as one of the outstanding of its type in the nation. The program pictured above is owned by Polly McKean Bell. The program is a four page booklet.

Hanson to Head 1959 Regatta

Lt. Cmdr. Martin Hanson, commanding officer of the Port Security unit at the Port Docks has been chosen to serve as Admiral for the 39th annual Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival, according to announcement by Jean Hallaux, president of the Regatta association.

Cmdr. Hanson's appointment completes a series of salutes to the various branches of the military service, beginning in 1952. Other admirals chosen from the military service were the late Maj. Gen. Thomas E. Riles, Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, Rear Admiral Albert Bledsoe and Maj. Gen. Chester McCarty.

Cmdr. Hanson has been in the Coast Guard service both as an officer and an enlisted man for 26 years. He retires from the service on August 31. He plans to return to college to complete his master's degree in mathematics at the University of Oregon this fall with the intent to enter the teaching profession.

Cmdr. Hanson and his family came to Astoria four years ago. Mrs. Hanson is a native Oregonian, born and raised near Amity. Their daughter Carolyn, a 1959 graduate of Astoria high school, will attend Occidental college this fall.

Cmdr. Hanson had been active in civic and community affairs during his residence here. He is a member of the Astoria Kiwanis club and is on the board of directors. He is past president of the Presbyterian Men's club and on the board of directors of the Community Concert association. He has also served on the operating committee of the USO here.

Cmdr. Hanson wears the American Defense and American theatre ribbon; Pacific Theatre ribbon; World War II Victory medal; Korean campaign ribbon; Philippine Independence ribbon, expert rifle medal; and expert pistol medal.

Training Helps Mary Jane To Be a Regatta Princess

Being a princess is something most every girl dreams about, but the dignity of office places certain demands on one, such as being poised and charming with the public at all times.

This attribute comes naturally to Regatta Princess Mary Jane Kuratli, daughter of the Reuben Kuratlis, who has gone through a course of training as Honored Queen of Job's Daughters and Worthy Adviser of the Rainbows, princess of the Junior Prom and Senior Ball at Astoria high school and now, this summer, a Centennial tourist hostess.

Beside that, this stately Regatta princess was a junior councilor at Girls State this year and took the lead in the senior class play, all helping to contribute to the men and manner required of a member of a royal family.

Mary Jane, who was born in Portland (October 28, 1942) and came to Astoria in time to enter the eighth grade at Capt Robert Gray school, soon associated herself with the activities of high school by serving as chairman of the Frosh Frolic her first year and on the nominating committee for student body officers. In her sophomore year she was chairman of the Sophomore Hop. In her junior year she was vice-chairman of Tri-Y, Girl of the Month for loyalty, a delegate to Girls' State, and to the Journalism Press conferen Junior Prom chairman, assistant business manager of the Astor Post and alumni chairman for Homecoming This past senior year, she was business manager of the Post, secretary-treasurer of Quill and Scroll society, program chairman of the Service club, delegate to the Pacific Coast Press Conference in Seattle, besides belonging to the Girls Athletic association and the International league.

Quite a record for a 17-year-o to chalk up, especialy one wh likes the out-doors, l ... riding ... Chinese food About t confesses to like no ... tic daily than pushing a lawn mower (outside of course), but there is a slight excuse here, for she spends her time on the job as tourist hostess at the informat. on booth atop Coxcomb hill.

Blue-eyed, with trim cut bru ette hair, she stands 5 foot-6½ proudly claims a brother Mike (a Junior at Astoria high) and a cat Mr Muffer, a sleek Malte which, these days, has even a more royal swagger to him than before, it seems.

Incidently, she will enroll at the Universaty of Oregon this fall, for a course in pre-medics, with the hope of someday becoming a veterinarian.

Officers Wives Hostesses for Regatta Court

Officers Wives club of Tongue Point proffered a gay salute to the Astoria 1959 Regatta court Wednesday at an afternoon tea in the BOQ lounge on base.

The Centennial theme was carried out in an artful antique setting with old spinning wheel, 100-year-old doll in an antique rocker, drum table covered with a hand-made doily, on which was placed a very old and large Bible and a century old ruby glass vase from Argentina filled with red rosebuds, and a ship-in-bottle. Stratigically placed about the lounge were miniature models of conestaga wagons and a 20-mule team wagon, and an ancient photograph with morning glory horn.

Colorful arrangements of gladioli, dahlias and chrysanthemums were used about the room and as a centerpiece for the daintily appointed tea table, where the Mesdames R. C. Anderson, W Stephens, Harry Steinbock, V. S. Robinson, T. Granstrom and J. L. Adams presided alternately at the tea and coffee services.

Receiving with the five princesses during the afternoon were Mrs. Harry Swanson Jr., their official chaperone, Mrs. Harry Duff, secretary of the Regatta association, and Mrs. R. K. Stacer, president of the Officers Wives club.

Hostesses assisting were Mrs. R. Houlette, vice president; Mrs. William Kahler, recording secretary; Mrs. R. C. Vanlimburgh, treasurer; Mrs. D. R. Caughey, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. M. Santee, assistant treasurer; Mrs B. L. Biswell, hospitality; Mrs. D. L. Roscoe and Mrs. M. S. Hanson, advisory board members. Incoming officers greeting the guests were Mrs. J. L. Adams, president; Mrs. E. F. Walsh, vice president; Mrs. T. W. Weber, treasurer; Mrs. L. M. McDowell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. G. R. Fontaine, assistant treasurre; Mrs. C. J. Swanson, member-at-large.

Contributing antiques for the setting were Mrs. Elliott Compton, family Bible; Mrs. R. M. Fluss, phonograph and doll; Mrs. Roscoe, vase; Mrs. J. H. Wright, 20-mule team wagon; Mrs. G. R. Fontaine, miniature covered wagon, and Miss Adelaine Sather, spinning wheel, table, rocker, shawl, daily, and ship-in-bottle.

Life Is Like a Song Today For Regatta Princess Betty

There is music in the air for Regatta Princess Betty Morris, daughter of the Lawrence W. Morrises, 39 Skyline Place, with things humming along harmoniously with her four sister princesses and their chaperone. But the tempo will be stepped up in a very few days, with the start of the 1959 Regatta, when "director" Jean Hallaux, Regatta president, raises his baton and the big show goes on.

Music has been a large part of the life of this friendly girl (five-foot seven with gold tints in her light brown curls and big, big blue eyes).

Born right here in Astoria, she went into Star of the Sea high school from the grade school, and really started her musical training in earnest. With two years of piano behind her, she continued it for her four years of high school, adding voice training and cello and viola instruction. Quite naturally she was a member of the school orchestra for four years, Glee club, "Teen-Tones" (a mixed quartet), and of both the school triplet trio and octette.

In her freshman year she was class treasurer and won a singing and dancing part in the school operetta, "The Fortune Teller." In her sophomore year she took part in the musical production "Stars on Stage," served as class secretary, was a member of the Pep club and was Prom princess. Her junior year, she was student body secretary-treasurer, went to Girls State and was make-up artist and hair stylist for the school's play "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," serving in this latter capacity for the senior class play, "Pride and Prejudice." This past year she was Prom queen, and was one of four girls from the school chosen to sing in the Music Festival at Portland's civic auditorium for all Catholic schools in the state, under the direction of Roger Wagner.

She served on the student council for all four years of high school, was a member of the National Honor society, Pep club, Thespians, Quillisima club, Sodality club, on the staff of the school annual this year. She also sings in the church choir.

Her three younger brothers, Larry 17, Bill 15 and Bob 10, call her "square" because she likes long-haired music, but they approve of her skill in trout fishing, clam digging AND her cooking. That's her favorite domestic duty, and her favorite dish is French fried prawns.

She is working this summer in the diet kitchen at St. Mary hospital (where she was born September 4, 1941) to help towards her college education at Marylhurst this fall, where she will major in music and minor in speech and dramatics.

Beside her three brothers at home, there is a cat of varied hue and lineage named "Hummer," because he's more hummer than the previous one, which was a her. And an older sister, Ellen, who, by-the-way, was a Regatta princess just last year. Had Princess Ellen been asked, as the Gilbert and Sullivan song queries, "Are There Any More at Home Like You?" she could have answered truthfully, "There is one, kind sir!" Regatta princesses seem to run in the family!

Youth Day Added To Regatta Fete; Contests Planned

Astoria's historic old Regatta adds another all-new event this year . . . a full afternoon of Optimist-sponsored youth activities

Designed to fill a glaring gap in Regatta programs in the past, the event offers sports events for boys and girls from grades one to eight. In the past no specific events have been planned for the Astoria younger set, says President Jean Hallaux of the Regatta association.

Hopes High

"We hope to make this day, Saturday afternoon, August 29, from 1:30 to 4 p.m. at McCallister field, a real event for the youngsters who should not be left out of Regatta fun," he contends.

Headed by Ed Luoma, of the Optimist club, the festival is scheduled to feature a variety of races and a "batch" of prizes, says

ED LUOMA

Luoma. The day is also designed to bring the youngsters and their fathers together for an afternoon of fun, Luoma says.

Inspiration for the event came from the experience of Regatta planners who have noted for years that many persons felt youngsters were overlooked in the overall Regatta picture. Verne Larsen, president of the Optimists, was called and from the talks with him the idea for the Youth festival developed. His club agreed to sponsor the event, since one of their prime objectives is youth work.

Fild events are also planned and the whole afternoon is to be supervised by adults, all members of the Optimist club. Prizes will be given in all events for first, second and third.

Races Set

Running races, backward running races, wheelbarrow races, and a special shoes contest, plus three-legged races, crab walk race and potato race are all planned. Youngsters are urged to write names inside shoes so they may participate in the special shoe race. This is an added attraction.

Luoma says a special treat is planned for youngsters too young to compete in the race and field events. Free horse rides will be provided . . . these, too, supervised by adults.

Youngsters of all ages are welcomed, however most racing events are planned for specific grade levels. An Optimist concession stand will be operated on the grounds.

Helpers Listed

Asisting Luoma in supervising the activities for the day are Hiram Johnson, Win Beasley and Larsen. All members of the club will participate in some way. The shoe contest is limited to students in grades five through eight.

Both girls and boys events are planned for the afternoon. Both Hallaux and Luoma urged a good turnout for this first year of what they hope will become an annual Regatta event.

Seaside's Princess Margie Has a Royal (Ahem) Sunburn

Regatta Princess Margie, Seaside's lovely answer to the call from the Regatta association, has eyes as blue as sea water on a sunny day, hair the color of sunglints on the sand and skin the color of . . . well, you see Princess Margie got sunburned the other day, so we'll say she is a bit on the rosy side.

But, by the time Regatta days roll around next week, she'll be one of those golden tanned golden haired girls who bring out the whistle in a man.

She loves swimming in the surf, every five - feet-four-and-one-half inches of her, and professes to be the out-door type, but when indoors she likes to toot out a tune on the saxophone, one reason that she was a delegate to Music in May festival in Tillamook this year.

Astoria-born (Columbia hospital) Princess Margie attended both Seaside Central and Broadway grade schools on her way up to Seaside high school. In her freshman year she was a member of the White Caps, a high school service club. When she was a sophomore, she was cheer leader of the rally squad, a Junior Prom princess and a Demolay Sweetheart princess. Her senior year, she was a member of the Girls League and participated in the Girls Athletic association. Chairman of the decorating committee for the Junior Prom . . . member of the student body governing committee. Senior Prom princess and queen of the Junior Prom. She has been a member of the student council for all four years, was varsity cheer leader for . . . last year, a senior Girl Scout, holds a senior Life Saving certificate, was first runner-up to Miss Seaside title, has been for the Miss Oregon Pageant and a Past Worthy Advisor of Maple Chapter Order of Rainbow. Little wonder her schoolmates chose her as their representative in the Regatta court.

Lytle sister of older brothers Jim, 28, Portland and Don, 24, Los Angeles, Princess Margie graduated at the University of Portland. She plans to take nurses training with a course in psychology in addition, for she plans to be a . . . lawyer some day when high school days and Regatta thrills are but memories.

Further interviews show that she is working at the Salt Water Taffy shop near the Prom in Seaside for the summer, that she likes most everything to eat (including taffy) and that she owns, as do the other three princesses previously featured a cat, long-haired, white and named, for no real reason, Stinker. Also, she lives with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Wilson at 740 Seventh street, Seaside. And, oh yes, she is in the market for a good suntan lotion.

Flagship For Early Regatta

INFANT REGATTA—Astoria's famed Regatta was just five years old when this picture was taken of an unidentified craft which served as a flagship for the fleet in that year. In the background is what is identified as the official's barge, so the picture was obviously taken during the boat races. What appears to be a sail, can be seen in the water at the extreme left hand side of the picture. This picture was reproduced from a glass negative. Each of the boats pictured, and the official barge, appears to be crowded.

Warrenton's Princess Jenny Is Like a Dainty Figurine

Precious things come in little packages might well apply to Regatta Princess Jenita "Jenny" Shultz, Warrenton high school's pretty little contribution to the 1959 Regatta court. For there are just (exactly) five feet, no more, of this dainty princess, but a lot of feminine charm is wrapped up with it.

Warrenton has been her home, although she, like the other three princesses previously interviewed, [illegible] 1941 [illegible] was born in Astoria April 28, 1941), and any day you might want [illegible] skiing on Coffenbury [illegible] crabbing at Crab-[illegible] the south jetty rocks, black berry picking along the Skipanon, sailing from the new mooring basin or camping out at Fort Stevens state park, just call on Princess Jenny.

But there's a serious side, too, to this member of the royal family (also a member of the Travis Shultz family of Warrenton). Third in her class in grade point average (3.5), she won two scholarships, which she will use at Oregon State college this fall, to study psychology and home economics. After taking an active part in her freshman and sophomore years at Warrenton high school, she was chosen Girls State delegate in her junior year and served on the student council. In her senior year she was editor of the Warrenton Warrior year book, vice-president of Girls League, student council representative, a member of the Honor Society, acted in both junior and senior class plays, was selected Homecoming Queen and also Homemaker of Tomorrow.

From the fact that she won the latter honor, and because she will major in Home Economics at college, you gather that Princess Jenny is domestic. You're right. She loves to sew and is a good little cook, with a heaping bowl of strawberry shortcake as her favorite food.

But she likes gardening, too, and water skiing and swimming, accompanied by her dog Lady, a top shepherd, who welcomes her royal mistress when she comes home from work in the coffee shop of the Seasider hotel every day.

There is plenty of excitement around the Shultz family home these days. But then, there always is, when they're all together—brother Wesley, 22, Judy, 19, Timmy, 13, and Anne, 7, and as many cousins close by, making for lots to celebrate, lots to talk about.

Right now the main topic of conversation is the Regatta and the brown-haired, hazel-eyed Dresden doll member of the family Princess Jenny.

Astoria Regatta Royalty Awaits Queen Selection

Princess Anna Marie Rounds Out 'Lovable' Regatta Court

The picturesque little fishing town of Clifton, tucked away in a bend of the river, realized, with a happy thrill the other day, that they have a Regatta Princess in their midst. She is Anna Marie, dark-eyed, dark haired daughter of the Andrew Marincovichs, Clifton. Clifton is her home town and she's proud of it.

And Clifton was proud of Princess Anna Marie, even before she became a member of the 1959 Regatta court, for at Knappa high school she soon became one of its most active and loyal supporters.

In her freshman year she started right out as a junior varsity yell leader. Then, when she was a sophomore, she served on the student council, was class secretary one term and class president another; was elected Future Homemakers of America secretary and Girls Athletic association treasurer, while still cheering her heart out as JV yell leader.

By the time she was a junior, she became a member of the Pep club and was elected president, was class secretary, was elected FHA treasurer, and was a Homecoming princess. And this last year at Knappa high, she became FHA president, also yell queen, worked on the school K-S Reporter and the Loggers Log, was a Prom princess and was elected, by the faculty as the most active senior girl.

She has been a member of the Girls Athletic association for all of her four high school years, also of the FHA and the annual staff.

But aside from her record in high school, perhaps the reason that Clifton residents are fond of their Anna Marie is because she is as friendly and unspoiled as she is pretty. She is often found, when she comes home from her job in the office of Columbia Hudson mill at nearby Brgdwood, swimming in the mighty Columbia by her home, as trim and curvaceous a five-footfive as ever graced a swim suit.

She was born in Astoria (at St. Mary's hospital) October 14, 1940, which makes that score even for all five of the Regatta princesses, who are all Astoria born. Older brother Jack, by the way lives here in Astoria.

She likes to cook, loves seafood, her favorite sport is swimming and her favorite home town is Clifton.

With Princess Anna Marie the 1959 Regatta court is prettily rounded out to five of the loveliest princesses that ever graced a royal family, all five awaiting the coronation ceremonies which start one of the busiest weeks of their lives.

The ceremony takes place Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Astoria Armory, when one will be crowned queen. Whoever she is, Regatta officials say, she will be a "queen of queens," for this court of princesses is one of the finest, most lovable courts to work with in recent years. And that, from Regatta officials ,is quite a commitment

Admiral 'On Deck'

ASTORIA, Aug. 22.—Selection of Lt. Cmdr. Martin Hanson of the coast guard as admiral of Astoria's 39th regatta festival has established a precedent.

Jean Hallaux, president of the Regatta - Fish festival, pointed out that Cmdr. Hanson is based in the middle of Astoria—a location he has occupied for the past four years. All other "admirals" of previous regattas came from areas many miles from this city.

Hanson's selection completed the series of regatta salutes to the various branches of the military service begun in 1952.

Hanson, commanding officer of the port security unit at the port docks, will retire voluntarily from the coast guard Aug. 31 the day following his tour as admiral of the 1959 Regatta Fish festival.

HANSON has seen service in the coast guard for 26 years, rising from the enlisted ranks. His future plans call for return to college to obtain his master's degree in teaching from the university of Oregon.

During his four-year tour here Hanson has been active in civic affairs, including a term as president of the men's club of a church and board member of the Astoria Kiwanis club and the Community Concert Assn.

Pink Tea Fetes Court Of Regatta

The Anchor club, traditional and faithful escorts to the Regatta court each year, officially introduced the five princesses and their chaperone Mrs. Harry Swanson Jr. to the women of the county and their out-of-town guests at a pretty pink tea Saturday afternoon.

The Yacht club inside was a garden of pink and white for the occasion, forming a dainty background for the Centennial frocks of the five princesses and for the Anchor club officers serving. Greeting the guests in the front entrance hall was a garden setting with a wrought iron lawn set beside a pool afloat with pink and white waterlilies, and in the main lounge another garden scene was repeated on the stage, with pool, flowered trellis and lawn furniture. Flower boxes trailed arrangements of pink and white flowers around the large room.

Receiving the Guests

In the receiving line, beside Princesses Jenny Shultz, Warrenton; Anna Marie Marincovich, Knappa; Betty Morris, Star of the Sea; Margie Wilson, Seaside; and Mary Jane Kuratli, Astoria high school, were their official chaperone Mrs. Swanson, Mrs Harry Duff, Anchor club skipper, and Mrs. Vernon Mogenson, chairman of the tea. Each princess had a nosegay of pink and white carnations to add to their Centennial frocks and bonnets.

The tea table, covered with a solid pink cloth elged with white ball fringe in the antique mode, was centered with a Centennial doll whose bouffant gown was fashioned entirely of pink and white sweetpeas. White milk glass epergnes holding tall pink tapers nested in the same flowers flanked the centerpiece and all the table appointments for tea sandwiches, pink and white petit fours and mints were in reproductions of antique milk glass. The punch bowl and guest book tables were also covered with pink cloths and held old-fashioned bouquets of pink and white.

Court Mothers Pour

Presiding at the tea and coffee services throughout the afternoon were mothers of the five princesses, the Mesdames Harry Wilson, Seaside; Travis Shultz, Warrenton; Andrew Marincovich, Knappa; L. W. Morris and Ruben Kuratli, Astoria; wife of the Regatta president Mrs. Jean Hallaux, Mrs. Harry Steinbock, the mayor's wife; and Mrs. William Cunningham, wife of the city manager.

The 1959 Anchor officers in Centennial frocks were Mrs. Bob Graves, past skipper, managing the guest book; Mrs. William Leahy, first mate, presiding at the punch bowl; and Mrs. Richard Rutta, Mrs. Don Hoyer, Mrs. John Nellor, Mrs. Herman Harren and Miss Ann Schairer, assisting.

Behind the Scenes

Responsible for the decorations throughout were Mrs. John Cederberg and Mrs. Allen Davis, co-chairmen, assisted by Mrs. Rutta, Mrs. Victor Olsen, Mrs. Nellor and Miss Clovia Wells.

Mrs. David Hoyer and Mrs. Charles Deback were co-chairmen of the refreshments, assisted by the Mesdames Richard Thompson, William Gunderson, Don Johnson, Ronald Hubbard, Woodrow Willson and Frank Thorsness.

Coronation To Inaugurate 39th Land, Water Fete

A "do or die" annual Astoria Regatta, backed by more than 150 merchant sponsors and spiced with a foreign flavor, opens its doors for a 39th season Thursday as coronation of the 34th queen transforms the Lower Columbia into a mythical kingdom for four days of traditional water and land antics with a Centennial accent.

Fighting for survival, the Regatta this year faces an economic crisis. As planners began mapping the course of this year's celebration nearly a year ago, the association was "in the red." Association President Jean Hallaux says the association is now "in the black" on the eve of the start of what could be the last Regatta. He says if attendance does not hold up and if sufficient funds are not available when the celebration ends to launch a new celebration next year, the oldest water festival in the Pacific northwest, which dates back to 1894, may not survive

Diverse Program Set

However, the 1959 Astoria Regatta Fish festival faces an auspicious start. It has one of its most diverse programs ready to start [illegible] of the queen Thursday night at the Armory. It also is backed with more publicity support than at any time in recent history.

Hundreds of Astorians have donated time, money and effort to the celebration and the list of financial sponsors is the longest in recent years, President Hallaux says. In just one instance alone, the International festival, set for Friday night at the Armory, more than 300 persons have donated food for the international Smorgasette.

This phase of the Regatta program has been expanded from last year and some five foreign consuls from Portland will attend and remain, most of them, as guests of the city, through Saturday.

Consuls to Attend

Scheduled to appear are consuls or vice consuls from Great Britain, Iceland, Finland, Japan, Sweden and Norway

Others are expected to report on acceptance or rejection of invitations, but so far these have agreed to attend: Consul and Mrs. Gustav A. Heikkila, Finland Consul and Mrs. K. Urabe and Frank Watanabe, Japan; Vice Consul and Mrs. Norman Prickett, Great Britain; Consul Bardi C. Skulson and sister, Mrs. Dagmar S. Eremeef; Vice Consul and Mrs. Malcolm B. Frykmen and son and daughter, and Vice Consul and Mrs. Leontz Brunn, Norway

More acceptances from additional invitations are expected to be received today and Thursday. The foreign dignitaries will be staying for the parade, for the most part. Hosts for the group are William [illegible]

Included in the group are: Junior Chamber of Commerce, Jay-C-Ettes, Optimists, Zonta Anchors, Kiwanis, Lions, Rotary, Finnish Brotherhood, Sons and Daughters of Norway and Beta Sigma Phi.

Still other community groups cooperated in the sale of buttons. Button sales, according to Mrs. Lucille Marts, chairman of the financial committee for the association, have reached a "pleasing peak." Expectations are that more than 2000 buttons will have been sold by the start of the Regata.

Fairgrounds Site

Damp, but undaunted, Regatta planners were keeping an anxious eye on the weather, however only two or three events could be affected by adverse conditions. Hallaux says, the Kiddies parade Friday night, the Grand Parade Saturday night, and Marine events for both Saturday and Sunday. All other events are under roof.

Site for the majority of activities will be the 4-H fairgrounds or the armory. Even the huge Sunday Fish Feed can move indoors if inclement weather prevails, says Lewis Wright, Fish Festival chairman.

According to weather reports temperatures averaging below normal and a few showers are expected through Monday. The range is expected to be near a high of 60 to 65 degrees over the weekend.

Rain Seldom Problem

It will be the first year in many recent celebrations that rain has been a problem. Normally the celebration has been sun-blessed virtually since its inception.

A variety of new and old events are combined in this year's Centennial Regatta salute, according to Hallaux.

[illegible] are proudest [illegible]uth Festival which [illegible] club will sponsor [illegible] special event for young[illegible] [illegible] McCallister field. It is a field day with racing events and prizes for boys and girls of both school and pre-school age.

Other events of top significance [illegible]dot the Regatta calendar, Hallaux declares. First official Regatta act comes at 4 p.m. Thursday at the East End Mooring basin with greeting of Admiral Martin Hanson. The Regatta runs to its climax Sunday following the final heats of hydroplane races at the east end mooring basin.

Princesses Vie

Princesses who will be queen contenders Thursday night are: Margie Wilson, Seaside; Jenita Shultz, Warrenton; Mary Jane Ruraih, Astoria; Betty Morris, Astoria, Star of the Sea; Anna Marie Marincovich, Knappa.

Program highlights include:

Thursday—Anchor club sponsored coronation program, Astoria Armory under the direction of Mrs. William Leahy, 8 p.m. This is followed by the Queen's Centennial ball.

Friday—Cooking demonstrations and Savory Seafoods Search to be held in the morning at the 4-H Fairgrounds. Anne Strachan is the chairman of these events under direction of Lewis Wright, festival chairman. The Admiral's luncheon set for noon is open to women for the first year and is to be held at Tongue Point. Rehearsals for the coronation of the queen are to be held tonight at 7:30 at the Armory. Always hectic, the rehearsal is always a far cry from the polished ceremony presented just a few hours later by the group. Mrs. William Leahy has the difficult job of bringing order from chaos.

Replies have been received from several racing clubs with entrants in the hydroplane races set for Sunday during the Regatta. All local boat fans are invited to participate in the races, according to John Schenk, chairman. The races will be conducted on a time trial, heat classification basis. This will allow all sizes and types of outboard boats to race with equal competition. Schenk says. Time trials are set for 8 a.m. until 12 noon on Sunday. The heat and trophy races will start after the fish feed Sunday noon. Schenk says the public is invited to attend the event at no charge (other than a Regatta button) at the east end mooring basin. Astoria, Aug. 27 — Traditional [illegible] and history will be made in Astoria tonight as the [illegible] regatta gets under way with the opening of Astoria's Centennial [illegible] festa [illegible] coronation ceremonies scheduled [illegible] in the Armory.

To the hundreds of Cathay [illegible] and visitors from other parts the climax of Oregon's centennial celebration will be reached when a wave of the [illegible] scepter in the hands of the 1959 regatta queen will start in motion the program of events.

IN KEEPING with a pattern established some years ago, the regatta court, from which the queen will be chosen, is composed of graduated senior girls from the 1959 classes of various high schools throughout the county. They were named as princesses by student body committees of their schools.

The current royal roster includes: Jenita Schultz, Warrenton; Betty Morris, Astoria; Mary Jane Kuratli, Astoria; Anna Marie Marincovich, Knappa, and Margery Wilson, Seaside. Admiral for this pioneer Northwest water festival, fittingly enough, will be Lt. Cmdr. Martin Hanson, commanding officer of the port security unit at the Astoria port docks, a career man with the U. S. coast guard since his enistment in 1933.

The regatta fete gets under full sail today with the 4th annual Fish Festival and Savory Seafoods Search, with Miss Anne Strachan as director of the latter program, which is essentially a seafoods cookery contest open to all comers. Boat races, a youth festival, square dancing and other activities also are on the fete agenda, as is a big land parade, which for the first time in history has been scheduled as an evening show—starting time listed at 6:30 p. m. Saturday.

MEANWHILE, 27 Astoria civic and fraternal organizations have been centering their regatta efforts on what has been officially listed as an International Smorgasette, to be featured at the Armory Friday evening. Under the direction of Hiram Johnson and Louise Smith, assisted by Fred Mackey, Matt Kuijala, Adalaine Sather and Dr. Duane Jue, the program will see 16 nations represented at the levels of talent, costuming and commestibles. Johnson pointed out that thus far, consuls of six foreign nations, including Finland, Norway, Iceland, China, Sweden and Japan, will be present at the affair, which also will see Astoria's mayor, Harry Steinbock, acting as official host, with Robert J. Hanson assuming duties as master of ceremonies.

SMORGASBORD viands of the 16 countries will be served during the evening, which will also see a programmed presentation of music and dancing indigenous to individual nationalities participating. Johnson was careful to note that much of the credit due in this phase of the regatta pointed toward the unremitting efforts of the local Sons and Daughters of Norway, with Miss Sather, an immediate international past president of the latter group, spearheading the entire program.

AS IS customary, the 1959 Regatta-Fish festival will wind up an activity-filled schedule on a serious note—the time-honored and dramatic blessing of the fleet. Sunday at 11 a. m. hundreds of watercraft will assemble in the East End mooring basin to take part in non-denominational rites during which a member of the ministry will invoke prayers for the well-being and protection of sea-faring men. And finally, the hundreds of persons attending the fete will frost their 1959 Regatta cake with attendance at the mammoth fish-fry held at the 4-H fairgrounds in mid-Astoria.

Parade-Pageant On Tap Saturday

[illegible] point in the 39th annual [illegible] Regatta-Fish Festival cel[illegible]ion will be the huge land pa[illegible]e, slated for 6:30 Saturday [illegible]ght.

Gov. Mark Hatfield has accepted an invitation to take part in the parade, which will be held for the first time as an evening event. Previously, parades have been scheduled for the afternoon.

More than 60 units have been signed to participate in the parade to date, including 9 drill team units, 8 display marching units, 16 floats, 5 mounted units and a large number of miscellaneous units.

At 9 p.m., almost immediately following the two-hour long parade, the drill teams and drum and bugle corps will appear at the Awards Pageant in the Armory. Citizens will at that time have an excellent opportunity to watch their favorite groups perform in a way that is impossible along the parade route, according to Jaycee members who are sponsoring the event as usual again this year.

Children under 12 will be admitted free to the Awards Pageant at the Armory. Admission for adults is fifty cent.

Foreign Festival Billed

Astoria Regatta association International festival . . . which combines the International Smorgasette and international program . . . will dominate Regata activity Friday.

This huge Regatta event, which will lead off with a reception for members of the Oregon Consular corps, will serve foreign food favorites prepared by more than 300 different persons and 16 different organizations. It will be held in the Armory with serving starting at 6:30 p.m. The International program will follow.

Oregon's entire consular corps, based in Portland, were invited to attend this event, which salutes the different national groups that make up Astoria's population. Of the 18 invited eight had accepted invitations and indicated they would appear by Thursday noon.

Seeborg in Charge

William Seeborg will be in charge of arrangements for greeting and hosting the consuls. He will be assisted by Matt Kujala. Co-chairmen of the event itself are Mrs. Murray Smith and Hiram Johnson. Adelaine Sather is assisting these two. Miss Sather is in charge of the decorations, reception and program.

Foreign flags wil be flown and decorations wil be directed by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fox and the Hammond Garden club.

Officials of the event said today food is to be delivered to the Armory between 1 and 3 p.m. Friday. Flags to be used in decorations are to be delivered to the Armory between 10 and 11 a.m. Friday. Admission price for the evening, including both the program and the smorgasette, is $1 for adults, 50 cents for children under 12 years of age. The program starts at 8 p.m.

Consuls Due

Foreign consuls slated to attend are:

Consul and Mrs Gustav A Heikkila, Finland; Consul and Mrs. K. Urabe and Frank Watanabe, Japan; Vice Consul and Mrs. Norman Prickett, Great Britain; Consul Bardi C. Skulson and sister, Mrs Dagmar S. Warrenton City Officials Honor Regatta Court

WARRENTON (Special)—Members of the Regatta Court were entertained by the Warrenton Chamber of Commerce at luncheon Wednesday in the Skipanon Room of the Crab Pot.

Mrs. Myrtle Niman, chamber president, welcomed the Regatta princesses, their official chaperone Mrs. Harry Swanson Jr. and their official escort, Gordon Hutchens. City Manager E. R. Baldwin, chamber secretary, introduced the honored guests to members of the chamber and their guests.

Each princess gave detailed accounts of the various activities planned for the 39th annual Regatta Festival. Betty Morris of Astoria told of the Fish Festival; Anna Marie Marincovich, Knappa, gave the history of the Regatta and spoke on plans for the coronation; Mary Jane Kuratli invited the Warrentonians to the water events planned for Saturday and Sunday at the East End Mooring basin; Jenny Shultz, Warrenton's Princess, described the parades and invited everyone to attend the land parade whose theme this year will be "Happy Birthday, Oregon;" and Margie Wilson, Seaside, gave details of the International Smorgasette and program.

Special guests at the luncheon were Mr. and Mrs. Travis Shultz, parent of Warrenton's contribution to the Regatta Festival, Princess Jenita (Jenny) Shultz.

AS I SEE IT...

It's Regatta Time Again—

By now the annual Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival is in full swing. This year the committee has worked hard to provide entertainment to suit its style and tastes. It is also evident that they have tried in every way possible to eliminate many of the criticisms of past Regattas.

Since this is one of the biggest events of the Centennial year, we should get into the spirit of things in a big way and really enjoy ourselves. Why not the tourists have all the fun?

Here is an opportunity to show your enthusiasm to your home community and to others and still reap a rich reward in the way of helping a worthwhile endeavor and enjoying yourself at the same time.

We think taking part in the festivities is a whale of a way to wind up the summer, before we have to plunge into the hectic pace of fall and winter.

With dozens of outstanding units entered in the grand Centennial Regatta parade Saturday, a spectacular Awards Pageant is again assured. However, narrowing the field down to about 12 units for a brisk well-balanced, one and one-half hour variety show without "slighting" units left out is causing public relations headaches for show chairman Paul Johnson and his Jaycee aides.

Hail to the 39th Regatta

Astoria's historic old Regatta gets off the ground [illegible] for the 39th time . . . the oldest summer festival of its type in the Pacific Northwest.

Since 65 years ago the historic celebration has given [illegible] identification, and now it has become a county-wide salute to the fishing industry. Community identification is as important today as it was 25, 50, 75 or 100 years ago. It is spirit, an idea, or an ideal that binds and unifies an area. Certainly the Regatta has been that and certainly its 'black ink' virility on the eve of the 39th celebration testifies to its durability.

The Regatta has been a link to the past as well . . . a line that stretches back to the time when Oregon was just a young state, 35 years old. So the Regatta has deep historic significance not only in this area but in the state as well. It has changed, as anyone or anything changes in 65 years. It has become stronger in change, closer to the people and more diverse in scope.

Tonight the 34th Queen will be crowned from a group of five young women of the Sunset Empire, each from a different Clatsop county high school. They have spent a long, hard summer representing Astoria and Clatsop county, and one finds the judges facing an unenviable task . . . for Princesses Jenita, Betty, Anna Marie, Mary Jane and Margie are all Queens.

As well, the Regatta salute the Coast Guard, a vital service [illegible] Comdr. Martin Hanson, Admiral [illegible] in the Coast Guard [illegible] citizen of the [illegible]

Marine Activities To Display Skill In Boat Handling

A colorful display of boat-handling skill will be one of the highlights of two days of marine events planned for the annual Astoria Regatta Fish Festival Saturday and Sunday.

Organized under direction of Joe Tarst, John Schenk, Lewis Wright, William Westerholm, Don Riswick the marine event roster varies from hydroplane racing to gillnet races. All marine events are to be held at the east end mooring basin. Admission to these events is free for those who wear Regatta buttons.

Saturday morning gillnet boat operators have a chance to show their boat handling skill with balloons.

A drift of 21 colored balloons about three feet in width will be released in the basin and two boats at a time will go out and attempt to get as many balloons aboard each boat as possible. The boats cannot bump, and are disqualified if they do. No nets or hooks are allowed and the only way the balloons can be captured is by hand. The boat operator must be alone. There is no time limit involved in catching the balloons, and it is up to the individual boat operator to see that the ballons he captures stay aboard his boat. If the balloons blow out of the mooring basin they will be out of bounds and will be retrieved by patrols for use in other heats.

Power Not Factor

Riswick, chairman of the event, said that a boat's power is not a factor in this event, only the boatman's skill. The boat, however, must be a gillnet boat.

The Regatta's big marine parade starts at 9:30 a.m. Sunday at the west end mooring basin.

The parade committee is attempting to get a large number of craft to participate in the parade. Chairman Riswick says he wants boats such as pleasure craft, fishing vessels, towboats, cannery tenders or any type of boat to join the parade. All boat operators are asked to rendezvous at the west end mooring basin at 9:30 a.m. Sunday and will leave the west end basin at that time for the east end basin where the blessing of the fleet will take place.

Gillnet Racing Planned

All boat owners are urged to join the parade. The boats can be decorated or can come just as they are. Gillnet boats, yachts, outboards, draggers, towboats, anything that floats may be entered.

Gillnet races will be run Saturday morning at 10 a.m. with the first race composed of boats with power up to 150 horsepower, which is usually called the crown race.

Fishermen are urged to enter the races to see just what their boats will do.

A new course has been laid out which is diamond shape and which will lead the racers directly in front of the grandstand to give spectators a good view.

Entrants are asked to be on hand at 6 p.m. at the start point at 6th and Exchange streets so the parade may move at 6:30 p.m. sharp.

Participants in the Kiwanis sponsored parade will be divided into eight sections, which include: baby buggies, tricycles for girls, tricycles for boys, bicycles for girls, bicycles for boys, wagons, floats, costumes and miscellaneous.

No advance registration is necessary and any child can enter, Dr. Arthur Huber, chairman of the Kiwanis parade committee said that judges will be announced later this week.

Five foreign consuls from Portland are expected to attend the International Smorgasette Friday evening at the Armory. Slated to appear are consuls or vice consuls from Great Britain, Iceland, Finland, Japan, Sweden and Norway. Other acceptances are still expected to be received.

More than 300 persons have donated food for the fete.

Street dancing has been planned for both Friday and Saturday nights, starting at 9 p.m. on 12th street.

The salmon barbecue at noon Sunday at the 4-H fairgrounds will punctuate the morning and afternoon hydroplane races at the E. End mooring basin.

Admiral Crowns Queen To Open Regatta Fete

By Philippa Seabrook
A-B Social Editor

A gracious queen, four lovely princesses and a seagoing admiral lighted a flare that set off the 1959 Astoria Regatta and sent it sky rocketing into orbit last night at the premiere festivity in the armory, the coronation ceremony.

Queen Betty Morris, in her royal robes, was escorted by her admiral, Lt. Cmdr. Martin Hanson, USCG, along the aisle lined by the Anchor club drill team and a compliment of rear admirals to the throne of Regatta land, where she was crowned by Admiral Hanson, and presented her shining scepter by Mayor Harry Steinbock

Her queenship, choice of the judges, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Morris and was Star of the Sea high school's choice for the Regatta court. She is a stately five-feet-seven, has brown gold hair and blue eyes. There were tears close behnd those big blue eyes when the judges' decision was announced in the tense atmosphere behind closed doors where the word was awaited. But, queenlike, she got control, and, surrounded by her pretty princesses and their attentive chaperone, Mrs. Harry Swanson Jr., she donned the royal purple, accepted the armful of roses and emerged a poised and smiling ruler before the crowd of cheering subjects awaiting her.

Youngsters Follow

Queen Betty and her admiral were followed by her crown bearer Curt Wesley, her scepter bearer Marietta Hope, flower girls Beth Johnson and Joy Lee Anrall and pages Jack Pilgren and Ross Mills.

The court of princess, in short bouffant gowns of seafoam green ruffled net, each with a nosegay of white carnations, were each escorted by a classmate who introduced them at the begnning of the program. Princess Margie Wilson, Seaside, with Jim Roth. Princess Mary Jane Kurzell, Astoria high school, with Curtis Greenberg. Princess Anna Marie Marincovich, Knappa, with John Wagner, and Princess Jenny Shultz, of Warrenton, escorted by Howard Picard Queen Betty's escort, Andy Anderson, relinquished his right to escort her a second time up the aisle to the Regatta admiral, but there was a proud and happy grin on his face as he stood on the sidelines

Mrs. Swanson, official court chaperone, was escorted by Gordon Hutchens, Regatta vice-president, and Mrs. Harry Duff, Anchor club skipper, was escorted by Mayor Steinbock Ascorting Admiral Hanson at the start of the program was past Regatta president Tony Naimo and Eugene Lowe, Regatta board member.

Band Plays

The Astoria high school band, under the direction of Ted Marshall, summoned the crowd to the ceremonies with a rousing medley of snappy numbers, following up with appropriate marches for the processionals and recessionals of the court

Robert J. Hanson smoothly emceed the show, introducing Dan Hall, who led the singing of the national anthem after the colors were presented and the Regatta Admiral's flag raised by the coast guard. At the suggestion of MC Hanson, the crowd stood in silence in memorium for two past Regatta admirals who died this year, Tommy Luke, Portland florist and traditional booster of Astoria Regattas, and Gen. Thomas Rilea, adjutant general of the Oregon National Guard

Hallaux Welcomes

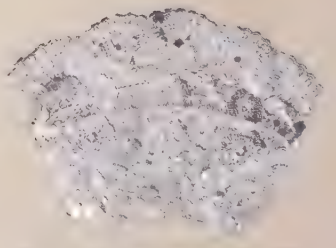

Regatta President Hallaux welcomed the crowd to Regatta land after which several past Regatta queens were introduced: Eleanor Norblad Sorrels, Nancy Fuiton Lowe, Jean Maunula Smith, Ann Halderman McGowan and Lydia Dorn Pavlat. Another former Regatta queen, who was present but not introduced because she wz still behind scenes with the court, was Josephine Waffle Swanson court chaperone, who was remembering 25 years ago when she was queen.

During the anxious moments when the judges' ballots were being tabulated, the nerves of the crowd were soothed by a tuneful round of selections by the Surfers a quartet of high school boys from Long Beach, Wash., Jim Peterson Carl Brateng, Allen Hansen and Robert Ahrend, who accompanied themselves on a variety of instruments. Both they and the Astoria high school band were given hearty applause for their entertainment

The Anchor club, traditionally producers of the coronation ceremony, were also commended for last night's performance, for the colorful, fan-shaped backdrop and lighting effects on stage and for the snappy marching routines of the drill team and rear admirals marching unit. Mrs. William Leahy and Mrs. Charles Gustafson were co-chairmen of the coronation, assisted by the Mesdames Charles Smith, Leonard Faris, Don Hover Robert Reed, Arthur Johnson, Duane Gustafson, John Seeborg and Miss Ann Schairer

The unenviable and nerve-wracking job of picking a queen from the five lovely princesses was in the hands of three judges, who had the sympathy and evidently the approval of the audience. They were Mrs. Donald Bomgardner, Astoria teacher, Donald Seeley, Beaver Army depot, and Capt. Fred Corning, Naselle air base.

Large Crowd Attends Traditional Coronation

'Oh, no not me,' says Princess Betty Morris as she is informed she has been named Queen of the 39th annual Astoria Regatta. Mrs. William Leahy, Anchor club [illegible] announced the Queen

'I crown thee Queen Betty I of the 39th annual Astoria Regatta . . . with these words Admiral Martin Hanson proclaimed a new ruler for Regattaland. The crown used is traditional and was purchased recently by the Astoria Anchor club. Last year's Queen was Gayle Ross.

Starting her reign Queen Betty I is aided down the stage steps by Admiral Martin Hanson. This scene was taken just after the Queen was crowned on stage at the Astoria Armory Friday night before a crowd of more than 600 persons.

Admiral Hanson is escorted to the stage as the first ceremony of the Coronation ritual held Friday night at the Astoria Armory. He is escorted by Tony Naimo, left, past Regatta president, and Eugene Lowe, member of the board of directors. The trio are marching down an aisle formed by the Anchor club drill team and the Vice Admirals of the Regatta.

First official picture of the royal court after the announcement of the selection of the Queen catches these engaging expressions. Left to right are: Princess Margie, Princess Mary, Queen Betty, Princess Jennie, Pincess Anna Marie. The royal court was kept in a closed room until the judges made their decision. They nervously talked about 'how they did' on their speeches.

Inspection of the Admirals is pictured above as the Regatta officials turned out to greet the Admiral, Martin Hanson, as he arrived Thursday afternoon. The ceremony took place at the east end mooring basin. Tom Dyer piped the Admiral ashore. Harry Swanson was in charge of the greeting party. The Admiral is shown on his tour with Mayor Harry Steinbock.

Traditionally the Regatta board of directors dines with the royal court, and the judges, in a pre-coronation get-together at the J. J. Astor hotel. This year Mayor Steinbock, Admiral Martin Hanson and City Manager William Cunningham headed the list of guests. Members of the board and their wives also attended the informal 'relaxing session' for the group.

It seems that Osborrow has a salmon dish he cooks up that residents of his locality think is pretty skookum, and so he's entering it in the contest. Just how Osborrow will catch a salmon in that sagebrush solitude, cook it into a savory concoction and get it here in time for the Regatta Seafoods contest is HIS problem

The problem confronting the chairman of the contest is that not enough local people, who have fresh salmon practically at their front door every day, and have little problem in transportation to the Astoria Armory, where the Savory Seafoods Search will take place Thursday night, are showing enough interest to enter their names. And that, in the very heart of the place where the finest seafood cooks are born, is a sad situation.

Festival Activity 'Hectic'

Astoria's 39th annual Regatta, off to a flying start before a coronation crowd of more than 600 persons Thursday night, swooped into a "hectic" full day of activity today with a salute to Astoria's colorful and varied foreign ancestry on tap at the Armory tonight.

For the younger set Astoria's Kiwanis club unveils the annual Children's parade. It starts at 6:30 p.m. from the court house. Youngsters are urged to appear by 6 p.m.

Consuls Due

Portland's consular corps will be saluted in the International Smorgasette and festival which opens at the Armory at 6:30 p.m. A reception is on tap for the 10 foreign consuls. They, and all persons attending, will be served from a smorgasbord that will feature some 300 foreign food dishes from 16 different nations.

In addition an international program is on the slate. Foreign songs and dances will be featured with all groups dressed in colorful native costumes.

Members of the consular corps who will attend tonight's event are; Henry J. Block, Austria, honorary consul; Consul and Mrs. Gustav A. Heikkila, Finland; Consul and Mrs. K. Urabe and Frank Watanabe, Japan; Vice Consul and Mrs. Norman Prickett, Great Britain; Consul Bardi C. Skulson and sister, Mrs. Dagmar S. Eremeef, Iceland; Vice Consul and Mrs. Malcolm B. Frykmen and son and daughter, Sweden; Consul and Mrs. Krentz Brunn, Norway; Consul Gustavo Lafee, Venezuela, and Consul Alfred J. Herman, Belgium and France. Consul Herman will not arrive until Sunday.

Master of ceremonies for the international program is Robert J. Hanson. William Seeborg, assisted by Matt Kujala, will greet the consuls on their arrival and host them throughout the evening.

Dancers Billed

Finnish dancers, Norwegian dancers, British, Irish and American songs are slated during the hour-long program. Miss Adelaine Sather is in charge of the program. Hiram Johnson and Mrs. Murray Smith are in charge of the International festival.

Regatta activity got under way early this morning with the Savory Seafoods Search and cooking demonstrations at the 4-H fair grounds.

Shrimp Recipe Wins Prize

Mrs. Paul Tolonen, 383 Klaskanine, demonstrates for her seven-year-old daughter Andrea the recipe for creamy pink shrimp bisque which won for her the grand prize in Friday's Savory Seafood Search at the Fish Festival. Mrs. Tolonen said it was just a simple recipe. (A-B Photo)

'Simple Recipe' Awarded Seafood Search Prize

Mrs. Paul Tolonen, 383 Klaskanine, young housewife and mother of three children, captured the grand prize in the Savory Seafood Search Friday at the Four-H fair grounds with a recipe for creamy pink shrimp bisque (soup to non-cooks) which uses the little Pacific ocean shrimp found off our coasts.

Mrs. Tolonen was not a newcomer to Search prize-winning, as she captured the prize in the appetizer division of the 1958 Search with a recipe for shrimp-filled cream puffs.

"This was just a simple recipe," the surprised Mrs. Tolonen said when informed she had won grand prize this year. "I got it out of a cook book and put in a few modifications of my own."

Mrs. Tolonen, whose husband is a boat builder and fisherman, has two sons aged 12 and 9 and a daughter of 7. She also found time to teach sewing in the Astoria school system's adult night classes last year. She says she enjoys cooking, but doesn't care much for baking.

Division Winners Listed

Division winners in the Search Friday were:

Appetizers: Mrs. Emma Nielsen, first; Mrs. William Lindgren, second.

Soups and chowders: Mrs. Paul Tolonen, first; Mrs. Oscar Gustafson.

Salads: Mrs. Andrew Young, first; Mrs. A. B. Curtis, second.

Entrees: Mrs. Wes Shaner Jr., first; Mrs. Andrew Young, second.

Men's division: C. M. Love, first.

Teen-age division: Pat Maxwell, first; Rochelle Stramiello, second.

Seafood Search officials said the total entry last this year was considerably under the number last year, and somewhat disappointingly small.

The judges, however, said quality of this year's entries was excellent. Judges were Mrs. Grace Phipps, PP&L company home economist, and Miss Zelma Riegle of the OSC marketing staff, along with Dr. Edward Harvey of the Seafoods Laboratory, founder of the Seafood Search.

Teenarama Featured

A special feature of the Seafood Search Friday was a Seafood Teenarama in which representatives of various girls' organizations demonstrated favorite recipes throughout the day.

Participants in this event included Janice Reith and Sandra Osterlund of Rainbow Girls; Pat Maxwell and Carole Hagglund of Job's Daughters; Marian Bue and Georgene Moskovita of the Junior Norwegians; Lynette Oakley, Girl Scouts; Susan Amundsen and Sharon Clark, Four-H clubs; Melva Buderian and Paubine Parrette, Girls Service club; Sheryl Wadsworth and Ann Yaland, Theta Rho; Jane Maki, Girl Scouts.

Here is Mrs. Tolonen's grand prize recipe:

Ingredients: One can Pacific ocean shrimp; 3 cups milk; 1 teaspoon salt; 2 teaspoons onion powder; 2 pimentos, minced; 3 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 cup heavy cream; 1 teaspoon sherry flavoring.

Drain shrimp and chop and mash to a paste. Make white sauce with butter, flour and milk. Add seasoning, pimento and shrimp paste. Simmer over very low heat until flavors are blended.

Miss Anne Strachan, was in charge of the Seafood Search and Teenarama.

Panorama of Regatta Events

Smorgasette, Children's Parade Draw Big Crowds

Astoria's 39th annual Regatta, headed for its greatest year, passed mid-point today with an ever-increasing tempo of events, interest and noise rattling this staid old Sunset Empire like it has never been rattled before.

Playing to its largest crowds so far, the celebration still offers four of its most popular events tonight and —Sunday . . . the grand land parade, the awards pageant or band show, the huge salmon barbecue and the hydroplane races.

Regatta association officials are highly optimistic that this 'economy' version of the annual water festival, which features events at lower prices and more free events than ever before, will be a financial success. So far the outlook is bright, and association President Jean Hallaux and his aides are keeping their fingers crossed.

Parade Large

The first of three big Regatta parades trooped down Commercial street Friday night, the Kiwanis children's parade, and it was the largest in the memory of most veteran Kiwanis club members. Official estimates place the number of parade entrants at 450.

Another capacity crowd, estimated at 900 persons, attended the International Smorgasette and International Festival at the armory. Food from 300 donors, representing the national dishes of 16 nations, was served on long groaning tables. This was followed by a musical program, which highlighted the songs and native dances of many foreign lands. Members the Oregon consular corps, base in Portland, were special guests.

Still another capacity crowd, estimated at 250 at its peak, attended the street dance held on 12th street between Marine Drive and Commercial street.

Prizes Won

Grand prize winner of the Kiwanis parade was Barbara Reed, and a group of Captain Robert Gray students, ranging from the third through the seventh grades The float represented Fort Clatsop and other historical points in Clatsop county. Kiwanians say the parade was loaded with historically themed floats and other entries. —

Prizes were awarded in nine divisions for the first three places

Master of ceremonies for the International Festival was Robert J. Hanson This event began last year and has grown to be one of the outstanding events of the Regatta, according to Jean Hallaux, association president.

William Seborg, host for the group, termed the nine foreign consul guests as 'highly impressed,' with the International Festival and 'really enjoying themselves.' Some stayed over for today and several were out fishing this morning on the Columbia river in a boat furnished by the Columbia River Packers Association, Inc.

Guests on Stand

Several also will be honored guests on the reviewing stand during the grand land parade Saturday night. Wives and other members of the party will attend the Queen's Luncheon, sponsored by the Anchor club at Astoria high school at noon and the Zonta Tea and Fashion show which follows.

Another large crowd attended the Admiral's luncheon held at the Tongue Point naval station at noon Friday. A traditional Regatta activity, this event was attended by women for the first time this year. Both wives of Tongue Point personnel and wives from the community accompanied their husbands to the luncheon. W/O F. O. Mack-

Dr. Arthur Huber and his Kiwanis children's parade planners were perplexed about what to do with the big crowd of paraders when they ran out of free ice cream . . . so they started giving away free bags of peanuts . . . but they ran out of those as well. All told they gave away 320 free ice creams and more than 100 bags of peanuts . . . last year only 300 participated in the 'big parade.'

Crowd estimates for the Regatta events so far indicate it is one of the most successful on record in recent years. Crowd guessers figure that about 700 attended the opening night coronation ceremony and another 900 the International Festival Friday night. Experts agree that about 450 youngsters participated in the Kiwanis children's parade. This is the largest crowd of youngsters ever assembled for this event. No one will guess at the crowd of watchers, but there were hundreds.

Sacred Concert To Climax Regatta

A concert of sacred music titled "The Church Year in Music," will be presented Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the church by the Trinity Lutheran church choir. Ed Abrahamson, director of music for the church, will conduct the entire program in which the 11 seasons of the church year are featured. The guest organist is to be Mrs. Al Larson. The concert will be presented as a Regatta finale.

The choir will sing the following program: Advent, "Lift Up Your Heads"; Christmas, "When The Savoour Christ is Born"; New Year, "Jesus, Name of Wondrous Love"; Epiphany, "Nunce Mimittis"; a vocal solo "Sheer Joy", sung by guest soloist, Mrs. O. W. Dimick; Lent, "Surely He hath Borne Our Griefs"; Easter, "I Know That My Redeemer Lives"; Pentecost, "Attend Our Prayers", and a vocal solo, "Faith", sung by Mrs. William Seeborg.

Trinity, "To Thee We Sing"; All Saints, "For All Thy Saints"; Reformation, "Almight God of Our Fathers", and Thanksgiving, "Sing To The Lord of Harvest".

Parade Feature Of Day

Oregon's Governor Mark Hatfield sees Astoria's Regatta Centennial's title to Old Oregon today as the gigantic Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored land parade, like a restless giant stretching in the sun begins a two-hour stroll down Commercial street.

But the skirl of bagpipes and the blare of bands will be joined by the roar of hydroplanes and the sizzling spat of a ton of barbecuing of salmon. For the Regatta is just halfway through with its series of events.

Seventy units will participate in the huge parade which experts estimate will take two hours to pass any given point. It will be a crashing, thundering salute to Oregon's Centennial celebration, according to William Ohlmann, parade chairman.

More Events Due

But the parade is just one of the flood of Regatta Fish festival events rushing toward a climax Sunday. Still on tap are the band show tonight at the Armory; the marine parade, hydroplane races, blessing of the fleet at the East End mooring basin Sunday; the square dance jamboree tonight at the Naval Reserve Armory; and the salmon barbecue Sunday at the 4-H fair grounds.

Parade time is 6:30 p.m. Included in the big line of march will be 10 military and drill marching units; five drum and bugle corps seven display marching units; two bagpipe units; 16 floats and two high school bands.

Astoria high school's band directed by Ted Marshall, has been drilling for several weeks in preparation for the parade. They will be joined by the Beaverton high school band in the line of march.

Special Units Included

In addition musical novelty, specialty and honorary units are included. Officials of the Regatta association will also ride in the parade. Space has been provided for Jean Hallaux, association president; Mrs. Harry Duff, Anchor club skipper; Admiral Martin Hanson and his wife.

Queen Betty I will ride down the line of march followed by the members of her court: Princess Jenny Shultz, Warrenton; Princess Anna Marie Marincovich, Knappa; Princess Mary Jane Kuratli, Astoria high school; Princess Margie Wilson, Seaside.

Participants in the parade are scheduled to report at the Jaycee parade committee center near Woody's Drive-In at 5:30 p.m. Floats are to appear at the same marshalling area by 3:30 p.m. for judging prior to the parade. Jack Rieck is in charge of the marshaling area.

The reviewing stand will be set up at 14th street with Warren Grimberg handling the public address system.

Band Show Set

Musical and marching units of the big parade will appear in a special band show or awards pageant to be presented at the Armory at 9 p.m. Paul Johnson heads this Junior Chamber of Commerce-sponsored event. Winners of parade judging events will be named at this time by Jim Spain parade judging and awards chairman. Tony Naimo, 1950 Regatta president, will serve as master of ceremonies.

Hydroplane races with the largest number of boats to be entered in two days' races will be featured Sunday. Time trials will be held in morning with the parade and the blessing of the fleet. The Rev. Carl Gross will officiate at the blessing of the fleet and Don

Luncheon Attracts Many Women

One of the highlights of the Regatta-Fish Festival is the Anchor club Queen's luncheon, followed this year by the Zonta tea and style show. The event attracted a crowd of approximately ... women, Saturday noon in the Astoria high school cafeteria.

Anchor Club Zontas Honor Royal Court

Several hundred women didn't have to go to London to look at the queen, as the old nursery rhyme says. Instead, they flocked to the Astoria high school cafeteria for the Anchor club's annual luncheon honoring Astoria's Regatta Queen Betty Morris.

Tables were daintily appointed with arrangements of pink and ... cactus dahlias and spider chrysanthemums, the miniature covered wagon mint cups at each place carrying out the same color scheme.

Royalty At Head Table

Her Highness Queen Betty, with her four sister princesses, Margie ... of Warrenton, Mrs. Marie ... Knappa, and Mary Jane ... and their chaperone Mrs. H... were seated at the head table, with Mrs. Harry Duff, Anchor club skipper; mothers of the royal court and past Regatta Queens.

Mrs. Arthur Johansen, co-chairman of the luncheon with Mrs. Vernon Larson, introduced Mrs. Duff, who called on Queen Betty for a short address, after which she introduced her princesses, and their chaperone.

Royal Court Mothers

Mrs. Swanson then recognized each mother of the court, and Mrs. Duff continued introducing distinguished guests, Mrs. Martin Hanson, wife of the Regatta admiral; Mrs. Frank Halderman, ... court ... and ... of ... Chamber Northwest Section; Mrs. Hel... Swanson, Mrs. Ivan Maunul, Mrs. Lydie Dorn Pavlit and Mrs. Ryhn Ransom Gustafson; Mrs. Jean Holleux, wife of the Regatta president; Mrs. Harry Steinbock, the mayor's wife; wives of foreign consuls in town; and the Anchor drill team, official escorts to the queen.

Miss Jeanette Watts, Warrenton, princess of the 1958 Regatta court, was also recognized.

Mrs. Johanson named each one of her luncheon committee Mrs. Larson, co-chairman, and the Mesdames Hugh Winstanley, Harold Jacob Paul Palonen, Jack S... ... Ivan ... der and Joseph ... Thompson.

A note of entertainment at the luncheon was furnished by a trio from Astoria h... ... Marilyn Morfitt, Judy ... and Barbara Davis, with Jocelyn Maddox on the piano, who delighted their audience with vocal selections from modern musical comedies.

Style Show Followed

Immediately following the luncheon, the Zonta club staged a style show in the school auditorium, with fashions from old Astoria sprinkled among the newest for schools and fall wear. Mrs. Larry Hirchert was style show chairman.

Mrs. Steinbock was commentator for the show, which featured the new bell sleeves in both casual and dressy wear, a galaxy of bold, bright plaids in skirts, with sweaters dyed to match and the new dark shades of cedar, birch and maple.

Modelling Fashions

Tot and sub-deb ... were modelled by young ... from ... Benson, John ... Jonson and Sandra Duff, teen styles were shown by Donna White and Dick Owen; Judy Steinbock, Sally Rompanen, Jocelyn Maddox, Mary Kaye Kerbel and Patricia Eward; young matrons by Sharon Baxstrom and Jennie McDonald; and adult wear by the Mesdames Elmer Shelton, Robert Larson and Richard Ford.

Modelling elaborate and picturesque ... gowns of another era were the Mesdames Norma Kenwisher, A. J. Dunlap, Chester Love, Jean Yancey, John Supple, Wilson Siegmund, Ed Niemi and Jeanne Maddox, ... by a bevy of little ballerinas from the Jeanne Maddox School of Dance.

Following the style show, luncheon was served on the inner green grass court of the high school quadrangle, from a table centered with bright gold and blue marigolds and dahlias, where the Mesdames J. H... Holleux, president of the Zonta club, and Mrs. Steinbock poured.

Members of the Zonta club assisting were Miss Hannah Seeborg, general tea chairman, Violet Gunderson, Ebba Brown, Helen Sokri, Mary Hay, Sylvia Oja, Ellen Palo, Elsie Jarvinen and Lucy Drucker.

Style Show Held 'On Green'

A new Regatta-Fish Festival event this year was the Zonta Tea and Style Show which immediately followed the Anchor Club Queen's luncheon at Astoria high school cafeteria Saturday noon. The style show was held in the auditorium and the tea 'on the green' in the courtyard formed by the quadrangle of buildings at Astoria high school. Here the Queen of the Astoria Regatta, Betty Morris, is shown on stage as Mrs. Harry Steinbock narrates. Center stage one of the models for the show appears.

Regatta Revels

Regatta Admiral Martin Hanson arrived in Astoria four years ago during Regatta time. He retires this month after 26 years with the Coast Guard, during Regatta time. Little did he think he would end his Astoria career as admiral of the festival.

Regatta parade officials were scurrying about Saturday arranging transportation from Portland airport for the drill team from Oakland Naval Air station, temporarily stranded there.

"We're almost broke," leaders of the Ark Assembly Rainbow Girls drill team of Seattle informed Parade Chairman Ohlmann as they arrived Friday. A car wash was quickly lined up for today at Kvisland's service station to help the trim girls finance their Regatta visit here.

Proof of the poise and personality plus of Queen Betty was her little speech, immediately after the coronation. Without preparation, she stepped to the the mike when called upon by MC Robert Hanson, and, after expressing her appreciation to her subjects, ended her coronation speech with "Back the Astoria Regatta and we'll all have fun!"

Astoria's Regatta-Fish Festival ended on a note of seriousness Sunday night as board members, led by President Jean Halliaux of the Regatta association, attended the Trinity Lutheran church choir concert. The choir presented a program of sacred music depicting the church year. The church hopes to make the event an annual climax to the Regatta. Ed Abrahamsen directed the choir in the choral which featured solos by Mrs. William Seeborg and Mrs. O. W. Dunick.

Roses carried by the Royal Court and Queen Betty I during the grand Regatta parade were donated by the Knappa Quarter Hawks. They gave each of the court members a dozen red roses.

Astoria's Clowns presented Governor Mark Hatfield's wife with a special gift during the parade. It was a special orchid they purchased and it was packaged in an attractive container.

Governor Hatfield was escorted during the parade and onto the reviewing stand by state Representative William Holmstrom. Public address announcer Warren Grimberg couldn't help but note that a Republican was being escorted by a Democrat.

On the reviewing stand much banter took place beween Rep. Holmstrom and Gov. Hatfield when two donkeys passed in review during the parade.

Salmon was barbecued Sunday by Frank Swick, mayor of Ridgefield, Wash. He has been doing this work as a sideline for many years. The Sunday barbecue was his 18th of the year. Swick was a happy man when the day was over and all the fish was gone. He says it is wonderful to put on such a successful barbecue as the one held here. 'Makes the work a lot more fun,' he maintains. He started early in the morning and was not through until late in the afternoon.

"Hardest working" honors would be difficult to place during this "cooperative" Regatta, but Astoria's Lion club members certainly put in a long day Sunday at the 4-H fairgrounds. Led by Ted Rakowski they were the workhorses, doing most of the toting and carrying for the event. Adelaine Salther's crew of Sons and Daughters of Norway could just as well claim the honors for "hardest" working also, because they were on hand again for the big Fish Feed.

Optimist club members are very happy with the outcome of the first Youth Festival, according to Ed Luoma, chairman of the day. Held Saturday afternoon the vent attracted approximately 250 youngsters—"at least we gave out 250 prizes," Luoma says.

'Successful' Fete Becomes History

Astoria's four-day Regatta-Fish Festival strode proudly into history today with one of the most successful summer festivals ever held in the Sunset Empire joining the long list of past Regatta successes.

Even the weather cooperated. What looked like a doomed celebration weatherwise early last Thursday basked in a warm summer sun until late Sunday afternoon. Late enough for most of the Regatta's string of events to have run out.

Optimistic Regatta planners said it would be several days before a complete financial statement could be made on the celebration, but "it looked good." Regatta President Jean Hallaux said the question is no longer, "if the celebration broke even, but whether or not it made money and how much it made.

If the celebration ends up in the black it will be the first time since 1955, the final year of the Salmon Derby.

Termed Success

"Considering the fact that the Regatta was considered dead just a few weeks ago, the board feels the celebration was a tremendous success and proves once and for all that Astoria wants a community celebration," Hallaux said.

Crowds jammed every one of the Regatta events. Many of the former 'frills' were cut from this

Attendance Listed

For [illegible] Regatta, officials listed attendance [illegible] Coronation, 850; Children's Parade participants, 450; Smorgasbord, 1000; Street Dance, 250; marine events, 1500; Queen's Luncheon, 300; Youth Festival, 250; and Band Show, 1000.

Members of the board of directors were highly pleased with the cooperation from the various groups of the community during the Regatta. Twelve individual community groups were directly involved with promotion of some other Regatta activity.

These included: Kiwanis club, Lions club, Beta Sigma Phi, Sons and Daughters of Norway, Finnish Brotherhood, Ladies of Kalewa, Zonta club, Anchor club, Musicians' union, Optimist club, Junior Chamber of Commerce and Tay-C-Ettes.

Members of the Regatta board included: Jean Hallaux, president; Colin Hutchens, vice-president; Don Graves, treasurer; Mrs. Harry Duff, secretary; Don Garris, Lewis Wright, Mrs. William Leahy, Joe Tursi, Eugene Lowe and John H. Nellor, directors.

Advisory board members included: Harry M. Steinbock, [illegible] Kaila, Harry Swanson, Wm. P. [illegible] Mackey, William Ohlmann, Adelaine Sather, Ed Looma, Charles DeFoe, Anne Strachan, Dr. Arthur Huber and Jaul Johnson.

Regatta Features Gillnet Races

Gillnet boats were a popular feature of the Astoria Regatta Fish Festival. Here an exciting moment in the racing is captured by the camera. Racing this year was in two classifications. The gillnetters rivaled the hydros in speed and action. (A-B Photo)

Inexpensive But Successful

The 39th annual Regatta and Fish Festival, just ended, was a low-budget affair but surprisingly was one of the best in recent years and one of the best patronized.

Chairman Jean Hallaux and members of the Regatta staff are even hopefully expecting that when final reports are in the festival may have finished in the black—for the first time in many a year.

This was admittedly a "do or die" Regatta. Faced by a deficit from past years and indications of public apathy over several seasons, Hallaux and the staff decided to put on a poor man's Regatta and see if there was enough public interest to keep the event going in future years.

The community verdict appears to have been a solid "yes."

Not all the Regatta events did well from the patronage standpoint, but enough people turned out in big numbers for several of the events to demonstrate that Astoria wants a Regatta.

The parade Saturday evening drew one of the biggest crowds ever seen in Astoria—estimated at 10,000 by some observers. The marine events drew well, with upwards of 1000 watching the outboard races Sunday. An estimated 2000 attended Sunday's excellent salmon barbecue dinner at the 4-H fairgrounds. Others events also had good participation. And a good many of the participants were out-of-town folks most of whom reported they had a good time and want to come back again.

Every community needs a meaningful annual festival or celebration to build community pride and solidarity. Our Regatta-Fish Festival is one of the oldest and most famous in the Northwest with a character all its own. We should preserve it, and from the results of this year's celebration, we can preserve it.

anchor tea

the yacht club was a garden of pink and white for the tea, forming a dainty background for the centennial frocks of the five princesses. greeting the guests in the front entrance hall was a garden setting with a wrought iron lawn set beside a pool afloat with pink and white waterlilies, and in the main lounge another garden scene was repeated on the stage, with pool, flowered trellis and lawn furniture.

flower boxes trailed arrangements of pink and white flowers around the room. the tea table, covered with a solid pink cloth edged with white ball fringe, was centered with a centennial doll whose bouffant gown was fashioned of pink and white sweetpeas. the candle holders, serving plates and punch bowl were all of white milk glass. approximately 200 guests attended.

coronation

coronation ceremonies were a tremendous success. the girls were beautiful in their lovely turquoise waltz length gowns. the large turquoise fan, decorated with old fashioned nosegays, which was used as a backdrop for the stage, was made by the astoria marine construction company and donated to the club. this fan will be stored at the yacht club. the stage was beautifully decorated with flower boxes filled with greens and summer flowers. a special section was reserved for past queens this year. the drill team acting as an honor guard looked very impressive.

queen's luncheon

the queen's luncheon was held at the high school cafeteria, attended by a large crowd. the pink and white color scheme was carried out, using pink and white dahlias on the tables. a covered wagon, filled with pink and white daisies on a pink cloth, centered the queen's table. this lovely centerpiece was made and donated to the anchors by lloyd attig in appreciation of all the business given to him by the anchors. 265 people were served, but 282 reservations were paid for, so please girls, remember to phone in your cancellation next year.

savory seafoods search winner

congratulations to leona tolonen for winning the grand prize in the savory seafoods search with her creamy pink shrimp bisque. she won a cash prize and also a large trophy. leona had two entries in the contest. anne strachan was chairman of this contest and also of the seafood cooking demonstrations.

button sales

overall total sales of regatta buttons was approximately 1300 buttons. congratulations to lmra reith who sold the most buttons.

Little Notes

September 12

Dear Bee,

Many thanks to you and the Anchor girls for all your kindnesses to me and to the regatta court recently. It was a pleasure to work with and for an organization as efficient and as devoted as yours. I thoroughly enjoyed all the gaiety and excitement of the regatta events and have felt a little bit like Cinderella ever since.

Best wishes to all of you for next year

SKIPPERS BANQUET

November 16th is the date, and be sure to keep it open. We will have our annual banquet that night to honor our Skipper, Bev. John Jacob Astor Hotel is the scene, and fun is the order. The cocktail hour is 6:30 to 7:30. Dinner will be $2.00 a plate and well worth it. Reservations must be made, so let either Sus Fulton or Esther Knutsen know if you are coming. The committee has been planning and working to make it a real nice affair. Sus and Esty are chairmen and have Marge Smith, June Taylor, Susie Anderson and Mabel Sagen working with them.

CARD PARTY

If you attended the card party -- and you should have -- you'll join us in saying it was a really grand affair. The committee consisting of Katherine Farris, Dorothy Yockey and Muriel Niskanen, co-chairmen, and their helpers Margaret Thompson, Carol Seppa, Helen Sorkki, and Laura Fern Samuelson put in lots of time and effort on the decorations which were beautiful. Everything was based on an oriental theme, with paper lanterns hanging about, the tally cards made up like little fans and chopsticks serving as the "tickets" for the raffle drawing. We weren't fortunate enough to win one of the prizes, but they couldn't have been nicer. The raffle prizes were lovely milk glass punch bowl and cups to match and a big tray. Oh well, better luck next time.

Christmas Fair

Vivian Graves and Marge Mather, chairmen of the forth-coming Christmas Fair have been busy planning and working to make it a big event. The various sub-committees working to make it a success are working on articles that will be for sale and are making good progress. There should be quite an assortment of Christmas decorations and gifts to choose from, such as tree skirts, decorated bottles, match boxes, clothes hangers, stockings, candles and many more items. Be sure to tell your friends and relatives that it will be held November 30th so that they can all plan on coming.

Coming Events

What Anchor Log would be complete without at least one announcement concerning a blessed event, and this time we are happy to say that one of our new members, Joyce Lundholm is expecting sometime next year and we wish her lots of happiness.

Some of us are what we term "Hunter's Widows" and say "goodby" to friend husband when he is off on a hunting trip - such as Esty Knutsen and Sus Fulton. George and Joe were gone over a week and really brought back the bacon - or -- we mean deer. But then, there are some wives who accompany their hunters on their forages, and we hear that Marge Mather was gone for a week seeking wild game. So were Virginia Reiter and Joyce Lundholm.

Dear.Mrs.Duff;

Will you please convey the appreciation of the staff of the U S O and the Servicemen to the members of the Anchor Club for the gracious manner in which they served the buffet dinner on Sunday,Nov.15th. and refreshments and chaperones for the dance on Thursday evening,Nov.19th.

The Anchor Club has certainly established a good reputation here at the U S O and I can assure you their service was simply one of the best we have had this year. May I add my own personal thanks.

Dainty appointments in turquoise and gold decorated tables at the John Jacob Astor hotel banquet room recently, for the banquet honoring Anchor Club Skipper Mrs Harry Dull on the termination of her year in office.

Turquoise candles nested in gold sprayed greenery carried out the colors the length of the banquet tables, the head table centered with an arrangement of turquoise dyed chrysanthemums and gilded greenery. At each place were paper doll place cards bearing a likeness of the skipper in the same colors, with gold wrapped cigarettes and turquoise sprayed match boxes.

A skit, comically portraying incidents in the skipper's stand at the helm, was put on by the committee Mrs George Fulton and Mrs Eugene Knutsen gschairmen, and the Mesdames Stanley Sagen Marion Taylor Charles Smith and Miss Susie Anderson.

During the evening pins were presented to the members elected to membership during th past year, the Mesdames Dick Thompson Hugh Seppa, Eldon Korpela, Gerry Landmdin and Miss Ann Strachan.

SKIPPER'S BANQUET

The committee for the Skipper's Banquet really did themselves proud again this year.

The Banquet, held at the John Jacob Astor Hotel November 16th, was enjoyed by all and as usual a tremendous success. The decorations were truly beautiful. The centerpiece consisted of chrysanthemums dyed aqua. At each place a paper doll depicting the Skipper, was bright and clever. Decorated match boxes and cigarettes carried out the aqua and gold color scheme.

We all enjoyed the clever skit, but we were sure that Skipper Bev understood a little more than we did. The skit was presented by the committee -- Co chairmen Esty Knutsen and Sue Fulton, ably assisted by June Taylor, Mabel Sagan, Susie Anderson, and Marge Smith, was hilarious.

The props, borrowed from the Astoria Clinic, included a fifth of bourbon. It is still a mystery as to how it got there, probably to be used for "medicinal" purposes only.

Dr. (Kurilo) Sagan couldn't be found after the Banquet. Is [illegible] she the, was out looking for the bouncing eyeball?

Beverly Willson and Jean Reed made quite a [illegible] arrived wrapped in mink stoles.

Susie Anderson took her Thursday Afternoon off on [illegible] Whay's the matter, Susie, no guts?

The skipper's banquet, which honored Mrs. Duff, also gave tribute to Mrs. Eugene Kant[illegible] and Mrs. [illegible] who received pins for 25 years of active membership. Retired into inactive membership after 20 years [illegible] were Mrs. Axel England, Mrs. Har[illegible] Mrs. Walter Johnson, Mrs. George Oja and Mrs. Roland Peterson.

New members initiated in the year were the Mesdames Peter Bryant, Jerry Lundholm, Eldon [illegible] Terry Salo, [illegible] Seppa, Richard Slotte, Reinard Thompson and Mrs. Anne Strachan.

Year-end committee reports revealed a busy and productive year for the anchors. A rummage sale, two card parties, a jitney dinner for their families and the Christmas decoration festival, in which women of the community assisted, all served to swell the club's treasury. These funds finance the traditional duties of the Anchor club as official escorts and honor guard for the Regatta Queen each year; assisting in the crowning of each Regatta princess at her school; a tea in honor of the court; management and decoration of the coronation ceremony; also of the queen's luncheon; in charge of the Regatta court wardrobe buying and [illegible] and of the [illegible] of Regatta [illegible]

Planning For '60 Regatta Launched, Wright Prexy

Astoria Regatta planners, soundly in the black for the first time since the celebration was revived after World War II, Thursday night named Lewis Wright, an employee of CRPA, president of the 1960 Regatta.

Wright, who headed the Fish Festival segment of the 1959 celebration, was chosen to head a slate of officers, which includes Joe Tursi, vice-president; Ron Graves, treasurer, and Mrs. Harry Duff, secretary. Both Mrs. Duff and Graves were re-elected to jobs they have held for the past two Regattas.

Directors also named Henry Griffen, Astoria insurance agent, as chairman of Fish Festival events for the upcoming celebration. Griffen will serve as a member of the board. Two new board memebrs were also seated by directors Thursday night Vernon Larsen, Lovell Auto company; and William Ohlmann, Gimre Shoe store, were elected for three year terms. Larsen served with the Regatta board as president of the Optimist club last year in the organization of the first Youth day activity. This event will again be incorporated into the celebration, directors said. Ohlmann headed the 1959 Regatta parade.

Also named to the board, along with Mrs. Duff, Tursi and Graves, for another three-year term was John H. Neller, a former president of the association. Holdover directors include Eugene Lowe and Don Garris.

Financial Success

Outgoing President Jean Hallaux in his final statement to the board termed the 1959 celebration a financial success. He said the 1959 Regatta not only paid its own way, but paid off all of the $1400 in bills left over from the 1958 celebration. Hallaux said approximately $2000 is now held in Regatta coffers as a backing to start the 1960 celebration.

Hallaux asserted the healthy financial picture plus the many comments on the quality of the '59 celebration definitely answered in the affirmative the question of whether the community wants the Regatta continued.

"This revival of public interest and enthusiasm for the Regatta indicates support for the celebration runs deep not only throughout the city, but throughout the county. It is encouraging that the Regatta, on the eve of the 1961 Sesquicentennial celebration for the city is 'in the black' and heathy enough to participate as an integral part of the big celebration in 1961," he said.

Hallaux pointed out the celebration is the oldest water festival in the Pacific Northwest and as such will be at the forefront of the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the Northwest's oldest community.

Approximately $7500 income was reported for the 1959 celebration, with approximately $5500 as expenditures. Contribuations from merchants, gate receipts and a 'brake' on expenditures were credited by Hallaux with making the celebration a success.

Previous Regattas, since the celebration was revived in 1952, have ended in the red or made only moderate financial gains, officials pointed out. The celebration has faced a difficult road since the Salmon Derby was dropped in 1956. This event always provided the extra financial spurt to spare the organization from financial failure. It was terminated in accordance with new regulations of the Oregon state legislature which in spirit, if not in the letter of the law, outlawed the fish derbies in Oregon waters. At that time members of the board joined in the conservation effort and since that time have supported this policy.

Directors Praised

Hallaux had high praise for the board of directors. He singled out in particular the work of Mrs. Lucille Maris, finance chairman who spearheaded the drive for funds; and Ron Graves, who kept a tight check on the purse strings as treasurer.

Mrs. Maris was recently forced to resign from the board when she was transferred to the Portland office of the Pacific Telephone company.

"without the whole-hearted support on the part of the Astoria merchants and citizens, the Regatta would have been doomed. "Hallaux said. He pointed out funds pledged by the county, if the association needed them, were not collected this year. Only $400 of a $1000 pledge by the city was used. Of $500 made available from the county to aid the celebartion in an advertising campaign, not a cent was collected, Hallaux said.

"The Regatta made its way with the support of the people who attended the events and who backed it with button purchases and direct donations for its support," Hallaux said.

However, Hallaux frankly admitted the celebration was a "pared down" event, stripped to barest essentials. He stressed funds left over must become a backlog on which future Regattas can rely and aid the expansion of the celebration along the lines begun and followed in recent years.

Wright, in acc[illegible] from Hallaux, charted [illegible] gal course for the celebration. He also praised the work Hallaux did in bringing the celebration back to financial health and pledged to preserve the financial surplus to insure a Regatta in Astoria's big year of 1961. He stressed that immediate planning was needed to insure a good celebration and set the wheels in motion for getting the 1960 celebration "on the road."

Directors set August 25, 26, 27, 28 as the days for the celebartion [illegible]

Anchor Party Winds Up Busy Year

The annual Christmas party given by the skipper, Mrs. Harry Duff, and executive board of the Anchor club, was held recently at the Yacht club for the membership. Traditional red and green motif prevailed about the room aglow with candlelight.

The punch table of red was centered by a white tree won by Mrs. A. H. Mathre. First Mate Mary Bill Leahy served the punch. Dinner was served from a green table centered with a white winter scene. Skipper Mrs. Harry Duff presided at the coffee service. Gifts were distributed by a jolly Santa, who resembled Mrs. Leahy. Christmas carol singing was led by Miss Ann Schairer.

The board, assisting Mrs. Duff was composed of the Mesdames Bill Leahy, Richard Riutta, Don Hoyer, Herman Haggren, John Nellor, Frank Thorsness, Bob Graves, past skipper, and Miss Ann Schairer.

The skipper's banquet, which honored Mrs. Duff, also gave tribute to Mrs. Eugene Knutsen and Mrs. John Hill who received pins for 20 years of active membership. Retired into inactive membership after 20 years or more were Mrs. Axel Englund, Mrs. Harold Johnson, Mrs. Walter Johnson, Mrs. George Oja and Mrs. Roland Peterson.

New members initiated in the year were the Mesdames Peter Bryant, Jerry Lundholm, Eldon Korpela, Terry Sale, Hugh Seppa, Richard Slotte, Richard Thompson and Miss Anne Strachan.

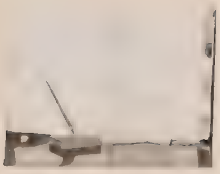

Year-end committee reports revealed a busy and productive year for the anchors. A rummage sale, two card parties, a jitney dinner for their families and the Christmas decoration festival, in which [illegible] all served to swell the club treasury. These funds financed the traditional gifts of the Anchor club to the elderly [illegible] and [illegible] for the Regatta Queen each year, assisting in the crowning of each Regatta princess at her coronation ball, the cost of the court maid luncheon and decoration of the evening ceremony, also the [illegible] luncheon in honor of the Regatta court wardrobe buying and upkeep; and of the sale of Regatta buttons.

However, other community projects keep the Anchors busy after the Regatta season is over, namely assisting at USO club activities, the Red Cross blood bank and welfare baskets for the needy.

Card Party Plans Made by Anchors On Snowy Night

ANCHORS

Vol. 22, No. 2 Sidonna Gustafson, Doris Bryant February, 1960

The installation ceremonies were as impressive as always with the 1960 officers taking over and Bev giving her thanks to the 1959 officers. Bev gave the Club a lovely crystal punch bowl and gifted each of her officers with earrings. They in turn presented her with an ice bucket. She also received her past skipper's pin. At coffee time the committee was fortunate in being the first to use the new M.J.B. perculator. It will brew up to 84 cups and certainly beats the old method. Would be nice to get the one from Folgers by card party time. It was a nice topper for the evening when Dolores won the centerpiece as the evenings prize. Committee for the evening was Sidonna Gustafson, Carol Seppa, Dorothy Yockey, Pat Simonsen, and Doris Bryant.

* * * *

Due to the weather there weren't many girls at the January 18th meeting. Thelma Johnson, Evelyn Carlson, Katherine Ferris and Margy Thompson really outdid themselves on the sandwiches. The table decorations were pink and white and the centerpiece of artificial flowers was won by Shirley Landwehr. During the meeting, we were thinking of passing all sorts of new things but couldn't agree on hew many made up a quorum. After refreshments everyone pitched in and helped the committee as the pure and driven snow was still falling and it isn't much fun facing the long yacht club driveway with very much snow on it.

How About That?

Sorry about Dorothy Jacobs accident. We hear it'll be six weeks before Dorothy's truly on her feet again.

A spelling lesson -- it's DOlores not DElores. Guess it's Doo instead of Dee from now on.

In the calendar proposed by the Ways and Means Committee -- a D A N C E! Can't believe it!

Boy, when Laura Fern thinks it's cold she has a wonderful expression to let you know exactly how cold it is.

Faye Hill was in bed at nine on a Friday night when we called for Anchors. Sorry!

The Past Skippers had their annual banquet in January at the crab pot. Was in honor of Bev as she joined their ranks.

Of interest to many is news from Viola Johnson that her sister, former Anchor Dorothy Miller Mattson, gave birth to a daughter on January 16th at Ballard General Hospital in Seattle. The baby weighed 4 lb. 8 oz. and was named Lynne Marie. Both Dorothy and Lynne are doing fine!

Marge Kubicks son, Dale, left for two years active service in the Navy. He is stationed at Treasure Island but expects overseas duty soon.

Syl Vaughn's husband, Forrest, was installed as Commodore of the Yacht Club for 1960.

Card Party February 15th. Shirley Landwehr, Verna Davis, co-cheirmen, Alice Springer, Helen Niemi, Betty Korpela, Laura Reith, Betty Johnson. Raffle committee, Jean Reed, Bev Willson, Pauline Winstanley. Cake Concession, Clovia Wells, Ann Schairer.

Anchor Members Plan Card Party, Family Dinner

A Valentine card party, to be held February 15 at the Yacht club, was top topic of business at the Anchor club Monday evening.

Reservations for the party are to be called in to Mrs. Robert Landwehr, FA 5-6389, or to Mrs Al Davis, FA 5-0723.

Named to head the committee for a family pitney dinner March 21 were Mrs. Peter Bryant and Mrs. Duane Gustafson.

Mrs Floyd Reith Jr. introduced Girls State representatives, who told of their experiences at the state capitol. Members then made their contributions to the March of Dimes.

Refreshments in the Valentine motif were served by Mrs. Hiram Johnson, chairman for the evening. Mrs. Jerry Lundholm, Mrs. Eugene Knutsen and Miss Susie Anderson, who awarded the evening's special prize to Mrs. Victor Olson.

Springtime Decor Is Gay at Anchor Club Card Party

A spring bright atmosphere prevaded at the Anchor club card party Monday night with 65 tables in play.

Pillars in the Yacht club lounge were wrapped in Maypole effect and a garden setting with Maypole took over the stage. Tables were spread with pastel colored cloths and centered with flowers and matching candles when chiffon pie in flower colors was served later.

Winners at cards were the Mesdames Fred Wolleson, Peter Bryant, Robert Hagerup, Archie Reiknola, James Whitsell and Burnly Bell, with special prizes going to the Mesdames Ted Mather, James Wheatley and Herman Kobbe.

Co-chairman for the social event were Mrs. R. Landwehr and Mrs. Allen Davis, assisted by the Mesdames Donald Johnson, Eldon Korpela, George Niemi, Floyd Reith Jr. and Jack Springer.

Putting things to right after the party were the Mesdames William Dreitlein, Fred Fredreickson, Duane Gustafson, William Leahy, Richard Thompson and the Misses Audrey Dirra, Ann Schaurer, Ann Strachan and Clovia Wells.

Ready to serve from the flower centered tea table at last night's card party, given by the American Legion auxiliary, are the committee in charge, from left, Mrs. Harry Duff, chairman, Mrs. Frank Thorsness and Mrs. Leonard Farris. Some 20 tables were in play.

Anchor Club Sets Date and Place Of Jitney Dinner

Plans for a jitney dinner, to be held Monday at 6:30 p.m. at the Yacht club, were made when the Anchors met Monday evening.

Mrs. Al Mather and Mrs. Bob Hunter are co-chairmen for the dinner, to be assisted by the Mesdames Ron Hubbard, Frank Thorsness, Stanley Sagen and Miss Ann Strachan.

Mrs. Hugh Winstanley was appointed chairman of another fund-raising project to be held in June.

The Anchor Log was edited by Mrs. Kenneth Hill and Mrs. Richard Thompson. The special prize was won by Mrs. Don Kubik.

Members voted a donation to sponsor a girl to Girls State this summer.

Hostesses were Mrs. Jack Cederberg and Mrs. Fred Frederickson and Miss Ann Schairer.

Astoria's Float In Rose Festival Gets First $100

First of the organizations to contribute to a fund for an Astoria float in the Rose Festival parade in Portland this June is the Anchor club.

At Monday night's meeting at the Yacht club, members voted $100 from their treasury for the float fund.

Skipper Mrs. William Leahy led the discussion on that first item on the agenda with Regatta plans taken up next.

Hostesses, the Mesdams William Allen, Herman Haggren and Richard Riutta, centered the refreshment table with a potted fern, which was awarded as the evening's special prize, to Miss Audrey Daro.

There's your princess, Astoria high school, Princess Jocelyn of Regatta land.

AHS To Pick Princess

Selection of the Astoria high school Regatta princess will take place at a dance to be held Saturday at 8 p.m. in the American room of the American Legion club according to Vernon Larson, Regatta board member who is chairman of the court committee. Ten senior girls have been nominated by the student body: Barbara Davis, Jan Isaacson, Millie Haristrom, Anne Harvey, Jocelyn Maddox, Karen Mellin, Marilyn Mortitt, Sonja Norgaard, Patricia Reith and Judy Simonsen. A special group of Regatta board members will participate in the ceremonies at the dance as well as at the dance tonight at Star of the Sea, when that high school will choose its princess.

PRINCESS GRETA FICK

Princess Greta Of Knappa High Fills Out Court

Hail to Princess Greta, the fifth princess of Regatta land, rounding out the 1960 court carefully chosen from the length and breadth of the happy kingdom of gleaming waterways and pretty girls.

This latest thing in royalty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fick and she is Knappa high school's very nice choice for a very nice Regatta court. Chosen by members of her student body at a dance for that purpose Friday evening, Princess Greta confessed that she was thrilled speechless. "But mother was just as thrilled as I was," she smiled.

It's a sweet little, shy little smile, for this is a feminine type. Sports are not her forte, but she does love to swim in the Columbia just beyond her home on green leafed, winding Ivy road.

But sewing is her pet hobby, awards that went to the state fair making pretty frocks and things that all girls love.

Born her in Astoria at St. Mary's hospital May 5, 1942 (she just celebrated her 18th birthday), she attended grade school and high school at Knappa, where she was active in 4-H work in grade school. In her freshman year she was a member of the Pepperettes; in her sophomore year she was a home coming princess; in her junior year was in the chorus, in GAA and treasurer of Future Homemakers of America. This past senior year, she was secretary of the student body, president of FHA and princess at the junior-senior prom.

She hopes to go to Portland State college after graduation starting out in liberal arts.

She plays the piano, popular music being her choice, her favorite dish is spaghetti ("the Slavonian way mother cooks it") and she used to help her father with his mink farming, but high school days have proved too busy this past year.

At home there is an older sister Maureen, who works in the high school business office, who is pretty thrilled, too, about her younger dark haired, hazel-eyed sister's latest honor.

Oh, yes, and two dogs, Mack a Dalmation, and Buster, a black cocker spaniel, who are royal watch dogs now about the place.

So there you have it, the 1960 Regatta court, Princess Linda (See) of Warrenton; Princess Jocelyn (Maddox), of Astoria; Princess Toni (Ellro), of Star of the Sea; Princess Gwen (Jones) of Seaside; and making it complete the fifth and lovely Greta, princess of Knappa-Svensen.

Mrs. McLean To Chaperone Royal Court

Mrs. Robert McLean

By PHILIPPE SEABROOK
A-B Staff Writer

Now that five winsome Regatta princesses have been announced, it is quite fitting and proper that there be an official court chaperone. Quite fitting and proper and a very lucky choice for the five princesses is Mrs. Robert (Nellie) McLean, whom the Regatta association has selected for this honor.

Portland-born, Mrs. McLean has called Astoria her home since 1932, and during those years she has been familiar with young girls, through Girl Scouting and Rainbow, serving on the Kiwanilong camp committee and on the Rainbow board of directors.

She is past president of the Astoria chapter, Daughters of the Nile, is immediate past worthy matron of Fern chapter, Order of Eastern Star and is presently president of Rotary Anns. She is also a member of the Presbyterian church.

Gardening is her hobby in the yard of her home in Lewis and Clark district, but she, like every other flower enthusiast, bemoans the fact that "there hasn't been much opportunity" for following her hobby this spring.

Posed, charming, slender, she is one of Astoria's pretty and youthful grandmothers, and she and Dr. McLean are looking forward to a visit from tiny Lisa, 19 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Palo (Roberta McLean), who will be coming from Eugene for a while as soon as their son-in-law receives his degree from the University of Oregon next week.

A busy, happy summer lies ahead for the court chaperone, who is just as anxious to meet her five little princes charges, five mighty lucky girls.

Four-Section Float Chosen For Rose Festival Parade

Astoria will have a four-section float in the Portland Rose Festival parade, Gordon Hutchens, float committee chairman announced Monday morning.

Each section will be 10 feet long, Hutchens said.

The first section will be a tribute to the Rose Festival. Following it will be a tribute to Astoria's past, a replica of Fort Astoria, Astoria's present in the form of fishing logging and the Astor column will feature the third section; and a replica of the Columbia river bridge, symbolizing Astoria's future will be on the fourth float.

The float is being constructed at Lloyd Center, Portland, by Valley Decorating company. Anyone interested in seeing the float under construction may go there Friday, Hutchens said. At that time, additional workers will be putting the flowers on the float.

The local campaign to pin a flower on the float was "apparently quite successful," according to R. J. Hanson, co-chairman of the float committee.

But the final accounting from Saturday's daisy sale in Astoria has not yet been completed, Hanson said.

The Star of the Sea lettermen's club will set up the chairs at the Armory for the Astoria high school band concert Thursday night, Hanson said.

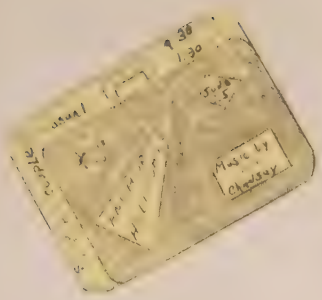

Proceeds from the concert will be used for the fund to pay for the float.

Here's Design for Rose Festival Float

This is the design finally chosen for the Astoria float in the Portland Rose Festival parade. The princesses will be on the platform in the center of the float, and the passengers. The three archways, one on each section of the float, will carry the legend "1811 Astoria 1961."

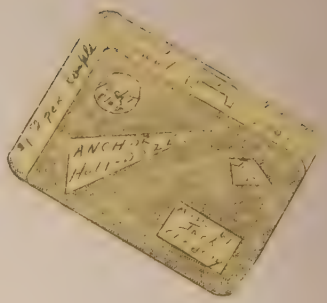

Mrs. David Hoyer, left, and Mrs. Arthur Anderson, start decorating for coming Anchor dance.

Holi-Daze Theme For Anchor Dance

Holi-daze will be the theme of the dance the Anchor club will give Saturday evening at the Yacht club, prior to devoting the ensuing month to the many duties they annually take over during the Astoria Regatta.

Trips, vacation time and all the gaities of the summer time will lend the idea for decor at the dance, for which the Four Tones will furnish music for Anchor members and their guests from 9:30 p.m.-1:30 a.m.

Mrs. David Hoyer and Mrs. Arthur Andersson are co-chairmen for the dance, to be assisted by Mrs. Robert Reed, Mrs. Leonard Farris, Miss Ann Schairer and Miss Clovia Wells.

Anchor Club Initiates 9

Nine young women were initiated into the Anchor club, at a candle light ceremony, conducted by Mrs. William Leahy, Anchor skipper, Monday night at the yacht club.

Those receiving the formal rites were the Mesdames David Edison, Thomas Edison, Jean Hallaux, Wesley Shaner, David Thorsnes, Lewis Wright, Nicholas Zafiriolos and the Misses Frances McMan- and Diane Pippo.

Following the formal ceremony, an informal and amusing skit was put on by the initiates for the entertainment of the members.

The tea table for the reception honoring the new members was covered with powder blue satin, the silver appointments holding blue tapers, white snapdragons and blue bachelor buttons, the club colors. Individual tables featured blue anchors inscribed with the names of the new members.

Mrs. Dick Thompson was chairman for the evening, assisted by the Mesdames Peter Bryant, Jerry Lundholm, Eldon Korpela, Terry Solo, Hugh Seppa, Richard Slotte nd Miss Ann Strachan.

WELCOME NEW MEMBERS

On June 20th after a very pleasing performance, ten new members were welcomed into Anchors in the traditional candlelight ceremony. They were the following: Carol Edison, Millie Edison, Judy Dean, Charlotte Halleux, Frances McManamma, Diane Pippo, Ruth Shaver, Edith Thoresen, Becky Wright and Virginia Zafiratos. Congratulations girls! And may you each enjoy many happy years of service, good times, and pleasant memories as an Anchor.

[illegible] DANCE

The almost forgotten Anchor dance was successfully revived again on June 25th under the theme of "Anchor Holi-Daze". Music for the fifty-four couples present was furnished by Jack Chidsey's orchestra, with dancing from 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. Co-chairmen Margo Andvason and Lorraine Boyer, with their committee, Katherine Farris, Jean Read, Ann Schairer and Clovia Walls, turned the hall into a vacation land with balloons, airplanes, and posters of far-away places.

Seafair Unit Head Named Fete Admiral

AL OPSATA

Al Opsata of Seattle will be admiral of the 1960 Astoria Regatta, the Regatta association announced today.

Opsata is commandant of the Seattle Seafair Commodores, an organization of 60 young Seattle business and professional men who have assisted during the year in financial solicitation for Seattle civic activities.

The Seafair Commodores also act as hosts to visiting dignitaries during the annual Seafair celebration, now in progress.

Opsata has been a member of the Seafair Commodores for five years. He is married and has three girls, aged 12, 17 and 20.

Opsata will arrive the afternoon of August 25 to assume his duties as Regatta admiral, the Regatta association announced.

Regatta Court Pays Respects To Anchor Club

The five Regatta princesses, trim in their new red and white uniforms, paid their respects to the Anchor club at Monday night's meeting at the Yacht club, accompanied by their chaperone, Mrs. Robert McLean.

Each pretty girl addressed the Anchors on some particular phase of the Regatta. Princess Toni Eltro, from Star of the Sea, gave the history of the Regatta; Princess Linda See, of Warrenton, told of the duties of the Regatta court; Princess Greta Fick, of Knappa, chose as her topic the big Regatta parade, Princess Jocelyn Maddox, of Astoria, described the marine events, and Princess Gwen Jones, of Seaside, told about the fish festival.

All Regatta committee chairmen reported on the progress being made toward the queen's luncheon, tea and coronation, after which coffee an' was served from a table covered with a bright red cloth and set with snow white appointments.

Mrs. Rudy Lovsold was chairman of the evening, assisted by the Mesdames Donald Kubik, John Sevoerg and Allan Conger. The Anchor Log was edited by Mrs. Kenneth Simonsen and Miss Clovia Wells and the evening's special prize went to Miss Ann Strachan.

Kiwanis Hears Regatta Court

Kiwanis members heard urgent appeals to support the Regatta and take part in Regatta activities Monday from five Regatta princesses and their chaperone, Mrs Robert McClean.

The five princesses, making their ninth public appearance so far this summer, all made short talks on various phases of Regatta activity.

Princess Toni Eltro was heard on Regatta history, Linda See on the duties of the royal court, Greta Fick on Regatta parades, Jocelyn Maddox on marine events and Gwen Jones on Fish Festival activitiees.

Lt Comdr William Ayers, executive officer of the submarine USS Salmon, spoke briefly. He said the Salmon's crew was being entertained well here and enjoyed the Astoria visit the vessel is making this week.

Don Patten, now of Corvallis and a former Astoria Kiwanis president, was a guest. Patten was here on a couple of days' visit.

WARRENTON C OF C TO HONOR PRINCESSES

WARRENTON (Special) — Princesses of the Regatta court will be honor guests at the Wednesday noon luncheon meeting of the Warrenton chamber of commerce to be held at the Crab Pot. Interested persons are invited to attend.

Zontas Serve Smorgasbord To '60 Court

The five Regatta princesses, Toni Eltro, Linda See, Greta Fick, Jocelyn Maddox and Gwen Jones, nattily attired in their pretty red jackets, white skirts, hats and gloves, together with their chaperone, Mrs Robert McLean, and Mrs. Albert Sorkki, the first mate of the Anchor club, were guests of the Zonta club Thursday noon, at a special smorgasbord luncheon at the John Jacob Astor hotel.

Mary Hay, vice-president of the local club, introduced Mrs. Sorkki to the members, and she then introduced Mrs. McLean and the royal court. As each of the princesses was introduced, she gave a short talk on some particular and interesting phase of the Regatta.

Another guest at the luncheon was Miss Gladys Oja.

The regular business meeting was dispensed with, in order to give all the time possible to the princesses' talks, but the picnic committee announced that the club's annual picnic would be Thursday evening, August 4, at 6:30 p.m. at the new home of Ebba Brown on Skyline avenue.

Regatta Button Sales are now in full swing, thanks to the many girls who have given up their time to go out and sell.

The night of Aug. 5th. the fine girls did a wonderfull job of selling 171 buttons. Bev Duff, Mary Lou Haggren, Audrey Diiro, Louise Drietlein, Becky Wright, Faye Hill, Laura Reith, Frances McManama and Evelyn Carlson were our "super saleswomen". Special thanks go to four non-anchor members, Cheri Cutlip, Pat Brooks, Nancy Haglund, and Rosalie Haglund who gave the girls a helping hand in selling. Mary Lou Mathner did a wonderful job of selling 37 buttons that same evening.

The Saturday afternoon sales consisted of 245 buttons sold from 10:00 AM to 1:30 P.M. by the hard working crew consisting of Vivian Graves, Mary Lou Haggren, Margie Mather, Rae Dean Slotte and Edith Thorsness.

This past Friday afternoon 7 girls sold from 1:30 to 5 P.M. 155 buttons were sold. Selling this day, Dorothy Yockey, Pauline Winstanley, Virginia Reiter, Mary Lou Haggren, Aune Malmberg, Helen Niemi, and Vivian Graves.

Let's all keep selling.

The red and white Regatta posters are now around town. The posters have pictures of the Regatta Princesses on them. Many, many thanks to Jeanie Mogenson for doing such a fine job on the publicity.

Women of the Anchor Club! Presenting your Regatta Royalty at their tea August 20th., 2 to 4 in the Yacht Club. Everyone Welcome! Come and make this event the nicest ever.

Have you made your reservations for the Regatta luncheon yet? It is to be held in the J.J. Astor Hotel, Aug. 27th. at 12:00 P.M. If you haven't made your reservations, call Pauline Winstanley, FA5-5769, Ellen Conger FA5-6125, or Leona Tolonen FA5-0988. Invite all your friends.

Many thanks to the new members who cleaned house at the Yacht Club Monday, Aug. 8th., NOW everything is all spic and span.

How lucky can you be? Rae Dean Slottes' husband won $500.00 at the Elks Club. They are planning a trip to Lake Tahoe on Aug. 20th.

Edna Lovvold flew down to Long Beach to visit her husband Rudy.

Speaking of flying, who sent their son Petie home on the plane by himself so she and her husband could be alone, hmm?

The big question today is: Will movieland discover Susie who is now vacationing in southern Calif? She is also planning to visit with former anchor Shirley Ekman who now resides in Long Beach.

Verna and Allan Davis are on a five week vacation touring the U.S. The last word heard came from New York City.

Nancy and Frank Thorsness are leaving Tuesday for Medford.

Sus Fulton and her 2 children recently returned from a one month visit with her sister in Walnut Creek, Calif.

Court Guests Of C of C At Luncheon

WARRENTON (Special)--The five Regatta princesses and their court chaperone, Mrs. Robert McLean, were guests of honor at their first luncheon out of town when the Warrenton chamber of commerce invited them to their noon luncheon meeting Wednesday at the Crab Pot.

Frank Stilwell, chamber president, welcomed the court and then turned over the introductions to Mrs. Frank Maize. Each princess spoke briefly on an individual phase of the Regatta, after the baked ham luncheon.

Rare and colorful species of sweetpeas from the Paul Hutchinson gardens furnished the decor for the luncheon tables.

Special Train to Bring Portlanders Here for Regatta

The 1960 Regatta will get an unexpected assist from the Portland area in the form of a train excursion that will bring an estimated 1000 people into Astoria Sunday, August 28. The national association of Railway Business Women has arranged to bring a 20 car train down the 100 miles of the old Astoria and Columbia River railroad through Scappoose, St Helens, Goble, Rainier, Clatskanie, Westport, and on to Astoria, all cities important in the history of early railroading.

The Astoria Regatta association and the visitors service committee of the chamber are making plans to welcome these visitors. The excursionists will arrive in time to participate in the gigantic, open air salmon barbecue and outboard races. Free shuttle buses will run from the barbecue to Youngs river, scene of the boat races. Other plans call for bus tours of the city and possibly the Tongue Point facilities. The admiral, Regatta court, city officials and bands will be on hand to greet the train on its arrival.

Tickets for the excursion are now on sale at the Portland SP&S ticket office, 6th and Washington, Capitol 3-7773. Union Station, N.W. 6th Avenue, Capitol [illegible] by mail from NARBW, P.O. Box 3792, Portland.

Court Being Entertained

The five Astoria Regatta princesses and their chaperone Mrs. Robert McLean were guests of the Warrenton chamber of commerce for lunch today at the Crab Pot. Tonight they will attend the Jay-C-Elle dinner at the John Jacob Astor hotel and Thursday will be guests of the Seaside Rotary club at the Shangri-La restaurant. Saturday they will be guests of the Seaside hotel for swimming and luncheon.

Princesses See Regatta Land From the Air

One of the thrills included in the eventful lives of the five Regatta princesses these busy days was their flight over their Regatta kingdom Sunday while they were guests of the Astoria Pilots association fly-in Sunday at Clatsop airport.

The court princesses were taken up in the two twin-engine planes that created interest among the crowd that inspected the more than 30 planes present. Ned Putnam, president of the Oregon Pilots association and prominent lumberman from Klamath Falls, was one of the pilots in his twin engined executive Aero Commander, and they also were taken up by Chuck Holman of the Art Whitaker firm, Vancouver, in the new Piper Aztec, also a twin-engine executive aircraft.

They were photographed by Earl Snyder, director of the Oregon State Board of Aeronautics, and by Don Norris, for "The Northwest Flyer," the pilots' newspaper published bi-weekly at Parkland, Wash. The men came down in their official press plane for the event.

The princesses and their chaperone, Mrs. Robert McLean, were guests at a smorgasbord served after the parachute jumping show and their own flights.

City police advised that parking will be prohibited on Commercial street from 8th to 23rd after 3 p.m Saturday. Meters will be covered at 2 p.m. and all vehicles parked in the restricted area after 3 30 p.m will be impounded, the order stated.

Several organizations have volunteered services of their members for the traditional Astoria fish fry, one of the final events of the Regatta Sunday noon at the 4-H building, according to Lee Ethel Sparks, who will greet those attending the salmon barbecue The Fleet Reserve and its auxiliary the Rebekahs and Theta Rho Girls of Warrenton, the GSO girls and servicemen of the USO and the Daughters of Norway all will be on hand to help keep the lines moving, the tables supplied and the coffee cups filled A nominal charge for children and adults is in order.

The Armory resembled a meeting of the United Nations at the Smorgasette Friday night, with costumes of the various countries represented on the floor, creating a colorful pattern from the balcony seats. The exquisite sheer boultant gowns of the Filipino women, shimmering brocades of the Orientals, and gay red and white, elaborately embroidered native dress of the Nordic girls lent a pageant atmosphere to the crowd, that was swelled, after the children's parade, by a pot-pourri of many other "nation-al" costumes worn by the small fry.

There was no way to estimate, even in round numbers, how many partook of the smorgasbord foods at the long tables at the Smorgasette, according to those at the ticket windows, for many free admissions were given to those donating food and services. They only know (and it was evident to the clean-up crew) that platters were empty and every smidgen of food was gone.

Consuls of several foreign nations, here from Portland as official Regatta guests, were entertained with their ladies, at a reception and social hour Friday evening in the American Legion hall, just preceding the International Smorgasette at which they were official guests.

There was a mix-up in the announced rank of two of the members of the Regatta court, due to the flurry and hurry of coronation night, and rank is an important thing to boys both big and small. So, let it be known, through all the kingdom of Regatta, that Stephen Kustura was crown bearer to her Royal Highness Queen Gwen I; and Stephen Wilson was page.

The band show at the Armory at 8 p.m following the big land parade this afternoon, is one exactly same as the awards presentation, the latter to be made during the same evening

Reservations for the luncheon should be made as soon as possible through the Astoria Chamber of Commerce There will be no bus service to the base so all those wishing to attend should arrange for their own transportation

The Regatta association fund-drive is lagging behind the necessary amount to promote and carry the financial burden involved in staging the annual affair. Due to last-minute preparation for events to take place next week it may be that all local businessmen will not be visited personally by a member of the Regatta board and if such businesses wish they may mail their contributions directly to the Regatta association. Such action will be greatly appreciated by the board and will help insure future Regattas for the community.

Attention all Regatta admirals, vice- admirals, ex-admirals, and any other type of loyal Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival booster! Wear your admiral uniforms during Regatta week! Astoria's big annual fun festival, the Regatta and Fish Festival, will get under way this week.

The four-day affair starts Thursday afternoon, continuing through Sunday afternoon.

The number of visitors this year will probably be augmented by Oregon National Guardsmen of the anti-aircraft artillery group who began their annual two-week encampment at Camp Rilea this week, 1200 strong, and by an estimated 1200 people who will come by special train Sunday for the salmon barbecue, closing event of the Fish Festival.

Arrival of Admiral Al Opsata of Seattle Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock and his official reception at the John Jacob Astor hotel will launch the Regatta officially, according to Lewis Wright, general chairman

Dinner Planned

The admiral will arrive at the hotel accompanied by Beryl Swails, official admiral's aide Myron Henry Steinbock and Regatta officials will be on hand to greet the admiral.

A dinner for Admiral Opsata will precede the coronation of the queen at the Armory Thursday night

The coronation ceremony will include selection of the queen from among the five princesses—Toni Eltiro, Linda See, Jocelyn Maddox, Gwen Jones and Greta Fick The Anchor club will be in charge of the queen selection and coronation ceremonies as in past years A dance will follow the ceremonies.

Friday's program includes an official luncheon for Admiral Opsata at Tongue Point at noon, the annual big Kiwanis childrens' parade at 6 p.m and the Fish Festival Smorgasette at 6 p.m. at the Armory The number of dishes to be offered at the Smorgasette will be the biggest in the history of the event, according to Adelaine Sather, chairman.

Saturday's big program starts at 10 a.m with marine events at the East End mooring basin, including log rolling and sailing races, water skiing demonstration and other stunts.

Youth Day Billed

Youth day athletic events for children, sponsored by the Optimists, starts at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at Gyro field. The Anchor club will give a queen's luncheon at noon, and at 4 p.m. will come the big Regatta parade. A band show is scheduled Saturday night at 8 on Gyro field.

Sunday's program includes hydroplane races, to be held this year on upper Youngs Bay, above the highway bridge, starting at 9 a.m., marine events starting at 10, and then the salmon barbecue at the Four-H Fair Grounds at noon.

A special railroad train, sponsored by Portland railroad enthusiasts, is expected to bring 1200 guests just in time for the salmon barbecue, and for a tour of Astoria to follow

Continuous events to be in progress through the whole Regatta period include a bowling tournament at Lower Columbia Bowl with Helen Sorkki in charge; a golfing tournament at Astoria Country club, with Vern Larson in charge, a gem and mineral show, and open house at Tongue Point and the historical museum.

Portland Girl To Greet VIP's At Event

BERENICE RIEHL

A gracious, personable young career woman, Berenice Riehl, manager of the American Express Travel Service office in the new Meier and Frank's store in the Lloyd's addition, Portland, will be in charge of the honor table at the Regatta Smorgasette Friday evening.

This table will be reserved for the Regatta admiral and queen with her court and chaperone, Regatta president and officials and members of the foreign consulate offices in Portland, who are planning to attend the event.

Miss Riehl, who has travelled extensively for her company, and who is well-versed in meeting and greeting VIP's in her work, will be hostess for the distinguished guests in town when the Smorgasette is served, starting at 6 p.m.

4-Day Affair Billed

The annual Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival gets under way tomorrow with proceeds of numerous events scheduled until the climax of next Sunday's salmon barbecue.

Festivities start Tuesday at 10 a.m. [illegible] ...ceremonies at the Astoria Armory, ...each one. Regatta director ...

The Regatta committee is scheduled to meet tomorrow night to consider last minute details

The hydroplane races this year are officially sanctioned by the Northwest Power Boat Association which will handle all details of the races. A large entry list of power boats is reported.

Many Help To Put on Smorgasette

A list that resembles a cross section of the population of Astoria is behind the scenes, working on the Regatta smorgasette, to be served Friday at 6 p.m. at the Armory

Assisting Helen Bowers and Dora Johnssen, co-chairman, and Miss Adelaine Sather, a member of the advisory committee of the Regatta smorgasette committee, are representatives from 90 per cent of the organizations and clubs in the area, men from the unions, store managers, restaurant operators and countless individuals who have promised to bring food dishes for the event

The chairmen ask that [illegible] Dianne, or call her [illegible] not received cards, so such donations can be checked off at the door when they are borught in to the Armory, and free tickets to the smorgasette be given each donor.

In charge of the mammoth menu planning job is Mrs John Hustand Mrs. Russell Snider, with the help of Olney residents and their wealth of flower gardens, is in charge of decorations, and Marjorie Hendrickson is in charge of public relations

Among the chairmen of the foreign foods are Mrs Sigfred Axelson and [illegible] Mat Kujala Finland; Mrs. Marciano Pizzaro and Mrs. Helen Balan, the Philippines. Mrs A H Lofgren Sweden and Mrs Henry Humnasti, England

Eva Coe, of the home extension group, is salad supervisor, Mrs. Henry Larson has charge of fish balls. Mrs Astrid Wooley, pickled herring, Mrs. Chester Love, pickled

...nappy Fashion Show to Spark Queen's Lunch

Again this year, the Astoria Zontia club will present a fashion show at the Regatta Queen's luncheon, to be held Saturday at the John Jacob Astor hotel, with the style show expected to begin at 1 p.m.

Three local clothing stores, two featuring girls and women's wear in and one showing children's clothes, will provide the fashions for the show and Mrs. Harry Steinbock will do the commentating A committee of five women of the local Zonta club is working on the plans for the show and besides Mrs. Steinbock, are Blanche Mjelde, Evelyn Lazarus, Norma Hirchert, who is president of the club, and Mary Ristola, general chairman Eighteen models will show a total of 36 different styles and they are expected to range from play and school clothes for the kiddies, school and dressy clothes for the high school set, through casual and dressy clothes for women.

In addition to sponsoring the style show, the Zonta club is also helping provide food for the Smorgasette which will be held on Friday evening, and several Zontians will help serve in the popular Regatta event to be held in the Armory.

Celebration

Opsata's Arrival To Launch Fete, Coronation Set

Official Regatta uniforms will be prescribed wear for Astorians the rest of this week as the annual Regatta and Fish Festival gets under way this afternoon.

Preparations for the festival went ahead despite lowering skies.

Admiral Al Opsata of Seattle is due in town this afternoon to launch the event, and will be greeted officially at 5 p.m. at the J. J. Astor hotel by Mayor Harry Steinbock, Regatta Chairman Lewis Wright and other civic officials.

Royal Court Manners At A Tea (And Afterwards)

All lined up and pretty as a picture were the five Regatta princesses in the receiving line at the Anchor club tea, given in their honor Saturday afternoon at the Yacht club. All smile, and gracious manners, they are, from left, Princesses Gwen Jones, Jocelyn Maddox, Greta Fleck, Linda Seeland Toni Bitter with Mrs. Robert McKenzie, queen's mother, and Mrs. William Evans, Anchor club regent, and Mrs. Robert Graves, [illegible]

Courtly manners and decorum were cast aside after the tea was over, and the Regatta princesses, ruffled petticoats a-flutter in the sea breeze, "ran away" down to the yacht club moorage to inspect the many boats tied up for the coming Regatta and fishing season. Here, they approve of the slim, trim lines of Gene Lowe's cruiser which took them out on a royal cruise the next day.

After standing in line for two hours, three thirsty princesses headed for the punch bowl as the last guests leave. Princesses Greta signs the guest book while Princesses Linda has a cup of ice cold punch poured by Princess Gwen.

Two little princesses, Jocelyn and Toni, relax over a cup of tea after greeting guests in the receiving line all afternoon, with lots to giggle about, now that the tension is over. Probably new white slippers were kicked off (but the camera missed that). While the girls were down on the moorage slip, there came a ship a-sailing and it was none other than the graceful, gleaming Cloud, the Sea Scouts daughts craft. "Ahoy there, Flying Cloud" sang out the princesses. And "Ahoy there, princesses!" was the answering salute from the Sea Scouts as they sailed by.

The five Regatta princesses pose prettily "in a little sidewalk cafe on the streets of Paris, which was really a corner of the Yacht club, where the Anchor club held its annual Regatta court tea Saturday afternoon. From left, standing by a laurel terrace, is Princess Toni Ettro, seated at the cafe table, are Princesses Jocelyn Maddox, Greta Fick and Linda See, and "bird watching" is Princess Gwen Jones. The blue cotton afternoon frocks of the court, were worn over many frilly petticoats. (A-B photo)

Anchors Are A-Weigh for a Royal Court Tea

At the foot of the Astoria column plans were in the wind for the event at the top of the list of Regatta events, the Anchor club afternoon tea honoring the Regatta court, to be this Saturday, from 4-6 p.m. at the Yacht club. Chairman of the traditional affair this year is Vivian Graves, top row, in dark jacket, and next to her in the same row are Virginia Reiter, Carol Gunderson, Jane Seeborg, Edna Lavoldt and Louise Dreitlein. Seated in front, from left, Jane Gilander, Margie Thompson, Ann Wellington and Audrey Ditto. Also serving on tea committee for the swank event open to the public, but not present for picture are Doris Bryant, Sheila Hazelwood, Bea Cederberg and Lois Hoyer. Below the princesses and their chaperone, mothers and past Regatta royalty will be honored

Anchor Club Serves Tea On 'Sidewalks of Paree'

The sidewalks of Paris were transplanted, with all their colorful and light-hearted atmosphere, to the Astoria Yacht club Saturday afternoon for the sake of five pretty "Parisiennes," the Regatta princesses, who were guests of honor of the Anchor club at their annual Regatta court tea.

Shades of lavende , from purple through mauve to pink, were the color scheme throughout the club rooms. Guests entered an "outdoor" shrine, with a bird bath and white stone path leading to a two-and-one-half-foot tall statue of St. Francis in a setting of greenery and lavender and white flowers.

The main lounge of the clubhouse opened up onto the "streets of Paris," where wrought iron flower carts held pots of lavender flowers and window boxes "bloomed" with gladioli, stock and dahlias in various shades of purple repeated in large standing containers about the room.

Sidewalk Cafe Setting

The stage depicted the traditional sidewalk cafe, under a gay lavender awning fringed with white, where tables were set with checked table cloths in the same shade, and wicker bird cages, potted shrubs and flower carts were atmospheric against a backdrop of open shuttered windows hung with lavender cafe curtains.

The tea table, covered with a lavender net pettiskirt, daintily ruffled, and emblazoned with large silk pastel butterflies, was centered with a massive bouquet of lavender and pink roses, gladioli and baby breath in the light of tall matching candles in crystad candelabra with prism drops. Silver platters held a myriad of dainty tea sandwiches and petit fours in laveder, pink and white, and mints and candies repeated the colors.

Mothers Of Court Pour

Pouring during the tea hours were mothers of the princesses the Mesdames Dick Maddox, Gene Ettro, Arthur Fick, Carl See, Dorothy Jones; Mrs. Louis Wright, wife of the Regatta association president; Mrs. Harry Steinbock, wife of the mayor, and Mrs. Donald Grandtrom, wife of the commander at Tongue Point.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Bob Graves, tea chairman, Mrs. William Leahy, Anchor club skipper and the official court chaperone Mrs. Robert McLean, who introduced the five princesses. Linda See, Jocelyn Maddox, Tonie Ettro, Gwen Jones and Greta Fick. Assisting about the rooms were the Mesdames Al Sorkki, Bob Reiter, Vernon Larsen, David Hoyer, Al Mather and Miss Olovia Wells, all officers of the club.

Assisting With Crowd

Assisting Mrs. Graves as tea chairman were Mrs. Bill Malmberg and Mrs. Arthur Tilander, decorations chairman, with the Mesdames Kenneth Hill, Bob Reiter, John Seeborg and William Gunderson; Mrs. Rudy Lovveid and Mrs. Dick Thompson, tea committee chairman, assisted by the Mesdames Hoyer, Peter Bryant, Robert Landweihr, William Dreitlein, John Cederberg and Miss Audrey Ditto; and the clean-up committee composed of the Mesdames Arthur Anderson, Herman Haggren, Malmberg, Dreitlein and the Misses Wells, Ann Strachan and Frances McManamna.

Mrs. Gustafson presided at the crystal punch bowl and Mrs. Mc-Iveson registered the guests, both at tables covered with white fringed pink lavender cloths.

Marchers Ready For Parade

Hatfield To Join Event

One of the Regatta's major events, the annual land parade, is all set for its trip through town this afternoon and a big crowd is expected to see it.

Gov. Mark Hatfield, who arrived in Clatsop county this morning, is expected to ride in the parade along with local dignitaries and other visiting notables including Queen Jean Anne Eisenbach of the Portland Rose Festival and her escort of Portland Rosarians.

Police warned motorists that cars will be impounded if parked along the Commercial street parade route after 3 p.m. today.

The parade starts at 4 o'clock at the West Astoria business districts and moves eastward along Marine Drive to 8th, thence to Commercial and eastward along Commercial to the dispersal area around the 4-H fairgrounds.

Judging for awards will be done at the parade's start.

60 Entries Slated

The parade will move in six divisions, according to Jim Spain, general chairman, and there will be more than 60 entries.

Tonight's big event, following the parade, will be a Band show at the Armory in which bands that marched in the parade will participate. It starts at 8 o'clock.

Sunday's program gets underway with a big salmon barbecue at noon at the 4-H fairgrounds, to which all are invited.

Special guests will be some 1200 passengers on a special train from Portland, operated by a group of railroad fans.

At 1 p.m. hydroplane racing will get underway on upper Youngs Bay, to continue through the afternoon. About 40 to 50 boats are expected to compete under auspices of the Pacific Northwest Power Boat Association.

No elimination heats will be run tomorrow morning contrary to previous plans, Chairman Gordon Wolfgram of the boat race features of the Regatta, said today. Some of the drivers probably will be trying out the water during the morning, however.

Road to be Closed

Wolfgram said that the Williamsport road from 7th to the City Park road will be closed to traffic Sunday afternoon by authority of the Oregon Highway Department, as a safety measure. Race spectators will be able to park cars along the road in advance, however.

Admission will be charged to non-wearers of Regatta buttons.

Saturday's program got underway with fishing boat races, sailing races, and other contests this morning at the East End mooring basin. A queen's luncheon and style show were due this noon at JJ Astor hotel.

Last night's big events, both well attended and highly successful,

Pomp and Ceremony Planned for a Lovely Queen

Coronations for the crowned heads of the kingdoms of the world—take place with pomp and ceremony, but there is none more exciting or more important to residents of Regatta land than the crowning of its lovely and gracious queen, Thursday, the opening night of the Regatta. Which one of the five pretty princesses she will be is no concern of the Anchor club coronation committee, shown above. But theirs is the chore of setting the stage, arranging all the many details, getting the coronation robes ready, the shining scepter and jewelled crown out of their hiding places and ordering the royal bouquet. Marge Smith, far left, co-chairman with Donna Gustafson for the setting, is seated next to Marge Kubik, program chairman, with next in line, clockwise, June Taylor, Lila Altheide, Donna Gustafson and Helen Sorkki, coronation general chairman. The Old Armory Never Smelled So Good!

The aroma of good food cooking was on the wind yesterday, and if you followed your nose, you would have ended up at the Armory, where, in the basement a mammoth kitchen, with four stoves, eight refrigerators and many long tables were set up in preparation for the smorgasette tonight at 6 p.m. Members of the extension units were frying mountains of golden brown fish cakes, stirring gallons of spicy spaghetti, mixing mammoth pots of beans and chopping, and paring mounds of fresh 4-H vegetables for hot casseroles, to go with all the foreign foods to be brought in along with roast turkeys, fried chicken, etc., etc., [illegible] aluminum services of the efficiently decor[illegible] from left, the Mesdames Arthur Swanson, Hilmer Lofgren, Edwin Kumpula, Marvin Wright, Stuart Coe, H. Seaside Princess Judges' Choice For 1960 Queen

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
A-B Woman's Editor

The 1960 Astoria Regatta is under way, launched last night by handsome Admiral Al Opsata and his lovely queen, Gwen J. ruler of all the happy wonderland of Clatsop county.

Queen Gwen, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy A. Jones of Seaside, entered on the arm of her admiral, after the judges' decision was disclosed in the inner sanctum, where the five lovely princesses were closeted at intermission time of the evening's colorful coronation pageant. Royal purple robes draped her shoulders for the long walk between ranks of rear admirals and the Anchor escort team amid cheers of her delighted and thrilled subjects (about 1000 or more), and up to the eat of honor on the throne of Regatta land. With poise and reverence she knelt as Admiral Opsata placed on her dark hair the glittering crown of brilliants, relinquished seconds before by tawny-haired Betty Morris, queen of last year's Regatta. Mayor Harry Steinbock presented her with her gleaming scepter, which is an open-sesame key to the whole county, really, and gracious ex-Queen Betty, in a pretty farewell speech, handed Queen Gwen her royal bouquet of deep pink roses, a complement to her dainty pink ruffled net gown.

Regatta Launched

Then with a welcome speech to her subjects that won their hearts, lovely Queen Gwen declared the 1960 Astoria Regatta was under way. And so it was, in as happy a start as ever a Regatta was begun.

The whole evening was a success, from both the standpoint of

Regatta Events On Tap

The Astoria Regatta-Fish Festival moved into its second day under apparently clearing skies today.

Following a highly successful coronation ceremony Thursday night, today's program opened with a luncheon honoring Admiral Al Opsata at the Bachelor Officers' Quarters, Tongue Point naval station.

Tonight tasty dishes will be available for all at a Smorgasette to be given in the Armory, with Adelaine Sather in charge.

Regatta Activities

Friday, August 26:

6 p.m.—Smorgasette, Armory; Adelaine Sather, chairman.

6:30 p.m.—Kiwanis children's parade, Commercial street, Chuck Farmer, chairman.

Saturday, August 27

10 a.m.—Marine events East End Mooring Basin; G. Wellgram, chairman:

Water skiing, Al Sorkki, chairman.

Sailboat Races; Dave Edison, chairman.

Gillnet races; Joe Tursi, chairman.

10:30 a.m.—Optimists Youth Day, field east of Gyro; Ed Looma, chairman.

12 Noon—Queen's luncheon, J. J. Astor hotel; Pauline Winstanley, chairman.

Style Show by Zonta following; Mary Ristola, chairman.

4 p.m.—Land parade; Jim Spain, chairman; downtown Astoria.

8 p.m.—Band show, Armory; Gene Nelson, chairman.

A big attendance is expected for this event, which in past years has built up a big reputation among lovers of good food.

Several foreign consuls from Portland will be honored guests and will have a special table for their benefit.

Children's Parade Slated

The annual Kiwanis children's parade also is on the program this evening. Director Charles Farmer said that entrants are to assemble at 6 p.m. in back of the court house for judging and assignment to divisions. The march, along Commercial from 8th to 17th, will begin at 6:30.

Prospects seemed good today for favorable weather for the parade.

The Kiwanis club will serve ice cream at the Armory at the parade's end and is giving three cash prizes in each of eight parade divisions, plus a $5 grand prize.

Saturday's program will be a busy one, with gillnet boat races starting at 10 at the East End Mooring basin, along with other marine events. The Astorian-Budget trophy again will be awarded to the gillnetter winning the unlimited championship of the Columbia river. John Tarabochia won the trophy last year.

Sports Evenis Scheduled

The Optimist club has lined up an extensive program of sports events for children starting at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at McCallister field on Exchange street just east of Gyro field. All youngsters are invited to take part.

A queen's luncheon honoring Queen Gwen Jones and members of the royal court is scheduled at noon Saturday at the J. J. Astor hotel, with the Zonta club sponsoring a style show.

The big land parade, with 61 entries, is scheduled at 4 p.m. Saturday. It will form on West Bond just west of the intersection of Marine drive. It will swing westward into Marine drive and march to 8th, then swing over to Commercial and march to the Four-H building.

James Spain, parade chairman, said all units except floats are to report at the formation area not later than 3 p.m. Saturday. All floats are to report by 2:30.

Judging of entries will take place at the formation area.

Jack Reick has been named parade marshal in charge at the starting area.

Final event Saturday will be the band show at 8 p.m. at Gyro field.

Admiral Opsata received an official welcome Friday afternoon from Mayor Harry Steinbock, the Regatta court, Regatta Chairman Lew Wright and other Regatta officials Thursday afternoon at 5 in J. J Astor hotel.

Mrs. Opsata, accompanying the admiral, also participated in the short ceremony.

Regatta Highlights, They're Memories Now

A royal smile and queenly congratulations were received by Danny Stephan, Altoona, along with the Astorian-Budget trophy when he won the unlimited race for gillnet boats Saturday.

Scenes From Last Weekend's Regatta Program

Whizzing propellors gouged huge chunks of Columbia river water Saturday as these four speedy gillnetters took off in pursuit of the unlimited speed title of the river. Juicy slabs of salmon baking over an open fire are shown here as preparations were under way for Sunday's salmon barbecue. More than 1400 people dined on the salmon prepared under direction of Frank Swick, Ridgefield, Wash. Swick, in white and wearing a straw hat, is seen holding a big fork at right center of photo.

Sheriff Carl Bondietti and son Carl boarded a horse to simulate a real western sheriff in the Regatta parade Saturday. The sheriff seemed perfectly at home in the saddle, and so did Son Carl.

This carload of little girls rode with the Portland Scottish Pipe Band in Saturday's parade. In front of the reviewing stand the girls disembarked from their car and proceeded to do a Highland dance for spectators.

MR. AND MRS. RAY GENE HADLEY

Regatta Princess Linda See Is Bride of Ray C. Hadley

WARRENTON (Special)—The First Baptist church in Astoria was the setting for the recent wedding of Miss Linda Diane See daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. See, Warrenton, who exchanged vows with Ray Gene Hadley, Aberdeen, Wash. The petite bride was a princess in the 1960 Regatta Court. The bridegroom is the grandson of Mrs. Ora Thompson, Long Beach, Calif., who came north for the ceremony.

Baskets of white spider chrysanthemums and sword fern and a pair of single six foot white candle stands with white tapers were placed on either side of the altar. Swags of white satin ribbon and clusters of yellow chrysanthemums and greens decorated the pews for the candlelight evening ceremony, the Rev. Waldo Putnam performing the double ring service.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, who gave her in marriage, the pretty bride wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace with semi-train. The princess style gown designed by Michaelangelo featured a scalloped bateau neckline trimmed with seed pearls, long sleeves tapered at the wrists and an empire-styled dropped waistline with full hoop skirt. Her finger tip nylon hulle veil fell from a double crown of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white spider chrysanthemums centered with a large white orchid.

Matching Gowns, Veils, Flowers

Matron of honor was Mrs. Donald Baldwin, sister of the bride, and bridesmaids were Miss Pamela See, the bride's sister and the Misses Ann and Claudeane Hamilton, the bride's cousins. The bride's attendants wore identical ballerina length gowns of peach nylon organdy styled with burnt umber draped trim at the dropped waistline with bustle effect in back. Their head bands and tulle circle veils matched their gowns as did their colonial nosegays of chrysanthemums.

The groom chose Melvin Miller as best man and ushers were Ken McCullough, Bob Hamilton, cousin of the bride, Larry Fredrickson and Gary Freedland.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. See wore an embroidered satin sheath in antelope brown with matching hat and accessories and a corsage of talisman roses. The bridegroom's grandmother wore a powder blue lace sheath with matching velvet hat and glass accessories, complemented with a corsage of pink roses.

Prior to the ceremony, Paul Williamson sang "Because" and "O Day of Golden Promise," and after the ceremony, William Richburg sang "Bless This House." Mrs. Harold Larson was the organist.

Chrysanthemums Decor.

Huge baskets of yellow, rust and white spider mums and sword fern tied with white satin ribbon decorated the reception rooms of the John Jacob Astor hotel where the 300 guests were received after the ceremony. The white linen-covered bride's table held a floral arrangement of white spider mums in a large silver bowl with matching silver triple candelabra and white tapers. The five-tiered bride's cake was topped with three white wedding bells.

Serving the bride's cake was Mrs. E. R. Maize, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Leslie MMartin and Miss Winifred Martin presided at the silver service; Mrs. Duane Hamilton and Mrs. William Hayden, aunts of the bride, had charge of the punch bowl and Mrs. Vern Thompson, the groom's aunt, served the groom's cake. Assisting were Mrs. Glenn Hamilton, Mrs. George Riley and Mrs. Glaude Hamilton, aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Alvin Clapp, the bride's cousin. Handling the guest book was Mrs. Larry Hanlon Jr., cousin of the bride.

Honeymoon in San Francisco

For the wedding trip to San Francisco, the bride changed to a navy blue wool crepe suit with Peter Pan fur collar matching fur hat, and navy blue accessories. Her corsage was the white orchid from her bouquet.

The young couple are now at home at 1004 Stockwell street in Aberdeen.

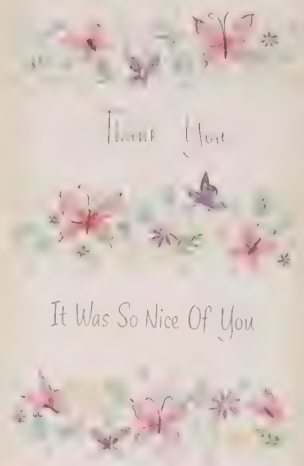

Here from out of town for the occasion were Mrs. Ora Thompson, the groom's grandmother, Long Beach, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Vern Thompson and daughter Carol uncle, aunt and cousin of the bride groom, Jefferson, Ore.; Melvin Miller, Albany, Ken McCullough San Francisco, Miss Judith Rawls Bob Hamilton, Don Worrell and Mr and Mrs. Larry Hanlon Jr., Port Hand, Mrs. Alvin Clapp, Longview.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. See announce the engagement of their daughter Linda Diane to Ray Gene Hadley, seaman third class, U.S. Coast Guard Hospital Corps. Miss See, who graduated from Warrenton high school last spring is a member of the princess. The wedding will be in event of November at the First Baptist church here.

ANCHOR LOG

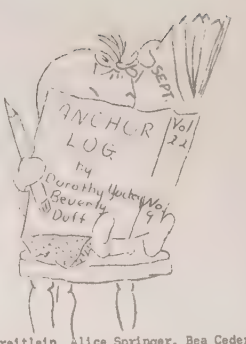

tember 26, 1960

Now that everyone is back in school and we can all sit down, put t up on the hassock with coffee cup in hand and sigh a sigh of that all the children are back in school, let's pause a moment over the coming events in the Anchor Club.

r first big project coming up is the Anchor Card Party, Monday, 17, 1960. Chairman, Virginia Johnson; co-chairman, Fern
n. Since our Log is coming out before their committee meeting yet their plans are not completed all we have to report is that each one of you girls will make reservations for a table or ou may call either Virginia Johnson at FA 5-3961 or Fern n at FA 5-2255. Let's make the goal 100%!

was talking to Verna Davis on the phone the other day and she be sure and remind each of you girls that on October 23 the supper at the USO which the Anchor Club will hostess was our oject. She will need hot dishes, salads, rolls, and french bread buffet. On Thursday, October 27, will be the USO dance which ıor Club will also hostess. The refreshments for that are ıd cookies. Verna Davis is chairman and her co-chairmen are Fredrickson and Joyce Lundholm; so if your telephone should ound those dates and Verna's pleasing voice greets you,
:now why.

:h a few sips of coffee left in our cup it seems our last for the year is the Christmas Fair. It's still too soon concrete ideas to spring forth out of that committee's except to tell you the girls who will be working on it are:
achan, chairman; Ellen Conger, co-chairman; Verna Davis, borg, Margaret Thompson, Marge Smith, Marge Anderson and

Regatta time is now behind the City of Astoria and the Anchor club with its many activities can feel proud of the way its committees functioned. During the four-day celebration, attendance in every event surpassed last year's totals. At the last Regatta meeting, September 1, a complete financial report was not available, in that small bills were yet to come in. However, the celebration operated in the black, and it is expected that about $500 will be the gain of revenue over expenses.

General Chairman of the Anchor Tea, Vivian Graves can be proud of her committees for an excellent job done. Jane Tillander and Aune Malmberg, co-chairman had the following on the decorating committee: Faye Hill, Virginia Reiter, Jane Seeborg and Carol Gunderson. The Parisianne Cafe scene on the stage was outstanding and the tea-table was beautiful. Refreshments were in charge of Edna Lovvold and Margie Thompson, Co-chairman, the rest of the committee--Lois Hoyer, Audrey Diiro, Louise Dreitlein, Alice Springer, Bea Cederberg and Shirley Landwehr. Skipper Leahy reported that less than 150 people attended the event.

First Mate Helen Sorkki reported to the Board of Directos of the Regatta Association that there had been some discussion among the Anchors after the Tea that the money and work it took to put on the Tea might be better expended on some sort of reception for the Queen after Coronation. Attendance at the Tea has fallen off year after year through no fault of the Anchor Club and it might be an excellent opportunity to present the Queen and her court to the general public where they might meet and talk with her and the court after Coronation.

Many of the volunteers for the Clean-up at the Tea failed to show up and all of the committee members stayed to do the job. The Skipper reminds anyone who volunteers to please show up in that it is a big job to clean up the Yacht Club when everyone on the committee has already worked hard on that day.

Thelma Johnson and Peggy Larson, the wardrobe committee did a wonderful job on the clothes selected for the five princesses. Their job is always a difficult one in that the princesses are selected so late in the year. A suggestion to the Regatta Board that selection of the princesses be made no later than April 1 has been taken under advisement. This might not be possible as the schools prefer to have the selections after spring vacations and when the four schools of the county are involved, it takes a month for the announcements to be made if the same methods of selection is carried on.

------

Co-chairman of the Luncheon, Pauline Winstanley and Leona Tolonen were commended by the Skipper on their job. Committee members Nancy Thorsness, Pat Simonsen, Carol Seppa, Helen Niemi, Bev Willson, Mary Lou Haggren, Ellen Conger and Sheila Fredrickson had no small task to set 311 people into the J.J. Astor Hotel. There was better known as the group!

OCTOBER

We understand that Sus Fulton, Virginia Zafiratos, Millie Edison, and Judy Dean had an enjoyable time at the Oregon State Bar Association Convention at the Gearhart Hotel.

Anyone interested in going to Germany while touring Europe should get in touch with Lila Altheide. We understand her daughter has filled her in and she is now an authority on that country. How about your daughter coming to one of our meetings and giving us a talk on her experiences while living there, Lila?

While talking over the back fence, the other day, we found out that another one of our past Skippers, Vivian Graves is busy as chairman of the Oregon State Hospital Auxilliary Convention which will be held at the Gearhart Hotel. We know it will be an outstanding affair with you as chairman, Vivian. Good luck!

With another year of adult evening classes in Bishop method of sewing started, Leona Tolonen is as busy as ever.

We understand Ellen Conger has just about completed her remodeling of her kitchen and from all reports it's going to be a jewel. How about inviting us over for coffee some day, Ellen and letting us enjoy your talents?

With the weather so nice last week, I decided to take a car ride, and went out past the Astoria Country Club, and seeing a group of girls busy swinging the clubs around slowed down, needless to say there were some of our Anchor girls deep in a Golf Tournament, so I stopped and chatted with them for a moment and came away with this bit of news. It seems Pat Simonsen has taken up the sport in earnest and entered her first tournament, and wouldn't you know she beat Marge Anderson on the 20th hole and they had to play two extra holes. Nice going Pat, and better luck next time Marge.

Well, girls it seems that's about all the news at this time. Our coffee cup is about dry so it's back to the housework for now.

Autumn Brightens Fall Card Party Of Anchor Club

The Yacht club, setting for the annual fall card party Monday night, was ablaze with autumn leaves and flowers and the tea table was enhanced by a golden horn of plenty from which colorful fruits and vegetables poured.

Winners at card games were the Mesdames Robert Reiter, Robert Loeffel, James McCallister, William Malmberg, Frank Hayner and Robert Hanson. Special prizes were awarded to Mrs. Fred Allonse, Mrs. Loeffel and Mrs. Rudy Lovold.

Co-chairmen of the event were Mrs. Howard Johnson and Mrs. Arthur Johnson, assisted by the Mesdames Lowell Altheide, William Dreitlein, Jean Hallaux, Art Johnson, Richard Ruutta, Wesley Shaner, Kenneth Simonsen and Richard Slotte.

The next major event on the calendar for the Anchors is the Skipper's banquet, Monday, November 7, at Seaiare at 6:30 p.m.

Card Party Scheduled By Anchors

The Anchor club met Monday night at the Yacht club and all Regatta committees gave final reports.

Skipper Mrs. William Leahy appointed Mrs. Howard Johnson and Mrs. Art Johansen co-chairmen of the card party to be held in October. Also another Christmas Fair will be given by the Anchors this year and the co-chairmen for this are Mrs. Allard Conger and Miss Ann Strachan.

The nominating committee includes Mrs. R. Landwehr, Mrs. Bob Graves and Mrs. John Cederberg.

The Anchor club will serve at the USO October 23 and 27 under the guidance of Mrs. Al Davis and Mrs. Fred Fredrickson.

The Anchor log was edited by Mrs. Sam Yockey and Mrs. Howard Duff. Associate members George Oja, Howard Burns, Al Frye, Harold Jacob, Harold Johnson, Roland Petersen, John Hill, John Anvig and Eugene Knutsen served coffee.

The Anchor card party was held Oct. 17th. with 43 tables in play. Co-Chairman of this event were Virginia Johnson and Fern Johansen. Committee members were Thelma Johnson, Rae Dean Slotte, Ruth Shaner, Lila Altheide, Louise Dreitlein, Dorothy Yockey, Rayonna Riutta and Charlotte Hallaux. Ann Schairer and Verna Davis served the cold drinks Clean-up gals were Verna Davis, June Taylor, Joyce Lundholm, Clovia Wells, Helen Sorrki and Pat Simonsen. A bang up job done by all.

******

We're sure you'll have to agree that one of the most outstanding event of this Anchor year was the Skipper's Banquet. The food was great and the decorations were beautiful and many a home will have a "Christmas bell" hung somewhere that will remind them of this event. Co-Chairman Anna Louise Fulton and Sea Cederberg. Working on this committee were Betty Deeter, Laura Reith, Bev Duff, and Alice Springer. Climaxing the festivities was a tidy shower for Skipper Delores. A thank you to the committee for a good time had by all.

******

Don't forget the "Christmas Fair" to be held Monday, Nov. 28th. from 9:30 to 10 P.M. Co-Chairman Ann Strachan and Ellen Conger would like all the bazaar items to be in by Sunday Nov. 27th. Someone will be at the Yacht Club Sunday afternoon between 1:00 and 6:00. Bring yourself and a friend to the "Christmas Fair".

******

Happy Nov. birthdays to Vivian Graves, Thelma Johnson, Alice Springer and Margie Thompson.

******

Winging their way to Europe in the near future will be Marv and June Taylor for a two week vacation visiting such places as London, Paris, Madrid and Rome. We all wish you the time of your life!!!!

Portland's gain is our loss. Anchor Audrey Diirc has left for the "City of Roses" and we hear that Susie Anderson will be going soon. Sorry to see you gals go.

Joining the ranks of expectant parents are Bill and Louise Dreitein. This will be an event of next June.

The officers will host a Christmas party Saturday, Dec. 3rd. at the John Jacob Astor Hotel. Cocktails and a Buffet for Anchors and their husbands. No gift exchange.

1960 Skipper's Banquet

I DON'T WANT TO WALK WITHOUT YOU
I don't want to walk without you, Baby
Walk without my arms about you, Baby,
I thought the day you left me behind
I'd take a stroll and get you right off my mind,
But now I find that
I don't want to walk without the sunshine.
Why'd you have to turn off all the sunshine?
O, Baby please come back or you'll break my heart for me,
Cause I don't want to walk without you, No-si-eo!

BUTTONS AND BOWS
East is east and west is west
And the wrong one I have chose,
Let's go where you'll keep on wearing those frills and flowers
And Buttons and Bows.

Don't bury me in this prairie,
Take me where the cement grows;
Let's move down to some big town
Where they love a gal by the suit of her clothes
And we'll stand out in buttons and bows.

I love you in buckskin,
Or skirts that you've homespun,
But I'll love you longer, stronger
When your friends don't tote a gun.
My horses denounce the buckboard bounce and the cactus hurts my toes;
Let's vamoose where gals keep using those Silks and satins and linen that shows
And we're all yours in buttons and bows.

Give me eastern trimmin'
Where women are women
In high silk hose and peek-a-boo clothes
And French perfume that rocks the room
And I'm all yours in buttons and bows.

I GET ALONG WITHOUT YOU VERY WELL
I got along without you very well,
Of course I do,
Except when soft rain falls
And drips from leaves,
Then I recall the thrill
Of being sheltered in your arms
Of course I do,
But I get along without you very well.

I've forgotten your kiss just like I should,
Of course I have
Except to hear your name,
Or someone's laugh that is the same
But I've forgotten you just like I should

What a Guy!--What a fool am I.
To think my breaking heart could kid the moon.
What's in store--Should I phone once more?
No it's best that I stick to my tune.

I get along without you very well,
Of course I do, Except perhaps in spring,
but I should never think of spring
For that would surely break my heart in two.

Line Officers of a Good Ship

Anchor Skipper Names 1961 Crew

"Anchors Aweigh" might well be the theme for the coming term for "Skipper Helen" following the annual formal installation service of the Anchor club's new slate of officers.

Mrs. Albert Sorkki, who was installed "skipper" for the coming year will be at the helm of the Anchors, assisted by the following officers: Mrs. Frank Thorsness, first mate; Mrs. John Seberg, yeoman; Miss Ann Schairer, purser; Mrs. W. R. Thompson, historian; Mrs. Al Mather, publicity; Mrs. Jerry Lundholm, corresponding yeoman and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, executive officer.

Skipper Helen announced the appointment of the following standing committees: house committee, Mrs. Hugh Seppa, chairman; Mrs. Dave Edison, Miss Evelyn Carlson, Homer Lind, Mrs. Herman Hagaten, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Mary Taylor, call and transportation; Mrs. Leonard Faatz, chairman; Mrs. Lou Wright, Mrs. Lawrence Dean and Mrs. Lowell Altherde, welfare; Mrs. Donald Johnson and Mrs. Ed Niemi, invitation list; Mrs. Art Anderson and Mrs. Fred Fredrickson, ways and means; Mrs. Art Johanson, chairman; Mrs. Donald Boger and Mrs. Kenneth Sammonsen, budget; Mrs. P. M. Landwehr, chairman, Mrs. Sam Yockey and Mrs. Vern Larson, Regatta board; Mrs. Frank Thorsness, musician; Mrs. Paul Tolonen, log editor; Mrs. Thelma Johnson and Miss Ann Strachan.

Announcement was made of the coveted honor of Anchor Girl of the Year, which is being shared by Mrs. Paul Tolonen and Mrs. Al Mather.

The Anchor club voted to hold its spring card party on February 20 with the following committee in charge of this semi-annual event: Mrs. Fred Fredrickson, chairman, Mrs. Frank Perrone, assistant chairman; Mrs. Ronald Hubbard, Mrs. Richard Johnson, Mrs. Al Mather, Mrs. Lou Wright and Mrs. Hugh Seppa.

Following the [illegible] service the past skipper, Mrs. William Layton, served a specially described cake with the message, "Thanks for the Memories." Welcome to the new officers, Dee. Skipper Helen poured from a table covered with a blue satin tablecloth, centered with a large bouquet of white mums with blue satin bow, which carried out the Anchor colors of blue and white.

Door prizes for the evening were won by Mrs. Verna Mogenson and Mrs. Elaine Koutsos.

The [illegible] committee for this occasion were Mrs. Floyd Heath, chairman; Mrs. Richard Rollin, Mrs. Ronald Johnson and Mrs. Lawrence Dean.

For sale- one trip to Paris for two. Larv and June Taylor found that their free trip was going to cost them over $800.00 in taxes. So phooey on the government! June says maybe they'll get to Las Vegas though.

Imagine going swimming at midnight on New Year's Eve! Largie Thompson, Nancy Thorsness, and Faye Hill took a dip to celebrate. We wanted to find out about Chuck Gustafson and New Year's Eve, but Donna said if we put anything in about it, she would resign. So we can only draw our own conclusions.

Christmas visitors in Astoria were Doris and Ward Paldanius and Irene and Gerald Sommerset.

Joining ex-Anchor Faye on Norton's staff is ex-Anchor Elsa Auvil.

Now that Marge Smith has quit working, we find her playing bridge (in the A.M. yet!) with the above mentioned Donna.

Best wishes to Diane Piippo on her engagement to lucky "Smitty" Smith.

Dear Girls,

The time has come for me to write my farewell message.

The words of appreciation are so few, but among them I thank you for your patience, understanding, generosity and kindness to me.

I shall always cherish the memories and friendship of this wonderful year.

May God bless and keep you in his loving care always,

Love

LET'S HAVE A BALL AT THE ELKS

All Anchors are invited to attend dance lessons starting Saturday, January 28, 1961, and running for six weeks. Tuition is $15.00 per couple. Registration is at 7:30 P.M. class starts promptly at 8:00 p.m. Don't forget the date, January 28.

When in Rome . . .

A refugee couple arrived in the United States several years ago with one dream- to become citizens. Through much redtape and years of study, they were patient and hopeful. Then one day the husband rushed into the kitchen with the long-awaited good news. "Anna!" he shouted. "At last! We are Americans!" "Fine," replied the wife, tying her apron around him. "Now you wash the dishes."

Worthwhile Take

"Well, madam," beamed the psychiatrist, "I think we've got your kleptomania under control now."

The woman smiled gratefully and got up to leave.

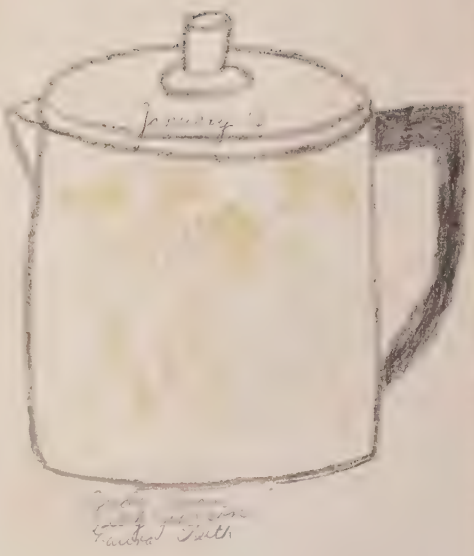

"However," warned the doctor, "if you feel yourself having a relapse, pick me up one of those little transistor radios, will you?"

Pour Thing!

Rain is what happens when the air has more moisture than it knows what to dew with!

Reason Enough

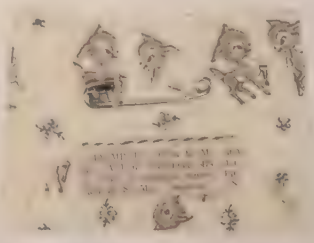

Mrs. Baxter was more than slightly plump. One day her cleaning lady, inclined to be overly outspoken and intimate, asked, "Just how much do you really weigh, Mrs Baxter?" "I never weigh myself, Mary. I think it's so much more refined to be able to say, 'I don't know,' than it is to say, 'It's none of your darned business.'"

The first project for the year will be the Anchor Card Party, February 20th. A Valentine theme is being planned by the committee, which is chairmaned by Nancy Thorsness and Becky Wright. Serving with them are Janet Hubbard, Carol Edison, Marge Matara, Carol Goos and Gus Felton. The Raffle Committee is headed by Evelyn Carlson and Marge Mubik. I wonder what kind of "gambling" these two will come up with? No doubt we will all hear further details about the whole affair and making table reservations. Let's all sponsor a table or two or maybe three, we know some girls can and will, and make this a big financial success.

Did you know that the students of Astoria High School have embarked on a project of raising money to promote the building of a student activity center? It seems that in the past youth-centers have been started and teen-age centers actually been in operations, but for various and sundry reasons, they have not been successful. This activity center will be right at the school itself and has the blessings of school administration. Use will be made of what space is available between the breezeways. It seems the four walls are there, but that is all. A general chairman has been appointed and will work in close correspondence with the student council. One of their projects is to be a movie February 7, this Tuesday evening in fact. It will be Marlon Brando in "On the Waterfront". Prices will be .75 for adults, .50 for students and .25 for children. So if you like good movies, here's an opportunity to see one you may have missed and help a good cause too. There will be one movie each month. This project expects to be carried over for many years, and maybe some of your children will eventually benefit from it. The pie and coffee hour held after the Astoria-Beaverton game was another project for the benefit of the center.

Corrections to January, 1961 Log.

Joyce Lundholm was installed a corresponding Yoeman, rather than Janet Hubbard. Our apologies to both girls.

Jane Seeberg, yoeman wishes her mailing address corrected. It is 366 Floral.

Ex-Anchor FRYE, nee Faye, was joined by ex-Anchor Auvil at Morton's Tee-age Shoppee for girls. Onely for the big sale there too.

As we go to press FAYE AUVIL has not sold her business, but you never know from one day to the next. Good luck Faye.

Congratulations to Anne Malmberg and husband Bill on the birth of a son, Jan. 19. He joins an older brother and two sisters. That's calling em.

[illegible]: ILLIE EDISON, of course, obvious at this time but a new member is never-ed-it. She is VIRGINIA [illegible]S. Anyone else that we missed?

Does your husband read the Anchor Log? Sometimes he always finds it interesting. Not all make it a point to read it here for the family. I think we're missing a bet not to have the Anchor Log mailed out to members not at the meeting. I'd love to have mine each month whether I'm at the first meeting or not. There'd be the mailing cost problem to iron out. Just a thought.

VIRGINIA JOHNSON and husband Howard with Mr. & Mrs Archie Roikkala left by boat for Hawaii last week for a three week sojurn.

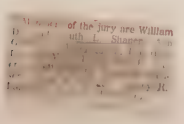

Saw Anchor [illegible] at the hospital. Cheri is with the Orthopedic & Fracture Clinic in Portland. Frances McKenna and she have an apartment together.

MC COURY'S donated the Evergreen Dogwood plant that was one of the door prizes at the last meeting. He brought it especially from California for the occasion. Jeanne Mogenson was the lucky winner.

The Astoria High School PTA is putting on a "SP[illegible]" Friday nite February 17th, before the Milwaukee-Astoria basketball game. The dinner are wonderful, so here's an opportunity to help a good cause and say a nite out to dinner with the family and get out of cooking too. Anchor LILLIE EDISON and EVELYN OJA are co-chairman for this affair, and there are many other Anchors on the committee.

As you all know, the card party was a definite success in spite of the bad weather. Fifty-one tables of players brought in $120.11 plus $54. 45 taken in on the raffle for a net total of $174.56. Decorations carried out a Valentine theme and pussy willows hung with red hearts with used around the room. The stage was set for a children's Valentine party using manikins and complete with a table set with doll's dishes and red cloth. A flower cart at the side of the stage was filled with potted tulips given away as prizes. Other prizes were wrapped with Valentine trimmings. The raffle prizes of the gift certificates to Greta's were won by Mrs. Thomas Cameron, Jr. and Mrs. John Simmonson. Door prizes, including the shrubs donated by McCoury's Garden Center, were won by Mrs. Charles Mestrich, Mabel Mathre, Gayle Vise, Mrs. Terry Salo, Mrs. Fred Ihander, Mrs. Wm. Bickers, Mrs. Einer Lovvold, Mrs. John Simmonson, Barbara Buchanan, Fern Johnson, Eloise Herrington, Sharon Hagglund and Mrs. Donald Carlson.

High prizes were won by Helvi Koskela, Marge Roman and Irene Alderman with low prizes going to Mabel Sagen, Lorraine Hoyer and E. Brownson.

Becky Wright and Nancy Thorsness were co-chairmen for the party aided by Sus Fulton, Carol Seppa, Marge Mathre, Carol Edison, Helen Niemi and Janet Hubbard. In charge of the raffle were Evelyn Carlson and Marge Kubik.

Those hard working clean up gals were Ellen Conger, Helen Sorkki, Margie Thompson, Marge Kubick, Pauline Winstanley and Charlotte Hallaux.

Last Monday the past skippers initiated Dee Leahy into their group with cocktails and dinner at the Seafare. Understand Dee's hat made especially for the occasion was clever if a little uncomfortable. Dee also wore a sign letting everyone know she was "just the baby of the order of the gavel". Bev Duff and Sylvia Vaughn were in charge of the event.

COMING EVENTS: Be sure to attend the German Sailor's chorus concert. The proceeds will go to the Community College scholarship fund.

The Astoria Yacht Club is having another crab feed on March 18 when the Columbia River Yacht Club visits here. All anchors are invited.

Seems appropriate to announce here that Edith Thorsnes will be visited by that long-legged bird (stork, you know) in September.

Speaking of blessed events, Susan Sandoz, now Mrs. Clark Miller of Portland, is being congratulated on the birth of a baby girl. Susan was 1958 Regatta Queen.

Guess you all know that Faye Hill has sold her business but has promised to stay in Astoria, which is really good news.

Understand Bev Duff celebrated a recent birthday by locking herself out of her car and crawling in though the tail gate. Fellow celebrants cheered such agility from one reaching that____ year. Darned if I didn't forget her age.

Did you notice the list of jurors in the Budget for the current term? Reads a little like a roster of Anchors. Now may be the time to commit that act of homicide or other misdemeanor you have been contemplating.

Ellen Conger will serve as Lions Auxiliary president for the coming year and Marge Smith is the new treasurer.

Auntie Ruth and Uncle Wos Shaner are keeping busy now changing and feeding their two nieces.

Spring vacation starts for the school kids next week and the Reiths and Duffs will be off for Copalis, Washington for serious clam digging. At least those of us with pre-schoolers will be able to find a baby sitter during the day for one glorious week.

The coffee committee tonight is: Bea Cederberg, chairman, Virginia Reiter, Thelma Johnson and Millie Edison.

THE POET'S CORNER

Mary had a little lamb
The lamb had halitosis,
And every place that Mary went
The people held their nosis.

We'll never more bail out our brat,
No more we'll pay his fines,
He hung himself with Pa's cravat,
Blest be the tie that binds.

Did you get home all right after the party last night?
Fine, thanks; except that just before I turned into my street some fool stepped on my fingers.

Two fleas fell in love and one lovely June day they got married.

Young, industrious, and ambitious, the fleas worked hard and saved their money. They sacrificed fun to assure the future. One day they counted their money and were overjoyed to find they'd saved five dollars.

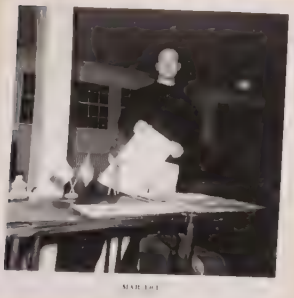

"If we can save five we can save ten," they agreed, so they continued their thrift. They toiled, economized, and planned, spurning the frivolous pleasures of other fleas. Finally came the day when their savings totaled ten dollars.

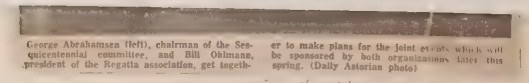

That day they went out and bought a dog.

IFYE Student Entertains

Thanks to Ann Strachen, the Anchors were entertained at the last meeting by Ron Anderegg of Vernonia with his slides of Italy. He had beautiful pictures of Italy which included everything from farm life to beautiful girls. His narration was excellent and photography is really the work of an artist. He spent four months in Italy as an exchange student to live and work with the farmers to learn their way of life and to promote better understanding between them and the United States. Ron was one of the four Oregon youths selected for this exchange program by IFYE (International Farm Youth Exchange).

Sound a fanfare on the royal trumpets and a call to attention on the royal drums for here we face at that thrilling start of Regatta events, the selection of the Regatta court. And the first lovely little princess is Karen Young of Warrenton high school.

Harry Kraus, chairman of the Regatta court selection committee, will probably always remember Princess Karen, for she was the first excited girl to receive the wonderful honor from her fellow students this year of 1961 . . . and Chairman Kraus was just about as thrilled when he announced the news to the cheering student body at their daily ...

PRINCESS MARTY CHAVE OF SEASIDE

Beach School Gives Nod to Brunette as Regatta Court Choice

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
Women's Editor

Hail to the Regatta princess from the kingdom by the sea!

She is Marty Chave, choice of Seaside high school's student body, who picked her at a selection dance recently, at which she was crowned by Harry Kraus, chairman of the court committee of the Regatta association with cheers and ... happy one, of course, and all the fever pitch excitement that goes with such a ... event.

Well, let's see what ... behind this lovely girl.

First, she's the ... daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Chave of Seaside. She was born in Portland, April 21, 1943, having celebrated her 18th birthday just three weeks ago, but she came to Seaside when she was a cute, round-faced baby of six months, so Seaside is her home. And Seaside is her love. And she is Seaside's favorite ...

Princess Marty is a regal five-feet-eight with dark brown tresses ... d there we go again!) green eyes . . . green like the sea shallows on a sunny day when you're lying on the beach watching the waves coming in. And her smile is one of those engaging ones that starts gradually and then lets itself go. She likes athletics and has a slim, trim waist to prove it. Golf especially, and she's more than fair on the fairways.

But she likes to cook and sew and when she eats out, it is usually at a Chinese restaurant.

She was junior prom princess last year and Sno-ball princess this year. Girls league president and on the rally squad. She belongs to Rainbows and is a top student.

At home, there are no sisters and brothers, but there is a royal ... for this royal girl ... part Siamese that sort of rules the family.

And after all the fun and ex... Regatta days are over, Princess Marty is packing all those ... stories ... and memories ... her trip, took what then? On she'll go to the University of Oregon to study ... and ... and ... follows a career ... Here are ... And Princess Marty is ... party.

Princess Joins Royal Court From Green Mountains Of Jewell

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
Women's Editor

Way up in the green clad mountains, in the far corner of beautiful Regatta land called Jewell, lives a princess, pink and white and pretty dimpled.

She is Cynthia Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Slanger, and she joins the 1961 Regatta court as the third representative of Clatsop's loveliest girls to vie for the honor of Regatta queen.

Although Princess Cynthia Ann was born right here in Astoria December 12, 1943, the forested slopes of the Coast range have always been home to her, for she spent her first years in Birkenfeld moving with her parents to Jewell when she was five years old. She has gone through grade school there and now is a senior at Jewell high school where she is treasurer of her class.

Last year she was president of the Pep club, she served on the staff of the Blue Jay, the school newspaper, and has taken part in the school plays all four years. She likes bookkeeping, and maybe, some day she will follow that up, but right now she isn't sure.

She also likes athletics, volleyball, for instance, and swimming, and the Nehalem river that winds through a lovely valley, nearby, conveniently [illegible] her back yard. Come [illegible] you'll find Princess Cynthia Ann out helping her father with [illegible]. She loves that, too. Prince Boy, 12, and sister [illegible] help with the dairy herd, and so does Corky, a big shaggy dog, who is good with cows, although really he's a sheep dog.

When the winter winds swoop down from the mountain tops on Jewell, you'll find this blue eyed brunette haired girl making her own clothes or out in the kitchen. But now that Regatta time will be here before we know it, Princess Cynthia Ann will leave the high green hills and forests to join the royal court that rules Regatta land.

Latest Princess Is Versatile Beauty From Scenic Knappa

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
Women's Editor

She loves to sew, she loves to cook. She can plant a garden or read a book.

What's more, she is Knappa through and through, so she's Knappa's answer to the Regatta association's request for a princess.

Princess Clair Ann she is, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heilmann, who live in that scenic community up-river a ways, where the wooded slopes meet the spreading green meadow lands and the meadow lands reach the rolling river. Born in an Astoria hospital December 17, 1942, she has lived all her wonderful 18 years in Knappa, gone to grade school there, and will graduate from dear old Knappa high this June. After that? She wants to work in Astoria this summer (in between Regatta events) and then enroll at Western University of Business, Portland, in September.

Honor Society Member

She is a member of the National Honor Society, served as its secretary, treasurer of the Girls Athletic association and treasurer of Future Homemakers of America and student body secretary. And she was queen of the Senior Ball. With 10 years of 4-H work behind her, no wonder this lovely princess is domestic. She makes her own clothes, knits her sweaters, cooks up a flavorsome veal cutlet (but she orders fish and chips when she dines out), and likes to get out and dig in the garden.

However, in spite of her homemaking qualities, Princess Clair Ann loves the rough and tumble of volley and soft ball, and, on a moment's notice, will grab her fish pole and head for the rushing mountain streams around Nicolai mountain.

Her hair is brown and her eyes are clear hazel-gray. She is five feet-five-and-a-half and her voice is sweet and low.

Little sisters are always favorites and the little sister of the Heilmann family is no exception. For now older brothers, Bud at Portland State college, Bill at Clatsop County Community college, Hank, married and living in Astoria, and sister Mary, 20, at Oregon State university, have really something to crow about with little sister Clair Ann a lovely Regatta princess.

Ex-Regatta Head Picked As Admiral

GUY HICKOK

Guy N. Hickok, a former Astorian and president of the Astoria Regatta from 1936 to 1939, has been selected by the 1961 Regatta association to be admiral of the forthcoming Regatta, August 24-27.

Hickok, a native of Iowa, came to Oregon 50 years ago, serving in later years as state bank examiner and assistant superintendent of banks from 1920-1928. He was manager of the Astoria branch, First National bank of Portland (now the First National bank of Oregon) from 1934-1940, leaving here in 1940 to take over the management of the Salem branch until 1950 and later was vice-president of the branch until 1953.

He retired that year to a farm near Salem, but in 1956, he was chosen business manager of Linfield college, a non-profit corporation specializing principally in electronics. He was elected administrative head of the institute this year, a position he now holds. He is an alumnus of the college.

His wife, Ruth, is active in the Salem YMCA, the Women's club, PEO and American Association of University Women.

He was the choice of the Regatta association because of his interest and work with the Regatta in years past. "We decided to give the honor to a man who had spent many years working for and with the Regatta and who had served as its president for three consecutive years. He deserves it," a spokesman for the association explained.

The Sesquicentennial committee Wednesday night approved a $5,360 budget for the Astoria Regatta as submitted by Regatta Chairman William Ohlemann.

The Regatta is being tied in closely to the Sesquicentennial celebration this year, the two events to run concurrently.

It was emphasized that the $5,340 cost of the Regatta probably will be almost entirely offset by Regatta receipts, as was the case last year.

The committee voted to order 4000 to 6000 more special Sesquicentennial coins. An original order of 8000 of them already has been almost entirely distributed

Ribbon Cut To Open Sesqui Headquarters

Royalty On Hand At Rites

Sesquicentennial headquarters at 10th and Commercial was opened formally Monday afternoon with a ribbon-cutting ceremony attended by Regatta princesses and Sesqui officials.

Douglas Bedingfield, pageant director from John B. Rogers Company, Fostoria, O., moved into the headquarters Monday and began active preparations for the Sesquicentennial pageant August 25-26.

Miss Mary Jane Kuratli will be on duty at the headquarters during the rest of the pre-Sesquicentennial period. Telephone service was installed Tuesday and the phone number will be PA 5-1961.

Regatta and Sesquicentennial souveniers, including derby hats, sunbonnets, special necktues, permits to shave and permits to grow whiskers went on sale Monday in the headquarters office.

Bedingfield met Tuesday morning with the general Sesqui committee and said he believed preparations were well in progress for the pageant. He said intensive work will get under way now and asked for individual conferences with division chairmen of the Sesqui program during the next few days.

Sesquicentennial headquarters at 10th and Commercial was opened Monday afternoon with due pomp. Above, four Regatta princesses Cynthia Ann Shanger (left), Clare Anne Heilmann, Marty Chave and Cheryl Westman cut the ribbon barring the doorway as Sesqui officials look on. Hilarity Marks Anchor Initiation Of New Members

The Anchor club was the scene o merriment and hilarity at the nnual initiation of new members, held Monday at 8 p.m. Following the Anchor tradition, last year's new members planned and executed their own original initiation of the current candidates, who participated in a beauty contest competing for "Miss Garbage Disposal Site."

Following the informal initiation, officers of the Anchor club conducted the formal initiation led by Mrs. David Thorsness, first mate, who filled in for the skipper, Mrs. Al Sorkki, who was absent.

Refreshment hostesses and initiation committee members for the initiation committee members for this annual event were co-chairmen Mrs David Edison and Mrs. A. B. Thorsness, assisted by Mrs. Wes Shaner, Mrs. Jean Hallaux, Mrs. Tom Edison Mrs. Nick Zafiratos, Mrs Lewis Wright and Mrs. Lawrence Dean.

During the brief business meeting it was decided to meet on the second and fourth Monday's in July, to avoid conflict with July 4. Also, the 1961 Regatta court will pay their first official visit at the Anchor meeting on Monday, July 10, at 8 p.m.

A reception held in the refreshment room honored the newly initiated Anchor members Mrs Elmer Forseth, Mrs. Alan Anola, Mrs. Robert Kearney, Mrs. George Skipper, Mrs. Ed Ulmer, Mrs. John Englund, Mrs. Fleming Wilson, Mrs. David Wullger, Mrs. Bob Parnell and Mrs Harry Rodgers.

The coffee committee for the first meeting in July will be Mrs. Arthur Johnsson, chairman assisted by Mrs. Allard Cougar, Mrs. L. W. Altheide and Mrs. Rudy Loveold.

The princesses; Cynthia Ann Slanger, Jewell; Clair Ann Heilmann, Knappa; Cheryl Westman, Astoria; Marty Chave, Seaside; Karen Young, Warrenton; their mothers and the Court Chaperon, Mrs. Mary Steinbock, were guests of Skipper Helen's at a luncheon at the Sea Fare, Saturday, June 3rd. It was the first chance the girls had to meet one another - the beginning of a most exciting and busy time for the girls.

The 1961 Court made their first public appearance at the Americana Parade, June 3rd. in Portland. They will not appear in the Rose Festival Parade since Astoria is not entering a float in the parade.

The Junior Court has been selected and are as follows: Diana Swanson, Lewis & Clark Consolidated; Steve Antoniow, Astor; Patty Ryan, Central; Julia Sjolund and Craig Abrahamson, Gray; and Ross Leigh, Star of the Sea.

Edna Lovvold, Margie Thompson, Sheila Fredrickson, Jeannie Mogenson and Skipper Helen representing the Anchor Drill team attended the princess selection dance at Knappa High School on May 26th.

Princess Cheryl from Astoria High was introduced at a high school dance at the American Legion, Saturday, May 27th. This was a busy evening for many Anchors however Sheila Fredrickson did attend.

SPRING FROLIC

Although few in number everyone had a ball, dancing to Curly Larson on the 27th. The Club house was decorated with many balloons and flower boxes filled with spring flowers. Co-Chairman Ruth Shaner and Pauline Winstanley, assisted by Doris Bryant, Virginia Reitor, Judy Dean and Dorothy Yockey deserve a big hand for a job well done.

THIS AND THAT

Virginia Reitor, Rita Salo, Mary Lou Haggren, Betty Korpela, Carol Gunderson and Doris Bryant are all singing, "Worth To Alaska", these days. Their husbands leave in the next couple weeks for fishing up North.

The Americana Parade saw our famous Astoria Clowns in gear again this year. Turning out to watch their husband perform were Jeannie Mogonson, Donna Gustafson, Dorothy Yockey, and Laura Reith. Hear a good time was had by all.

Katherine Farris and Fay Hill drove to Hood River last week.

Our congratulations to Louise and Bill Dreitlein. Their new baby boy was born May 29th., Mother, Father, and baby fine.

Sus, Sara, and Stephen Fulton are leaving around the 12th. for 3 weeks in sunny California.

Anchors' husbands, Bill Gunderson is the new football coach and Pete Bryant, basketball coach at Astoria High. Astoria will win all the games this year.

Bea, Jack Mark and Dan Cederberg leave June 13th. for Wisconsin. Bea plans to be gone six weeks if she can stand the heat.

"With electric service to help me, it's just like having a maid", ha ha It was a good picture of you and the family anyway, Bev.

Kiwanis Hosts Regatta Court

The Regatta court of five princesses, with their chaperone Mrs. Harry Steinbock, were guests at the Kiwanis club luncheon Thursday at the John Jacob Astor hotel. Each princess described a different phase of the coming Regatta, including an historical [illegible] Astoria. They were accompanied by Bill Ohlemann, president of the Regatta association.

To Convention

George Skipper, exalted ruler of Astoria Elks lodge, and Mrs. Skipper left Wednesday by train for Miami, Fla., to attend the grand lodge convention of the Elks next week. Walter Lofgren of Astoria, district deputy grand exalted ruler for Oregon Northwest, will leave Friday by train to attend the convention.

Regatta Court Honors Anchors With 1st Visit

The Anchor club had distinguished guests at its Monday night meeting and heard an old story retold in a spirited and enthusiastic way. The guests were the five veiled Regatta princesses, accompanied by their chaperone, Mrs. Harry Steinbock, making their first official visit in bright new uniforms, nautically styled.

Their story was about the Astoria Regatta told and retold since 1894 but embellished and added to through the years until it now is known across the continent.

Each Has A "Chapter"

After each pretty princess was introduced by their chaperone, each one told her "part" of the tale. Princess Marty Chave, Seaside, spoke on a subject dear to any girl's heart, "Let's Eat," describing the many food events of the coming Regatta, such as the court tea, the Regatta banquet, the Anchor club's luncheon for the queen, the smorgasette and the salmon bar-B-Q. Princess Clare Heilmann, Knappa, told of the selections of the senior and junior courts and of the many appearances they make during their reign. Princess Cynthia Ann Slanger, Jewell, gave an historical resume of the historic town of Astoria, celebrating the 150th anniversary of its founding this year and the 100th Sequi celebration to be held in connection with the Regatta. Princess Cheryl Westman, Astoria, outlined the many interesting events to be staged during the Regatta this year and Princess Karen Young, Warrenton, told the club members of the water events, such as boat races, demonstrations by the Sea Scouts, swimming demonstrations and the water ballet at Tapiola pool.

Mark Our Calendar

Mrs. Al Saarti, Anchor skipper, told the princesses that the Anchor tea honoring them and their chaperone will be held the afternoon of August 12 at the historical museum in honor with the seventy centennia l year, and that the luncheon honoring the Regatta queen, also hosted by the Anchors, will be Saturday, August 26, at the John Jacob Astor hotel. Mrs. [illegible] Duff is chairman of the tea and Mrs. Herman Haggren and Mrs. Richard Thompson co-chairmen of the luncheon.

Mrs. Steinbock was asked to preside at the pink and silver tea table during the social hour following the meeting. The Mesdames Arthur Johnson, Rudy Lovvold, Allard Chave, won the evening's spe[illegible] Conger and Lowell Althede, committee for the refreshment hour, used milk glass table appointments with a centerpiece of bright pink cactus dahlias.

The members agreed that it was fitting and proper that one of their royal visitors, Princess Marty Chave, Seaside, won the evening's spe[illegible] efficient appearance in their natty navy-blue and white uniforms, are Karen Young, Warrenton; Cheryl Westman, Astoria; Cynthia Ann Slanger, Jewell; Clare Heilmann, Knappa; Marty Chave, Seaside, and their chaperone Mrs. Harry Steinbock. Princesses will ride in Miss Astoria parade in Seaside Saturday, 1 p.m.

Rodeo, Regatta Royalty Guests at Lunc[illegible]

It was a royal good time for seven enthusiastic girls, members of both the Clatsop County Rodeo court and the Astoria Regatta court guests of the Rodeo association for lunch Wednesday at the Crab Pot, Warrenton. After the Regatta princesses had told about the exciting events in store during Regatta days, the last week in August, Judy Vikturek, standing, left, queen of the rodeo, displayed a poster announcing the bronco-busting, calf-roping and other thrillers to take place this Friday and Saturday at the Gearhart rodeo grounds to Regatta Princess Marty Chave, Seaside, left. Meanwhile Rodeo Princess Aura Skehan, standing, center, shows the rodeo program to Regatta Princesses Clare Heilmann, Knappa, left, and Cynthia Ann Slanger, right, while the other rodeo princess, Sally Hannu, standing, right, writes down reservations for special seats at the rodeo, with the help of Regatta Princesses Cheryl Westman, Astoria, left, and Karen Young, Warrenton, far right. Regatta Royalty Has Lunch With Rotarians

Regatta princesses attended the Rotary luncheon at the John Jacob Astor hotel Wednesday where they were presented to club members and spoke to the group. Princesses are (left) Karen Young, Warrenton; Cheryl Westman, Astoria; Cynthia Anne Slanger, Jewell; Clare Heilmann, Knappa; and Marty Chave, Seaside. Mrs. Harry Steinbock, group chaperone, and William H. Ohlemann, Regatta president, are far right with Forest Vaughan, vice president of the Rotarians, at the podium.

Royalty Guests at Rodeo Lunch

The Clatsop County Rodeo association luncheon at the Crab Pot Wednesday noon had more than its share of glamor, when the winsome rodeo queen, Judy Vikturek, and her two attractive princesses Sally Hannu and Aura Skehan, and the five pretty Regatta princesses were special guests.

Rodeo Queen Judy and her princesses extended a gracious spoken invitation to everyone to attend the Clatsop county rodeo Saturday and Sunday at the Gearhart rodeo grounds. The girls, accompanied by their chaperone Mrs. Ronald Vikturek, wore their trim jodphurs, shirts and give-gallon hats, the queen in white satin brocade with aqua tie and hat and the two princesses in two-toned pink.

The Regatta court was escorted by Mrs. Harry Steinbock, their official chaperone, who expressed the court's appreciation for the luncheon invitation. Each princess gave an animated description of some phase of the Regatta, to be held the last week in August, immediately following the Sesquicentennial celebration. Princess Marty Chave, Seaside, spoke of the four different events featuring food during the Regatta, the past admirals' and presidents' luncheon at The Islander, the queen's luncheon at the John Jacob Astor hotel, the smorgasette at the Armory and the salmon barbecue at the Four-H fair grounds.

Princess Clare Heilmann of Knappa told about the parades, both land and water, and other Regatta events. Princess Cynthia Ann Slanger, Jewell, gave an historical background of Astoria. Princess Cheryl Westman told of the selection of both the senior and junior Regatta courts and what events they have attended, and Princess Karen Young, Warrenton, explained about the water sports and races.

Fred Prechel of the Rodeo association, was master of ceremonies for the luncheon [illegible]

Anchors Get Set For Regatta Tea

[illegible] annual Anchor club tea [illegible], the Regatta princesses [illegible] their chaperone, constituted the main order of business at Monday night's meeting, presided over by Skipper Mrs. Al Sorkki.

In observance and keeping with this Sesquicentennial year for Astoria, the Clatsop County Historical museum, in the stately old Capt. Flavel mansion, will be the setting for the event, to be held Saturday from 2-4 p.m. Mrs Harry Duff, tea chairman, announced.

Formal initiation was conducted by Mrs Sorkki for Mrs Richard Lee who was unable to be present at the recent regular initiation due to an emergency nursing call at the hospital.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served from a blue satin covered table centered with white milk glass compote holding pink daisies with matching tapers. Mrs. Donald Hoyer, hostess chairman, was assisted by the Mesdames Jon Englund, Vernon Larsen and Edward Ulmer, who awarded the evening's special prize to Mrs. Donald Hubbs.

VOL. 23 NO. 7 AUGUST, 1961 Edited by: Peggy Larsen

It's August again - that means we're another year older and deeper involved. Regatta time is only a few weeks away and Skipper Helen Sorkki has named her committees and should you see a group of girls busily talking, you may be sure they are Anchor members panning, planning and plotting for the various exciting functions for which the Club is so much a part. Remember the following dates girls, tell all your friends, neighbors, relatives and even the "mean little kids" that on:

AUGUST 12TH - TEA

To be held at the Historical Museum, corner of 8th. and Exchange, from 2 to 4 P.M. Do come and meet the lovely princesses and their chaperone. We can't blame the public for a small turn out unless every anchor is there and remember, a "personal" come, "lets go" is still the best way to make it a crowd.

The committee is making a plea for fresh flowers, so please give all your flowers your very loving tender care and do call Shirley Landwehr or Jane Seeborg. They are co-chairman for the decorating committee and will appreciate it. Other members on decorating are:

Lois Hoyer — Lila Altheide
Doris Bryant — Ellen Conger

Refreshments find June Taylor and Joyce Lundholm as co-chairmen, with the assistance of:

June Olson, Gertie Wullger, Marge Kubik
Thelma Johnson, Leona Tolonen, Ruth Parnell
Laura Reith, Edith Wilson, Katherine Skipper

The general chairman, past skipper, Bev Duff.

AUGUST 24TH - CORONATION

Held at Gyro field, approximately 8 O'Clock P.M. Come and see which lovely princess will be crowned Regatta Queen. Nancy Thorsness and Bea Cederberg are co-chairmen for this big event. Their setting committee, who are sure to hatch up something very special this year, has Jean Reed, Mother Hen and Pullets:

Dorothy Yockey, Sheila Fredrickson
Pauline Winstanley, Edna Lovvold

AUGUST 26TH - LUNCHEON

John Jacob Astor Hotel is the place, at 12 Noon. Do get your reservations in early. P.S. They mean it this year, so make it now. The number is restricted to only 250 women. Co-chairmen Mary Lou Haggren and Marge Thompson inform us that something new will be added this year. Their theme will be the Sesqui and taking a cue from our "fur-Fathers" the style show will feature the latest and possible the oldest fashions in FURS. Lets all be there and drool. Helping out the co-chairmen are:

Charlotte Halleaux, Katherine Farris, Ann Strachen
Ruth Shaner, Rae Deen Slottee, Carol Gunderson
Betty Johnson, Louise Dreitlein, Becky Wright

Let's not forget the other hard working girls, namely: Clovia Wells and Evelyn Carlson, wardrobe; Vivian Graves, publicity; and Jeanie Mogenson, drill team.

Refreshment committee for August:

7th. - Lois Hoyer, Chairman; Peggy Larsen; Francis Ulmer; Aneta Englund
21st. - Dea Leahy, Chairman; Aune Malmberg; Marge Smith; Pauline Winstanley

Happy Birthday Greetings to:

Lila Altheide, Edna Lovvold, Vern Johansen
Jane Seeborg, Gertie Wullger

Anchors Get Set For Regatta Tea

The annual Anchor club tea ..., the Regatta princesses and their chaperone, constituted the main order of business ... Monday night's meeting, presided over by Skipper Mrs. Al Sorkki.

In observance and keeping with this Sesquicentennial year for Astoria, the Clatsop County Historical museum, in the stately old Capt. Flavel mansion, will be the setting for the event, to be held Saturday from 2-4 p.m. Mrs. Harry Duff, tea chairman, announced.

Formal initiation was conducted by Mrs. Sorkki for Mrs. Richard Lee who was unable to be present at the recent regular initiation due to an emergency nursing call at the hospital.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served from a blue satin covered table centered with white milk glass compote holding pink daisies with matching tapers. Mrs. Donald Hoyer, hostess chairman, was assisted by the Mesdames Jon Englund, Vernon Larson and Edward Ulmer, who awarded the evening's special prize to Mrs. Donald Kubik.

...ettes at their August meeting and added to the regatta planning festivities. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. James Spain Jr. and hostesses were Miss Bill Ohlman and Mrs. Omer Stephens Jr.

Mrs. Bob Jackson reported that the parade float on which the Regatta queen and her court will ride ...

...noon will chairman another fund-raising project.

Jay-C-Ettes voted to continue the Red Cross calling project for volunteers for the Bloodmobile. Mrs. Lamon reported that the "kick-off" party that had been held by Jay-C-Ettes for the Sesquicentennial queen candidates at the John Jacob Astor hotel had been a success. The membership also discussed the coming of the Don Cossack dancers and singers who will be sponsored here in Astoria by the Jaycees. The Cossack group, from New York, will arrive in Astoria on November 2 on their national concert tour.

Mrs. Schultz was awarded the Jay-C-Ette of the Quarter gift and Mrs. Bondietti won the ... prize of an ashtray set. Hats, some fancy, some funny, were worn by members to enliven the meeting.

The board of directors will meet at Mrs. Johnson's home August 28 and the next general meeting will be September 12 at Mrs. Lamon's home.

Rotary Anns Host Royalty At Dinner

Rotary Anns played hostess to members of Astoria royalty at their dinner meeting last Tuesday at the Sea Fare. The Regatta court and their chaperone, Mrs. Harry Steinbock, Miss Astoria, Mary Jane Kuratli, and her mother Mrs. Ruben Kuratli, and chaperone Mrs. Donovan Mitchell, and Mrs. Al Sorkki, skipper of the Anchor club.

Each member of the Regatta court and Miss Astoria were presented with a birthday figurine, and other guests were given white lace-trimmed hankies.

Centerpiece at the head table where the distinguished guests were seated was of deep pink dahlias, gypsophilia and huckleberry leaves in a frame of deep pink net, and side tables held individual large dahlias. Scrolls, printed in the Sesqui manner with a favorite recipe of the evening's chairman, Mrs. Jack Wittliff, were at each place.

Entertainment was furnished by "The Boys," a new combo of high school students at Star of the Sea high school, who played some of their own compositions and sang in the manner of the Kingston trio.

It was announced that, for the second consecutive year, Rotary Anns will staff the United Fund office with volunteer help during the drive. Mrs. Jack Wittliff will serve on the blood program committee. And names of those who volunteered to supply cakes for the Smorgasette were listed.

Farewells were made to Mrs. Richard Hodges, who is moving soon to Bremerton. Mrs. A. J. Kerbel, won the evening's special prize.

Assisting Mrs. Wittliff as chairman for the evening were the Mesdames Rex Baldwin, Marsh Hoffman, Ed Paldunius, Jack Shaner and David Roscoe.

DID YOU KNOW??????

that new members Lois Ahola and Florine Forseth are daughters of charter members Olga Henningsen, and Anita Englund is daughter-in-law of Freda Englund.

that former member Lillian Boyer of Salem has a new grand-son. Daughter Patty and husband are the culprits.

former skipper Emma Jossy from North Plains is house guest of Jean Reed and family.

other past Anchors seen around town are Borg Coleman from St. Helens, Mary Swingle, a former skipper, from The Dalles, and Ruth Ellsworth from Eugene, whose husband Art was "horsing" around at the rodeo. He is chairman of the Eugene Rodeo Assn., this year, and was here for our show with horse and all.

IT SHOULDN'T HAPPEN BUT IT DID.....

Carol Gunderson broke out with the measles just before her husband returned from Alaska.

June Taylors' husband Marv broke his ear drum while water skiing during their vacation at Detroit Lakes.

Virginia Zafiratos is carrying her arm in a sling, and her husband is in Chicago.

Vivian Graves had a car accident while hurrying down to the Museum to have publicity pictures taken of the Regatta Committees. We hope it doesn't ruin her vacation.

A LITTLE BIT OF THIS AND THAT

Leona Tolonen has put aside her needles and thread and is now working full time at The Clatsop County Community College. She is the new registrar. Also noticed Leona presenting Marge Mather with the plaque to keep for the remainder of the year. These girls were our outstanding members of 1960.

Congratulations to Dea Leahy in her star performance as the sweet, little innocent heroine. Out of character, Dea, but great...

Understand the publicity pictures of the princesses are done in pink this year. Could that be TT pink??

Ruth Shaner is interested in raffle tickets on some "hay". We may see "Pony Rides" as a money making project.

Here are some of the road-map collectors this season - Lois Hoyer and family were camping at Belsair State Park, Washington. Marge Smith and family with Donna Gustafson and family traveled to Shasta Lake. We hear they are pretty sharp on the water skiis. Ellen Conger and children visiting in San Francisco.... Dorothy Yockey and family been vacationing also, Pauline Winstanley,,, Joyce Lundholm and family at Detroit Lake and for all the other girls that we don't know about, well... you write your own log and tell us all about it.

Missing: 3 candle stick holders, shaped as a figure S, gold, imitation of course, they were used to help in the decorating down at the Yacht Club, it has been nearly a year ago, I keep hoping they will show up, if anyone has seen them would you please let me know. I will appreciate it deeply, thank you. I still have 1 at home, but I can't find much use for it alone. Thank you again. Thelma Johnson FA 5-6114.

Mrs. Stephens and Mrs. Jack Schulte volunteered to make the cookies for the children at the Salem Fairview Home this coming month. The Jay-C-Ettes roster will be distributed within a few weeks, according to Mrs. Don Garris. Mrs. Schulte and Mrs. Ray Woods will co-chairman the upcoming Christmas card sale and Mrs. Dave Lamon will chairman another fund-raising project.

Jay-C-Ettes voted to continue the Red Cross calling project for volunteers for the Bloodmobile. Mrs. Lamon reported that the "kick-off" party that had been held by Jay-C-Ettes for the Sesquicentennial queen candidates at the John Jacob Astor hotel had been a success. The membership also discussed the coming of the Don Cossack dancers and singers who will be sponsored here in Astoria by the Jaycees. The Cossack group, from New York, will arrive in Astoria on November 2 on their national concert tour.

Mrs. Schulze was awarded the Jay-C-Ette of the Quarter gift and certificate. Mrs. Bondietti won the special prize of an ashtray set. Hats, some fancy, some funny, were worn by members to enliven the meeting.

The board of directors will meet at Mrs. Johnson's home August 28, and the next general meeting will be September 12 at Mrs. Lamon's home.

a.m. At noon Whale Swimming demonstration will be given at Tapiola pool.

The Queen's luncheon honoring the present and former Regatta queens will be held at the John Jacob Astor hotel at exactly 12 noon. Fashion furs will be highlighted in the style show following luncheon.

The marine events at the boat basin mooring basin begin at 10 a.m. Activities include water skiing, gillnet races and sailboat races.

Parade Planned

Saturday afternoon at 2:30 the combined Sesquicentennial and Regatta street parade will wend its way down Commercial street, followed by the Historical Automobile Club of Oregon, which will tour the county Saturday and Sunday.

Ruler Named For Regatta

ASTORIA (Special) — Clair Ann Heilmann of Knappa was crowned queen of the Astoria Regatta Thursday night. Princesses are Karen Young of Warrenton, Cheryl Westman of Astoria, Cynthia Ann Slanger of Jewell and Marty Chave of Seaside.

The crown was placed by Guy Hickok, Regatta admiral, after the judges had made their selection. Coronation rites included presentation to the queen of a bouquet of roses by the 1960 Regatta queen, Gwen Jones of Seaside. Also in attendance was Sally Rompanen, Sesqui centennial queen.

The second performance of the Sesquicentennial Pageant followed the rites and the final performance will be given Saturday night.

Other Saturday activities scheduled are marine events in the morning, the Regatta Parade at 2:30 p.m. and an evening band show at Gyro Field.

Anchor Girls Polish Up for the Queen's Coronation

It was a sunny day, and the gleaming silver scepter and jewelled crown for the 1961 Regatta Queen took on an added brilliance as the Anchor coronation committee got together for a polishing party in readiness for the coronation of the queen August 24 at Gyro field. Mrs. Fred Frederickson, left, polishes the scepter; next to her is Mrs. Frank Thoraness, then Mrs. Hugh Winslanley, burnishing the jewelled crown; Mrs. John Cederberg, co-chairman with Mrs. Frederickson of the coronation committee, is seated next with Mrs. Robert Reed and Mrs. Randy Lovvold. Mrs. Sam Yokey, also a member of the committee, was not present. (Astorian Photo)

1961 Regatta Now Has Queen

Knappa's Clair Ann Heilmann became queen of the 1961 Regatta Thursday night. Top photo shows the new queen, at right, receiving flowers at the crowning from escorts Regatta Admiral Guy Hickok and other coronation participants. Queen Clair will rule over all events of the 1961 fete.

"Clair Heilmann Is Proclaimed Regatta Queen!"

What does a girl do when she is told she is Regatta Queen? She cries, that's what she does, for some mysterious reason only known to girls who become Regatta queens. This picture was taken at the very moment that lovely Clair Ann Heilmann was told she had been chosen queen by the judges. She is fourth from the left, the one with her eyes shut to keep the tears out, which didn't. Mrs. Al Sorkki, Anchor skipper, at extreme left, has just read the judges' decision to the court of lovely princesses. Mrs. Harry Steinbeck is next. Regatta chaperone who was entered with the princesses through the final suspense of the announcement, with Princesses Marty Chave, Seaside, Cynthia Ann Slanger, Jewell, Cheryl Westman, Astoria, and Karen Young, Warrenton, sharing their queen's happiness. The queen is the daughter of Mrs. Harry Heilmann and the late Mr. Heilmann, Knappa.

Judges Choose Princess Clair Of Knappa as Regatta Queen

By PHILIPPA SEABROOK
Women's Editor

The happy, hectic kingdom of Regatta came into being last night under a moonlit, windless night sky, when Queen Clair raised her shining silver scepter and declared to several hundred of her subjects attending her coronation at Gyro field that the 1961 Astoria Regatta was officially opened.

Queen Clair, lovely gray-eyed, brown-haired daughter of Mrs. Harry Heilmann, was Knappa's princessan this year's court, and won the judges' nod at last night's pre-coronation ceremony with her well-enunciated, beautifully delivered speech to the audience. Born in an Astoria hospital, she has spent all her 18 years in the mist-wrapped, wooded valleys that spread from the mountains to the rolling Columbia in Knappa's up-river community. She graduated from Knappa high school this year, where she was a member of the National Honor society, serving as its secretary, was also treasurer of the Girls' Athletic association and ditto of the Future Homemakers of America, secretary of the student body and queen of the senior ball. Domestic to her fingertips, she has had four years of Four-H work behind her, makes her own clothes, knits her sweaters and has a flare for cooking. She loves to take part in sports and confesses to being the kind of fisherman that uses any excuse to grab her pole and gear and head for the nearest stream. She is the youngest of five children and lives at home with her widowed mother. But she hopes to attend business college in Portland this fall.

Receives Roses

The stately, gracious girl was crowned by Guy Hickok, McMinnville, admiral of the 1961 Regatta, a former Astorian who has worked many years on the Regattas here and has served as president of the Regatta association. Her bouquet of four dozen red roses was presented her by out-going Regatta Queen Gwen Jones of Seaside who graced the throne throughout the pre-coronation program until Queen Claire was proclaimed.

Before the thrilling announcement behind scenes that she was Regatta queen, Princess Clair was introduced on stage by Ken Moss of Knappa, who gave a heart-warming, smoothly delivered thumb-nail sketch of his princess.

Dainty, blond Princess Karen Young of Warrenton was introduced by Ken Doney; pretty dimpled Princess Cynthia Ann Slanger of Jewell by Bill Rohrman; Astorian's own lovely princess Cheryl Westman by George Ojo, and charming vivacious Princess Marty Chave of Seaside by Dave Bergman.

The program, traditionally conducted by the Anchor club was traditionally prompt, well-arranged and entertaining. The Anchor drill team, as escorts, and a flotilla of four admirals led the procession of princesses and their escorts on stage from the wings of the towering backdrop on to the lawn in front of the stadium.

Program Colorful

Admiral Hickok was escorted by Jean Hallaux and Wesley Shaner, both former presidents of the Regatta association. Dark-haired queen Gwen Jones of last year's Regatta was led in by Bill Ohlmann, president of the 1961 Regatta association; Mrs. Harry Steinbeck, faithful chaperone of the Regatta court, by Harry Kraus, court committee chairman of the Regatta association and Mrs. Albert Sorkki, skipper of the Anchor club, by Harry Steinbeck, mayor of Astoria.

It was a colorful program without a hitch, due, too, to the MC-ing of Bob Macdonald. The princesses wore identical short frocks of deep aqua sheer organza over lacy petticoats, with jewelled glass slippers and 1811 nosegays of pink rosebuds.

Prior to the [illegible] while the near capacity [illegible] started filling up the grandstands, Astoria high school band, under the baton of Ted Marshall, director, played lively musical selections, toning down to a more austere dignity for the processional marches.

Following the coronation, the Sesqui-Astoria pageant enrolled its history of a town celebrating its 150th birthday. The fact that the cast of several hundred in composed of local people made the production more enjoyable, but it was full of movement, color, dancing, comic pantomine and incidences that the audience hartily approved.

Beautiful Sesquicentennial Queen Sally Rompanen and her court of princesses led off the pageant in regal style, flanked by Miss Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean, pretty girls from foreign lands in native dress, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cubs, Brownies, Sea and Explorer Scouts, Four-H'ers and other youth groups, coming out over the field.

And US coast guard squad presented the colors. Dan Hall led the singing of the national anthem and the mammoth spectacle began, ending with a thrilling, eye-filling display of fireworks.

CORONATION

Coronation Kicks Off Festivities

Marty?? Karen?? Clair?? Cheryl?? Cynthia Ann?? Which lovely young miss will rule Regattaland this year??? Only time can tell and the time is 8 p.m. tonight, Gyro field.

The pretty princesses will be introduced by their respective escorts and then will each present a speech on the subject ... of all things ... of Astoria. They are Princess Marty Chave of Seaside, Karen Young of Warrenton, Clair Ann Heilmann Knappa, Astoria's Cheryl Westman, and Cynthia Ann Stanley of Jewell.

The Sesqui-A-Storia historical pageant will start at 9 tonight immediately following the coronation.

Coronation of a Regatta Queen is just the beginning of specially planned Regatta events. The Admiral's luncheon, which honors past admirals and presidents of past Regattas, will be held Friday noon at the Islander.

An International Smorgasette ... you don't have to be international to attend this! ... begins at 8 p.m. Friday at the Astoria Armory. The public dinner features food specialties from the many countries represented by people settled here. Chefs from all over the county will be serving up their own favorite dishes to add to the festive fare. The Regatta association will be prepared for about 2000 would-be members of the international set.

Pageant On Slate

Friday night at 8 the third performance of the Historical pageant will take place at Gyro Field.

Saturday morning is dedicated to the kids, queens and boats. The Optimists are sponsoring their annual Youth Day, full of athletic events, at McCallister field. All boys and girls from the first through the eighth grades are eligible to enter the various races and contests beginning at 10:30

Planning a Luncheon to the Queen's Taste

Planning a luncheon for a queen (and more than 200 of her ladies) are the members of the Anchor club, who honor the Astoria Regatta queen each year, following her coronation. The big event is attended by women from all parts of the county and by many out-of-town guests, including the Regatta admiral's wife, wife of the Regatta association president and other distinguished guests. Committee shown above: seated, center, Mrs. Herman Haggren, and from left, Mrs. Richard Thompson, co-chairman; Mrs. Wesley Shaner, Mrs. Lewis Wright, co-chairman; Miss Ann Strachan; Mrs. Leonard Farris, and Mrs. Donald Dreitlein. Other committee members, not present, but also working for luncheon, to be Saturday noon, at the John Jacob Astor hotel, are the Mesdames Jean Hallaux, Donald Johnson, Richard Sloite, William Gunderson and Robert Kearney. Reservations for luncheon must be in by Wednesday. (Astorian Photo)

Younger Royalty at Lunch

Members of the junior Regatta court were very special guests of honor at the Regatta Queen's luncheon for which the Anchor club was hostess Saturday at the John Jacob Astor hotel. The attractive young ones were properly introduced by Mrs. Al Serkki, skipper of the club, and then they paraded among the 250 luncheon guests to a rousing round of applause. Members of the court, attended by their mothers, shown enjoying the lunch are, (not in order) Patty Ryan and Julie Sholum, flower girls; Diana Swanson, crown bearer; Craig Abrahamson and Steve Antinou, pages; and Ralph Lee, scepter bearer. 'Antiques' Host Annual Party for Anchor Members

The [illegible] scene [illegible] month [illegible] were guests at the annual [illegible] club-members entertainment night. The associate Anchor members have all been active members for 20 years or more, thus setting the "antique" theme for this annual occasion.

After having recently completed the very successful Regatta, which event is the ultimate purpose of the Anchor club, the members attended the meeting dressed in momentarily inspirational whimsical costumes that ranged from cavemen to highest Annies.

The business portion of the meeting was conducted by Skipper, Mrs. Al Sorkk, also in authentic antique bathing suit of the 1920 era. Committee chairmen reported on the recent Anchor tea, Queen's luncheon and the coronation.

Following the meeting a large sheet cake from your supper [illegible] as traditionally served by Mrs. Soraas from a quaintly appointed table covered with a pearl comforter with a side-back chair. An antique kerosene lamp with china shade shared the center of the table with a centerpiece of autumn leaves, cattails and pom pom dahlias arranged in an antique white cucumber pot. Mrs. A. J. Anderson poured from the Anchor silver service for the 45 members and 12 associate members present.

Associate members served as the refreshment committee for the evening with Mrs. Roland Peterson as chairman. The special prize for the evening went to Fern Johanson.

According to Scribe, Becky:

Bev Duff reports that the Anchor Tea was very successful, over $85.00 was donated to the Clatsop County Historical Fund.

Bill Ohlmann reports the night of the coronation, the attendance was around 1300 to 1500, approximately 1100 attended the band show. This exceeded the attendance of other nights by far. Regatta plans are already getting under way for next year. Much gratitude is given to all that worked so hard, and gave so much time for the past regatta.

Congratulations to Sus and George Fulton, on September 10th. they celebrated their 10th. wedding anniversary. A group of their friends, many of them Anchors, presented them with a much wanted Barbecue Set.

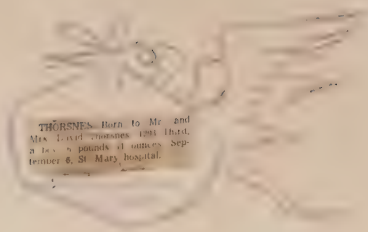

Fay Hill sold her home and moved to 1441 Jerome, and daughter Sandy went off to school. Could this have any bearing with the flea circus down at the bank?

Virginia Kearney has acquired a new neighbor, Fay Hill.

Nora Johnson won a Renault Dauphine, how about a test run, Nora?

Freda Englund is a new grandma, daughter Suzanne did her proud.

Virginia Z. and her nice husband Mick are taking in the Pendleton Roundup.

Don't forget the rummage sale, Sept. 26 to 30. Much rummage is needed, also workers. Marge and Sheila will be happy to pick up all you can find, just call FA5-6438 or 6198.

Sorry to lose Jane Seeborg as a member, but happy for the promotion for her husband. Good luck to you in McMinnville!

Nancy and Edith Thorsness report that their father-in-law is doing nicely. Glad to hear that.

Edith Thorsness was to help edit this edition of the log, and she said, "Maybe you should appoint someone else because I just might have my baby," and you know what------she went and did just that. Congratulations.

Many of you remember Viola Johnson's sister, Dorothy Mattson; Dorothy was here visiting for 5 days, and then on to Eugene, and then to Prineville to visit another sister, Judy Baker. Both are ex-anchors.

Fern Johansen and her family went up to Bend over the Labor Day week-end. They stopped in Prineville to visit with Judy also. Remember what an avid bowler Judy was, she now is that way about golf only more so. Judy was expecting her son Kit home from the Marines.....Time marches on. Incidentally, did you know that Fern has retired from the cold cruel world of commerce?

Vivian Graves was in Eugene this summer, she spotted another pretty gal, and at the same time this gal spotted Vivian, and it turned out to be ex-anchor Kathleen Dressler. She wanted to be remembered to all of you. Her husband is going to school and they are very happy in Eugene. Kathleen has a sister that is an Anchor, Frances Ulmer.

Looking forward to tonights meeting! It is always so much fun when the associate members come back to entertain us.

The Anchor Luncheon was held August 26th. at noon at the John Jacob Astor Hotel. There were 259 ladies in attendance. According to Mary Lou Haggren, chairman of the luncheon everything went well.

Queen Claire Heilmann and her court were honored. Also introduced were past queens, Ivy Archer; Josephine Waffle Swanson; Nancy Fulton Lowe; Jean Maunula Reed; Judy Palmberg; Gayle Ross Johnson; Betty Morris. These lovely ladies also did the modeling for the style show of furs, sponsored by the Milton Gumbert Co. of Portland. The Junior Court was also present, Patty Ryan; Julie Sjolund; Diane Swanson; Craig Abrahamson; Steven Antonio, and Ross Leigh. The mothers of both Courts were introduced.

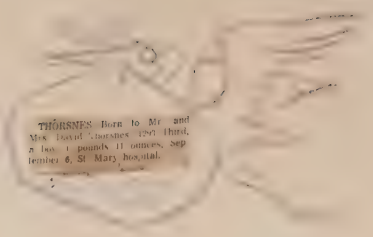

The committee wishes to thank all those who helped, and all the Anchors who attended with their friends to make the luncheon a success. Thanks also to Mr. McCoury who supplied all the potted shrubs and gave the Anchor Club many white flower vases. Many, many thanks to,

Evelyn Lazarus of Morton's who lent dresses for the style show.
Mike Foster, who decorated the Queen's table so beautifully.
Larry Snyder who built the platform for the Queen's table to be placed on.
The Astoria City Police who reserved two places to make the loading and unloading of cars more convenient.

This adventourous girl joined the circus, she was very interested in her work and wanted to make no mistakes, so she went to the boss and asked, "Could you give me any advise in as much as I'm a new comer with the circus?" "Just one thing, said the boss, don't undress in front of the bearded lady".

BRAGGART!

Associate members were hostess for the September 18th. meeting. It was a fun night and they served delicious food. It was good to see their faces again. The table was very cleverly decorated with kerosene lamps. Helen Jorkki donated a beautiful cake in "Thank You" for what the Anchors did during the regatta. Most all the members were dressed in costumes. Fern Johansen won a beautiful decorative plant as the door prize.

Birthdays for October are, Charlotte Halleaux, Peggy Larson, Aune Malmberg, Marge Smith, Pauline Winstanley, and Lois Ahola.

Glad to see Sheila Fredrickson out of the hospital and on the mend again.

Betty Johnson's son Ron, who joined the navy in August, will be home on leave in October.

Rita Salo is spending some time in Washington where her husband is fishing.

It's time for hunting again. Many wives will be without husbands during this time. Chuck Smith, Vern Mogenson, Jerry Sommerset and Wally Palmateer took off Thursday morning to try their luck.

Past Anchor Woodie Naylor and husband from Portland were in town for the Pasma wedding.

Ex-Anchor Alice Springer was in town for the week end.

Congratulations to Jeanie Mogenson on winning first place in the 4th. flight of the O.W.G.A. State Golf Tournament.

Our Anchor Club was well represented at the Blood Bank last Wednesday. They were Pauline Winstanley, Ellen Conger, Jeanie Mogenson, Mary Lou Haggren, and Marge Mather.

The rummage sale took off with full swing Monday morning. The first day $103.00 was taken in. Marge Mather would like to extend her Thank You, to the Anchors for bringing in such good quality rummage. She appreciates this very much, without it the rummage sale couldn't have been the huge success that it was. The amount taken in totaled $355.03, but the rent for the building must be paid out of this yet. Many thanks to the girls that worked at the sale and a special thanks to Edna Lovvold and Fern Johansen for putting in two shifts, because as por usual, they were short on girls to help sell.

Duck Decoy Decor Sparks Dinner for Anchor Skipper

A lively luck [illegible] Anchor members to the annual banquet honoring their skipper Mrs. Al Sorkki at the Sea Fare Monday evening.

A miniature replica of the Sorkki duck shack flanked by gold sprayed duck decoys wearing autumn leaves with chrysanthemums and candles, set the decor for the banquet.

The entire group sang "along with Mitch" on key and otherwise, with a special solo by Mrs. Eugene Knudsen, following the dinner hour. An original poem, composed and read by Mrs. Bob Graves, depicted special events in the life of the skipper, accented by special props and pantomime by members of the committee. Mrs. Sork ki continued to the entertainment with an impromptu bugle solo, accompanied by 16 enthusiastic "drummers," associate members of the Anchors and possible future members of the historic Anchor drum and bugle corps.

The banquet honoring Skipper Helen Sorkki will be held on November 20 at the Sea Fare. Cocktails will be served from 6:30 to 7:30 with dinner promptly at 8:00. The price of the dinner will be $2.25 and all cocktails will be $.55. Reservations are to be called in to Vivian Graves FA5-1586, June Taylor FA5-0593, Bev Wilson . WA1-3644, Delores Leahy FA5-6524 by Thursday, November 16th. All you Anchors mark this date down on your calendars and be sure to come. We hope to see a lot of associate members there.

BITS OF NEWS

Viola Johnson is home now from a 10 day stay in Emmanuel Hospital where she underwent a serious operation. Viola says she is feeling as good as new and is gaining weight.

Many Anchors attended the Oregon-Washington game in Portland. Among the many were Donna Gustafson, Faye Hill, Dorothy Yockey, Judy Dean, and Virginia Zafiratos.

Joyce and Jerry Lundholm are busy making preparations to move to Sheridan, Oregon where Jerry will be the assistant manager of the U. S. National Bank. We will all miss Joyce and we wish them the best of luck.

Frieda Englund's daughter, Suzanne Fleck, will be going to Kaiser Slautern, Germany to join her husband Jim who is stationed there with the Army. Suzanne and here 2½ month old son, Dean James, will leave by jet from Portland on November 16th and will live there for 3 years.

Frieda Englund visited the Loren Mattsons (Marlyn) in Portland recently. Marlyn said to say "hello" to all her friends and to tell the Anchors that she really enjoys reading the Anchor Logs.

Ann Stracken has been chosen as one of two extension agents in the State of Oregon to accompany the delegation of 4-H'ers to Chicago. They will be leaving on Thanksgiving Day by train for the ten day trip. Have a nice time Ann, we're all real happy for you.

Eileen and Joe Thompson are back living in Astoria and we'll soon be seeing Eileen's smiling face at the meetings again.

In case anyone has seen Betty Johnson looking happier than usual it's because her son Ron is home on leave until the 15th of November.

The new directories are out so be sure to pick one up if you haven't got one.

Tonight's coffee committe is Shirley Landwehr Chairman, Vivian Graves, Ruth Parnell, and Marianne Rogers.

December 3rd coffee committee is Ruth Shaner Chairman, Edith Thorsnes, Virginia Kearney, and Gertie Wullger.

November Birthdays- Vivian Graves, Thelma Johnson, and Margey Thompson.

Little Willie had gone to bring the kittens in. His father, hearing a shrill meowing, called out: "Don't hurt the Kittens, Willie."
"Oh, no," said the youngster, "I'm carrying them very carefully by the stems."

Agent, on the telephone: "Doctor, my little boy just swallowed my fountain pen."
Doctor: " Heaven! I'll come at once. What are you doing in the meantime?"
Agent: "Using a pencil."

SKIPPER HELEN'S BANQUET - NOVEMBER 20, 1961

Let's everybody sing along with Mitch Miller and his gang - loud and happy!

1. CAROLINA IN THE MORNING

Nothing could be finer
Than to be in Carolina In the morning.
No one could be sweeter
Than my sweetie when I meet her
In the morning.
Were the morning glories twine around the door
Whispering pretty stories I long to hear once more.
Strolling with my girlie
Where the dew is pearly early
In the morning.
Butterflies all flutter up
And kiss each little buttercup
At dawning.
If I had Aladdin's lamp for only a day
I'd make a wish and here's what I'd say
Nothing could be finer
Than to be in Carolina - In the Morning.

2. When Irish Eyes are Smiling, etc.

When Irish eyes are smiling
Sure it's like a morn in spring
In the lilt of Irish laughter
You can hear the angels sing
When Irish hearts are happy
All the world seems bright and gay
And when Irish eyes are smiling
Sure they steal your heart away.

My wild Irish rose
The sweetest flower that grows
You may search every where
But none can compare,
With my Wild Irish rose
My wild Irish rose
The dearest flower that grows
And some day for my sake,
She may let me take,
The bloom from my wild Irish rose.

3. Shine on Harvest Moon, etc.

Oh, shine on, shine on harvest moon
Up in the sky
I ain't had no lovin'
Since January, February, June or July
Snow time ain't no time to stay
Outdoors and spoon,
So shine on, shine on harvest moon,
For me and my gal.

The bells are ringing For me and my gal
[illegible] are singing - For me and my gal.
[illegible]'s been knowing
To a wedding they're going,
And for weeks they've been sewing
Ev'ry Susie and Sal
They're congregating - for me and my gal
The Parson's waiting - For me and my gal
And sometime
I'm goin' to build a little home for two
For three or four or more in Loveland - For me and my gal.

4. You tell me your dream I'll tell you mine.

I had a dream, dear
You had one too
Mine was the best dream
Because it was of you
Come sweetheart tell me
Now is the time
You tell me your dream
And I will tell you mine.
(repeat)

M-I-N-E, M-I-N-E, Mine
I'll be T-H-I-N-E, T-H-I-N-E, Thine,
And I love you,
I love you all the T-I-M-E, Time
You are the B-E-S-T, B-E-S-T, Best Of all the R-E-S-T, R-E-S-T, Rest,
'Cause I love you
I love you all the T-I-M-E, Time.

5. There's a Long, Long Trail

There's a long, long trail awinding
Into the land of my dreams
Where the nightingales are singing
And a white moon beams
There's a long, long night of waiting
Until my dreams all come true
Till the day when I'll be going Down that long, long trail with you.

6. IN THE EVENING BY THE MOONLIGHT

In the evening by the moonlight,
You could hear the young folks singin',
In the evening by the moonlight,
You could hear those banjos ringin'.
How the old folks would enjoy it,
They would sit all night and listen,
As we sang in the evening
By the moonlight
In the evening la de ah dah
By the moonlight la de ah dah
You can hear the young folk singin'
La de ah dah
In the Evening la de ah dah
By the moonlight la de ah dah
You can hear those banjos ringin'
Lah de ah dah
How the old folks would enjoy it
They would sit all night and listen
La de ah dah,
As we sang in the evening
By the moonlight la de ah dah.

Anchors Planning for an Old-Fashioned Tea

Mrs. Harry Duff, seated left, general chairman of the Anchor tea honoring the Regatta princesses, their chaperone and mothers, decides on a circular pink tablecloth edged with fringe as the appropriate cloth for tea table. With her on settee are Mrs. John Seeborg, center, and Mrs. R. M. Landwehr, co-chairman of the refreshment committee for the tea, while behind them are, left, the Mesdames Pete Bryant, Donald Heyer, Allard Cooper and Lowell Altheide. The tea will be held this Saturday at the Clatsop county historic museum in the old Flavel mansion, where atmosphere of a by-gone era will lend an old Astoria setting.

Anchor Club Elects New Crew for '61

Skipper Mrs. Al Sorkki officiated at her final Anchor meeting of the year, when elections were held for the new "crew" of Anchor officers for 1962 Monday night at the Yacht Club.

Skipper Mrs. Frank Thornsness will be at the helm to steer the Anchors through the coming year, with the help of First Mate Mrs. Charles Gustafson; Purser Mrs. Jean Hallaux; Yeoman Mrs. Hugh Winstanly; Historian Mrs. Lewis Wright; Corresponding Yeoman Mrs. Floyd Reith Jr.; Publicity Mrs. Rudy Lovvold; and Executive Officer Mrs. John Cederberg.

The recent Anchor Holiday Fair was reported a success by Chairman Mrs. Charles Gustafson and co-Chairman Mrs. Charles Smith, who thanked the members for their 100 per cent cooperation in this annual project.

Miss Betty Morris, Regatta queen for 1959, was officially welcomed into the Anchors, and Eileen Thompson was welcomed back after being out of Astoria for some time.

Mrs. Sorkki announced the annual Christmas party will be held at the Yacht Club Monday evening, December 18, with punch bowl hour from 7 to 8 p.m. and buffet supper at 8 o'clock. The Anchor members will entertain their escorts on this occasion with the Anchor Club as
